by Federal funds could be spent and would be spent in the same manner and accounted for in the same manner, Mr. Speaker, as any other appropriation. They are on a matching basis, the majority of them.

Mr. TOMPKINS. If they are on a matching basis, are our departments merely used as the machinery by which the Federal government makes distribution? Is that the story on it?

Mr. POLEN. I do not understand the question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The thing I am trying to get at is this: This appropriation bill appropriates $1.514 billion which represents the appropriations for state funds for which we levy the taxes?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. But that these departments will not have $1.514 billion to spend and administer. They will have at least substantially $200 million or more dollars over and above what is provided for in this budget!

Mr. POLEN. That would be correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I think the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mrs. VARALLO, Mrs. ANDERSON and Mr. BELL.
RESOLUTION No. 106

In the House of Representatives, August 25, 1959.

One of the major problems our society is facing today is the tendency of our youth to disregard, and in many cases intentionally breach those rules of conduct so necessary in a highly developed and complex society.

Juvenile delinquency has become a problem of such magnitude that local welfare and law enforcement authorities are not adequately trained or staffed to cope with the complexities of the problems presented by some of these youth.

It is the duty of the State to protect the community from the depredations of these young people, but at the same time it becomes the duty of the State to make available the facilities and trained personnel necessary for the reclamation of these wayward youth for constructive citizenship.

Pennsylvania is in great need of a truly co-ordinated and well planned program, but such a program cannot be planned and put into effect without a thorough study of the varied and complex problems that such a program must face; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study of the juvenile problems in our State including the possible creation of a State agency to handle these problems; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WHEELER, TRUSIO, KORNICK and SNYDER. RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, August 25, 1959.

Each year the National Veterans of Foreign Wars Headquarters conducts the National Teener Baseball Tournament open to players fourteen and fifteen years of age.

The tournament which was played this year at Hershey, Pennsylvania on August 21, 1959, was won by the Uniontown Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 47. The Uniontown team is the first from Pennsylvania to win the National Championship.

The road to victory was not an easy one. Excellent teams from Illinois, New Mexico, New York and Tennessee proved to be stiff competition for the Pennsylvania Champions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its congratulations to each member of the Uniontown Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 47 Teener Baseball Team for winning the National Teener Baseball Tournament and commend manager Pete Clingan and coaches Orin Clingan and Jim Neill for their part in producing State Champions for the past four years and National Champions in 1959; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Uniontown Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 47, Uniontown, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 389, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 389, entitled:

An Act amending the "Veterans Preference Act of 1957" approved July 8, 1957 (P. L. 557) excepting second class county employees from provisions relating to option retirement contribution rights.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, all this bill does is correct the law, inasmuch as when a man went into the service he was required to make payments while he was in the service or, if he so desired, after he came back he could make those payments into the retirement fund to protect his pension rights.

This is in conflict with the Second Class County Code. This bill corrects it so that when he comes back from his military service he can be given credit for the time spent in service and he does not have to make any contributions to the retirement fund.

This bill has the approval of the Allegheny County Retirement Board.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 474, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 973) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the third class" increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 474 deals with salary increases for the county officials of third class counties.

I rise in support of the measure that is before us for I believe that the time has been long past due when we should recognize the efforts, the good work, and the responsibilities that are shouldered by the several officials in these third class counties.

In submitting my position to the membership of this House that comes from counties other than third class, the responsibilities of government have increased considerably and for quite a few years we have not had an increase for the official family. I know when I speak of the type of job these officials are doing for our people back home, when I speak of those in my particular county, I feel certain the judgment of the House here today will recognize that the other counties have officials of the same caliber who are doing a worthwhile job for the people in their counties.

We have an official family that dedicates itself to the services of the people, each in his respective capacity, and have placed before the public a record of tremendous effort on the county level in my county, and I know the same is true of your own county.

These officials are the keepers of our local government which serves daily our people and their many needs by reason of those offices. I say to you that these officials should be commended for the splendid jobs they have done. We recognize full well the tremendous increase in the cost of living that we have had since they have had a raise, and, knowing full well their devotion to their duty in applying themselves to their jobs in a full time measure, such as they do in my county, it is essential that they be properly remunerated and recognized, if you will, for a proper remuneration will make a better county official.

With this type of loyal service, I feel certain the membership on both sides of the House will want to give them a proper reward so that they can live on the standard that they are expected to in the high official capacities the members have in their local county government.

Mr. Speaker, I commend Senate Bill 474 for your favorable consideration and ask you to vote favorably upon this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 475, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 947) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the fourth class" increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. I voted for House Bill 474 because it seemed to be what the Representatives of third class counties wanted, and it was not any of my particular business to disagree with them.

Now we get to Senate Bill 475, fourth class counties.

Any way I vote for this bill I am being played for a sucker. It used to be the office holders in the counties came down here by separate associations. The county treasurers would come down and want a raise. They did not get all they wanted but they generally got something. The county commissioners would come down as an association and ask for a raise. They would not get what they wanted but they would get something. So some bright genius, some master mind, skilled in organization and the arts of legislative compulsion, said, we will show those fellows there in the House, we will show them a trick or two,—most all of these officers belong to a state organization—we will get together and we will come down with a schedule, and we will have raises across the board, irrespective of the responsibilities of the various offices. We will give the county commissioners a $2,000 raise, we will give the coroner a $2,000 raise and we will give the clerk of courts a $2,000 raise. And we were caught.

In my county the district attorney deserves a $2,000 raise. In my county the county controller is very courageous and deserves a raise. In my county the two county commissioners deserve a raise. But not a single one of the other officers deserve a raise. And so, what is a body to do? If you vote yes for the bill, you are wrong; if you vote no for the bill, you are wrong. That, parenthetically, is because the procedure we are following is basically and fundamentally wrong.

We should have in each county a salary board. The county commissioners are the business managers of the county. They are responsible for the conduct of county affairs. This General Assembly should place maximum figures for county officials and then these salaries should be fixed in each respective county in accordance with the wishes of the people in that county.

I resent having this bill crowded down my throat. I know that our district attorney, our county controller, and our county commissioners are entitled to a raise. I resent the way the organized office holders have come down here and placed us in this dilemma. I have to beat either an inglorious retreat, or vote for a salary increase for deserving office holders and let some of the less deserving in view of their responsibilities trail along. So I have no alternative but to vote for the bill. I resent with every fiber of my being that I should be placed in this equivocal position.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, some of the things the previous speaker has said, I can agree with; some of them I cannot. And of course you can readily see that very often Mr. Andrews and I disagree.

However, I have had several things in my mind since these bills have been on the calendar, and that has been for some time. I have observed a few things around this House and elsewhere. I also, as Mr. Andrews has said, resent having a package handed to us and have it said, that is it.

I have made some effort to have amendments in these bills to correct some inequities. Some efforts were made here yesterday, and were defeated. I happen to know that the most, if not all, of the office holders in fourth class counties are pretty well paid for the service they are giving. I also know that I have had to, along with a lot of other people here during this Session, vote for taxes that were very unpalatable in order to meet the needs of this Commonwealth. I also know, as many of you do, that we have a lot of people out of work. They run well up into the thousands in the county from which I come.

I cannot see any reasonable thinking, nor reasonable sense, in an increase of this kind at this time, to place an additional burden on the taxpayers in our county, many of them out of work today, simply because a few people who are now living pretty well have decided they ought to have a little more. It is a pretty nice percentage of an increase, by the way. I personally cannot see it, nor can I see how the Members of this House can go along with and vote for something as unfair as this bill.

I have noticed around here that some people are concerned that the county office holders who are holding office now have helped them to get elected to office.

I want to say to you, and for those office holders in my county, in case any of them are listening, that if I owe them anything I want to pay it, not the taxpayers in my county. I hope we can get support in this House to kill this bill, which in my opinion is a very unjust, untimely piece of legislation for us to be asked to pass here in this House.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, in lieu of taking up the time of the House, I would like to file some remarks for the record, if I may.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will send his remarks to the desk.

Mr. SHAAF. Mr. Speaker, sometime ago I made a casual promise to some of my good friends who are office holders in Erie County to the effect that I would support pay-raise legislation. In keeping with my promise, I am voting for House Bill No. 475, Printer's No. 509. I am voting against other bills in this series out of my conviction that this whole package is ill-advised at this time. But for my promise so casually made, I would also vote against House Bill No. 475.

My county has the benefit of diligent, hard-working and cooperative county officials. But also, I doubt whether, in view of the high unemployment rate in this county, taxpayers of Erie County can afford these increases. I keep my promise, but reluctantly.

Mr. KOVOLENKO. Mr. Speaker, Members of this House, I am from a fourth class county, Beaver County, and many people here know that is an industrial county. When they took the machinery tax off that hit Beaver County pretty hard with the assessments. Many homeowners' taxes increased five or six times the amount they were paying.

I am in agreement with Mr. Andrews that some of our officials do need some increase, but many of them do not. Now we are here worrying about cutting the fat out of the budget and many other things, but we are being pretty expedient at the expense of the taxpayers back home. I think that before I can support legislation of this type, we are going to have to face the fact. The people back home, I know, are opposing this. We have all kinds of increases in taxes, and this would be more assessments on the homeowners back home. So I am going to have to oppose this bill under those conditions.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 476, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 972) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the fifth class" increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, for the reasons put to us so eloquently by the Speaker, Mr. Andrews, I move that Senate Bill 476, Printer's No. 1024, be recommitted to the Committee on Counties for further study and possible amendments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CIOFFI. Mr. Speaker, I will have to oppose that motion.

I would like to read something into the record, in order to help my colleagues here as to whether or not to vote for this particular bill. In the fifth class counties, which I represent, many of the officers and officials are in dire need of this increase. I can vouch for practically 100 percent of them. They are doing a very good job. I want to help them get the increase. I would like to read something that was in a Post-Gazette of recent date. This is a chart that was in the Post-Gazette of August 20. I am using the chart based on statistics gathered by Secretary of Labor—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman suspend?

The Chair would like to inform the gentleman there is a motion before the House to recommit the bill to the Committee on Counties. If the gentleman desires to debate this bill the Chair will recognize him after that motion has been disposed of.

Mr. CIOFFI. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Has the motion been seconded, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There is no necessity for a second to the motion.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to second the motion of Mr. Gallagher.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would advise the gentleman that there is no necessity to have a second to the motion.

Mr. HEAVEY. May I speak on the motion?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order if he speaks on the motion to recommit, but not on the merits of the bill.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, every man and woman in this House is a politician, a grass roots politician, elected every two years. I think it is bad timing to raise these folks' wages although they might be entitled to it. When you have steel workers on strike and you have coal miners out of work I think it is very bad timing and poor political thinking.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is not speaking on the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CIOFFI. Mr. Speaker, the chart based on statistics gathered by Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, and published in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of Thursday, August 20, 1959, will show that since elected officials received their last increase in January 1952, the two industries in Pennsylvania, bituminous coal and steel, have received gross average hourly earnings as follows: Coal, in January 1952, the hourly rate was $2.25; in May 1959, it was $3.30 per hour, or an increase of $1.05 per hour, which naturally brings it to better than $40.00 per week. Steel—this is an average—$1.90 per hour in January of 1952, and in May of 1959 it was $3.10, or increase per hour of $1.20, which brings it above the request of the county officials.

Thus, Mr. Speaker, the $2,000 increases requested by the elected officials would amount to less than $1.00 per hour, which would still be behind the coal and steel industries. I do feel that fifth class counties, too, should receive the same consideration as that of the third and fourth class counties.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I find myself in the same position now as the Speaker. In our county we have officeholders who are deserving of increases, the county commissioners, the controller, the treasurer, the clerk of quarter sessions court, but there are some whose salaries, by these increases, would be put away out of line. In order not to deprive those who are in need of an increase, I must, like the Speaker, vote reluctantly in favor of the bill.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Cioffi.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lawrence permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CIOFFI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Cioffi, how many people there are in his county who are out of work?

Mr. CIOFFI. Mr. Speaker, I am not familiar with the figure, but if the gentleman will bear with me I will get those figures for him for next week.

Mr. FARABAUGH. What effect will this tax raise have on those people who have no work?

Mr. CIOFFI. Mr. Speaker, I can only say it in this fashion. If you will bear with me, I may elaborate a little.

Last Tuesday, as many of you people, I witnessed the program of Dave Garroway at which time there was a gentleman there from Little Rock, Arkansas, a man by the name of Everett Tucker.

Mr. Garroway said to him I know that you are the gentleman who out-foxed Faubus.

The gentleman said, No, I was elected by the people to carry on the duties that are assigned to me.

Mr. Garroway then asked him, Why are you here in New York?

Mr. Tucker said, I am here with one of the members of the Little Rock organization in order to bring to Little Rock some industries for the area.

I feel this way, Mr. Speaker, if we only get 10 or 15 people throughout the state of Pennsylvania to do that very thing, the increase we are now giving these people will be well deserved. Regardless of the conditions of the state today, I am sure that this condition is not going to prevail for the future.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman. I did not realize that I was helping him to make a nice speech.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 477, Printer's No. 1295 is the salary bill pertaining to the counties of the sixth class. Mr. Speaker, I ask that all the Members of the House support this bill and vote in the affirmative.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BUCHANAN. What provision has been made in Senate Bill 477 for a salary increase for auditors in the sixth class counties?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in Senate Bill 477, Printer's No. 1295, there are no provisions for an increase of the salary or the rate per day of auditors. With the passage of these bills, for some of the counties that have auditors, the change should be made accordingly then.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Then you are going to have separate bills?

Mr. McCANN. There would have to be. The sixth class counties, some that do have auditors, would have to agree on some change in auditors' pay. It is not in this bill, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Then do I understand that possibly a separate bill will be introduced?

Mr. McCANN. I believe that it should be introduced immediately, sir.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, this bill of course concerns sixth class counties, and I feel, as a great number of us do, that perhaps the amount of increase in salaries in the bill is a bit out of line, in some cases, away out of line, yet I think we all know that these public officials in sixth class counties are well deserving of a substantial increase. Therefore I feel the Members of the sixth class counties should go along and support this measure as the House itself has supported the measures for the fifth, fourth and third class counties. I would also at this time say, I know there are many worthy officials in my own county and many of our officials are deserving of a long awaited increase in salary.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 478, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 938) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the seventh class" increasing the salaries of certain employees and county officers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Speaker, after observing the vote that we have received on a number of these bills, I can imagine what I have to say will fall on deaf ears. I do not imagine there will be any changes, but noting what happened here when my good friend, Steven McCann, our Floor Leader, got up, when he was successful in changing a few, maybe there is a possibility that I can do the same thing; only I would like them done in a reverse direction.

I rise to oppose this Senate Bill No. 478 for the simple reason that when I was elected as a Member of this House of Representatives, I was elected to represent the people of my county, and that is what I aim to do and have been doing since I have been down here. I was not elected to represent the commissioners' or the Sheriffs' Associations or the groups of people who come here and lobby against the people from my county, and those are the people who are going to have to pay these bills. They are going to have to pay for every bit of raise that we give them.

I am going to tell you this in small counties, such as mine, in a seventh class county, the people who serve in these offices are nothing but part time people. They do more or less jobs that are given to them as a hobby. It is not a hard-working job; none of them exert themselves; and, as I have said before and have told a number of you people, all those people do is work a few hours a week. And what are you people giving them here? What kind of a raise are you giving them? I say stop and examine your conscience, stop and think what you are doing.

So I ask you, in Heaven's name, vote against this bill.

Mr. YETTER. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I rise to support this bill.

I too come from a seventh class county and in our county our officials, all except the commissioners, the jury commissioners and the auditors, all the other officials, work a full day, five and a half days a week in their office. Our sheriff spends well over ten hours a day in his office. He has a lot of responsibility. Our district attorney has a heavy load. We had a very good district attorney who could have been reelected without any trouble, but he did not seek reelection because of the inadequacy of the compensation. I ask the Members of the House to support this bill like they did the other bills.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 479, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 971) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the eighth class" increasing the annual salaries of certain officers in counties of the eighth class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in 479 they have not only placed the bill in a state of confusion such as all the rest of the bills are by having incorporated all the row offices into one bill, but they have compounded that confusion by splitting the eighth class counties into two separate divisions in population size and incorporating fees of both classes into one bill. That, I think, is unfair for a vote for the classes of the counties which are incorporated in that one bill, which none of the other counties had incorporated in their bills.

I could be for the eighth class counties over 12,000, but I must be, on account of instructions from my row offices, against row offices in counties who have under 12,000. That places you in a dilemma worse than any of them that have been before this House today.

I want to reiterate what I said yesterday and which I am happy to see at least one Member of this House has adopted, that I think the proper solution to the problem of our row offices would be to set a floor and a ceiling, to send the stuff back home and let the people back home determine exactly what they want their officers to get, instead of our sitting here in Harrisburg and writing county budgets.

I must vote against this bill because of the confusion that is compounded in this bill.

Mr. ESHBACK. Mr. Speaker, I have served in three of the offices in the courthouse in an eighth class county, Pike County. I have served as county treasurer, prothonotary, register and recorder, and seven years as a county commissioner. Now it would have been very nice, of course, if in the past you had given the county salary boards the permission and the right to fix these salaries, but since they have left it up to this Assembly, I feel it is our duty to establish salaries commensurate with the service that these various officials give to the various counties, whatever class they happen to be.

Our district attorney receives the sum of $1,200, and it is difficult for us to find anyone to run for the office. In fact, there is only one candidate for the office for the coming term. Our commissioners receive the sum of $1,500 and $300 for institutional work. We are a county of 10,000 population, but that is only half the story. We have that many who are non-residents. So, we are larger than the census would indicate. Our sheriff must serve fulltime at a salary of $2,200 and, if he did not have some other income besides the sheriff's salary, I doubt very much if we could get any man worthy of the office to serve the same.

I therefore ask each and everyone of you to approve this bill and give it your wholehearted support.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 553, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to construct tunnels on the Turnpike between the Irwin and Middlesex interchanges.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Washington, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Polen, I will make these prefatory remarks first and then I want to ask you a question

It was the fond hope of everyone, when the shortway was designated as the toll-free cross-state highway, and we all realize it will take from 10 to 15 years to complete the shortway, but it was hoped by everyone that when the shortway was finally constructed the Pennsylvania turnpike would also be pretty well paid for so that there would not be very many outstanding bonds and that maybe they could be paid off without too much effort so that both roads would be toll-free.

With that statement, what is the plan with respect to the building of these tunnels? The bill calls for four-lane tunnels. Is the money presently available in the treasury of the Turnpike Commission to build these tunnels?

Mr. POLEN. No, Mr. Speaker, it is not presently available.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Do you know how much it will cost to build the tunnel?

Mr. POLEN. Well, Mr. Speaker, it is estimated to build the two tunnels will cost something around $60 million. However, the Commission is about to enter into an agreement with their consulting engineer for a special engineering survey for the purpose of determining the feasibility of providing relief for the Laurel Hill and Allegheny tunnels. This report is scheduled to be submitted to the General Assembly on or about January 1, 1960.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I am not too familiar with the area between Irwin and Middlesex. Does that line of road cover all the tunnels between Carlisle and Irwin?

Mr. POLEN. No, it does not. Those two tunnels are the tunnels between Bedford and Irwin. That is the situation there where we have the congestion due to the tunnels. I might say, Mr. Speaker, that in this survey they are also going to ascertain if it might be more feasible to construct lanes rather than tunnels and that is the reason that I amended the bill yesterday.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then as I understand it—don't get me wrong. I am not against the bill. We are just asking for information because of the tremendous interest on the shortway people as to the status of the two roads—would the $60-odd million have to also be arranged for through the sale of turnpike bonds?

Mr. POLEN. It would, Mr. Speaker, and the Turnpike Commission feels that they already have the authority to do that, and that this bill is not necessary in the opinion of their counsel. However, they prefer that we do pass this bill and, I might say, as far as the additional cost would be, if it is around the figure that they now estimate, they could issue them under the 1948 indenture which extend the payment of that series of bonds, probably, five or six years.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Another question then, do I understand that if you just make these two tunnels four-lane, that will mean the entire turnpike will be able to qualify under the National Interstate Highway Defense Act? Is that right?

Mr. POLEN. I do not believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Do you mean that in order to qualify we would have to make all the tunnels on the turnpike four-lane?

Mr. POLEN. I believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Thank you.

Mr. POLEN. I might say, Mr. Speaker, that for those of us who travel from the western end and are familiar with the delays which might be 30 minutes or 40 minutes, or even the other Sunday, it was an hour and ten minutes before I could get through the one tunnel, the Laurel Hill tunnel, I might say that there is a lot of interest in this bill. A Senator from Somerset discussed it with me and he feels it is a real necessity that we pass this legislation because the turnpike traffic on that end is increasing and it creates a bottleneck at these tunnels. I believe that the commission is right in making a survey so that they will know what it will cost and the feasibility of also making lanes rather than tunnels, and I believe that we should support this bill, both sides of the House.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the record to show that if this bill passes, and it is just a piece of paper, but if it passes, I hope you have more success with it, you people from the western end, than we had with the legislation we put through this House last Session to make them paint those dark holes out there in the mountains and put different lights in them.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I want to clear one point that Mr. Johnson brought up.

This bill covers all the tunnels, in a sense, the way it is written between Middlesex and Irwin, the old original turnpike.

Then the next question that I want to clear carefully because he asked about the interstate highway system. The proposal that was made at one time dealt with from Breezewood, Pennsylvania, I believe, to the area that you are speaking of and these tunnels are located in that area. These are the two tunnels that we call, as we come eastward from the west, No. 1 and No. 2. There are seven in a row. As you travel the pike every week, these are the first two. These are the two bad ones that are there.

One other thing that I think should be said in defense of perhaps the Turnpike Commission is, I just wonder if the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, knew that they did paint the tunnels. You would never know it. We who travel every week were there when they were painting them, and for your information one tunnel was painted, or did you know that? And, my friend, you would never know that it was painted. The engineering people in that business still have not got the answer. The paint, my friends, has not stood up after a short period of heavy traffic. The tunnel was painted and sprayed with a white paint of some type, whatever may have been proper, and, my friend, it was just as black as coal in no time at all. In case you are interested, these tunnels were done, I should say, and the others, on an experimental basis. We watched as they did this on mostly the midnight shift, from midnight to eight in the morning—and some of us do travel at three, four or five o'clock on the turnpike—and we noticed this with deep interest and checked it very carefully. I hoped they could paint them also, as long as they find the paint that would do the job.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman, Mr. McCann, whether he would sit down with me sometime in the near future and try to figure out something. If that is true, then maybe we have a ventilation problem out there.

Mr. McCANN. I believe every one who travels them every week will agree, you sure do have a ventilation problem.

Mr. HOCKER. Well, then, Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman, let us sit down and try to iron that out. I think it is a very serious problem on the pike.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 685, entitled:

An Act repealing section 802 of the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" relating to the use of textbooks for a period of not less than five years.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if I might have someone on the other side perhaps who is familiar with this bill, explain just what they are trying to accomplish with it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated or make an explanation of the bill?

Mr. VARNER. Mr. McCann, you have the question.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 685, on which the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Varner, has requested some information, in the Public School Code of 1949, if you will check, the school boards now when they buy a textbook are required by the law that is in the Code, to keep this textbook for a period of five years. This repeals the section dealing with that and this is some of the basic information.

Textbooks which you may purchase this year for example, take P.D., problems of democracy, that textbook, the present textbook in a matter of two years, very easily can be out dated by the changes that occur many of which we help to change or the Congress of the United States or other information. Therefore the textbook, that addition, becomes obsolete, even though the law says they shall keep it for five years. All this repealer of this section does, under Senate Bill 685, would be that the school boards would not have to keep the textbook for five years.

Mr. VARNER. Well, Mr. Speaker, that might be one good example but cite me another one.

Mr. McCANN. Yes, very easily. Very easily. In elementary school, in the last few years in geography which is taught in all the elementary schools of Pennsylvania, in the last ten years there have been a series of new nations created, both in the African Continent and the Asian Continent and also new additional states within the United States.

Science books, we can go into that field, this is legislation that in a sense, unless you do not have faith in your school board, then of course you can oppose the bill easily, I should think.

Mr. VARNER. I have faith in them.

Mr. McCANN. Good.

Mr. VARNER. I have faith. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to remind whoever it might be necessary to remind that it now is about 7:12 daylight saving time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we have agreed that we would try to work 'til 7:30 and we are trying to clear off the Senate bills, so the gentleman knows.

Once again, I am taking the opportunity to report to the members of the Senate on the financial condition of the Commonwealth, to make certain that you and the public are fully informed.

My past messages, you will recall, were submitted to both houses of the General Assembly.

This time, however, I am communicating only with the Senate because the House has already completed the major portion of its responsibility in meeting the Commonwealth's financial needs.

The House has sent to the Senate sufficient revenue measures to finance the Governor's General Fund Budget and to pay off the accumulative deficit.

Except for continuing existing taxes, the Senate, up to this time, has voted only to expand the coverage and increase the rate of the Sales Tax, which is a consumer tax. It is assumed that the Senate will pass the companion hotel occupancy tax, also a consumer tax.

You have before you House Bill 660, passed by the House of Representatives, which extends the 14 mill gross receipts tax, now paid by other public utility companies, to gas companies. This is a business tax.

You have before you House Bills 661 and 662, already approved by the House, which increase the tax rate on bank shares from four to eight mills. This is obviously a business tax.

Finally, you have before you for consideration House Bill 656, approved by the House, which levies a six mill tax on intangible personal property, that is, a tax paid by the owner, against the value of stocks and bonds in non-Pennsylvania companies and on mortgages and other securities. This is a tax on a form of property largely owned by those best able to pay. Every county in Pennsylvania already levies a four mill tax on such intangible personal property, and House Bill 656 has been carefully drawn to preserve the rights of the counties and the other local governments who now employ the tax.

Together, the enactment of these taxes would bring a yield for the next biennium of $73,200,000.

They would redress the balance in our tax policy, which has been so heavily shifted to the consumer since the adoption of the sales tax. They would complete a revenue structure sufficient to meet the appropriation bills now approved or pending on the House calendar.

A majority of House members have voted favorably upon an expanded and higher sales tax because they had no alternative. The recommendations of the Hood-Kennedy Committee, which this Administration strongly urged upon both houses, could not be enacted. Recognizing their public responsibility, a majority of House members accepted the four per cent sales tax, not because they considered it the best tax but because there was no other practical means of raising sufficient revenue necessary to operate the State Government.

A majority of the members of the Senate made the same decision with hesitancy but with full realization of the responsibility which rests upon them.

As Governor, I approve the higher rate and broader coverage with what I hope was the same sense of responsibility. I could do so because it is my first duty to operate the services of the State Government, and because I knew that the revised sales tax schedules, burdensome as they may be, still do not tax—as in many other states—such essentials of life as take-home food and clothing.

The continued exemptions in the tax are the compensation for its higher rate.

Consequently, I have determined that I will not approve an extension of the sales tax to clothing or to take-home food and that I will look very suspiciously at any other proposal to extend the sales tax.

I most strongly urge the members of the Senate to make all such proposals superfluous by the prompt enactment of the tax measures already passed by the House. If that is done, the State's budget will be in honest balance, with no fudging of revenue estimates and no short-changing of appropriations.

The most important element in the taxes still before you is the tax on intangible personal property. It has the greatest yield and appears to be in the greatest controversy.

I ask the members of the Senate who may have philosophical objections to this tax on wealth to waive them, as so many of us were asked to waive our basic objections to taxes on consumers. To suggest that the tax is an income tax is very far from the fact. It is an ad valorem tax—just as the local real estate taxes are—and it is so recognized by all experts on taxation.

We all know that taxes are not levied simply to take other people's money. They are required to pay for services, vital services, which the State performs and to assist local communities, school districts, and hundreds of hospitals and other private institutions which are essential to our everyday living.

By next week, the House will have sent bills to the Senate covering all the budgeted appropriations, totaling $1,722,928,428. Non-budgeted items totaling $575,534 already have been enacted. Adding the deficit of $141,598, 685, which must be paid off, brings the total requirements to $1,865,102,647 for the next biennium.

I might add that the House Appropriations Committee made a net reduction in the Governor's budget of $6,405,052, which was achieved by cutting out $20,611,780 in requests and making additions of $14,206,728.

It is important to emphasize continually that less than nine per cent of the total State budget will finance operations of the various departments and agencies of the Commonwealth. Another 15 per cent will be spent to operate various State institutions—State owned hospitals and sanatoria, penal and correctional facilities, and State Teachers Colleges.

Of the remaining 76 per cent, practically all will be paid out in the form of grants and subsidies in one form or another.

These are the facts which tend to straight-jacket any governor or any legislature.

I have tried to present an honest budget to the General Assembly and I have recommended tax measures to pay for the appropriations fully.

I hope I have made it perfectly clear that I will not puff up revenue estimates in order to achieve a fictitiously-balanced budget. It would be equally foolhardy for the Legislature to reduce arbitrarily appropriations for mandated items which will lead to sure deficiencies later in the biennium.

It is precisely this kind of sleight of hand budgeting which has led us to our present financial dilemma. Pennsylvania has spent more money than it has collected in revenues in all but one of the seven diennia since 1945.

I am sure no one wants to compound these disastrous mistakes.

The appropriation bills which the Senate will consider have been searchingly reviewed by the House Appropriations Committee. The reductions that group has developed have been accepted by this Administration.

Even so, they exceed revenue measures enacted as of this time by $59,760,293.

I have said repeatedly that the Assembly has the right and the obligation to scrutinize requested expenditures and to make reductions wherever the facts and conditions will sustain such action. But if reductions are to be made, the public has the right to know where they are and how deep they are. This is not an operation which legitimately can be accomplished in the last hours of the session. It requires and demands full discussion and full disclosure.

Since the beginning of the session, I have stressed repeatedly that the budget as finally approved by the Governor must be an honest budget. That means that if appropriations exceed realistic estimates of revenue, I will have no choice but to veto appropriations to the extent necessary to bring the budget into balance. This is my constitutional and moral obligation, and I intend to meet it.

While the direct action would be mine, there could be no doubt as to the real responsibility for such unfortunate and unwanted course of action.

It seems clear, however, that this need not, and should not, be the climax to this session.

There is no good reason why sufficient revenues cannot be provided to satisfy fully the established needs of the State Government. This, it seems to me, is the obligation which the citizens of Pennsylvania have a right to expect from us all.

The alternative can only be a continuing financial mess or drastically curtailed services, or both.

Therefore, I once again urge you to set aside partisan and philosophical differences, as we have in the past, and finish the job for the General Fund operations of the State.

This can only be done, in my judgement, by prompt affirmative action on the tax bills which have been passed by the House.

I should add, also, that I hope the Senate will act favorably on the highway revenue measures. Upon your decision will depend the course of highway construction and maintenance in Pennsylvania for many years to come. Scheduled construction of such major projects as the Keystone Shortway, the Anthracite Expressway, the Erie-West Virginia Freeway, and the Delaware Expressway, will be affected as will work on other Federally-aided projects and on the 100 per cent State roads, which have not been receiving their full share of attention.

We can't build highways with promises. Unless sufficient funds are provided, the people of Pennsylvania must be on notice that the highway building program will be drastically curtailed.

No one knows better than the members of the Senate the importance of highways to their individual districts. No one is more fully aware of the intense interest of the people of Pennsylvania in an improved highway system. Certainly, this knowledge should make clear the action which must be taken to provide the money to build the roads.

The decision is yours.

I cannot believe that in this instance and in regard to the General Fund it will be anything less than the right decision, which means providing the revenues sufficient to carry out the State's responsibilities and to encourage the further growth and development of the Commonwealth and of its citizens.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

The PRESIDENT. Copies of the Governor's message have been placed on the desks of all of the Senators.

An Act amending the act of April 24, 1947 (P. L. 89) entitled "Wills Act of 1947" providing a rule of interpretation regarding the source of payment of inheritance tax.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to say that Senate Bill No. 735 through Senate Bill No. 739 are the result of a two-year study made by the Joint State Government Commission in the areas of decedents' estate, wills and a number of other areas which are related to this subject. This is an opportunity for the Legislature to have a look at some of these problems that have been particularly troublesome and which the Supreme Court and Superior Court have dealt with in recent years. Some of these have led to some rather inequitable results, due to the application of the present laws which exist.

I would appreciate it if the Members of the Senate would have an opportunity to really read these bills and consult with the other Members here. It might be that some of them may have had some experiences that the committee did not have the benefit of, and I think the Senate should have the benefit of their experiences or any details which may be of some help in administering the law a little better than it is and maybe correcting some grave errors or injustices which might result from the present changes.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, there has been placed on the Member's desks two rather important documents. If you do not think they are important, I think one of them certainly merits your careful consideration. I speak now of that single piece of paper that has been placed on your desks, in mimeographed form, showing the amount of money which has been enacted into taxes, the amount of our budget and the amount of money that remains to be raised in order to fulfill the needs of the Commonwealth and of the Governor's Budget.

I believe that many, many Members of this Body have introduced bills in this Session which go beyond the Governor's Budget, as far as giving money to institutions that might be in their particular district, or giving money to worthy and needful causes that might exist in your areas, or they might even be State-wide. After enacting the only two taxes that apparently seem to have any kind of support in this area, which was the three and one-half per cent sales tax and then raising that to four per cent, we have now placed upon the consumer, I think, a rather heavy burden. I do not think it is out of order that we ask that other people in the community also bear their fair share. I think the three tax bills which we had on the Calendar this week, which were returned to committee and which I have been assured will be back from committee early next week, are business taxes as such, the gas tax and bank taxes.

The gas tax, I am afraid, might find its way back to the consumer because the companies will go in and ask for an increase from the Public Utility Commission, because their earning power will go down below the legal rate allowed them. Therefore, there remains now a tax which is in committee and which will not meet the full need, but at least would begin to address itself to the problem that now faces us. We are $59,760,000 below what we need. There is a bill, which is House Bill No. 656, the personal property tax, which would raise, by the estimates, $55,000,000, which would help, at least partially, to alleviate this amount of money. The House, as I understand, is working on the appropriation bills, which should be over here next week, if not before this day is out.

I am sure that everyone of us here will have some particular problem where we will ask to increase some of these sums. I believe if we do nothing else other than just look at the universities which come before us for help, we will have to do a yeoman's job on their behalf, because if we just continue a holding action with the universities, that is all that we will have in the way of education in this State. None of us is in favor of that and none of us wants to support that type of position. We want our universities to go forward and to move ahead.

The Veterinary School at the University of Pennsylvania, which is one of the few such schools in the East, is badly in need of additional funds and I, for one, would like to see them get that additional money. They will not even get what the Governor had originally promised them if we do not enact the necessary revenue to do the job.

Is there some compelling reason not to enact the personal property tax? This is basically an ad valorem tax and not an income tax, as such, and which falls heavily upon the people who are best able to pay it, those who can invest money in stocks and bonds. I also want to direct your attention to the fact that the bill does not levy this tax on domestic corporations, but only on those corporations that are outside of the Commonwealth. I think that you can quickly see that we are not hitting at people who are not able to pay this tax, particularly poor people. These are people who have additional funds and money that they have invested in stocks and bonds and, I think, that this millage that they are being asked to pay is rather small because there is not one county in this Commonwealth today which does not have at least a four mill tax on personal property.

I believe that many of us here were extremely reluctant—and I for one, speaking for myself, have been very reluctant and on behalf of many of the Democratic Members on this side to vote for this sales tax because we feel that it is not an equitable tax and it hits the same people again and again and again.

The Governor's Message is also before you this morning, bringing this problem to you. Because the House has raised its revenues and has sent us the necessary bills to do the job, it is up to us to pass them. There are many things that we could do to focus attention on this problem, but I do not think this is an area for politics. I think this is an area for statesmanship. This is an area for the people who have the Commonwealth and its institutions at heart, who will do the right thing and who will look over these measures, and if they do not want to enact them, they will give us the compelling reasons for not doing so. I do not think we can leave here—and the time is growing very short—without saying to these people that we have done the best job we can for you to try to get you the most money we could to help you in the ensuing two years.

I particularly asked the Chairman of the Finance Committee, Senator Kessler, if he would not take these bills up during the days intervening when this Body adjourns so that the committee would have the opportunity of discussing them and coming up with some conclusions about them. If there is any compelling reason for this Body not to act on these bills, I certainly would like to hear that reason. I think it should be reported to the Members because we are, in effect, the board of directors of this large Commonwealth and it behooves us to, at least, search every one of the areas that we possibly can for raising the funds that are so badly needed to take care of those unable to take care of themselves and move ahead in the areas of education, welfare and other problems that are now before us, to which there does not seem to be a constant solution, but one for which we are constantly searching.

I also call upon the leadership on the other side to carefully consider the Governor's Message, to give it some thought and, if there are any errors in it, either in his thinking, his figures or if he has erred in any way, I, for one, would like to know about them and I am sure the Governor would like to have them brought to his attention. I will appreciate it if you will do this for us so that we might have the opportunity to investigate these areas further.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I can assure Senator Weiner and all of the Members of the Senate, as well as the Governor, that we will carefully consider the message placed on our desks today by the Governor. I have not yet had an opportunity to read it, and certainly not to digest it, but, again, we will carefully scrutinize it and make comment upon it, if necessary, later.

As to the tax bills which were returned to committee, we assured the gentleman that they would be returned to the Floor of the Senate. In going over this sheet here, which is a compendium of the thoughts expressed in the Governor's message, I assume expressed in figures, I note that in certain areas some of the estimates have been reduced, and properly so as the bill now stands, particularly the gross receipts tax bill, which now shows a probable return of $5,800,000. I understand that when the bill was passed by the House, that tax was calculated to bring in some $11,000,000 and more. That feature, of course, will be considered in committee to see whether the revenue estimates might be restored by way of another Senate amendment. I do not know.

I am greatly encouraged, in running this down, to note on page four of the message that the estimate of shortage in the budget figures submitted by the Governor is now $59,760,293. Whether or not that figure has been revised from the original ninety-seven odd million that the Governor last week said he was short, I do not know because I have not digested the message. I hope that that is true. If so, Mr. President, it will make our task somewhat easier because I know that the Appropriations Committee of the Senate will carefully go over the General Appropriation Bill and apply to it some reductions in areas which we will feel will not diminish or curtail the necessary services which the State must render to its citizens.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I wish, first of all, to endorse the sentiments of the Minority Leader with regard to the need to complete the tax program to balance the budget. However, I would like to make one point here because I have heard the figure of $28,000,000 used in connection with the need for additional funds for school districts so that they may maintain adequate educational provisions during the next two years. I would like to say that I do not want to sit here and by my silence seem to give consent to that figure as being an adequate one. I do not think anyone should give himself the easy feeling that this $28,000,000, which is listed here as being considered by the Legislature for increased school subsidies, will be adequate to meet that need. We have in the House, House Bill No. 1108, which I believe would require an expenditure of somewhat under $200,000,000 to meet the cost of that bill. We have introduced in the Senate, Senate Bill No. 1099, which would set the need, as represented by the provisions of that bill, at just under $100,000,000.

I have no way of knowing what provision will ultimately be made. However, I want to go on record now as saying that I do not believe that we can seriously consider the figure of $28,000,000 additional as meeting the need. I propose, at some future time, to document the statement I am now making by showing what would happen if the $28,000,000 figure were adopted. I believe that I can demonstrate to any fair-minded person, and any person interested in the provisions of an adequate school program for the next biennium, that this figure will not be an adequate one.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I think we should all note that it is with humility and dignity and with, should I say, clear cut, untrammelled honesty that the Governor has given us a message. It is free of political implications and the political maneuvering to which we have been subjected, in some part, by others. It is a statement, and a businesslike statement, of an honest man with an honest objective, without the use of political maneuvering or political gyrations in order to impress the public.

I particularly want to point out the first complete paragraph, on page 3, of the Governor's Message, in which he said; "I have determined that I will not approve an extension of the sales tax to clothing or to take-home food." That reiterates the statement I made in the record this past week. I want to say to you that it demonstrates that the Governor is a man of heart, a man who is interested in the people as a whole, and with the problems of a man who is trying to raise and educate a family.

Mr. President, I also want to emphasize the second part of that sentence, in which the Governor says: "I will look very suspiciously at any other proposal to extend the sales tax." I want to say that I subscribe heartily to that. The word "suspiciously" in my mind, means the political maneuvering in order to try to gain a political advantage, at the expense and uncertainty of business and the people, and holding out a false hope that this may be accomplished for a political end.

If the Governor deserves credit for one thing, he deserves it for this; that is, the needs of the Commonwealth come first and politics is second. With some, I note, and particularly in this Body, that politics as usual is the word of the day.

Secondly, on page 4 of the Governor's Message, he deals with dishonesty. The idea which has been proposed and put forward in the press is certainly punctured and the balloon burst with this paragraph: "I hope I have made it perfectly clear that I will not puff up revenue estimates in order to achieve a fictitiously-balanced budget." The Governor points out that for the past seven bieniums this trick, this sleight of hand, this fooling of one's self by raising the estimates to balance the budget, is a delusion and a fraud on the public, and you do not balance the budget. What you do is kid everybody.

If anything is to be accomplished by the present Governor,—and for this I admire him and all Pennsylvanians should admire and back him for it—it will be to place honesty in the fiscal policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I say to all of you that he should have your support. These utterings of the fact that we will raise the estimates to balance the budget should be outside utterances, alone, and should not be the measure by which you gauge your conduct.

My last point which I would like to emphasize—and this I say frankly and fearlessly to you—is that the secondary road program of this Commonwealth depends upon the enactment of the one per cent gasoline tax. If the Republicans on the other side of the aisle feel they want to take the responsibility for killing the farmers' road and the man's in the rural community, this responsibility is yours. Unless this one per cent gasoline tax is enacted, there will be no secondary road program because the money will not be available for it.

I would say that you should think twice before you deny to the people in the rural communities, particularly such as I have in my county, the right to have secondary roads built. For this reason, alone, we should consider and consider promptly the one cent tax on gasoline. It is a must for the man in the rural community. The thing which my people and my merchants, in my town, are interested in is not the travel between States, but they are interested in the travel of the people to come into their town to shop and to buy. They want to be able not go to California quickly, but rather they want to be able to go into town to shop and to return home. They want to drive on good roads, too. The burden of furnishing these roads lies upon you and the enactment of the one cent gasoline tax.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2139, Printer's No. 1519, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1109 on page 13 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1109, entitled:

An Act establishing as State highways certain county highways or sections thereof tunnels bridges viaducts and approaches thereto in counties of the second class and requiring their construction repair and maintenance by the Commonwealth.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to make a very brief statement on this bill on second reading.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HELM. Then I would like to raise a question.

Mr. Speaker, I would also like to have permission to discuss, if I may, some of the procedure concerning House Bill 1109 as well as House Bill 2239.

These are bills which are designed to take over roads within this Commonwealth. House Bill 1109 takes over certain county roads in the County of Allegheny, and House Bill 2239 takes over certain city streets and bridges in the city of Philadelphia.

I would like to read, for the information of this House, and then I will request a ruling from the Chair on a question of parliamentary inquiry on Rule 14 of the Rules of this House, where it says,

No bills for the establishment of new State highway routes or for changes in or abolition of existing routes shall be introduced in the House, except such as include in single bills the total mileage to be added, changed or abolished with respect to each type of State Highways, at a session of the General Assembly.

My point is, I would like to ask a ruling of the Chair as to whether or not, in his opinion, the bill 1109 and the bill 2239 come under the proper classification and can be included as separate legislation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair after considerable research and study has arrived at the conclusion, and we have arrived at that conclusion reluctantly, that highway bills by classification are in order and in agreement with the statutes of law and the past practice of the Assembly, that is, that you can provide for classification in a first-class county. By so doing you would admit that you could have classification for second-class counties, third-class counties, and on down the line, or that you could create a classification of boroughs, or you could create a classification of third-class cities and that the classification practice is so thoroughly substantiated in the law and the procedure as to be accepted, that the intent of the Rule was to provide for individual bills applying to a particular highway.

Mr. HELM. I thank the Chair.

Mr. Speaker, I would then like to raise this question. I know that the argument will be used that there are only, I believe, two counties in the entire Commonwealth that have a county road system; therefore there would not be county roads to be taken over, and I am willing to accept counties as a proper classification.

Now my next question is, could I conceivably introduce legislation in this House permitting the state to take over all of the bridges in the eighth-class counties of the Commonwealth as a separate omnibus bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be of the opinion that such a classification including all of the eighth-class counties or all of the seventh-class counties, or all of the fourth and fifth, would be deemed acceptable and could be properly brought before this House for its consideration.

Mr. HELM. I thank the Chair.

Mr. Speaker, if I may say, in past sessions I know it has been customary that we have had three omnibus bills in this House of Representatives, one has been for the cities of this Commonwealth, one for the boroughs of this Commonwealth, and one for the townships of this Commonwealth. I think that has been the ordinary procedure, and I am willing to accept that a proper classification would be counties.

However, I do believe that in the case of House Bill 2239, it should be included in any omnibus bill for streets of any other city in this Commonwealth, and therefore I think it is an improper classification. However, I would like to point out that it is conceivably possible, under the ruling that has been made, for I believe the Chair is absolutely correct, that we could have fifteen separate categories of omnibus bills in this House of Representatives, so I say to the Members of this House who live in other class counties that perhaps they should prepare omnibus bills for their respective class counties and have them offered to this House of Representatives.

Mr. Speaker, we will debate the merits of the bill at length on final passage the first of next week but I thank you for your ruling.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has stated that he arrived at his findings reluctantly, because we do not believe personally that in the long range it is desirable legislation, but facts are facts, and practice is practice. The Administrative Code shows that these are facts which the Chair reluctantly is compelled to recognize.

The Chair will ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Devlin, who has performed so magnificently, if his throat is still good, to resume the chair.

Mr. DEVLIN IN THE CHAIR.

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered to be transcribed for third reading

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2239 on page 16 of today's calendar, bills on second reading

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2239, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 7, 1937 (P. L. 589), entitled as amended "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth under certain terms conditions and limitations of certain streets in cities of the first class as State Highways * * * and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purpose of this act eliminating certain restrictions" changing certain routes and adding certain new routes.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 958, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), including costs of grading sewage treatment plants and interest thereon in computing reimbursable rentals.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the lady from Northampton, Mrs. Reibman, consent to be interrogated?

Mrs. REIBMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is the cost of this reimbursement program included in the first budget?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The lady from Northampton yields to the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny knows quite well that each project is a particular project and the reimbursement for the entire project is a part of the project. Therefore, if the project is being approved, it is on the approved list, this would be a part of that and it was not necessarily ever a part of an individual budget.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, Mr. Speaker, when the budget was prepared by the Governor for the Department of Public Instruction were conservation and sewage treatment plants contemplated in the figure arrived at?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, they do not have to be. Listen carefully. You build a school project. The law now provides what constitutes a project. This bill adds to that project the sewage treatment plant as part of the plant. So if you build a schoolhouse for a half million dollars in an area in which you have to put a sewage treatment plant, the project reimbursable would be a half million even though the district itself has to spend $20,000 for, we will say, the sewage treatment plant. Now then, this being the cost of the plant the entire project would be $520,000, would it not? Then the project would be reimbursable. Now the entire project is reimbursable, you set the ceiling here in the House under the School Authority. Therefore, you control it again. There is a matter of controlling it in the budget, yes.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well let us figure, as a matter of fact, if we pass this bill and their school district is a two and a half grading and the sewage plant—this is rough grading?

Mr. McCANN. That is right.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. This is rough grading and sewage plants will increase the cost of the reimbursement. It certainly has to do so.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny quite well knows that perhaps the individual project will cost a few dollars more but it would not cost any more in the total. If you set the ceiling under the School Building Authority they approve Project No. 100, that project has a certain amount of money. That money is part of the School Building Authority ceiling which you set, which is $100 million per year and it is in operation now. This would be a part of it, and therefore, does not require any entry in the budget.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I oppose this bill because it means an additional item which the state of Pennsylvania will be compelled to pay for the construction of schools. No matter how we call it, whenever a new school is constructed, the cost without a sewage plant, plus grading, is $100,000, and with these two items in it is $25,000 more, it is going to cost the taxpayers of the Commonwealth more money.

We think this is an item which should be thrown back to the local districts and therefore the state cannot pay it entirely.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill would, I believe, cause school districts to select right sites which are not as expensive because of the rough grading that would be necessary. These school districts can select very expensive school sites because there is no grading done on such sites.

Under this bill there would be reimbursement to the extent that the costs for such rough grading are deemed reasonable by the Department of Public Instruction. Therefore, I think the intended purpose of this bill would tend to have school districts find sites that are less expensive even though they may have some cost in the rough grading of it.

I urge the Members to support the bill.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this bill before us, many of the school districts in the rural school districts are not able to connect with sewerage plants like they can in boroughs and cities. The Department of Health requires that these plants be built in order that buildings be used. They are just as much a part of the cost of the building as the plumbing would be. The school buildings would be useless unless these plants were constructed and the school building cannot be used if they were not constructed.

Now it is unfair, I believe, in a borough or city where they have sewage disposal, they connect with no cost, and in the rural districts they are required to build this sewage plant, and it is an essential part of the construction project.

So far as the reimbursement is concerned, the amount included in the budget takes into consideration the increase in the ceiling so that no additional funds are required. It would, however, if there were a large number of sewage plants constructed. In a way, it would slightly reduce the amount that was available out of the $225 million ceiling.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2291, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) prohibiting the sale of starter pistols to minors.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will Mr. Gelfand permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELFAND. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in looking this bill over in the last minute or so, I noticed that it prohibits carrying or furnishing starter pistols to any person under the age of 18. Would this mean that you could not give a starter pistol to a 17-year-old boy, for example, to use to start a track meet?

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to prohibit the transmission of a starter pistol to a juvenile who could thereafter utilize said pistol by converting it into a lethal weapon by merely cutting off the barrel, opening up the chamber facing the barrel and utilizing 22-caliber cartridges for the purpose of making a weapon. The purpose is not to restrain or refrain the use of a starter pistol for purposes of starting a race.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the purpose of the bill is probably good, but I suggest that it should be amended to eliminate the prohibition that I mentioned because I think as the bill is read it would clearly prohibit using these starter pistols in the proper way at a track meet or another contest.

I would request that it be passed over so that such an amendment could be inserted.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to having the bill paced on the postponed calendar for purposes of such an amendment, and if Mr. Lippincott desires to create the amendment, I will — — —

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the Chair hear a motion to place this bill on the third reading postponed calendar?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., August 31 1959.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to transmit herewith a proposed capital budget for the Commonwealth for the 1959-61 biennium. You will also find included in this document a listing of projects which the various departments and State-aided agencies would like to have future legislatures consider.

As you know, such a document as this is unprecedented in Pennsylvania. It seems to me, as I am sure it must to the Members of the General Assembly, that it is essential for the Commonwealth to develop a planned program of capital improvements. This budget, prepared by the Office of Administration in coordination with the staff of the State Planning Board and with departmental officials, is, in my opinion, an important and valuable first step toward such comprehensive planning.

In transmitting it to you, I want to make several observations.

First, it is important to emphasize that if the Legislature implements this program through additional borrowing authorization to the General State Authority, there will not be need for additional operating funds for the GSA in this biennium beyond those called for in the General Fund Budget.

Secondly, this document merely lists requests from State-aided colleges and universities, but does not make specific recommendations. In the instance of Pennsylvania State University there is a recommendation that $9,823,500 be allocated. Since past legislatures have already established the precedent for capital expenditures by the State at these institutions, I believe that their requests should be given sympathetic consideration.

Therefore, I recommend that $6,995,000 be provided the University of Pennsylvania to construct a social science center and a veterinary research and instruction building. For Temple University, I would suggest provision of funds totaling $6,742,900 for a chemistry building, a biology-life science building, and a central heating plant. At the University of Pittsburgh, the most pressing need is for a basic library unit, including undergraduate and reference libraries, which will cost $7 million. At Lincoln University, I would recommend inclusion of funds to construct a new boiler plant and shops and to build a dining hall. This amounts to $1,181,000.

It is obvious that these recommendations fall far short of the requests of these institutions. However, this same factor applies to all other agencies for which recommendations are made in this capital budget. It is apparent that there is a considerable backlog of projects demanding attention in the immediate future. The work which is recommended in this document is that which is the most urgent; it is not, by any means, the total which could be legitimately supported. However, it is the opinion of those who laboriously drew up this budget that urgency must have priority over mere desirability. I cannot disagree with this conclusion.

I trust that the Members of the General Assembly will find this budget informative and constructive and that, after careful review of its recommendations, appropriate legislation will be enacted to implement it.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

The PRESIDENT. The Governor's Message, together with copies of the Capital Budget for the Commonwealth for the 1959-61 biennium, have been placed on the desk of each Senator.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROONEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, in Pennsylvania today, the bill which I am about to introduce will affect 125,000 steelworkers and their families. As the 125,000 steelworkers are standing in line today, waiting for powdered milk, dried eggs and corn meal, and while billions of dollars go overseas for foreign aid, paid by the United States tax dollars, in the State of New York, a neighboring State, the steelworkers today are standing in line and are about to receive $45 per week as unemployment compensation, after a seven-week waiting period.

Mr. President, I do not know what the newspapers are going to say about this bill tomorrow; whether or not this is going to be another addition to a welfare State. However, I remember when I was thirteen years of age, in 1938, this same law was introduced and the same comments were made: "What are we turning this State into, a welfare State?" I do not think we are turning it into a welfare State, Mr. President. I think we are alleviating the financial hardships, during a tiring period of unemployment in Pennsylvania.

I sincerely hope that the Members of this Senate will report this bill out of committee as soon as possible, in order to alleviate the hardships of the striking steelworkers in Pennsylvania.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. ROONEY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1127, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law," providing benefits after a seven-week waiting period for employes involved in a stoppage of work because of a labor dispute.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. HAYS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1128, entitled:

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1129, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," further providing for payments on account of agricultural education.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Messrs. STIEFEL and CAMIEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1130, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital of Philadelphia towards the maintenance of a school of medicine.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this resolution, which I am about to offer, deals with a great Pennsylvania, a great State University, a great idea and the Joint State Government Commission.

Last year, when I visited Europe, I was impressed by the tremendous progress made in Germany and France in the field of food technology. Yet, we have better facilities, we have finer leadership and we have men who know more about it than the people in France and Germany. It is, therefore, about time that the preservation of food and its nutritional values should find recognition. This can only be accomplished, as they did in Germany and France, by elevating the food industry to the same level as chemistry, engineering and so forth.

For this reason, Mr. President, I am proposing that the Joint State Government Commission should undertake a study concerning the feasibility of establishing in Pennsylvania a college of food technology.

We are especially privileged in having as a great Pennsylvanian, a man of dynamic leadership, a man of ability and a great industrialist, Mr. H. J. Heinz. I do not know Mr. Heinz. I am not connected with him nor do I represent him. However, he has always inspired me by his vision. I feel we can benefit greatly by his wisdom and knowledge.

This resolution, Mr. President, proposes a study of food technology in Pennsylvania, with the aid of the Pennsylvania State University, under the auspices of the Joint State Government Commission.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO UNDERTAKE A STUDY OF PLANS AND MEANS FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A COLLEGE OF FOOD TECHNOLOGY IN PENNSYLVANIA

Messrs. STIEFEL and BARR offered the following resolution (Serial No. 57), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, August 31, 1959.

The study of food, the abundance or paucity thereof in certain parts of the globe, the curse of its waste and the blessings of its preservation, its nutritional values, the evolution and invention of new products, all offer wider horizons and new challenging frontiers of research and production.

Food engineering is gradually forging to the fore to occupy a position of eminence along mankind's benefactors such as chemical, mechanical, electrical, civil and industrial engineering. Food engineering is the food equivalent of chemical engineering and represents a blend of mechanical engineering and the biological sciences.

Then there is now coming of age food technology. Tidal waves of technical progress are running through the food industry, swept along by fast-paces and improvement in operations and processes. These involve investigation, development and application of cold sterilization, ultrasonics and a host of new in-stream quality control techniques. The coming attainments of food technology are fascinating. Thus, ultrasonic waves may be utilized to mix, homogenize, disperse, extract, precipitate, sterilize or measure food ingredients and products (ultrasonic generators already are used in breweries abroad to obtain greater extraction from hops in brew bottles). To control quality in process, developments are going beyond instruments which regulate such variables as temperature, pressure, flow and level. Acidity, density and crystal state are under automatic control. And even such more subtle factors as color, texture, blend—even odor and taste—will be robotised.

In several European countries, notably in Germany, Food Engineering and Food Technology have been recognized to such an extent that they have been lifted to the levels of college education and Special Food Colleges created therein for that purpose.

As the arsenal of American Democracy and one of the breadbaskets of the free world, Pennsylvania is the locus classicus for the establishment in the United States of the first College of Food Technology. We, in Pennsylvania, are singularly blessed with the outstanding leader in the field of food technology, H. J. Heinz II, the towering Pittsburgh industrialist in whom knowledge, dynamic leadership and vision have combined to form the blend of a creative genius par-excellence.

By combining the research facilities of the Joint State Government Commission with the leadership and experience of H. J. Heinz II, the General Assembly of Pennsylvania is in a position to become the beneficiary of an adequate blueprint for the establishment of a College for Food Technology in Pennsylvania at the opening of its next session.

At the same time the unexcelled resources and facilities of Pennsylvania State University could contribute immensely to the success of the study, both through the participation of its experts and possibly as the locale of the new institution.

Be It Therefore Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission of Pennsylvania be and it is hereby authorized and directed to form a committee to undertake a study of plans and means for the establishment of a College of Food Technology in Pennsylvania, and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby authorized to invite H. J. Heinz II to act both as a member and advisor of the committee, and be it further.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission invite experts in the field of food technology to join its aforesaid committee both as members and advisors.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE A BRIEF STATEMENT

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement about a resolution that I am not going to offer.

The PRESIDENT. I though my ears were playing tricks.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, for Senator Berger's benefit, I would like to repeat that I am asking for unanimous consent to make a brief statement about a resolution which I have decided not to offer.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, In that case, I would suggest that the gentleman do it under another order of business, because the resolution he is not offering would not be before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. I believe it would be more proper to take it up under Petitions and Remonstrances.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, would the gentleman prefer me to offer the resolution and then I can speak on it? He could then vote it down. However, that would take more time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I think that would be more orderly.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE BRIEF STATEMENT WITHDRAWN

Mr. SEYLER. In that case, Mr. President, I withdraw by request.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. VAN SANT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, over the past week end, an item appeared in the Allentown Evening Chronicle from which I would like to quote, for the benefit of the Members of the Senate. It states as follows:

"Demands for a sensational investigation of the State Department of Labor and Industry were voiced today by Allentown school officials.

"They want to know—

"Is there a uniform safety standard for school buildings throughout the state?

"In their call for such a probe, the city's school officials had the support of other Lehigh County districts.

"It is an outgrowth of a crackdown on fire safety hazards in Pennsylvania schools, launched early this year in the wake of the tragic Chicago parochial school fire, last December, in which nearly 100 children and teaching sisters lost thier lives.

"In the county, the total bill to correct fire safety hazards is running close to $700,000.

"While school officials were quick to point out that they welcomed the local checkup and were glad to install the needed safeguards for the children, they are perplexed by stories reaching them of the relative apathy in other districts and the seeming lack of any strict state enforcement such as was true in Lehigh schools.

"They hear of wooden frame buildings in some districts, where no move is being made to provide fire prevention measures.

"They hear of an elementary building in a nearby county, condemned 15 years ago as being unfit for school purposes, which continues in use with no action by state inspectors.

"They hear of the perfunctory checkups given by state inspectors in other counties, where the state officials merely 'strolled in and out' of the schools and made no attempt to inspect them.

"They would like to know why many schools in one nearby county have never been inspected.

"They would like to know why many schools up through the anthracite coal region, which have open stairways, have been allowed to remain open. In Lehigh the orders were strict, 'fire towers must be built . . . open stairways are not allowed.'

"They point to Wilkes-Barre's GAR High School, which has open stairways, identical to those at Allentown High School, yet nothing has been done to close them off as fire towers.

"They wonder if there is a difference between public and private schools, in view of reports reaching them that some parochial schools have classes with as high as 66 kindergarten children in one room with a single exit, when here the state inspectors enforced a regulation that where there are more than 30 children in a room, there must be at least two exits.

"They scoffed at the excuse offered in the past that in some districts state inspectors have too many other buildings to check, and could not make their rounds of the schools. They pointed out that Lehigh County has just as many buildings, and local inspectors did a good and thorough job in short order in following out department orders.

"These and other questions they feel could be answered in an investigation by the State Senate.

"Sparked by Supt. of Schools John S. Cartwright's increasing insistence that the state building code has been applied in a discriminatory manner, Allentown School Board officials have backed him in the belief that the department's bureau of inspection has a very flexible set of rules it followed in the safety crackdown.

"William S. Zettelmoyer, president of the board, said, 'I wonder if everyone was treated the same as we were, or if were the guinea pigs. I think an investigation is in order.'

"The head of the board pointed out that, 'They (the state) seemed to lay off of many of the schools in the coal regions because of their inability to pay the cost of a renovation program,' Zettelmoyer commented.

"Now why, just because Allentown and other county schools can afford it, should we be singled out? A safety hazard is a safety hazard, and ability to pay shouldn't have anything to do with protecting the lives of children.

"Allentown wasn't treated fairly. We were forced into the job at Allentown High School (the removal of marble stairways and erection of fire towers) and I can't believe it was necessary,' Zettelmoyer added."

There are several other quotes which I will not at this time quote here on the Senate floor. However, I ask that they be spread upon the record of the Legislative Journal.

There being no objection, the concluding portion of the newspaper article was ordered to be printed in the Journal as follows:

YORK SUPPORTS DEMAND

George W. York, chairman of the district's building committee, added his support for the call for a probe. "I'll go along with the superintendent. I think very definitely we are being dealt with much more strictly than other districts.

"There's no question that we wanted to know about these conditions so that we could make our schools just as safe as they can be. But as far as I'm concerned I feel we should be treated the same as every other district."

EISENHARD'S VIEW

Charles W. Eisenhard, another member of the building committee who was present in Harrisburg when local school officials met with representatives of the labor and industry department to review directives against Allentown schools, said "They were rather rash and radical in their demands."

Eisenhard went on to note that he had received the impression in his visit to Harrisburg "They seemed to have a feeling of guilt in the way they had to carry out orders."

CARTRIGHT'S REPORT

Cartwright said he was prompted to call for the Senate inquiry because of the interest shown by private parties who had inquired of him whether schools throughout the commonwealth had faced the same intensive probe that local schools had.

"They said they were glad to see Allentown's schools made safer, but they want to know if the same uniform standards are available to all children across the state," Cartwright said.

"One of them told me 'I guess maybe the children burn easier in Allentown!'"

ACTED VOLUNTARILY

Local school officials had been quick to act after the Chicago fire, to see if any hazards existed here that were a threat to the safety of the children. At the request of the Allentown School District a thorough survey was made of all buildings by fire and other city officials.

Based on certain shortcomings uncovered in this voluntary probe, city school officials moved to correct them.

ORDERS DUMFOUNDING

On the heels of local action came the state probe. In the wake of the checkup by local inspectors of the state Dept. of Labor and Industry, came a series of orders to "fix up or close up" a number of public school buildings that left school officials dumbfounded at the extent of the work ordered and the short time given to complete it.

Acting with all the speed possible in view of the complexity of planning for and financing the huge project, the city school district has been able to get the major portion of the work completed in time for the opening of schools two weeks hence.

There have been extensions granted for some of the work, and the district is planning to complete this phase of the corrective program as soon as possible.

ALLENTOWN NOT ALONE

What happened in Allentown, was repeated in many other districts in the county.

The cost has been high. In the city it will run more than a half a million dollars until it is completed. County schools found the bill running well over $150,000.

SUPT. GOCKLEY AGREES

Whitehall Supt. of Schools Clarence M. Gockley said, "From reports you hear this is just an outrage, when some districts spend thousands of dollars and others nothing. It is ridiculous and discriminatory."

Asked if he would back the call for a state senatorial probe, Gockley was vehement in his reply, "Back it? I'm in front of it. We spent $30,000 to get our buildings in shape, while other counties haven't turned a hand."

Adding his compliments to the work done by the state building inspectors, Clinton J. Leiby and

Edgar N. Moyer, Gockley said "It was wonderful to make our schools safe for the children, but I think one child is worth as much in one part of the state as in another. The rules should apply to everybody and not just a few."

Harold Worman, president of the Whitehall School Board, said he would be happy to back Gockley on a call for a state investigation. "We would certainly be ready to back him. He knows more about it than I do, and if he thinks it is necessary I'm for it."

COPLAY VIEW

While he would not definitely take a stand on a call for a state probe, Coplay Supervising Principal William Shetlock decried the "discriminatory" nature of the state checkup. "What is good for one district should be good for the others."

Coplay, one of the county's smallest districts, was hit hard by the crackdown with a bill to correct hazards running to $56,-800. Shetlock said he felt much of the state directives were hasty. "Many of the districts were given a long time to complete the work. If we had been given more time we could have done a better job of planning."

East Penn Union's Supt. of Schools Lemmon C. Stoudnour said that he would have to wait for official board action before making a statement on backing a state investigation.

But Stoudnour said that, as far as the methods followed in applying state standards throughout the commonwealth, "We here in East Penn feel the same as Allentown. We are concerned that some are abiding by the directives and making the corrections, while others are not, and nothing, apparently, is going to happen to them."

Ralph Schappell, president of the East Penn board, said "I would like to wait and see if there is proof that such an investigation is called for. If there is such basis, than we would have to take it up with the entire board before taking action."

Mr. VAN SANT, Mr. President, in view of this development in the Allentown and Lehigh County area, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE SCHOOL BUILDING INSPECTION PROGRAM OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY

Mr. VAN SANT offered the following resolution (Serial No. 58), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, August 31, 1959.

As an outgrowth of a crackdown on fire safety hazards in Pennsylvania schools which resulted from the tragic Chicago school fire last December, the Department of Labor and Industry has ordered many school districts throughout the State to make extensive repairs.

It is true that in many cases these repairs were needed and in all cases the school officials were glad to install the needed safeguards for the children, but there is much evidence to indicate that the Department of Labor and Industry has been discriminating in favor of certain districts and against others.

In Lehigh County, the department has ordered strict compliance with the orders. Yet, in other counties there is a marked apathy toward enforcement. Cases of discrimination are many but a few examples follow:

1. In a county close to Lehigh, a school building was condemned fifteen years ago as being unfit for school purposes, yet it continues in use now with no State action being taken.

2. Certain high schools have open stairways and nothing has been done to require them to be closed off as fire towers.

3. In other districts, there are wooden frame buildings which are being operated without any move being made to enforce fire prevention measures.

4. In one school, sixty-six kindergarten children are in one room with a single exit, yet in Allentown the State inspectors enforced a regulation that says where there are more than fifty children in a room, there must be at least two exits.

After hearing these and other examples of discrimination, many people have begun to wonder if the Department of Labor and Industry is being uniform about this or whether they are picking out the districts that can afford the renovations and forgetting about the others. If this is the case, the matter should be looked into because those children attending schools in financially distressed districts can be burnt to death just as easily as those attending schools in the Lehigh Valley.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania provides for equal treatment for all school children. Yet, it now seems that when we come to safety provisions, some are getting better treatment than others. Is it right to ask the tax payers of Lehigh County to spend $700,000 to make their schools safe and then say to the other districts, "We'll forget about your hazards because you don't have the money"?

The Department of Labor and Industry should have a uniform program which should be uniformly enforced. If there is a basis for the contentions that certain districts are being bypassed, the public should know why; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint five members of the Senate who shall constitute a committee to investigate the school building inspection program of the Department of Labor and Industry; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand, requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before them. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Senate at the earliest possible date before the adjournment of this Session of the General Assembly.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE A BRIEF STATEMENT

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement. I think this is important so that the Senate can proceed orderly with its business today, and so that all Senators who are reported in their seats can hear it.

The PRESIDENT. Is this in reference to a resolution?

Mr. WATKINS. No, it is not, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would it not be more in order than if it were taken up—

Mr. WATKINS. No, Mr. President. I think it is important that I make this brief statement because I do not see how I can be voted if what I am reading is correct.

The PRESIDENT. We have just ruled against Senator Seyler's request for the same, and he withdrew his request.

Mr. WATKINS. I appreciate that, Mr. President. However, I wonder if you would press for unanimous consent for me to make a brief statement to see if there is an objection.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am not going to make an objection to Senator Watkins having unanimous consent, because I suspect that the matter he is going to speak about is the same matter that I wanted to talk about, and it is in regard to the condolence resolution that I decided not to offer. Therefore, I do not have any objection whatever to his clearing up the matter that I wanted to talk about earlier.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO MAKE A BRIEF STATEMENT WITHDRAWN

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I withdraw my request. I would not want the Senate to be inconvenienced at all, and I would not want any favor given to me that Senator Seyler does not receive.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wonder if it would be in order for the Members of the Senate to say that they are very happy to see that the late Senator Watkins is present, on time and in his seat today. Perhaps that will take care of the problem.

If that is out of order, you may so rule.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "State Tax Equalization Board Law" increasing and staggering the terms of members of the State Tax Equalization Board and providing for minority representation thereon.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill has been on our Calendar for a little while. It was part of a package with Senate Bill No. 1032, which we just passed over in order. I assume that the reason we passed over it was because the Senator who was going to prepare some amendments to this bill, to make it a little more sensible or to make it have some purpose, apparently has not had the amendments prepared.

Senate Bill No. 1033 is the other part of this package, and it will provide for minority representation on the Tax Equilization Board. During the past ten years or so, there has never seemed to be a problem about the Tax Equilization Board having minority representation. When the Board finally begins to do its job,—and, in my opinion, they are doing it better than in the past and even some areas which have been left out in the cold are for the first time beginning to get their proportionate share—we not only try to change the rules, but we also try to change the membership. I feel that if this Board has been doing a good job, generally, and for a number of years, I would like an explanation as to why we must change not only the rules, but also change the Board membership. If there is some compelling reason, I am sure that the Members on this side would be happy to join with you, because we certainly are in favor of good government and in doing the right thing. If this bill will do that, I am certain that all of us will be glad to join with you.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I can assure the gentleman that had this bill, which would amend the act of June 27, 1947, been offered before, providing for minority representation, I am sure it would have been approved. Apparently the need had never been seen before, and now that it has come up, I think now would be a good time to do it.

There is no question about the Board having carried out the terms of the law. There is no doubt about that. It is a matter of information and the priority of minority representation, no matter what the majority might be at the time.

I think this a good bill, and it certainly will not inhibit the Tax Equalization Board in any manner whatsoever.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to have explained to me—and I am sure the Members on this side would also like to have the benefit of that explanation—why no change has been made since 1947. In other words, if a change is indicated now, it certainly must have been indicated before. Members have come and members have gone on this Board. If they did not need the benefit of the Democratic point of view at that time,—and I use that both with a small “d” and a large “D”—why does it seem so compelling at this moment that we have a Republican point of view?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, they never asked for it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am certain that the gentleman realizes that we do not do foolhardy things. Had we asked for it, I am certain of what the answer would have been. I think the gentleman also realizes what the answer would have been. Had we misinterpreted his answer, I am sure the gentleman in the front office might have taken care of that answer and indicated what it might have been.

I do not feel, at this time, that there is any reason to pass this type of legislation, except if the purpose—and it appears to be that—is to first change the Board and then later on change the formula so that it comes out like it has been coming out all along, whereby the people who have been benefitting from this for some time continue to receive the same benefits.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am sure the gentleman realizes that, in most instances, the minority on the other side has requested minority representation on boards. However, this happened to be one they overlooked. Therefore, we are simply making up for the lost time and doing it now.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we all know that this debate is purely political. As a matter of fact, I do not believe that if there were minority representation on the present Board it would improve anything.

I had no criticism of the Tax Equalization Board when Jack O'Neil was the Chairman of the Board. As a matter of fact, I think he did a fairly decent job. However, if the criticism of the opposite side is directed to this Board, I wish to advise them that, in my opinion, I think they are doing a fairly decent job, but they need the tools with which to work. As a matter of fact, when I talked with members of the Board not long ago, they explained to me that they do not have an industrial appraisal unit. They do not have qualified appraisers, which they should have. We talked about appraising the industrial properties in western Pennsylvania, and what they actually do is try to guess the values on this property. They do not even have information in regard to costs and cost replacements.

I say to you that in view of all of these circumstances, this Board is doing a very good job. Minority representation does not mean anything. You gentlemen have had experience with minority board members and commissioners. Generally speaking, the minority member is always a member who is approved by the majority. Therefore, you know you are not getting anywhere. It is sort of silly.

We used to advocate minority representation on various boards when the Republican had control. Of course, our moves, frankly, were political, and the moves today are purely political.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, the Majority Leader's remarks do not inspire much confidence in me when he said that had we asked for it, we could have received representation.

I call to his attention the fact that the Liquor Control Board provided for minority representation, and they just did not even bother, when they were in power, to appoint a Democrat as the third member. I also call your attention to the fact that, in 1955, Governor Leader made a preliminary study of this Board, and he appointed outstanding names as a committee. This committee made a report, as the Advisory Commission of the State Tax Equalization Board. That report said the most crucial recommendation was the curtain of secrecy which should be dropped as soon as possible, as it had existed behind this curtain under Republican Administrations.

I quote further:

“The committee, however, feared that this could not be done quickly without exposing the inadequacies of the Board's procedures to considerable criticism.

“With the appointment of Mr. Bevec to the Chairmanship of the Board, however, the Board took the courageous position that it would make full disclosure regardless of the consequences. As a result, not only has the present Commission had the full co-operation of the Board and its staff, but various school districts have been able to obtain comprehensive pictures of operation. The members of the commission cannot over-emphasize the beneficial effects of this change of policy. Under the rule of secrecy,—that is, under the Republicans,—“the worst possible interpretation was often put on any unpopular finding; under the rule of full disclosure, Board findings have been subject to much more agreement and almost always to sympathetic understanding.”

The Advisory Committee, made up of distinguished people, feel that this is operating as it never operated before, better and fuller, and we see no reason why a change should be made at this time.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1038, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1937 (P. L. 1987), entitled, as amended, "Sanitary Water Law," permitting certain municipalities to discharge sewage in certain water.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I wish to oppose the passage of this bill for three reasons. The first reason is that it is special legislation. The second reason is that it is unconstitutional. It is contrary to the policy of this Commonwealth and the Clean Streams Program. The third reason is that it might affect the health of a lot of people who live on the banks of the Allegheny River, and it might also even effect the health of some of the Members of this Senate, because I understand this river passes through Warren County, where our good Senator Chapman resides. I have been informed also that it passes through Ford City, where Senator Pechan lives. For those reasons, I would oppose this bill.

I would like to read an article from The Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin, dated August 30, 1959:

"The Sanitary Water Board and Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger (R-Potter) were sharply at odds today over the need for a sewage treatment plant in Berger's home town of Coudersport.

"For ten years, the board, which administers the 1937 Clean Streams Act, has been trying to persuade Coudersport to stop dumping raw sewage into the headwaters of the Allegheny River.

"Two years ago, the board lost its patience and issued an order to the community, giving it two years to build a plant.

"The deadline passed on July 1, with no evidence of an attempt to comply.

"Instead, Berger introduced a bill in the Senate to exempt his home town from the Clean Streams Act. The measure is slated to come up tomorrow in the Senate for final passage.

"Berger, a lawyer, has drafted the measure with special precautions to sidestep the constitutional ban on special legislation.

"The Berger bill does not name Coudersport as the community to be given authority to continue dumping its sewage without treatment.

"The exemption would apply only to 'municipalities of 4,500 or less located along a stream which rises in Pennsylvania, flows through Pennsylvania for a distance of less than sixty miles, enters another state and then re-enters Pennsylvania and which is located between its headwaters and its point of entry into the other state.'

"Coudersport is the only community in this State to meet these specifications.

"The stream in question is the upper Allegheny River.

"We cannot permit untreated sewage to be discharged into the Allegheny River at Coudersport," an official of the Sanitary Water Board said.

"We have been very patient about the situation, but Coudersport has ignored our order, and apparently nothing is being done to build a treatment plant.

"The situation will be further aggravated by the construction of two new school buildings at Coudersport. We must insist on sewage being treated.'

"The two Coudersport schools are being built with the State picking up two-thirds of the construction costs.

"One building is a $1,177,729, junior-senior high school for 722 students from Coudersport and five adjoining townships. The other is a $300,000 addition to an elementary school.

"Both projects are being constructed by the State Public School Building Authority.

"The high school now under construction will be paid off over thirty-seven years on an annual rental to the authority of $73,828.

"Of the annual rental, the State will pay $48,303, and the Coudersport Joint School District, the remaining $25,525.

"The State's share will be similar on the second project.

"Both projects were scheduled originally to have their sewage treated by the proposed Coudersport plant.

"Coudersport school officials may be forced to build their own sewage treatment plant at an additional cost of $50,000, if Coudersport refuses to build one."

That is the end of the article. I think the article certainly states the facts more eloquently than I could. However, the principle involved is one which, to me, is very reprehensible because here is a community which is so brazen as to ask that its sewage be disposed of in such a fashion that other people, part of whom live in an adjoining State and the rest of whom live in the State of Pennsylvania, must take this sewage and all of the people of the Commonwealth must bear two-thirds of the expense. I certainly would not want to be a part of putting any of the Commonwealth's money into such an unworthy cause.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I have a very high regard for the sponsor of this bill, but I certainly must rise to oppose any such measure which would permit, in any way, the pollution of any of the streams in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and, particularly, that of the Allegheny River which flows not only through my District, but through a great portion of Allegheny County and forms at the juncture of the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers. We have spent millions of dollars in Allegheny County in an attempt to clean up stream pollution. In my opinion, this would definitely be a step backward.

I have been an advocate of pure streams since my first election to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. Therefore, I could not, in good conscience, do anything except to recommend to all the Members of this Senate that they vote against this particular measure.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we seem to be doing things more or less in reverse in this Session of the Legislature. However, for the information of the Members of the Senate, the first champion of pure streams, as far as I know, was the enactment of the LaRue Act. Then we had Judge Grover Ladner, of Philadelphia, who worked real hard along this particular line. We then had "Big Jim" Duff, who implemented the actions of the LaRue Act by special legislation covering stream pollution.

I say to the Members of the Senate on the other side of the aisle that if they pass this legislation today, I would not be surprised to see Jim Duff change his politics from Republican to Democrat.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if any of the reasons which the good Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Mullin, had stated in opposition to this bill were correct, I would be the first one to support him. However, it is not special legislation. It certainly is not unconstitutional and, as far as I am concerned, and which is the most important reason he advanced, it cannot affect the health of any of the eminent Senators to whom he referred.

As far as the borough of Coudersport's introduction of sewage into the upper Allegheny River is concerned, that borough will probably be affected by this legislation. Let me say, Mr. President, that there is no community of over 4,500 people located within five miles of each other, along the upper flowage of the Allegheny River. If I remember my physiology, back in the sixth or seventh grades, I was taught that a stream flowing in the sun and over rocks will purify itself from the saturation point to almost bacteriological purity in a period of five miles flowage. Therefore, I am not at all worried about it affecting the health of the people of the city of Warren, or the people of the city of Pittsburgh, or the people of any community whatsoever located upon the Allegheny River, either above the New York State border or below it.

Mr. President, the Sanitary Water Board has suggested to the borough of Coudersport that it build a sewage disposal plant at a cost of approximately $1,750,000. This amount is far more than that small community can possibly afford. Furthermore, Mr. President, it has been shown by experience and tests that the swimming is pretty good two or three miles below the borough of Coudersport. Not only that, it is pretty darn good fishing, which will probably answer the objection of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, in connection with his interest in this bill.

I want to say further, Mr. President, that after the stream leaves the confines of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the State has no more control over it. It then returns, after flowing a considerable distance twenty, twenty-five or thirty miles through the State of New York. I doubt very much whether we can compel the State of New York to do anything about the communities as far as Pennsylvania is concerned. However, more than that, Mr. President, after it re-enters Pennsylvania, the lives of the people to be endangered are extremely few for the reason that on that Allegheny River is located the Seneca and the Cornplanter Reservation, which will shortly be inundated by many billions of gallons of water, through the construction of the Kinzua Dam, and there are not going to be any people living there.

Mr. President, those are the cogent reasons for my interest in this bill. Therefore, I would ask my colleagues to vote in favor of it.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHADY. How many towns are affected by this bill?

Mr. BERGER. I would say probably three boroughs.

Mr. MAHADY. Are they on the same river?

Mr. BERGER. They are on the same river.

Mr. MAHADY. Is there no other river affected?

Mr. BERGER. I do not know that. I have not explored the entire number of streams in Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHADY. Have the other boroughs asked for this legislation?

Mr. BERGER. No.

Mr. MAHADY. Did only the borough of Coudersport ask for this legislation?

Mr. BERGER. As a matter of fact, the borough of Coudersport did not ask for it.

Mr. MAHADY. In answer to Senator Mullin's statement about this being special legislation, if it affects only one locality, is there not a constitutional provision which provides that this be advertised thirty days before the bill is presented to the Senate?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if this were special legislation, that would be true. I am very familiar with that provision.

Mr. MAHADY. Therefore, do you think that a bill affecting one locality and three boroughs, within fifteen miles of each other, is not special legislation?

Mr. BERGER. It certainly is not, Mr. President.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I believe this is the first time during this Session that I have had to disagree with my distinguished colleague, Senator Berger. I do not know why Senator Mullin took it for granted that I was in favor of this bill, unless he takes it for granted that every time Senator Berger votes "aye," Al Pechan votes "aye." This occurs most times, but I think maybe this is perhaps the first time we have disagreed. I have a lot of respect for Senator Berger's judgement. He was getting into the chemistry of water and I do not know whether he should, because I do not get into the legal aspect of things. Last week, I was questioned about a legal matter concerning malicious mischief and a prank.

However, Mr. President, I want to say that the Allegheny River flows through my community of Ford City. Our city fathers are out trying to scrape up a half a million dollars for a sewage disposal plant. I have argued for years that I did not think that Ford City, Kittanning or any of those areas in the middle of the Allegheny River should be singled out to build a sewage disposal plant, when the communities on the headwaters are allowed to throw their sewage into the Allegheny River and we, in Ford City, get it. By the time the communities on the headwaters of the Allegheny build their sewage disposal plants ours will be worn out and we will have to build another one.

Therefore, Mr. President, for that reason I am going to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if I could return some compliments, I would say that heretofore I have always had the highest respect for the judgement and reasoning of the gentleman from Armstrong County, Senator Pechan. However, had he listened attentively to what I said before, I am sure he would not have made the remarks that he did.

The communities located in that portion of the Allegheny River, about which I speak, have no relation whatever to the pollution which the borough of Kittanning would receive or Ford City. As I certainly pointed out, Mr. President, the stream will purify itself under sun and over rock within a period of five miles. There is no source of pollution entering the headwaters of the Allegheny River which can possibly reach Kittanning or Ford City.

Furthermore, Mr. President, to reiterate, at the risk of burdening the Senate, this stream leaves Pennsylvania, goes into New York and returns to Pennsylvania. Therefore, Mr. President, there is not one thing that Senator Pechan or anybody else can do about the pollution which enters the stream in New York State. That will not affect them down in Kittanning because it cannot possibly get there.

As far as the city of Pittsburgh is concerned, I understand they withdraw and return the entire flowage of the Monongehela River four times and use it industrially before it goes out of the city. I am pretty sure that as far as any pollution put into it by the borough of Coudersport, the borough of Port Allegheny or the borough of Eldred is concerned, they are absolutely safe.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to point out to the Majority Floor Leader that, as a result of listening to this debate, once in a while he should listen to his colleagues who sit on this side of the aisle. We have been telling him this all along.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I would like to read from Article III, Section 7, of the Pennsylvania Constitution, in part, as follows:

"Nor shall the General Assembly indirectly enact such special or local law by the partial repeal of a general law; but laws repealing local or special acts may be passed."

The injunction there is that this is indirectly special legislation. In addition to that, nothing has been said about the people and the children who bathe in this stream. Considering the type of stream so described, children bathe in it and deer and wild game also are there. Hunters and sportsmen go up there, both in the wintertime and summertime. I hold an obligation to protect them, too.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, we have a very salutary rule that a Member shall not speak on a piece of legislation more than twice. Therefore, I will not say that the Boy Scouts swam in that stream, four miles below Coudersport, for a long, long time.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 598, Printer's No. 1385; and Senate Bill No. 735, Printer's No. 816.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 851, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code," authorizing veterans to gain residences as electors at homes for disabled and indigent soldiers and sailors.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out that I believe most of the Members in this Chamber are in favor of this bill. However, this type of legislation would be completely unnecessary if we were able to have reported from committee the bill which has been in committee since very early in this Session, dealing with absentee voting. I am certain that it does not cover all of the problems that are involved in this type of area. However, I think that we could eliminate a good many of them, and not have this type of patchwork legislation every Session.

In this particular legislation, we are taking care of indigent veterans who may end up living in a veterans' home, and who are able-bodied enough to take care of themselves and get about and do their business, but who are unable to establish themselves in their own homes because they do not have the means to do so or they have no place to go.

If the absentee voting bill would pass, we would not only be able to take care of this problem, but all of the other problems that come up.

This bill would take care of a veteran who lives in this type of a home, but it completely excludes other persons who do not happen to be veterans, or who, because of old age, live somewhere other than in a veterans' home. They are actually disenfranchised because of a lack of legislation or some thought in this area by this Body.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I can agree thoroughly with what the Minority Leader has just said on that subject. I am quite certain that within the next week or two, we will have an opportunity to find on our Calendar the absentee voting bill. I understand that certain recommendations are being weighed and they will probably act on the bill soon.

Apparently, this bill came out on prior consideration and, because it was a veterans' bill, it received preference. However, I do agree that this subject would be covered and will be covered by the absentee voting bill. I suggest that we approve this House Bill and await the action of the committee on the absentee voting bill.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I would like to have a little assurance. This, of course, as all of us know, is an amendment to the Fish Code, and a very important piece of legislation. It is my understanding that the bill will be held over now until next week, and that, then, we will have an opportunity to further amend this bill. Am I correct in this assumption?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I did not have that word. However, I will be glad to agree that it may be held over, Senator.

Mr. HAYS. Thank you.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1468, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 27, 1925 (P. L. 324) entitled "An act for the distribution by the Commonwealth and counties to townships and school districts of moneys received from the United States from Forest Reserves within the Commonwealth" authorizing the electors of a township to adopt an alternative basis for distribution of moneys.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I rise to offer some opposition to this bill. I have seen, in my time, many measures which were offered in the sacred name of home rule. However, I have never met one like this before. This not only is in favor of home rule, but home rule with State and Federal money.

The purpose of the original law, which gave Federal moneys to certain districts which had forests reserves, was to see to it that the necessary services of those communities, which ordinarily would be supported by taxes, did not fail because of the lack of return of taxes, due to land being set aside for forest reserves. The two services that would seem most likely affected by this would be, first of all, the operation of schools, and, secondly, the operation, in most cases, of township government, which would in some degree, in a large part, consist of construction of roads.

The relative use of that money was set by law as being three-fourths of the money to be used for maintenance of the schools and one-fourth of the money to be used for other township purposes; as I say, mostly roads.

This legislation would say, if I read it correctly, that in the event the people of a township decided that they would rather have poorer schools and better roads, or some other better facility in the community, they could change that proportion.

Now, Mr. President, it seems to me that this money was given for a purpose, and certainly very few people would fail to admit that in this type of county, the maintenance of the schools is one of the chief financial problems which fall upon a community. It certainly is one that falls most strongly and it impinges most strongly on the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth, because this Commonwealth is asked, through its equalization formula and also through other grants to distressed districts, to take up the slack between the ability of the community to support schools and the standard of schools that the Commonwealth feels should be supported.

Therefore, Mr. President, it seems to me, at this juncture, very unwise to change the basis of distribution of this money and to say that if a community decides they want to have more schools and spend this money which is being given to them in lieu of the possible return from land for other purposes, they may do so. I think the only result of this can be that they will have less money for schools in communities which, I think, very probably need as much money as they can get to support an adequate school system.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to add an addendum to what Senator Seyler said. This actually is a device to get more money for roads. It changes the formula from seventy-five per cent for schools and twenty-five per cent for public roads to actually a fifty-fifty basis, and could even go below that if the electorate so decided when it was submitted to them.

I think that money which is set aside for a certain purpose and then devoted to a different need, or for a different purpose, is playing a little bit loosely with funds so delineated. I think that it would be wrong, unless an actual need can be shown that the money is needed more for roads than it is for schools, for us to do anything to this fund because the money we need for schools is certainly not in abundance and to disturb it in any way is certainly dealing with a problem to which we do not have all of the solutions and one in which we could use a great deal more money and solutions.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I arise to support this legislation. This pertains to the forest reserves and, actually, these are all rural areas. They do have problems with roads. If the gentleman would have read on through the bill, around line 17, he would have read that: "one-half of such moneys shall be set apart for public schools and one-half for public roads of such township but that amount of such money representing the one-fourth increase for the benefit of public roads of such township shall only be expended for highway projects which will be of benefit to public schools."

I imagine this applies to counties like Forest. I get up there occasionally when I have time to fish. I will say to you that they need the money for roads in that particular area.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not wish to go into an extensive debate on this bill, except to say that at my request this bill has been held on the calendar for I believe two or three weeks, at least, so that I could get information and clearance from the school people in that area. I have word from the superintendent that the purpose of the bill seems to be all right. Another schoolman had questioned the bill, but I believe he is now satisfied that the purpose is correct.

It is exactly as Senator Lane said. The one-quarter increase will be used for roads in order to get to the schools, which is quite important if the childrent are going to receive their instruction in the schools.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, in a county which transports children to a central school, I would like the gentleman to tell me what roads in that county would not be subject to the description of contributing to getting the childrent to school. Obviously, the buses travel on all of the roads of the county, just as they do in my county and in the Senator's county, and there is scarcely a single public road in any county at the present writing that does not make a contribution in the way of getting children to school. This is a pretty meaningless prescription in the bill, because any road can be justified.

The PRESIDENT. Are you asking Senator Berger to allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I am not asking anyone, Mr. President. I am simply replying to the points made by Senator Lane and Senator Berger.

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1913 (P. L. 711), entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers . . ." giving the court jurisdiction in the trial of indictments for arson and burglary.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to say just a word in passing on this legislation. This is very necessary and it applies to the city of Philadelphia, exclusively, where we have a municipal court. This will allow the judges in the municipal court to try arson and burglary cases, as well as the entire list they now try.

This might be very helpful in cleaning up some of the back lists that we have. Although we are fairly current, this might aid in reaching a more current log or docket than we now have. If a man is qualified to be a judge and can listen to other criminal cases, I do not see why we cut out the jurisdiction that he had and particularly limit it to only certain defined areas. I think this will be very helpful, and I ask that everyone vote "aye" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50

BILL ON SECOND READING

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 578, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 3, 1933 (P. L. 242), entitled "Beauty Culture Law" changing eligibility requirements for examination.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 3, lines 7 and 8, by striking out "(2) shall have completed a tenth grade education or the equivalent thereof and (3)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I object to these amendments and ask that my colleagues vote against them.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, when the roll is called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no." If there is a voice vote, I desire, thus, to give notice that I am voting "no."

Mr. LANE. I wish to say, Mr. President, that, much as I dislike to disagree with our former State Chairman, I cannot support these amendments. I believe the time has come when we must establish some educational standards in all professions. Therefore, for the information of Senator Barr, I must oppose his amendments.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to say a few words on behalf of Texas here. It seems that everybody is against these amendments, but I think we should do a little thinking about them before we strike out against them. Has it ever occurred to some of the Members sitting here today that there are many women today who are in the business of beauty culture who may not have ever gone beyond grade school, who got married at some point along the line and suddenly found themselves either widowed or found themselves in a position where they had to go back to work, not knowing a trade and some of them being—if the ladies will forgive me—beyond the age where people would hire them, thus being put into the position where they either had to become independent contractors, as it were, doing this work for themselves or opening a small shop.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am not a sponsor of this bill, as you know. It is a House Bill—

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I have not finished. If the gentleman would have been paying attention, he would have known that I was in the midst of discussing this matter.

Mr. PECHAN. I am sorry, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. I am sorry. I had been paying attention, but I was not sure.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the basic premise which we are setting up here is building barriers which confront people going out and earning a livelihood. One of the few things that made this Country great is that people could go on. There are many men who are practicing law, which is a rather skillful profession and one which requires a great deal of study, who never went to college and who were able to study at home or do whatever was necessary, and took and passed the examinations and went on into the profession. Some of them have been rather outstanding men and outstanding lawyers. Until recent years, the same has been true of medicine. I am not so sure that what we are doing is the correct thing, in preventing someone from earning a livelihood by setting up an educational standard. What is so magic about the tenth grade, rather than the eleventh or ninth, quite escapes me. However, I think we should think very carefully before we leap into this area.

At the present time, there is no educational requirement. Under this Act, passed by the House, it would require almost 1,000 hours of schooling or two years of apprenticeship, which they do not have to do now. I believe if we continue to set up these barriers, we are going to close and forestall people going into a business or a profession which they very well might need for their livelihood. It might revert to you and me, through the expenditure of public funds for taking care of these persons. I think we should give this measure some real thought.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, this bill does not say that you must have a tenth grade education. It merely says that a tenth grade education, or its equivalent, is necessary. Those words, "or its equivalent," are used, I believe, in nine of our boards' requirements in the various other professional boards that we have. A man or woman who wants to take this examination does not have to go to school at all, if they can pass the examination which is set forth by the Board of Cosmetology.

I believe that in this present age, where you have chemistry, where you have the various dyes, where you have scalp treatments, the people should know what they are doing and should be educated in their field. They should be taught at these various schools. I am surprised that the only people who are opposing these amendments are from the schools. It seems to me that the schools should try to elevate and raise the standards, such as your law schools, the dental profession, and the medical profession. Everybody has tried to raise the standards. Nobody is trying to deny the widow or anybody else from taking the beauty culture course. Even though a girl may be a college graduate, she could still fail an examination in cosmetology.

Therefore, Mr. President, I see no sense in not raising the standards as set forth by the 60,000 members of the Hairdressers Association of Pennsylvania. In fact, the Board of Cosmetology has one member on it who runs a school or owns a school or is president of a school, and who does not object to this bill.

I, therefore, ask all of my colleagues to vote against these amendments.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like the gentleman to tell us what he thinks the word "equivalent" means.

Mr. PECHAN. That is established by the Board of Cosmetology. I believe there are only eight or nine States in the United States which do not have educational requirements, and Pennsylvania is one of them. In fact, just this past March, one of the States—I believe it was Washington—passed a law whereby you must have a college degree to be eligible to take this examination. Of course, again, I say the word "equivalent" is established by the Board of Cosmetology.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, over the week end, I prepared quite a lengthy and exhausting speech about housing development in Philadelphia and the progress the "City of Brotherly Love" is making. I wanted to speak about vanishing the mosquitoes of Delaware County and many other problems. However, realizing the lateness of the hour, I would appreciate it if my remarks would be incorporated in the Legislative Journal and the Senators repair to their dinner

The PRESIDENT. Senator Stiefel, I assure you that you have the thanks of the entire Body. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT OF SENATOR ISRAEL STIEFEL

Mr. President, the cities of our Commonwealth like the cities of the nation are fighting a major battle. This is the battle against urban blight and obsolescence. This is a threat to the economic welfare of the entire nation. Nine out of ten wage earners make their living in cities. It will require the complete mobilization of city, state, and National resources to win this battle.

It has been my pleasure to speak to this group before about the problems, the approaches taken to their solution, and the proposed programs that the city of Philadelphia has taken. I am proud of our accomplishments to date and wish to give you a progress report. Nevertheless, it is not a report whose sole purpose is to give me an opportunity to stick my chest out. Instead, I wish to be able to point up the methods that we have used in organizing the available resources with which to fight urban blight and, above all, to point out the need for continuing programs.

Our goals in Philadelphia are simple goals. They are perhaps not different from those of most of the cities in the State. We're striving to keep Philadelphia a pleasant place in which to live for all of its citizens; a place with comfortable homes for people of all social and economic classes; a place with pleasant recreation facilities; a place where there is adequate employment; a city where there are no slums. To accomplish this requires the coordinated effort of our property owners, of the city government and all of its service departments, as well as our planning and renewal agencies.

In Philadelphia we are putting considerable reliance on the initiative of the individual property owner. Through renewal programs in middle-aged neighborhoods, we are encouraging voluntary rehabilitation. In these areas we are also attempting to eliminate nuisances through public action and, in some cases, to install new public facilities. In the Powelton area we are using Section 220 Federal mortgage insurance for the first time, in a program to encourage voluntary rehabilitation on an area-wide basis. It is our belief that true economy in saving our city can be achieved by making every effort to further rehabilitation and conservation programs rather than waiting until areas become so bad that total renewal and redevelopment are required. An active and comprehensive program of Code enforcement through our Department of Licenses and Inspections is also putting further emphasis upon the role the individual home owner must play in keeping his property up to standards.

The most difficult part of the problem is to turn the tide in those areas which are truly substandard slums. These are the areas where housing has been used and abused to the extent that it can no longer adequately serve the purpose for which it was intended. Lack of maintenance and upkeep over a prolonged period now makes it impossible to restore these properties. For them there is only one solution—demolition and redevelopment of the entire area. In my own 5th District, we have faced up to this problem and have developed a program of which we can all be proud. In the North Allen redevelopment area, one of the worst slums in the city was torn out and replaced with over 300 attractive homes and apartments which are available for low rent housing. In this same area, on June 27, we were able to break ground for a Medical Building. In the near future, a shopping center will be erected serving the entire area. These accomplishments are only possible through the cooperation of the city, the Redevelopment Authority, the Housing Authority, the Federal Government and private enterprise. In Southwest Temple, yet another pattern was used to fulfill another housing need for the city. Here private enterprise was able to develop Jefferson Manor consisting of 229 dwelling units for middle-income families. In this case Federal and city funds were used for land acquisition and $700,000 of State funds helped to reduce building costs and to make these most attractive homes available for moderate rents.

If anyone doubts the wisdom of these expenditures, let them take a walk with me through some of the still-blighted slum areas awaiting redevelopment and see the filth, the squalor, the overcrowded conditions unsuitable for human habitation and then visit these most attractive homes and apartments.

But it is not housing alone that we have concentrated on in improving this neighborhood. Land has been cleared with redevelopment funds to make available adequate parking for industry, to extend the playground for St. Malachy's parochial school and for the John Wanamaker Junior High School which will open in September. Yet another program in this area will see the development in the very near future—I hope before the end of this year—of 300 sales homes. These will be the first homes for sale in a redevelopment area. They will be developed by a private builder with assistance of city, State and Federal funds.

The projects that I have described may sound like bits and pieces. But the thing that we are most proud of is that these are part of an overall urban renewal program, a workable program for our city. These projects have been developed to fit into an overall pattern, the comprehensive plan for our city. By adhering to an overall plan we not only hope to eliminate blight from our city, but to prevent its recurrence.

I have spoken largely of the housing problems and the problems of residential areas. I feel that I must also mention the problems faced by Philadelphia's industries. Due in large part to lack of available land for industrial expansion, we discovered that Philadelphia was losing its payrolls and it was losing its tax base. This required action, and we believe that we are taking the steps that will guarantee us a sound economy. Portions of our redevelopment areas are being made available for industry. In addition to those areas we have joined with private enterprise in setting up the Philadelphia Industrial Development Corporation, which is designed to build a land bank of available sites for industrial use and to encourage industry to come to the City.

We realize that our hope for making Philadelphia the kind of city we want to see is largely dependent upon a continuing program. To insure this continuing effort, our six-year Capital Program contains a tremendous outlay for urban renewal. We have also taken an active role in sponsoring and supporting Federal legislation which will continue to make Federal funds available for such programs. But our task is of such size that we do not believe that city funds, even with two for one matching Federal funds, will be adequate to meet the problem. It is, therefore, important that State funds continue to be made available for these programs. The welfare of the people of our Commonwealth is dependent upon our cities. Certainly we as members of the State Government, will do our share to help fight the battle to save the cities.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to make just a very brief statement.

Last week, I had occasion to take the floor and make somewhat of a complaint against some remarks made by the editorial writer of Harrisburg's fine Sunday newspaper, the Harrisburg Patriot-News. I am glad to tell all the Members, and all other interested persons, that the reaction of this newspaper was a very exemplary one.

Yesterday, they took the remarks I made here on the floor of the Senate and they spread them in full upon the same editorial page which had carried the original editorial remarks to which I objected. In doing so, they pushed John Scotzin's column out of its usual place, but we constant readers of the newspaper, and of John Scotzin's column, did not miss it. We read it with great attention. However, I do want to say, Mr. President, that this action has served to reassure, at least, one constant reader of the Harrisburg Patriot-News of that newspaper's honesty and integrity and good intentions.

Heavenly Father, we come to Thee in quietness and peace this evening hour in the awareness that the shadows of night are rapidly drawing nigh. Draw us unto Thee we humbly pray that we may find the comfort as well as the blissful joy which Thou hast to give. As Thou dost hold us in the hollow of Thy hand, near to the heart of God, grant to these Thy Children the calm and sweet repose which may bring them unto Thee for Thy richest blessing. Give to them Thy protection throughout the long night, and enable them to walk in the light of the morning hour in Thy holy eyes. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BUDGET

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, August 31, 1959.

I have the honor to transmit herewith a proposed capital budget for the Commonwealth for the 1959-61 biennium. You will also find included in this document a listing of projects which the various departments and State-aided agencies would like to have future legislatures consider.

As you know, such a document as this is unprecedented in Pennsylvania. It seems to me, as I am sure it must to the Members of the General Assembly, that it is essential for the Commonwealth to develop a planned program of capital improvements. This budget, prepared by the Office of Administration in coordination with the staff of the State Planning Board and with departmental officials, is, in my opinion, an important and valuable first step toward such comprehensive planning. In transmitting it to you, I want to make several observations.

First, it is important to emphasize that if the Legislature implements this program through additional borrowing authorization to the General State Authority, there will not be need for additional operating funds for the GSA in this biennium beyond those called for in the General Fund Budget.

Secondly, this document merely lists requests from State-aided colleges and universities, but does not make specific recommendations. In the instance of Pennsylvania State University there is a recommendation that $9,823,500 be allocated. Since past legislatures have already established the precedent for capital expenditures by the State at these institutions, I believe that their requests should be given sympathetic consideration.

Therefore, I recommend that $6,995,000 be provided the University of Pennsylvania to construct a social science center and a veterinary research and instruction building. For Temple University, I would suggest provision of funds totaling $6,742,900 for a chemistry building, a biology-life science building, and a central heating plant. At the University of Pittsburgh, the most pressing need is for a basic library unit, including undergraduates and reference libraries, which will cost $7 million. At Lincoln University, I would recommend inclusion of funds to construct a new boiler plant and shops and to build a dining hall. This amounts to $1,181,000.

It is obvious that these recommendations fall far short of the requests of these institutions. However, this same factor applies to all other agencies for which recommendations are made in this capital budget. It is apparent that there is a considerable backlog of projects demanding attention in the immediate future. The work which is recommended in this document is that which is the most urgent; it is not, by any means, the total which could be legitimately supported. However, it is the opinion of those who laboriously drew up this budget that urgency must have priority over mere desirability. I cannot disagree with this conclusion.

I trust that the Members of the General Assembly will find this budget informative and constructive and that, after careful review of its recommendations, appropriate legislation will be enacted to implement it.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

By Mr. WORLEY.

RESOLUTION No. 107.

In the House of Representatives, August 31, 1959.

Whereas, I, Francis Worley, as the State Representative for President Eisenhower's home district in Pennsylvania, and firmly dedicated to the work of International Peace; and

Whereas, The President of the United States as chief architect of our foreign policy has seen fit to invite the Premier of the Soviet Union to visit the United States and has stated that, in accordance with expressions received from the Soviet Government as to the proper treatment to be accorded the visitor, Mr. Khrushchev should be treated as holding the rank of Chief of State; and

Whereas, It appears that the Congress of the United States will not be in session during Mr. Khrushchev's visit and it further appears that the Soviet Premier will not have an opportunity to address or observe any American Legislative Body as is customary for visiting chiefs of State; and

Whereas, The President has declared that a prime objective of inviting Mr. Khrushchev to this country is to enable the leader of the Soviet Union to see American democracy in action and to measure and appraise the strength of a united, non-communist, American people; and

Whereas, The legislative process is a keystone of the democracy in America and an American legislative body

the antithesis of the parliaments of the Soviet Union; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the interests of American foreign policy, and in furtherance of the values enumerated above, Nikita S. Khrushchev, Premier of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic, be and hereby is invited to address the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on a suitable date to be arranged; and be it further

COUNCIL OF REPUBLICAN WOMEN FROM COLUMBIA COUNTY PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I would like to present to the Senate a group of Republican women who have just started a Republican Council of Women in northern Columbia County.

This section includes Benton and the Fishing Creek section. At one time, they say, in that particular area, right after the Civil War, it was hard to find a Republican. They say, in Benton, they tried to find a Republican in order to appoint him to the position of Postmaster and they just could not find one. Now, however, we have this Republican group up there. After many years, the people are turning to Republicanism. This group represents the Council of Republican Women from Benton and northern Columbia County. I wish to present this group to the Senate.

As the Democratic Lieutenant-Governor and President of the Senate, I am very happy to greet you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the historians of ancient Rome tell us that when the gladiators used to come out into the arena to fight before Caesar and the crowds, they would exclaim in Latin, "Ave, Caesar! Murituri te salutant." When translated, it means, "Hail Caesar! Those who are about to die salute thee."

Mr. President, the bill which I am introducing is about to die because it will never emerge from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, of which Senator Blass is Chairman. Nevertheless, I am doing my duty.

The bill is one which deals with camps and the regulation of camps. It is more shameful that even today, there is no list nor any tabulation of childrens camps in Pennsylvania. God forbid, in a minute of disaster or crisis, nobody would even be able to send help because they would not know what camps there are nor where they are located.

I doubt whether the bill will ever see the light of day, but I am doing my duty.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

future maintenance and construction," removing an additional road from the State highway system.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON SENATE BILL No. 112

WALKER, WATKINS, and RIPP, as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to Senate Bill No. 112.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, on Monday, a meeting was held which in and of itself may not have been very important. Possibly, the matters which they took up before this committee were not of great importance. However, I think the action of the committee is of some importance to the Members of this Chamber and to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at large.

One of the matters brought before this committee was a bill which dealt with discrimination in housing. I believe many people will join me in my belief that we no longer can afford, either as a State or as a Nation, the luxury of indulging in discrimination of any type. Over the years, we have found that this has caused us to lose the energy and the vital productive force which these people could have brought to bear in our society. They are being lost or cast away, just like any asset which this Commonwealth possesses, whether it be mineral or of any other nature being thrown away.

Mr. President, I think even worse than discrimination in housing or any other area, which is bad enough, is the way in which this was handled. It cast an aspersion and cloud on every Member of this body. When this bill came before the committee, for reasons best known to themselves, the gentlemen decided to have a secret ballot. As happens with all things which are secret, the result is up in the air. The final result is known and then we arrive at an area which hangs like a miasma over the entire group. Therefore, nobody knows exactly what took place.

One newspaper said, "GOP Kills Housing Bill." Another newspaper said, "State Senators Kill Housing Bill." A third newspaper said, "Democrats Kill Housing Bill."

What were the real results? What actually took place? Who was for it and who was against it? Those things we will never know, nor will we have any way of determining them. I feel that those of us who are elected to public office have the duty, as painful as it might be at times, to stand up and be counted. If you are in favor of some measure, I think you should say so. If you are against some measure, I think you should also state that. Regardless of what your position is, I think if you give intelligent reasons and cogent reasons which refer to the matter at hand, no one would have the right to quarrel with you because you have done the best that you know how on any particular measure.

On this Fair Housing Bill, which is a rather important measure and which was sent by the House over to the Senate, I think it should have had the benefit of all of the Members of the Senate voting on it. I admit that some of us might have found ourselves in the position where it would have been difficult to go either way. However, eventually, whether it be this week, next week or next Session, this matter will again be before us and we will have to take a position. The forces that are in favor of this bill will be in favor of it then. The forces which are against this bill will probably be just as much against it and working just as hard against it.

When we hide behind a mask of secrecy, I feel that we are not only serving those forces which would have most of our meetings be secret and have most of our affairs done under a cloak, but I think we are doing ourselves and the people of Pennsylvania a complete disservice. I think the people have a right to know. I think they have an obligation to call upon us and we, in turn, have a duty to advise them how we feel about a particular matter.

There is not a bill on this Calendar, at any time, which does not put somebody in an embarrassing position, where he must pick and choose, or decide what he feels does the most good for the greatest number of the people whom he services. It is only because we are responsible to those people that we have a right to be here and to respond to their problems in their particular areas. If we do not do that, I think we are doing less than what we have been elected to do.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that this resolution be sent to the proper committee for consideration, and I think a report should be made back to this Senate. I think the time has come when we should take this action, for all our public bodies and all of our authorities to meet in public and notice be given. We even have a bill today on our Calendar which deals with the very problem of allowing newspapermen to be present, take notes and report back to the people. I think the same should pertain in our committee actions. I do not think there is anything that goes on in those committees which should not be for the public welfare. Being for the public welfare, I think the public has a right to know how their people feel about their problems. Having heard, they can advise us. I think once they know how we feel about them, if it does not happen to be the majority view, they can write to us or come to see us and let us know. I think all of us should be available for just that type of edification and for that type of information.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that this resolution be read and sent to the proper committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUIRING THAT THE VOTE OF THE MEMBERS OF EACH STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE QUESTION OF REPORTING BILLS TO THE SENATE BE MADE A MATTER OF PUBLIC RECORD

Messrs, WEINER and BARR offered the following resolution (Serial No. 59), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

BUSINESSMEN FROM ALLEGHENY COUNTY PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I have a very pleasant task to perform at this time. On behalf of all of the six Senators from Allegheny County, I would like to draw to the attention of the Chair that we have as visitors today in the Senate of Pennsylvania, a group of businessmen from Pittsburgh and Allegheny County who, for the past several months, have been taking intensive courses and studies in government so that they, too, may become interested in it. They are here in the gallery today, and I hope that you, Mr. President, will welcome them to this Body.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Fleming. Will the gentlemen from Allegheny County please rise?

On behalf of the Senate, I can welcome you and tell you that we are very happy to have you with us today.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a one hour recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McCREESH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McCREESH. So often today, Mr. President, one hears a great deal about the freedom of the press, the freedom of speech, the freedom of religion and personal liberty. But seldom is heard of the right to possess property, which is guaranteed by both our National and State Constitutions.

The right of an individual, Mr. President, to acquire, possess and protect land and property, in most cases acquired through long years of thrift and toil, is a right we shall hear more of in the future, for our great towns and our cities are in a period of change, a change from the decaying and outmoded styles of the past to the goals of advanced modern planning and architecture. We, I am sure, are all in favor of such a change, a necessary change if our cities are to survive the shiftings of our populations and the trends of modern civilization.

As the old is torn down to make way for the new, Mr. President, and as our planning commissions and our powerful redevelopment authorities plan our cities of the future, the property rights of our citizens and our taxpayers have to be preserved. No future city or town of this great Commonwealth is worth the violation of the property rights of any one of our citizens, regardless of his economic status, for such a town or a city would be built on an unsound foundation.

The following bills which I am about to introduce, Mr. President, are drawn in an attempt to protect the property owner and the just rights of our citizens where redevelopment projects may take place in the future.

One bill is brought about by the unfortunate situation existing in the Eastwick section of west Philadelphia, where men and women engaging in small business enterprises have been compelled to relocate without adequate compensation for long years of building up a business and good will. We all know how hard it is today for a person to establish a going business and to keep it going.

Other bills, Mr. President, have been brought about by a situation existing in the west Philadelphia area, comprising the blocks of Walnut to Chestnut Streets, Thirty-second to Thirty-fourth Streets, in that area. Well over a year ago, scores of residents were ousted from their homes under Redevelopment Authority proceedings. Other residents who had not made settlement for their properties were forced to live amid rubble while homes were being torn down around them; to live, Mr. President, without electricity, without benefit of sanitary disposal conditions and, in general, to live under unbelievable living conditions. But the real injustice of this matter is, Mr. President, that up until this date, the majority of the projects planned for this area have not begun and the land has been turned into a parking mecca by two private corporations; one, a private, State-aided corporation, and the other, a private corporation soon to receive State-aid.

In my estimation, Mr. President, this situation is an outright violation of the property rights of the former taxpayers who occupied this land. These uprooted citizens must wonder in amazement as they see the thousands of dollars that have been made, that are presently being made and will be made in the future on this now untaxed land by private, not public, corporations; on land, Mr. President, where their families were born and raised, where they once lived in harmony and in the pursuit of happiness, guaranteed under our sacred constitutions.

Mr. President, on behalf of myself and several of my colleagues, I am presenting to the Chair these bills.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I would like to make an observation on the bill that we just passed. The resolution which I introduced today, which was sent to the Rules Committee, would authorize or ask that the committee meetings be matters of public knowledge and of public concern in regard to problems that affect the Members and the people living in this Commonwealth.

This bill, Senate Bill No. 1084, is one step further in the legislation we passed during the last Session, which gave the people what were known as "the right to know laws. ### BILL ON SECOND READING

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1297, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 6 1956 (P. L. 1414) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth creating Port Authorities to function in counties of the second class as bodies corporate and politic with power to plan acquire construct maintain and operate facilities and projects for the improvement and development of the port district and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof . . ." granting Port Authorities the exclusive right to engage in the business of owning operating and maintaining a transportation system for the transportation of persons in counties of the second class providing when necessary for extension of transportation systems into adjoining counties and outside of said counties as provided in the act limiting the jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission over Port Authorities authorizing municipalities to make loans and grants and to transfer existing facilities authorizing Port Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from State and local governments or agencies thereof exempting the property and facilities of such Port Authorities from taxation and limiting the time to commence civil action against said Authorities.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment to Section 14 of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment to Section 14.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 14, page 40, line 5, by striking out "This act shall take effect immediately" and inserting in lieu thereof: Notwithstanding any provisions of this amendatory act to the contrary, the powers herein granted shall not be exercised by the officers of any authority or the Board of County Commissioners of any county of the second class unless a majority of the electorate of any county of the second class, as a result of a referendum conducted at the general election of 1959 in accordance with the provisions of the election laws of the Commonwealth, vote "yes" on the question: "Shall the . . . . . Port Authority, created under the 'Second Class County Port Authority Act' engage in the business of mass transportation of passengers."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, this bill is a measure of such magnitude and far-reaching consequences that it should be submitted to a vote of the electorate for approval or rejection, for the following reasons:

First, because to initiate this scheme would require the outlay of a vast amount of general obligation bonds by the county of Allegheny.

Secondly, because the County Commissioners of Allegheny County will be forced to appropriate tens of millions of dollars of public tax money to subsidize low fares to and from the suburbs of Pittsburgh. This is the history of all mass transit arrangements when all costs are properly assessed against revenues.

Thirdly, this tax money comes from the pockets of all the people in Allegheny County, and not just from the people of Pittsburgh and its environs. Hard pressed home owners all over Allegheny County will be taxed to support a project in which they have no interest. Outlying local merchants will be taxed so that their customers may be lured into the Pittsburgh stores.

For these reasons alone, Mr. President, the people of Allegheny County should be permitted to decide whether or not they want to be taxed to support this unknown plan of operation. There are other compelling reasons why a referendum should be provided for in this bill.

This bill gives the Port Authority the right to condemn, by eminent domain, those free enterprise bus lines which operate independently of Pittsburgh. It includes those lines which are giving adequate and satisfactory service to their customers. This bill allows the Port Authority to approach these free enterprise owners with a "right of eminent domain shotgun" in one hand, and an "offer to buy tag" in the other hand. They do not have a fighting chance. Can this happen here in our American way of life? Yes, under this bill.

Mr. President, this bill follows closely the pattern of the Tennessee Valley Authority which, in 1933, took over the power companies in the Tennessee Valley and generated cheap power at the taxpayers' expense. Do we want a miniature T.V.A. in Allegheny County? The taxpayers should make this decision. The advocates of this Socialistic scheme say that they are willing to abide by the decision of the County Commissioners as to whether or not this matter should be submitted to the people. If the people of Allegheny County want Socialism, they should make that decision and not have it imposed upon them by the County Commissioners. This is not just an ordinary administrative decision. It is a gigantic decision which the people should make. They should decide if they wish to pay the freight. They should decide whether or not this scheme is their concept of the free enterprise system, under which Allegheny County has prospered for so many years.

The venerable pioneering industrialists and bankers of yesteryear, to whom Pittsburgh owes a tremendous debt of gratitude, rose to great influence in these United States and made hundreds of millions of dollars under the competitive free enterprise system. They believed in the practice and doctrine of free enterprise for private industry and business. They would turn over in their graves if they knew what their counterparts in this day are advocating in this bill. Karl Marx would laugh with great glee.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members of this Senate, in all fairness to the people of Allegheny County, to vote in favor of this amendment.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I heard Senator Koprivier's speech and found it to be very similar to the speeches which were made on the floor of the House and on the floor of the Senate here in 1947, when the Allegheny Conference, through its elected Representatives and Senators from Allegheny County, presented a package of thirteen bills to be acted upon by the General Assembly. Among them were bills creating several Authorities. These same Authorities have been copied in many of the counties throughout the Commonwealth.

To bring one to your attention, I will first mention our Allegheny County Parking Authority, which has proved to be a paying thing. We were the first to establish a Parking Authority, such as it is. Through these various bills which were passed during the Duff Administration, the renaissance which is taking place in Pittsburgh has only been possible due to the co-sponsorship of legislation such as this between the Republican and Democratic Members from Allegheny County.

Here again, we are now considering another bill which has been submitted to us by the Allegheny Conference on Community Development and, in my opinion, it is considered the finest association of its type in the Country, wherein every segment of our social and business life is constituted. In this Allegheny Conference, we have the top men of all of our largest industries; namely, steel, aluminum and the comprising elements of other large businesses in the city, plus the men of management of business, and the men from labor. They have unanimously endorsed this bill.

Mr. President, Senator Koprivier is concerned about this referendum. I do not know whether the Senator has read the bill. However, if he will turn to page 28 of House Bill No. 1297, Printer's No. 1507, he will find that it reads as follows:

"Section 13.1 The authority immediately upon its organization shall commence its study of an integrated system of mass transportation within the service area such study shall include but not be limited to the estimated cost of acquisition of existing transportation systems the development of facilities"—et cetera, et cetera. It goes on and states how this should be done.

Then, the system, once they have offered it to the county—I am just trying to hurry and not take too much of the time of the Senate. However, I shall quote from the bill as follows:

" . . . existing transportation systems estimates of revenue and expenditures for the proposed plan of integrated operation and the proposed method of financing the acquisition and the plan of integrated operation the board of county commissioners shall advertise the fact that the plan of integrated operation has been submitted and is available for public inspection at least once each week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county provided that no action may be taken by the board of county commissioners until the plan of integrated operation has been on file in the office of the county commissioners and available for public inspection for a period of at least thirty days following the date of publication of the second notice the board of county commissioners may approve or reject the plan of integrated operation as submitted or at any time thereafter direct the authority to revise the original plan of integrated operation in the event of a revision the original plan of integrated operation such revised plan of integrated operation shall be resubmitted to the board of county commissioners and shall be acted upon in the same manner as herein provided in the case of the submission by the authority of the original plan of integrated operation prior to approving or rejecting the plan of integrated operation or revised plan of integrated operation the board of county commissioners may submit the question of approval of such plan or revised plan of integrated operation for referendum at any general municipal or primary election in the event of a referendum the question shall be submitted on the ballot or on voting machines in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth. . ."

Mr. President, the bill is simply saying that we must give the County Commissioners a tool with which to work. This bill is the implement with which they can start to prepare their operation and master plan. In order for that to be done, as you all probably know, it costs money. Therefore, the County Commissioners will have to make an appropriation. Knowing County Commissioners and elected officials as I do, they are not going to make a contribution to do something if they do not know whether it will go through. If they are not satisfied with the plan, or if the public is not satisfied with the plan, or if there is too much criticism, it will then be submitted to a referendum.

Mr. President, I think that answers the gentleman from Duquesne.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I would like to answer Senator Barr in this way. I was not a Member of the Senate in 1951, when a similar bill, regarding the entire Commonwealth, was enacted. It was a "may" bill. It was called the County Health Unit Law.

We were not given a chance to vote by the County Commissioners. They just used their right by resolution. Because we make one mistake in the county or in the General Assembly does not make it necessary to make two mistakes. Allegheny County is a large county, the second largest county in the Commonwealth. A lot of people in Allegheny County are involved. A lot of people work out of the city of Pittsburgh. If Pittsburgh has a problem, it should take care of its own problem.

This amendment gives the people of Allegheny County a chance to vote on this matter in order to let the County Commissioners know whether they should spend money or not. It is not the commissioners' money; it is the taxpayers' money. That is why I am opposed to the present law.

I have read the bill, Senator Barr, for your information, and I am sure you have, too.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman was talking about the County Health Unit. There was a bill passed by the Legislature, during the first Session of the Fine Administration, which allowed any county which cared to do so to develop their own county health unit. This is not at all similar to this bill. I cannot see the parallel. Nevertheless, I will say this. There are twenty-seven Members in the House, from Allegheny County, both Republican and Democratic on the other side, and there are six Senators over here. The twenty-seven Members in the House are all in favor of the County Health Plan. Five of the six Senators present are in favor of it. You are the only one who is not in favor of it. That is a pretty good average. I would say thirty-one out of thirty-two are in favor of it.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, those Members cannot be questioned at this time because this is 1959. We have had a chance to work on the County Health Unit Law in Allegheny County. In fact, one of the townships is suing the Allegheny County Health Department to leave the County Health Unit. That is a fact, and I think you know that, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. No. I do not know that.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I thought you did.

Mr. BARR. Which township is it?

The PRESIDENT. May I remind both of you gentlemen that we are talking about an amendment to a bill and not the bill itself?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I am sorry, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have no more to say. I answered the gentleman on his amendment.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not from Allegheny County. I represent Washington County, which is contiguous to Allegheny County. I have reviewed this bill in detail, and I have supported this legislation since its inception. I have a concern for the problems of the metropolitan areas of Pennsylvania, and I feel that this is good legislation and progressive legislation. It is something that Allegheny County and the city of Pittsburgh must have.

I wish to say, also, Mr. President, that the way this bill is written, the members of the Authority are actually agents of the County Commissioners because they can be removed at will by the appointing power. As Senator Barr has stated here, I am quite confident that the Commissioners of Allegheny County would be very reluctant to appropriate any money to implement the operation of this legislation if they were not sure that the program was going through.

As far as referendums are concerned, I have often thought that they are more or less plebiscites. We gentlemen here represent the people of Pennsylvania, and upon our record we must either stand or fall. Therefore, I do not believe that a referendum at this particular time is proper.

May I also say, Mr. President, that I have heard people oppose this legislation with negative thought. I have asked many of them, "What is your substitute?" I have never heard of any substitute. No one has told me anything about a substitute. I feel that the Members of this Senate have a responsibility to the metropolitan areas because the deterioration of the central parts of our cities has advanced to the point where, unless we do something about transportation, these large buildings are going to be abandoned. Tax assessments will be lost. When talking about costs upon the taxpayers, let me say that if a few of these buildings are abandoned and they are given back to the county because the taxes cannot be paid, then, of course, the people of the metropolitan areas are going to suffer as far as taxes are concerned.

It appears to me also, Mr. President, that this legislation will help business not only in Pittsburgh, but in Allegheny County, as a whole, and that is what we want. We have been endeavoring to help business here in Pennsylvania since 1949. Even though this may cost some money, I have confidence in the Commissioners of Allegheny County. I have confidence in the elected officials, and I know they will try to do the right thing.

Senator Walker, who was formerly the Floor Leader on the other side, served in the Senate with distinction. I think most of us have a wholesome respect for him. I know that Senator Walker will do the very best he can. He happens to be a Republican, too, but he still will do the best he can for the people of Allegheny County.

John J. Kane has served for years, and he has done a good job. Some will say, "Kane is not going to be in there." However, he is going to have a very able man succeed him. Those men are not going to go out willy-nilly on something unless they are sure of themselves.

I have the utmost confidence in those public officials, and I think the Senate does also. We should pass this legislation and not accept amendments, because if we accept this amendment, we are killing the bill. That is the story.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, the eminent Attorney General of Pennsylvania, Anne Alpern, has put it this way:

"In general, I am opposed to government by authority because it would mean buying out the Pittsburgh Railways at a high price which has no relation to its real value. It would mean taking on an extraordinary undertaking—a migraine municipal headache from which the city would never recover. Government has enough to cope with today. It needs no new problems."

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to see the manuscript from which the gentleman just read. I think it is probably taken out of context.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. It is taken out of "The Pittsburgh Story," Senator Barr, but she said it.

Mr. BARR. You said it was a letter.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I said it was taken out of "The Pittsburgh Story."

Mr. BARR. May I see it, please?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Certainly.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have no objection to what the gentleman has said. It is out of context, as I thought. He said it was a Pittsburgh story, written by Anne Alpern when she ran for judge. She was a judge for five years, so that would be six years and she has been here a year. Therefore, that would be seven years ago.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I want to correct Senator Barr.

At the beginning of the Bicentennial, and I think he knows this, there was a great book written,—some people call it great and I am sure it is great—called "The Pittsburgh Story," put out by the very people who are interested in Pittsburgh and in renaissance of Pittsburgh. This was part of that story, "The Pittsburgh Story." It was not part of her campaign. That is what I said.

Mr. BARR. Well, then, Senator Koprivier, number one, I think it has nothing to do with the amendment; number two, it was a campaign document; and, number three, it was at the time when the Pittsburgh Railways Company was trying to get a rate increase from the Public Utility Commission.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I might say that I have opposed Authorities many times. However, in this case, they are with us. They are an absolute necessity and we must have them. Without Authorities, we would not be able to build our schools. I think the State School Building Authority is doing a very good job. Certainly, it is an expensive operation, but we have something here we must live with and we have to do the best that we can.

However, Mr. President, this discussion does not particularly pertain to Authorities. We are now talking about a referendum.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BLASS. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, how did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Camiel, vote?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Camiel, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, the gentleman is not here.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure that somebody must have answered for him.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. That may be so, Mr. President, but Senator Camiel is not present.

How is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Donolow, recorded as having voted?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Donolow, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, he is not here.

How is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro, recorded as having voted?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, the gentleman is not here.

How is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Silvert, recorded as having voted?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Silvert, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, Senator Silvert is not present.

How is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, recorded as having voted?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, he is not here.

How is the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Rooney, recorded as having voted?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Rooney, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, he is not here.

How is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Mullin, recorded as having voted?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Mullin, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, he is not here.

Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk may call the roll, please.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, you have had enough time, I think, to verify the roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate is at ease at the moment. Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I did not understand that.

Point of order, Mr. President. I asked for a verification of the roll call before the Senate was at ease.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr is not the Chief Clerk up there, is he? The Clerk does not need any assistance.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe some implication was made by the gentleman that there are some Members who are not present. They may have left this Chamber, but some of their belongings are here.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would ask for a recess until we bring those people in here.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I object.

This is my fourth Session in this Senate and I can remember many, many times when that was tried on our side and the Members on the other side did not permit it.

Therefore, Mr. President, I object.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if there is an objection to that, I then make the motion that we adjourn until 8:00 o'clock this evening. By that time, the Members can be brought here.

The PRESIDENT. Are you speaking of Eastern Standard Time or Daylight Saving Time?

Mr. WEINER. I will make it Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT. A motion to adjourn takes precedence over every other motion.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I am only asking for a final vote.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the final vote could be read to the gentleman. However, a verification of the roll call is the motion which is before this body.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion for a verification of the vote. A motion to adjourn would take precedence over that motion for verification.

Mr. BERGER. I believe, Mr. President, that nothing may interrupt the announcement of the roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The roll call has been completed. The only matter before the Senate is the verification of the roll call.

Mr. BERGER. The roll call has not yet been announced.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, when the announcement was going to be made on the roll call, the gentleman interceded and asked for a verification of the roll. I would respectfully suggest to the Chair that the roll call be announced to this Body.

The only two motions before this Senate would then be the verification of the roll call, which has not been seconded, plus the fact that a motion was made for adjournment. There is a Member here to second that motion if the Chair would give him a chance. There has been no second to the motion for a verification of the roll call. The motion to adjourn supersedes any other motion before this Body and is not debatable.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion to adjourn.

The PRESIDENT. There is no doubt that a motion to adjourn would take precedence over a motion to verify the roll call.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, simply in the interest of order in this matter, I inquire of the Chair whether or not this constitutes an interruption of the roll call.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the roll call has been completed. The interruption of the roll call was an interruption by the gentleman who asked for a verification. He would not allow the Clerk to announce what the final result was, in order for the announcement of the roll call to be made by the Chair. That was interrupted by asking for a verification. There has been no second to the motion for a verification of the roll call. That motion has been superseded by a motion to adjourn, which has been duly seconded and is not debatable.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the request for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. May I confer with Senator Weiner and Senator Berger, please? The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Senator Koprivier, are you withdrawing your request for the floor?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I am, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The result of the vote should be announced.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that for the purpose of orderliness—

The PRESIDENT. For the purpose of what?

Mr. WEINER. For an orderly procedure in this matter, or an order of proceeding in this matter, we should have a roll call which is complete. No announcement was made as to the final effect of this roll. We had a motion for verification with a notation made by the gentleman. There was no second to that verification.

If the Chair will allow me to respectfully advise it, the only thing that has to be done is the announcement of the roll now. The motion to adjourn is before you immediately following the announcement of that roll call, and we must act on that motion.

I do not believe that a verification of the roll, which is improperly before you, has any standing at this time, nor can it intervene between the motion to adjourn and the announcement of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. This is an argument, and there is no need for it at this point. I have just asked that the vote be announced on the roll call.

Mr. WEINER. If the Chair please, the gentleman, Mr. Koprivier, of Allegheny County, asked that his motion be withdrawn, and the Chair, I believe, ruled on that and asked for the vote to be announced.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I did not withdraw my request, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Koprivier stated previously that he would not ask for the Floor. I did not hear him ask for the withdrawal of his motion. However, that is of no moment because it was not seconded at the proper time.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I must have misunderstood his motion, and I want to apologize to the gentleman for doing so.

The PRESIDENT. It might be well to say that a motion to adjourn is always in order, except during the taking or verification of a vote. Therefore, the motion to adjourn could only be made after the completion of the roll call, which the Clerk should now announce.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BLASS and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Berger,	Keller,	Mallery,	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler	Pechan,	Wagner,
Confair,	Koprivier, Jr.	Shafer,	Walker,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Harney,

NAYS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Murray,	Scott,
Chapman,	Mahady,	Propert,	Seyler,
Ehrgood,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Taylor,
Fleming,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Sartaf,	Weiner,
Kalman,	Miller,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, someone cannot count. There are eight missing on the other side. I think we should be fair.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the roll has been announced. I believe the ruling of the Chair was that the roll would be announced and that we would act on the motion to adjourn, which is before this Body, and which has been duly seconded.

The PRESIDENT. That is the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, is not a verification of the roll part of the roll call vote?

The PRESIDENT. No, it is not. It never has been, sir.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. All right, then does a motion to adjourn—

The PRESIDENT. A motion to adjourn is in order at any time except during the taking of a vote. The vote has been taken. The results have been announced, and the motion to adjourn has been seconded. All those in favor—

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call vote.

The PRESIDENT. The motion was about to be put, sir.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, a motion to adjourn is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. You are absolutely correct, but the motion has not been put. I was about to put in.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to adjourn.

The PRESIDENT. That takes care of some of our problems.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the adjournment motion.

RECONSIDERATION OF AMENDMENT

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now move that the vote by which the amendment to House Bill No. 1297 was just defeated be reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. FLEMING. With the prevailing side.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. BARR. With the prevailing side, Mr. President.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

On the question,

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I wanted to say a couple of things. I would have seconded Senator Fleming's motion. I am glad now that the motion to adjourn was withdrawn because I was going to vote against it. I think we should settle this thing once and for all.

I have always had a great pride in being a Member of this Body. However, I do have to say that this discussion on the amendments, the vote and the request for the verification of it was, in my opinion, the sorriest spectacle I have seen here in this State Senate. I think that the integrity of the democratic process is more important than the failure or the success of any bill that we have before us.

It has always been my understanding, and I think the custom of the Presiding Officer since I have been here, that when a motion is made, to request a second. There was a parliamentary trick or maneuver made to introduce a motion to adjourn, which we all know is not debatable, before the second to the verification could be requested or recognized. I did see one of the Senators—I believe it was Senator Pechan—attempts to become recognized for the purpose, I believe, of seconding the motion for a verification.

I do think that any Senator is entitled to the courtesy of this Body, and that Senator Koprivier should have been allowed to request this verification, and have the roll verified at the time it was asked.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out one thing to the gentleman who just spoke. What he may have considered a parliamentary maneuver, I think, was one more step in what he was saying about the dignity of this Body and the people involved in it. I believe there was an implication made. I do not think the gentleman did it wilfully or to in any way impinge upon the Members of this Body. I think he was caught up in the debate on this motion and was very sincere in trying to obtain a certain result, and he did a very effective job.

It has been said that some Members were not present, but they had been in this hall. Some had recently gone to attend committee meetings. I believe it was proper to ask that we give these people time to come back here so that they could be recorded on the verification of the roll. It was not a parliamentary maneuver or any type of attack to prevent what was going to be the ultimate result in this matter.

I think all of the Members present should have regard for the other Members who may or may not be present. We are constantly under heavy pressure when we are present, from people back home, from people who are present in this Chamber and from our colleagues. I think these gentlemen deserve an opportunity to be here and to be heard. That is a courtesy we should extend to anyone who is a Member of this Body.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I think that a Senator who has been here during the day and stepped out of the room temporarily is in one category. However, at least one of the Senators was recorded as voting "no" on this amendment, according to what the clerk said, and all of us know that he is on the west coast. I do not see how, under any circumstances, the parliamentary maneuvering which went on can be justified when that type of vote was recorded.

REQUEST FOR RULING BY THE CHAIR

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, while we are on the subject, I believe that it was well known to all the Members of the Senate that there would, undoubtedly, be a roll call taken upon the question involving this particular bill this afternoon, and had the Senators who were absent been interested, I am sure they would have been here to vote on it. However, that is not the object of my speaking here at this moment.

I would like to request, Mr. President, a ruling from the Chair as to whether or not it is necessary to second a verification request made by any Senator in the Hall because, in my experience, there have been no seconds to requests for verifications of the roll when made by any Senator.

The PRESIDENT. Would you wish a ruling on that immediately, or would you be willing to give the Chair time to consider the matter?

Mr. BERGER. I would be willing to give the Chair all of the time that he requires. It is simply for future guidance, Mr. President, because I am sure that if a second is necessary, we have been very remiss over the past ten or twelve years.

The PRESIDENT. Certainly. One of the things I would have done, upon leaving this Chamber, would have been to look up this particular point. I will do that, and report my ruling to the Body.

I am certain that the Senate has been very careful in its conduct, while I have been its Presiding Officer, in an attempt to do nothing that would hurt the democratic processes of our government.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I am sorry for what has occurred. However, I think, in all fairness, attention should be drawn to the Membership of the courtesies which at times have been extended to our side of the house by the Democratic side when they have permitted us to vote some men who were not present. I can recall one instance, not in this Session but in another Session, when we were permitted to vote a man who was in the hospital. At this Session, I know of many times when all fifty of the Members of this Chamber have been recorded. Probably that is not right, sir. Probably only those people who are in their seats should be permitted to be recorded. However, it is a courtesy which has been extended from one side to the other and I have not heard it questioned very often. Certainly, the question has been raised today. I do agree with Senator McMenamin that when the question has been raised unquestionably we should only record those who are in the Chamber; those who have voted.

I think that Senator Barr recognized that, along with myself. Both of us had voted in the negative and, seemingly, according to the vote that had been announced, had won our point. I am sure I can speak for Senator Barr when I say we certainly are prepared to forego any victory we might have at the moment if, in any way, we are establishing a precedent which would hamper the democratic processes as we know them in this Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would now ask, sir, that the roll be called and only those who are in the Chamber be recorded.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think that most of you will distinctly recall when I opposed the passage of the four per cent sales tax, there were two Members voted who were not in their seats; namely, Senator DiSilvestro, who was in the hospital, and Senator Miller. You did not hear any objection from me because I appreciate the circumstances, and it has been the practice here in the past to permit those people to be voted.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Berger	Keller	Madigan	Van Sant
Blass	Harney	Mallery	Wade
Confair	Kessler	Pechan	Wagner
Elliott	Kopriever, Jr	Shafer	Walker
Flack	Kromer	Stevenson	Whalley

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

Ehrgood	McGinnis	Ripp	Taylor
Fleming	McMenamin	Ruth	Watkins

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The roll was called and was as follows:

Ehrgood,	McGinnis,	Ripp,	Taylor,
Fleming,	McMenamin,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Hays,	Miller,	Sarraff,	Weiner,
Kalman,

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, how did the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Ripp, vote?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Ripp, is recorded as having voted "no."

Mr. BARR. The roll call has already been verified. Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. In accordance with the Constitution, the Presiding Officer has the right to vote in the event of a tie vote, and votes in the negative. On the basis of the vote, it is 21 "yeas" and 22 "nays," and the amendments are defeated.

Mr. Koprivier, JR. Mr. President, I offer the following amendments, and ask that they be adopted.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments to Section 3.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec.3), page 11, line 6, by striking out "same" and inserting: "following"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 3), page 11, lines 7 and 8, by striking out "as provided in section 7 of this act in determining compensation" in line 7, and all of line 8 and inserting: "(i) The gross annual revenue; (ii) the original cost of construction with particular reference to the amount expended in existing and useful permanent improvements; (iii) the amount in market value of the owner's bonds and stocks if the owner be a corporation as shall be just and fair; (iv) the probable earning capacity of the property under particular rates prescribed by statute or ordinance or other municipal contract or fixed by any regulatory body; (v) the items of expenditures for obsolete equipment and construction as the circumstances and historical development of the property may warrant; (vi) the reproduction cost of the property based upon the fair average price of materials property and value, and the development and going-concern value of such properties and franchises; (vii) any element of delay in exercising the power granted by this subsection; and (viii) any other elements of value."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I do not want to give a discussion here but, in brief, these are amendments to take out eminent domain from the bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I oppose the adoption of these amendments and I ask my colleagues to vote "no."

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues in the Senate, in the name of fair play and justice, to vote in favor of the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I offer the following amendments, and ask that they be adopted.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments to Section 12.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 31, line 10, by striking out "condemnation"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 31, line 18, by striking out "Upon" and inserting: "Except as otherwise provided in this section upon"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 32, line 4, by inserting after "area"; "except as otherwise provided in this section"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 32, line 5, by striking out "The" and inserting: "Except as otherwise provided in this section the"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 32, line 5, by striking out "exclusive"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 32, line 19, by striking out "in" and inserting in lieu thereof: "In"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1) page 33, line 4, by striking out "for" where it appears the second time and inserting in lieu thereof: "including"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 33, line 6, by inserting after "area": "Said excepted transportation systems shall continue to be under the supervision, control and regulation of the Public Utility Commission and the provisions of the Public Utility Law and the authority shall not have any jurisdiction or control over the rates, service or operations of said systems"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 33, line 14, by inserting after "purchase": "or"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 33, line 14, by striking out "or eminent domain"; Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page 34, line 8, by inserting after "commisison": "Until it is acquired or enters into an operation contract as set forth above each transportation system shall continue to be under the supervision, control and regulation of the Public Utility Commission and the provisions of the Public Utility Law, and the authority shall not have any jurisdiction or control over the rates, service or operations of said system, nor shall the authority, without the prior approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, operate any mass transportation system in any manner that will result in a change in competition with a system that is to be acquired, as it exists on the date of the recording of the plan of integrated operation."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to oppose these amendments and I request my colleagues to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Berger,	Keller,	Mallery,	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wagner,
Confair,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Shafer,	Walker,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Harney,

NAYS—21

Barr,	Lane,	Murray,	Scott,
Chapman,	Mahady,	Propert,	Seyler,
Ehrgood,	McGinnis,	Ripp,	Taylor,
Fleming,	McMenamin,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Hays,	Miller,	Sarra,	Weiner,
Kalman,

The PRESIDENT. The vote on the amendments is a tie vote. Under the Constitution, the Presiding Officer may vote and my vote is in the negative. Therefore, the amendments are defeated.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I offer the following amendments to House Bill No. 1297, and ask that they be adopted.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments to Section 7.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 7 (Sec. 7.1), page 17, lines 13 to 18, page 18, lines 1 to 20, page 19, lines 1 to 20, page 20, lines 1 to 20, page 21, lines 1 to 11, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting: "Section 7.1 The authority shall not exercise the power of eminent domain with respect to or in connection with the business of owning, operating and maintaining a transportation system"; Amend Sec.7 (Sec. 7.1), page 18, line 6, by inserting after "worship": "nor any transportation company or system that is furnishing adequate or satisfactory service."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, these amendments are just simple amendments. They try to protect the bus companies in Allegheny County, which are doing a good job and giving satisfactory service. They also, again, amend eminent domain. That is done for the reason of fair play and justice in Allegheny County.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe that the bill provides, at the present time, that these bus companies are protected until the plan is put into effect.

Therefore, I request that my colleagues on both sides of the aisle vote "no" on these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, was there a second to that request for a verification of the roll?

The PRESIDENT. No, Senator Lane. I am ruling at this hour that a request by a single Member of this august Body will be considered as appropriate and I have ordered a verification.

Mr. LANE. Is that as of today, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. As of this minute, Senator Lane.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Berger	Harney	Mallery	Van Sant
Blass	Keller	Pechan	Wade
Confair	Kessler	Propert	Wagner
Ehrgood	Koprivier, Jr.	Scott	Walker
Elliott	Kromer	Shafer	Whalley

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

HONORABLE VERNON KIRKPATRICK WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. It is the privilege of the Chair to introduce the Honorable Vernon Kirkpatrick, for 20 years a Member of the General Assembly of California where he has served with distinction.

I have asked our visitor to tell you briefly the story of how, as a Legislator, he started out 20 years ago with a salary, as I remember, of $100 a month and no place to hang his hat, and what has happened since that time makes a very interesting tale indeed.

It is the Chair's pleasure to present to the House the Honorable Vernon Kirkpatrick, Member of the General Assembly from California.

ADDRESS BY HONORABLE VERNON KIRKPATRICK

Hon. VERNON KIRKPATRICK. Thank you, Speaker Andrews. I consider it a very distinct honor to be invited to speak with you this morning, ladies and gentlemen, in the Legislative Halls of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Your Speaker has invited me, as he has stated, to tell you something of the progress, the working conditions, the improvements that we have experienced over the past 20 years in the State of California. And I would tell you that as these improvements in our working day, our compensation, the decorum with which we could operate, the facilities which were added to our convenience improved, general public respect increased along with it.

As your Speaker has said, 20 years ago we were on a salary of $1,200 a year; we drew $12 dollars a day as applied against that $1,200 for a period of 100 days; and when we went over that we lived on our own or we got the support of the third house.

At that time it seemed to me that the motives of many Members certainly was not in the Legislative Hall, but it was merely a stepping stone to some other spot where they wanted to go. So consequently, as the Governor neared his program, the Speaker or the Chairman of Rules or other strong men, the lawyers especially in the Legislature were seeking to do the bidding that they were invited to do in order that they might get to some other place.

Then industrial men on the payroll of great businesses came to the Legislature and their pay went on with the private industry while they were in the Legislature and then they went home. Others were in the insurance business and they arranged enough business while they were in Sacramento during the Session that it took care of them pretty well. But, folks, this is not conducive to the best interests of the people of my State. So, finally, we asked the people for an increase in salary, but, mind you, a lot of Legislators were hesitant—they won't give it to us, they'll turn us down on this—but we asked for $250 and they did turn us down. And the next two years we went back and asked for $3,500 and we got it; four years later we asked for $6,000 and we got it; and we have a measure to go on the ballot in November of next year for $9,000.

When I went to the Legislature—this was 20 years ago—was the first year when a Legislator had an office. That year we were placed on the fourth floor, one elevator for 150 or 200 lobbyists, and the lobbyists always seemed to get to the elevator before we did. When we got to the elevator, our secretaries were somewhere else. We had a pool of 30 secretaries for 80 assemblymen and you did find, after a while, that your secretary was working for another assemblyman and so you had to take a secretary that you had not seen before. We did not have a telephone book. They cost a dollar. We could not afford to have a telephone book. I was in the Legislature for four years before they put out a car at State expense; I used to thumb my way from Los Angeles to Sacramento, back and forth, because we could not afford to pay; we had no income for that.

Today we are in a $7 million annex. Every Member has his own private office. Every Member has a secretary. Every Member has at least two telephones, and by pushing a button the Sergeant-at-arms brings him the bills that he wants and renders any other service. We can call the library and books are brought over from the library that we require, and we can do more work for the people of California in 30 minutes now than we could do all day in the confusion that we had at that early time.

Yet, there were those people who felt that a Legislator should not be paid, but folks, if the man is worthy of his hire, he must be compensated accordingly.

Now, we get, while we are in Session, in addition to our $6,000, $18 a day expense money. Shortly when I return back home, I will be out on committee work and will receive $20 a day. I will use my own automobile to drive about the State on official business and we get 15 cents a mile.

It occurs to me that the board of directors of a great Commonwealth of 15 million people should be compensated on the basis that the job is a thing in itself. They should not have to run for this spot in order to get to some other place.

Our local Board of Supervisors in Los Angeles draws $20,000 a year, and the people voted for that salary themselves. We put a measure on the ballot a year ago asking that we be allowed to fix our own salaries. The papers made fun of that. I felt that it was not exactly a good measure, but this year we come back and we are asking for a $9,000 salary and I have every feeling that it will be passed.

I just want to say something about the quality. The quality of the personnel of the Members who are in the California Legislature today probably could not be exceeded by any method that you would want to select, as compared with the years gone by when we had much to wish for. I think most of it has come about by the fact that we have made it a desirable job and we have put it pretty much on a business basis. I feel, too, that as we elevate our own opinion of our responsibilities and our quality that the people will be inclined to accept that opinion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair certainly wants to thank the gentleman from California. It took 20 years of battle they have made and I guess they are at least half way to the goal they have in mind.

This is no occasion for the Chair to make any talk, but wants to emphasize the one point which stands out in the remarks of our visitor, that is, if you are going to be respected you have to start with self-respect. If you treat yourself as though you do not deserve respect, you do not get it, you can be judged by the manner of your life and the quarters in which you live. You can be judged by the quality of service that you provide for yourself.

The Chair certainly, on behalf of the House, thanks the gentleman from California, and wants to add that if there were a fund upon which the Speaker could draw, it would be part of our regular program that every two weeks or so we would have a visitor from some Legislature in some one of the States of our Union. It is possible for a Legislature to have too much inbreeding, and we should have the opportunity every now and then to hear the talks of a visitor to acquaint ourselves with what other Legislatures are doing to elevate themselves.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WHEELER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

REQUEST TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as there seems to be a few minutes' lull, I would ask the permission of the Chair and the House to make a few remarks.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands from the Majority Leader that he is about to take the floor to inaugurate the Memorial Service. If the gentleman will confer with the Majority Leader, it would suit the Chair at any time to hear the gentleman.

Mr. LAMB. I will do it later. Thank you.

RESOLUTION MEMORIAL SERVICES

Mr. MUSTO asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives,
September 1, 1959.

Resolved, That Tuesday, the 1st day of September, 1959, at 11:45 A.M. o'clock, E.S.T., be set apart by this House of Representatives for addresses on the lives, character and public services of our deceased Members, as provided in a resolution already adopted by this House.

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour fixed by special order of the House to pay tribute to the memory of our departed Members, the regular order of the business of the House will now be suspended.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Memory is the ivy that cloaks the ruins of the strong human towers that have fallen. Time furnishes the verdure that mantles the scars that time itself has caused. The passing of those who have served us as the strong pillars of our common existence confronts us with its period of blinding grief. We cry aloud and sometimes it would seem that there is no answer from across the vale.

Robert G. Ingersoll, standing beside his brother's grave, delivered an oration that has become a classic for all times. In that oration there was a deathless sentence. Speaking of the grief and despair that attends the departure of those we cherish and esteem, Ingersoll said: "In the midst of that black night hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing."

As we meet today in these Memorial Services, the rustle that we hear is the laughter that lives in memory, the comradeship that abides, the fellowship that is born among those who till a common field. We today turn back the pages of the Legislative Journal and for the hour, those to whose memory this service is dedicated, once again, in the mirror of our minds, occupy their familiar seats. They join with us in the promotion of the causes we must needs serve. Our mission is the creation and perpetuation of a human welfare state and that, too, was the cause served by those we today commemorate.

The departed ones to whom we today pay tribute, in their day paid tribute to those who had gone before them. The hour will come when future Members of this House will pay their tribute to us. Let us hope that we, in our time, can maintain the traditions of service that have been established for us.

The Chair requests the gentleman from York, Mr. Rudisill, Chairman of the Select Memorial Committee, to come to the rostrum and preside.

Mr. RUDISILL IN THE CHAIR.

The CHAIRMAN. Once again, as has been done many, many times in the past in this Hall, all business of the House of Representatives has been suspended so that we might, in accordance with the memorial resolution unanimously adopted, go into memorial session, and to the end that we might approach the memorial hour with fitting solemnity and with our hearts and our minds attuned to the purpose thereof, we have caused the Mace to be properly draped.

Prayer will be offered by the Chaplain and a hymn sung by the House Chorus under the direction of the gentleman from Delaware, Dr. Dengler.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Reverend David R. Hoover as follows:

Most Gracious God, Thou who hast created life and possesses the power to take it away, we come to Thee in this memorial service with the realization that Thou alone hast the words of Eternal Life. As we pay tribute in this hour to those Members who have passed from this life we pray that Thou wilt fill us with the knowledge that this life is not the end but that it is only the testing ground for a better and a greater life in the world that is to come. Speak to us, we humbly pray, with the assurance that these fellow-servants we honor this day have been called to nobler service in eternity. Likewise, be near and dear unto us who are still traveling this road of life. Inspire and lead us with the knowledge of Thy truth that serving Thee in this life we may also gain through Thy grace and the merits of Jesus Christ, Our Lord, a life of eternity with Thee. When the trumpet of the Lord shall sound and time shall be no more, and the morning breaks eternal, bright and fair; when the saved of earth shall gather over on the other shore, and the roll is called up yonder, may we be there. Amen.

The House Chorus, directed by Mr. Dengler, sang "Abide With Me."

The CHAIRMAN. With the words of the prayer, with its message of comfort, and the closing strains of that beautiful hymn, "Abide With Me," still lingering in our ears we proceed in paying our tribute of respect to those of our colleagues who have terminated their useful, honorable and distinguished Membership in the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to serve in that General Assembly that recognizes no "this side of the aisle," no "that side of the aisle" which General Assembly is presided over by Him Whom we, in requesting recognition, address in this fashion: "Our Father, which art in Heaven," and in that understanding, that the departing of our colleagues is the entering in by them of a different assignment, one with a wider area for further useful, honorable and distinguished service, the Chair is of the unequivocal belief that the sadness of this hour is softened somewhat as we pause with the memories of those friendships and with the recollection of the many delightful associations passing before us, one after the other, as in intimate review.

The Chief Clerk will call that honored roll and response will be made by the Secretary of the House.

The CHIEF CLERK (Joseph Ominsky). Honorable Daniel Carson, County of Philadelphia.

The SECRETARY (Paul C. Moomaw). Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Granville Ennis Jones, County of Philadelphia.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Allen Moore Gibson, County of Warren.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable John Rochambeau Haudenshield, County of Allegheny.

The SECRETARY. Absent.

The CHAIRMAN. And now, for such remarks as they may deem appropriate for the occasion, the Chair will recognize in turn those two gentlemen of this House whom our departed colleagues were delighted to called their Leaders.

The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, two years have passed and another Session of the General Assembly has been convened, on another date for another memorial service. Since the last was held in the Hall of the House, four of our comrades have passed to meet their Maker, four faces that we knew so well, from both sides of the aisle, that we talked to so often. The friendships to which we were devoted and the friendships that we kindled can never be forgotten. To those four gentlemen who served with us as Members of this House we dedicate this memorial service.

That the services of the future shall some day pertain to us is a certainty. Each of us to whom God has given life must eventually realize that we must come to the end of the services to which we are devoted.

These four people, four Members of the House, have devoted their services to the Commonwealth and to the people of the districts which they represented. The ideals and goals that they sought and were seeking, the inspirations that were all for the betterment of mankind and the betterment of this Nation and this Commonwealth, others must continue to carry forth, with the inception and thought that the goal they were seeking is a goal we can never reach but for which we always keep trying. These four men, our brothers, who have passed on since our last memorial service, we shall never forget, as we have never forgotten the others who served before them.

We are confident as we pause here in this memorial service that they look down upon us today, and with their ideals and goals we shall look forward to carrying out the principles they believed in which makes this nation of ours so great.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Chairman, it is our purpose here today to pay tribute to the memory of our departed friends, men who have won our undying love and respect. As we look around this Hall we see the new faces that have replaced those who have gone before, we realize that others will come to take our place. As we ponder this ageless story, we realize, too, that it is the little things about these fine men that we remember most, the quick smile, the warm handclasp, the pat on the back, the flash of good humor, their kind words and deeds; the best things they did seem to pale in importance beside these. Perhaps the greatest tribute we can pay the these, our ageless friends, is to recognize this fact and strive to emulate these everlasting qualities. It is a privilege to have had such friends who knew the real values of life.

The CHAIRMAN. You have heard just a few moments ago the calling of the roll by the Chief Clerk, whence came the solemn response, absent. The Chair will again call that honored roll and in so doing will recognize gentlemen of the House for a further response.

The Chair calls the name of the Honorable Daniel Carson and recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Austin Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Chairman, I rise to pay a brief tribute to my friend and colleague from the city of Philadelphia, the Honorable Daniel Carson.

Daniel Carson was born in Philadelphia on May 16, 1905. He was the son of Dr. Alfred D. and Catherine L. Carson. He attended the Philadelphia public school system and was a member of the Republican City Committee from the 41st Ward in the city and county of Philadelphia. He belonged to a number of other civic and community organizations and served as a delegate to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco, California, in 1956.

He died an untimely death at the age of only 52 on December 4, 1957, leaving a sister Josephine, with whom he made his home.

Representative Carson was elected to the House of Representatives in 1956 to represent the 24th District of the city of Philadelphia. The warmth and strength of his personality soon won him a host of friends among the membership of this House, without regard to political affiliation. He devoted himself to the representation of his district with fidelity and vigor. His greatest attribute was the unquenchable spirit with which he approached all things, problems of civic concern, issues large and small in the political arena, as well as matters of humanitarian concern in his own home community. Nothing confronting him was ever too big or too small to command his whole energy and enthusiasm. Daniel Carson's legislative service was short, but he leaves among us and among our former colleagues many who will long remember him as an able Member of this House, who served in its highest and finest tradition.

The CHAIRMAN. Calling the name, the Honorable Granville Ennis Jones, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Chairman, at this hour we pause in our deliberations to pay tribute to the memory of those of our colleagues who have gone to their eternal rest. Although we are inescapably moved to the emotion of sadness at this time of memorial because of our awareness that the passing of these distinguished men represents a grave and a profound loss to their families and dear ones and to this General Assembly and because of the void that surely must be left in the hearts of those who loved them, yet we do not assemble for this service to compound the sorrow that their departure has brought. Rather we seek to rekindle the light and the glow of memory so that we may better view and observe in our mind's eye the recollections, the esteem and the fond regard we have for these men whom God has called unto him.

We number among our losses the death of the Honorable Granville Ennis Jones who passed away on March 7, 1959. I have been honored by the request to participate in this service and to speak of Granville. I know full well that I might recite at length in unfolding the dedicated and purposeful life that was pursued by this distinguished gentleman, since he was not only a law-maker and a Member of this General Assembly for eleven years prior to his death and a political figure of importance in the city of Philadelphia, but also a highly prominent and successful professional man and a devotee of communal effort and activity.

However, I choose not to relate the chronology of his many accomplishments, the many honors accorded him or the many important events with which the life of this dedicated servant was replete. Rather, I choose to speak of a simple kindness that he extended to me when I was elected to this House. I remember Granville fondly and with warmth for the consideration he extended to me. I have since come to learn that kindness and consideration has marked and characterized his entire 58 years. It has been said that whoever is compassionate toward his fellowman will be visited with compassion from Heaven. Thus, although there falls heavily upon our hearts the solemn reply of "absent" upon the calling of his name on the roll, we take solace and comfort in the knowledge that Granville E. Jones has answered "here" to God's summons and that he has been elevated to that celestial chamber.

Perhaps like most young men who enter this great Hall as a Member for the first time, I was awe stricken both by the beauty of this Chamber and the solemnity of the deliberations. The apprehension of embarking upon this new adventure in my life fell with great weight upon my shoulders. It was at this moment that a counseling, an instructive and a welcoming hand was most desired and needed. I dare venture the thought that most Members joining this august body as young men have experienced this self same anxiety as did I. The help and the assistance I looked and hoped for came graciously and unsolicited from Granville E. Jones, beside whom I had been seated. He pleasantly and willingly made available to me the experience that membership in this General Assembly had yielded to him. He was possessed of that excellent combination of a cool head and a warm heart and these too were laid at my desk to be availed of.

Insignificant as these kindnesses appear to be they were meaningful in my life. Perhaps that is why I always entertained the thought of this kind and humble man who enjoyed life so much that it was he who brought honor to the post he held and not the post that brought honor to him.

Now, God, in His infinite wisdom has so arranged matters that I can repay that self same act of kindness to his family. Granville's seat, which still neighbors mine, this day is occupied by his gracious wife. In bravely carrying on the tradition of devotion and dedication set by her husband, she is cast in the role of neophyte and I have tried to pass onto her the same kindnesses that were extended to me by her husband. I know that she takes heart not only in the legacy of fond and wonderful memories that she possesses of Granville, but likewise in the knowledge that her husband's good deeds remain forever and indelibly imprinted upon the hearts of those who had the privilege to know him.

The CHAIRMAN. And now continuing that honor call, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Forest, Admiral Davis.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Chairman, not long ago there was a warmhearted, friendly man among us, and those who knew him well saw that, close to his open kindness, there lay a vein of firm character. They saw a code of honest idealism. It entered even into the commonplace decisions of his life—a life sadly ended when not so very far beyond the mid-stream of reasonable expectancy. Our late colleague, the Honorable Allen M. Gibson, was only sixty when he passed away last May twenty-fifth.

The end came within the daily sweep of the shadow of the Capitol dome, close to the less evident but nevertheless purposeful atmosphere of this historic chamber—near to a final setting so peculiarly fitting to the quality of the man.

It was fitting because these scenes directly suggest the kind of devoted service to the people of this Commonwealth which so characterized him. In fact, had his services been of less devoted substance, Mr. Gibson today well might have been with us in this very assemblage. But he carried on, in the face of impaired health, at a serious risk, a risk that, alas, proved fatal.

Descended from close and direct Scotch ancestry, Allen

Gibson grew to manhood amidst the final decades of the stirring and colorful days when Pennsylvania's great virgin forests were being harvested, the days when Pennsylvania's lumbering operations were running full blown.

The son of the superintendent of one of our thinly settled area's regional railroads, he knew at close hand the workings and the romance of large-scale lumbering. He lived in settlements, now ghost-town sites, today overgrown with thickets and second-growth, without vestiges of habitation. As a youth he knew something of the rigors, of the hard work, of the "six-to-six" working hours in the big woods of that earlier era.

And, naturally, he came to know of the crafts and ways of life within the great forest. Quite simply, there evolved a lifelong interest in out-of-doors' pursuits. All of his life, he was an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman. He maintained a camp far within the wooded depths of my own Forest County. Here, through the years, there foregathered during trout and deer seasons those with a kindered sportsman's zest for rod and gun. It was a coveted privilege to be a guest, and not a few who have frequented this chamber were so favored.

Against this background, after his death, a close friend wrote: "I of course remember him as you do, chopping firewood, climbing mountains, and so on . . ."

Therefore it is not surprising that young Gibson in his teens should have majored in forestry upon entering the Pennsylvania State University. And this early exposure to the arts of "woodmanship" came to the surface in his mature years in this General Assembly, marked by his interest in and occasional sponsorship of important legislation bearing upon questions of forestry, conservation, game and fishing.

But time in uniform during World War I, at the end of his second college year, interrupted the quest for a degree in the science of forestry. After a creditable military service, and after a look at wider horizons, this young man completed his final two years of college at the University of Pittsburgh, majoring in business administration.

Out of school, he joined his father who had just organized a local, independent telephone company, serving the general Sheffield locality. This venture, together with building up an independent oil-production, primarily occupied Mr. Gibson between the two World Wars. Also he had married, and a family of three promising sons and a beautiful daughter were growing toward maturity.

In time his interest turned toward government and toward politics. Following a term as county treasurer of Warren County, he came as a Member to this House of Representatives in 1944.

As a successful business man, which includes an additional and active interest in banking, Mr. Gibson has given to the deliberations of this chamber the counsel of one seasoned in economic insight and schooled in the practicalities of the actual and responsible conduct of business.

In the course of these legislative pursuits, his duties here in Harrisburg, as well as his local political affairs, increasingly came to encroach upon the time he needed for business administration. Several years ago he was confronted with the decision: should he withdraw from politico-legislative activities and give full time to business? The load had grown too heavy. No longer could he physically attend to both. In the wake of much soul-searching, he decided to retire from active business and to devote his energies entirely to public service.

Accordingly, he disposed of his active business holdings. As a further change at this time, he most reluctantly assumed the responsibilities of Republican County Chairman of Warren County to meet the exigencies of a local situation.

Further, at about this time, Mr. Gibson took on the arduous, and certainly not all-too-rewarding task of serving as his party's Whip and assistant Floor Leader in this House, a demanding chore which he performed well and effectively.

And through his schedule-packed, often stress-ridden days—days that would be tagged "over-time" in the industrial world—Allen Gibson was never too busy to stop and listen with warmhearted understanding to the problems of individual Members. In his wisdom, in his rare sense of the practical, and from his long legislative experience, and from his usual balanced, clear-perspective, level-headed point of view, individuals personally received the same quality of counsel which Mr. Gibson unfailingly gave in caucus, and before the several top-policy groups of his Party.

His stature as a Legislator rested upon attributes of statesmanship, blended with keen political discernment.

To a marked degree, when with small groups, he possessed a peculiarly individualistic power of persuasion. He spoke quietly, often seemingly casual, but his presentations were informed and logical, stemming from reasoned conviction.

Finally, above all, there was his capacity for friendship—friendship that was deep and constant. In recognition of this dominant characteristic, if I may employ a personal note, I would like to quote, in conclusion, a passage from a country newspaper article I wrote following Mr. Gibson's death. This excerpt reads:

"Among the fine men I have known, during a life which has touched a wide range of places and encountered many individuals, Allen Gibson belongs high in the top echelons. To many others besides myself his passing will mean the end of a warm and superlatively treasured friendship."

The CHAIRMAN. And following the name of the Honorable Allen Moore Gibson as it appears on my list of honor, I find the name, the Honorable John Rochambeau Haudenshield.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Ewing.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the entire delegation from Allegheny County, I have the honor of saying a few words in memory of my good friend, John R. Haudenshield.

John Haudenshield served ten terms as a Member of this House of Representatives and was held in high esteem by all of us.

John had an enduring interest in Pennsylvania history and especially in the history of Western Pennsylvania. His own ancestors were among the pioneers of this section of the Commonwealth and many of them were notable leaders in the affairs of Western Pennsylvania. He liked nothing better than to talk to groups of school children at their assembly or in classes on history of Pennsylvania about the great heritage of the state. He could hold their attention longer and more closely than many a teacher.

John's interest in historical matters led to his appointment as one of the Representatives of the House on the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission on November 8, 1951, when the Act was passed authorizing representation ex-officio from the General Assembly on that body. He served until 1957. During that period he was one of the most active members of the Board.

John will be greatly missed by those who looked to him for help on historical matters as well as by those who listened to the historical information which he was ever ready to provide.

John Haudenshield was known far and wide as "Silver Dollar John," and he very seldom spent anything but silver dollars for approximately forty-five years. People that could not remember his name just said, "Silver Dollar John."

His interest in government was real and genuine, especially in the Welfare Department. Many a day and night he spent helping people. He was well known in banking and building and loan circles.

John was an active Member of the Presbyterian Church of Carnegie for many years.

In closing, may I say that we have lost an outstanding Member of the House and I personally have lost a very good friend. We traveled back and forth to Harrisburg for twenty years. I know him well and will miss him a great deal.

May I express the deep sympathy of the House to his family and to the people who loved him very much.

The CHAIRMAN. For the final response, the Chair collectively recognizes the gentlemen of the House Chorus under the leadership of the gentleman from Delaware. Dr. Dengler, and with the gracious lady at the piano.

The House Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Dengler, sang "Now the Day is Over."

The CHAIRMAN. As a further mark of respect to our beloved colleagues, the Members will rise and remain standing in silence, awaiting the fall of the gavel.

(The Members stood in silence)

The CHAIRMAN. Green is our memory of our colleagues of yesterdays. None knew them but to love them; none named them but to praise.

This concludes our memorial hour and the Chair will return the gavel to the Speaker.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

HONORABLE JOSEPH C. GALLAGHER

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1959.

May 1, 1959, marked the death of Joseph C. Gallagher, a well-known labor leader and former member of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Gallagher, a native of Freeland, Pa. and the son of the late John F. and Mary (Brogan) Gallagher, passed away at the age of 56 following an illness of about three weeks.

Joseph C. Gallagher served as President and Chairman of the Mine Committee of Local Union No. 2477, UMW, at the Jeddo #5 operations of the Jeddo-Highland Coal company from 1928 to 1936, when he became an organizer for District No. 7 of the United Mine Workers of America. He served in that capacity until March, 1942, when he was commissioned as an International Representative of the organization. In performing his duties as an International Representative, Mr. Gallagher served the membership of the United Mine Workers of America in many sections of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Maryland.

In 1940 Mr. Gallagher was elected to the Pennsylvania General Assembly, and ably served in that capacity for a two year term. In addition thereto he has served as a member of the Labor-management Advisory Committee of Pennsylvania since 1947.

The outstanding services which Joseph C. Gallagher has rendered in the furtherance of Labor and his fellow man will be remembered and enjoyed long after his passing. His unselfish endeavors will serve as a guide and inspiration for future leaders in the field of labor; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends to the widow, family and loved ones of Joseph C. Gallagher its sincere condolences upon his death, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to his widow, Mary M. Gallagher.

HONORABLE HENRY A. MALE

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1959.

Henry A. Male, former State Representative and Pen Argyl businessman, died recently at his home at 11 Pennsylvania Avenue, Pen Argyl. He had been ill for a year.

A former Pen Argyl Burgess, Borough Secretary and Councilman, Mr. Male served in the House of Representatives from 1931 to 1937. He represented Northampton County's second district.

Widely known as a real estate and antique dealer, he was a familiar figure at auction sales throughout the Lehigh Valley. Thirty-five years ago, he founded Male's Furniture Store, Pen Argyl, which is presently operated by his sons, Charles and Maurice.

Educated in Pen Argyl Schools, he went to work at an early age in the slate quarries. At the age of twenty-seven, he went into business for himself.

He operated an ice business for four years before entering the furniture business. He was also a former Vice-President of Edelman's Slate Quarry.

Mr. Male's long years of business activity in his community and his leadership in civic affairs earned him the respect and esteem of his neighbors and fellow citizens. He has long been looked upon as a valuable member of the community who contributed much to civic affairs as well as having conducted his business affairs on an exemplary and high basis; therefore be it

Resolved, That each member of this House of Representatives extends his heartfelt sympathy to the family of the late Henry A. Male on their great loss at his recent death; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to each of Mr. Male's children: Charles Male, Pen Argyl; Maurice Male, Pen Argyl; Mrs. John Buzzard, Bangor; and Miss Pearl Male, Pen Argyl; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to his brother, Nicholas M. Male, Pen Argyl.

HONORABLE CHARLES D. MINEHART

In the House of Representatives, August 25, 1959.

Mr. Charles D. Minehart, a former member of the House of Representatives, passed away Sunday, August 23, 1959, at the age of ninety.

A lifelong resident of Orrstown, in Franklin County, Mr. Minehart had been chairman of the Franklin County Democratic Committee since 1954. Mr. Minehart has been referred to as "the man who put the fighting spirit into the Democratic party in Franklin County," as it was his inspired leadership which advanced the party in that county to its present high point.

Prior to his retirement in 1954, Mr. Minehart was for many years engaged in the grain and lumber business. He served as president of the Centennial Mutual Fire Insurance Company and was vice-president of the Orrstown Bank, and was a member of numerous civic and fraternal organizations. In addition to his business interests, however, he was always interested in politics and in 1923 he was elected for a two-year term as Franklin County's representative in the General Assembly.

The death of Charles D. Minehart is indeed a great loss to Franklin County; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby pays tribute to Mr. Minehart for his outstanding contributions to his community and extends its sympathy to his survivors upon his death; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Rangle, Royal Oak, Michigan, his son, John B. Minehart, Chambersburg, R. D. 1, Pennsylvania, and to his older brother the Honorable Harvey Z. Minehart, St. Thomas, Pennsylvania, who was also a member of the House of Representatives during the 1907-08 session.

HONORABLE PERCY A. PATTERSON

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1959.

Percy A. Patterson, a former member of the General Assembly from the first district of Blair County passed away unexpectedly at his home in Altoona on Sunday, April 19. For P. A. Patterson it was the end of a long and active life in which he was prominent in county and State business and political affairs.

Mr. Patterson was born on October 2, 1878 in Clearfield, and he completed his education at Duff's College in Pittsburgh. Shortly after his graduation he became active in the Republican party, and this active interest led to his election to the House of Representatives in 1932. In 1935 he was appointed State inheritance tax appraiser for Blair County and in 1938 his long and effective political organization efforts were recognized when the Republican committee of Blair County elected him chairman, a position he held until his retirement in 1956.

Percy Patterson was also very active in community and civic projects as is evidenced by the numerous organizations in which he held membership. Among the many were the Elks, the Kiwanis and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Patterson and two of three sons predeceased Mr. Patterson, but he left to survive him a son, niece, three grandchildren and a sister who deeply mourn his passing; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its profound sympathy to those who survive Mr. Percy A. Patterson; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the chief clerk to his son, Mr. Richard A. Patterson at 3415 Papar Mill Rd., Huntington Valley, Pennsylvania, and to his niece with whom he resided at 2612 W. Chestnut Street, Altoona, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Robertson's active life, marked with many civic and social contributions, both to his county and community, and to the people of this Commonwealth, came to an end last summer at the age of sixty-four. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Bash Robertson, and five children: James of Toledo, Ohio; Alexander, Syracuse, New York; Mrs. Jeanne Thomas, Waterloo, Iowa; Mrs. Sarah Johnston, Coraopolis, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Barbara Davenport, Iowa City, Iowa. With the passing of Mr. Alexander S. Robertson, we have lost a fine friend and citizen of this Commonwealth; therefore, be it

RESOLUTIONS

CONDOLENCE

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the following resolutions reported from the Committee on Rules.

The resolutions were read, considered and adopted as follows:

HONORABLE JOHN J. FINNERTY

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1959.

On November 25, 1958, John J. Finnerty died in the Misericordia Hospital, Philadelphia. He was a member of this House from 1934 to 1946, and continued his public service as United States District Court Crier in Philadelphia.

Representative Finnerty was born in Philadelphia on May 14, 1879, the son of Thomas and Margaret Cavanaugh Finnerty.

Educated in Philadelphia, he practiced barbering until his retirement eight years ago. A life long Democrat, his untiring efforts were devoted to serving the people in his community where he was especially active as a layman in the affairs of the Roman Catholic Church. He was interested in social work, secretary National League of Barbers and for many years directed amateur theatricals throughout the State.

John J. Finnerty's public spirited activities and long devoted service to the people of Philadelphia and the Democratic party, exemplified a citizen and friend whose memory will long be cherished by all those who had the privilege of knowing him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of this House give praise to his work, take note of the great honor he earned in life and extend their personal sympathy to his loved ones upon their recent loss and bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his daughters.

HONORABLE I. DANA KAHLE

In the House of Representatives, March 9, 1959.

The start of a new year brought to the end the life of the dean of Clarion County's practicing physicians, Dr. I. Dana Kahle of Knox. During his fifty-five years of practice, when ended on January 1, 1959, Dr. Kahle delivered more than six thousand babies. Throughout his eighty-three year life time he had an interest in politics and was a prominent and active member of the Democratic Party.

Dr. Kahle was born in Clarion County on August 8, 1875 and after graduating from Clarion State Teachers College he began teaching in the public schools at the age of eighteen. The doctor received his license to practice medicine in Pennsylvania in 1905 and did so until his death.

In 1926 the well-known physician was elected to the General Assembly as a Representative. He was reelected in 1928 and 1930. In 1934 he was elected to represent his area as a Senator. In 1939 he was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. Dr. Kahle continued his interest and activity in politics up to the time of his death.

Clarion County and indeed the entire northwest section of the State deeply regrets the passing of Dr. Kahle for he was a man who worked hard in his field and contributed much to the welfare and advancement of thousands of people; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends its deepest sympathy and sincere condolences to his children who survive him; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his son, Dr. Standish C. Kahle of Greenville and Mrs. L. T. Sheffer of Knox.

HONORABLE HARRY PAUL KITCHEN

In the House of Representatives, March 16, 1959.

Harry Paul Kitchen, a former member of this House of Representatives, died on March 11, 1959 at the age of 65 in the Easton hospital.

A native of Easton, he was a professional entertainer on the team of the well known Jimmie Applegate for many years.

Mr. Kitchen, a Republican was elected as the representative from Northampton County's Second district in 1940, serving in the 1941-42 session.

Later Mr. Kitchen was appointed court crier by the late Judge William A. Frack and upon the death of Judge Frack, was retained as court tipstaff by Judge Clinton B. Palmer.

Harry Paul Kitchen is survived by his wife Elizabeth F. Kitchen and a son, William, therefore be it Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his wife, Elizabeth F. Kitchen, 131 Spring Garden Street, Easton, Pennsylvania, in remembrance of his public service and as a token of sympathy from the members of the House of Representatives.

HONORABLE G. ROBERT THOMPSON

In the House of Representatives, January 19, 1959.

The death of G. Robert Thompson, a former member of this House of Representatives, on January 10, 1959 marked the end of a long varied career.

Mr. Thompson, a life-long resident of Adams County was a business man by occupation. He was a director of the Gettysburg National Bank for thirty-eight years. Not only was he vice president of the Gettysburg Building and Loan Association but also, with a son, operated Thompson's Warehouse in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. He was engaged in numerous other business ventures in the county, which included farming for a number of years.

Mr. Thompson's public service, spanning nearly four decades, began in 1912 as Sheriff of Adams County. He later served as Republican County Chairman during the Pinchot Campaign and Administration. It was during his term as county chairman that the Republicans overcame what had been a long-time Democratic lead in registration in Adams County. Mr. Thompson was a member of the House of Representatives in 1939 and 1940. Mr. Thompson's public spirit and private achievement marked him as an exemplary citizen whose memory will long be cherished by those who knew him and benefited from his association; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their sympathies to his wife and children in their hour of loss and bereavement; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to his widow, Mrs. G. Robert Thompson, Carlisle Street Gettysburg; to his son, Robert Thompson, Aspers; and to his two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Deatrick, Gettysburg, R. D. 4 and Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Gettysburg, R. D. 5 and to children of Earl Thompson deceased son of G. Robert Thompson.

HONORABLE JOHN J. MARCKS

In the House of Representatives, March 3, 1959.

On Wednesday, February 25, 1959, one of the former members of the House of Representatives passed away and thereby ended a long life of service to his friends, his neighbors and his community. The death of the Honorable John J. Marcks, deprived a very considerable segment of our population—that of the farm and cross-roads village—of a man who was one of their most articulate representatives in recent years.

Mr. Marcks was born in Upper Macungie Township, Lehigh County seventy-seven years ago. He attended the local schools in the area and was graduated from Muhlenburg College in 1905. On the advent of his fiftieth reunion at Muhlenburg, the college honored him with a golden key in recognition of his dedication to humanity. He was a teacher for fifteen years in Lehigh County and in 1914 he was elected master of the Trexlertown Grange, a position he held for twenty-seven years. Marcks wanted to become a minister but because of poor health, his dream never became a reality; however, he decided to follow the minister's path—that of service to his fellow man. He gave unselfishly of his time and energy to his church. The latter years of his life he was a tipstaff and attendant for the Lehigh County Court.

Marcks and his wife, a devoted couple, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on December 24, 1958 with a family dinner attended by their church and Grange friends.

Working through the church and the Grange, John Marcks never permitted it to be forgotten that our rural population was faced with its own distinctive social and economic problems and deserved consideration for them. Thus he became an honored and respected spokesman for the people of the soil. The people of his district sent him to the General Assembly to represent them in 1931 and 1933 and like all other activities in which he engaged, he filled his position faithfully and well.

Mr. Marcks' death will be mourned by his family and his friends as well as the members of the House; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its deepest sympathy to Lizzie Q. Marcks, his widow, upon the passing of her devoted and loving husband, John J. Marcks who really knew and appreciated the satisfaction he derived from service rendered; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his widow in Wescosville, Allentown R. D. and the Lehigh County Court where he so faithfully served for the last ten years of his life.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LAMB asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I had desired to make these remarks last week because I had read in the papers that the members, or some of the members, of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and some of the representatives of the trucking and bus firms were meeting with the general idea of developing some better safety regulations on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

As a Member of the Legislature from Allegheny County, along with many other Members of the House from the western part of the state, we have very many opportunities to observe safety violations on the Turnpike, going back and forth twice a week. We have many times observed things that we sometimes shudder about. The most flagrant violation that I have observed, and I know this is true for quite a few of the Members, is on a stretch of the Turnpike known as the "seven-mile hill."

This stretch of the Turnpike runs generally from Midway up to the Allegheny Mountain. As the term indicates, seven-mile hill is strictly upgrade and the whole seven miles is replete with extreme curves. We have observed very many times trucks going up this hill with reckless abandon, passing each other with no consideration whatsoever of the automobile driver who is attempting to pass.

Just two weeks ago I was riding back with Mr. Clark, Mr. Foerster, and Mr. Irvis, and as we proceeded to pass a truck it pulled out on us and, only through the ability, skill and the alertness of Mr. Clark, did we avoid what I think would have been a most serious accident. This has happened to me on at least four occasions and I, myself, now approach this section with fear. In fact, I tremble until I get through the Allegheny Tunnel.

Mr. Murray from Allegheny drove me out a few weeks ago when he was going back. Two trucks were attempting to pass on this stretch. Neither would give ground, and the traffic was tied up for at least five miles, some hundreds of automobiles. This is a situation, as I say, we observed quite frequently going back. I think if the Commission and the truckers are interested in improving safety on the Turnpike this certainly is one spot where they might start.

There is one sign in this section. As I recall, it is now weatherbeaten and I am sure that in the night you cannot see it. It says, "Trucks Do Not Pass Until Through Tunnel." Yet I think this sign is observed more in its breach than in its observance.

I feel if the Turnpike Commission and the State Police would post bigger and better signs all along this route and possibly indicate thereon that there will be a severe penalty for passing at this spot, they can make a long stride in turnpike safety.

I hope that possibly these remarks will be accepted by the House and that they will in some way be disseminated to the Turnpike and to the State Police to let them know that we, as Legislators, observe this and we are quite concerned.

I have one final thing to say, Mr. Speaker, and it is very hard for me to say it. That is this, I honestly feel that if something is not done at this spot in subsequent sessions, when we are holding a Memorial Service, some of the Members from the western part of the state will be absent.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 263, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania exempting income taxes on persons and corporation from requirement of uniformity.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it has been interesting to follow the history of House Bill No. 263 as it has zigged and zagged down its rocky road to final passage. It has been very amusing to all of us; I suppose it probably should not be so for a bill as important as this one. However, I would like to discuss the bill from its many, many different angles as I see it.

When the bill first came up here several weeks ago we did not take much of a stand on it, and it was because of a wish of Members of our caucus to go ahead and vote for a referendum, they really would not be voting for a graduated income tax. However, in my travels throughout the state in the last two or three weeks I found there was widespread indignation, particularly among Republicans, for the vote that was given to that bill when it was here in the House. Therefore I feel that I should have something to say with respect to this bill so that we will keep the records straight.

It became almost universally reported throughout the state that in the wake of our having passed a four percent sales tax we were also passing a six percent graduated income tax. I must point out that that was not true. The Members here were actually voting on a referendum.

We have an entirely different bill in front of us which has a very novel clause in it with respect to a limitation on the type of taxes that can be imposed at the same time. That is something new in the field of taxation. I grant you that that amendment was offered from this side of the House, and nobody thought that anybody would ever buy such an idea, but needless to say it was bought and it is now languishing in the bill. I personally think it is not a good idea to ever tie the hands of government in the very vital, necessary role of putting on taxes to run the needs of the people in our government. I think it is a very, very bad legislative practice to do that very thing. I think the bill in the present form is something that will certainly throw consternation into polling booths throughout the Commonwealth if that bill ever gets in front of the people.

On the floor here I believe the Majority Leader said—you would have to have one tax or the other, and planned to do away with the present sales tax. This present question, if it appears on the ballot would, as I have stated, create bewilderment and consternation in the people as to the meaning of the amendment, as to its ramifications and its impact on our financial structure. As I see it, it is a reckless determination to achieve a political position regardless of the obvious consequences, and before I sit down I want to talk to you about what I figure are the obvious consequences of this amendment if it were ever drafted by the people.

How about your plans to do away with the sales tax if this graduated income tax amendment passes? As you know, our sales tax is presently earmarked for education.

The budget for education for the Department of Public Instruction is $916 million this biennium. It has been going up about $150 million each biennium, so by 1963 if this amendment were to become law and you put on a graduated income tax, you would have to raise about $1.2 billion to match what a sales tax would be bringing in supposedly, at that time in order to meet the education bills. In other words, you would have to supply $1.2 billion by means of a graduated income tax. Now, here is what the problem would be. If you take the present Pennsylvania taxable income, it is $21 billion per year. If you put a three percent flat income tax on that for the biennium that would bring in $1.260 billion, that would be three percent across the board. Now, suppose you decided we would graduate it, and you gave a $2,500 exemption per tax return—and the reason I say that is that the only figure we have available is the number of tax returns filed—this $21 billion would boil down to $12.2 billion on which to put your tax. In order to raise, then, $1.260 billion, the income tax would have to be five percent, and that $2,500 exemption per tax return would not eliminate very many taxpayers. In other words you would have an income tax of five percent by 1963.

Now what are the other pitfalls in eliminating the sales tax? One thing is, business would be getting a big break. I believe a month or so ago I gave figures on the floor here that business was paying about 32.7 percent of the sales tax; I believe Mr. McCann says about 25 percent. But, be that as it may, business would be paying about $350 million of the sales tax money by the time this amendment would go into effect, and inasmuch as a graduated income tax, according to this amendment, would be paid entirely by the people, that means that business would get a $350 million tax break if you said we will not have a sales tax but we will only have a graduated income tax.

Here is another thing that we would face. If you had this amendment and you had a colossal depression again, and God help us that we do not have such a thing, but if you did have, and the incomes of individuals went down to the dwarf size of the present taxable income, then this income tax measure with the six percent limitation on it just simply could not bring in enough money to do the job that it was supposed to do, and under the amendments you would have no alternative but to repeal the income tax and reinstate the sales tax.

That is the reason I say that that amendment in the bill certainly has created a pretty peculiar instrument to present to the people.

Here is another thing I have run into in going around the state. A prominent Democrat, by the way, came up to me and said, by the way, you fellows are not going to pass that graduated income tax, are you? I said, well it did pass as a referendum. Well, he said, I am engaged in bringing in new business to my county, and the first thing that new business coming into the state asks is do you have a graduated income tax in your state? and we say no, we of course do not. He said that big businesses in bringing in large numbers of executives, skilled personnel and people of that type, and other workers, do not want to put on these people the burden of a graduated income tax and also the withholding and all the nuisance it would imply to these firms coming into the state.

I think we have done a pretty good job in giving this state a pretty favorable business climate.

I might parenthetically say that when Representative

Sweeney from Ohio spoke here the other day, he rather proudly said, and we tripled the franchise tax on corporations in Ohio this Session of the Legislature. Right in my own county I have seen prospective businesses not come to our county but go to Ohio because in Ohio they only gave corporations a slap on the wrist. Now apparently they are giving them a punch in the jaw there. It is going to mean that business is going to stay in Pennsylvania and locate here. If we put on a graduated income tax that will be a big deterrent to new business coming into Pennsylvania.

What is the history of the graduated income tax? In 1913 the amendment was voted down 203, 976 to 204, 095; in 1937 it was 706,000 to 971,000; and in 1953, as you know, when we asked the people to just give us consent to call a Constitutional Convention, it lost 682,000 to 533,000. I do not believe the people want a graduated income tax. I do not think the average worker today, who is getting $3.10 a hour and whose wife might work in the school cafeteria or in an insurance office which would greatly enhance, as it does in hundreds of cases, the family income, that couple in the quiet polling booth and the secrecy of that polling booth is not going to pull that lever and put a graduated income tax around their necks. I think that putting it up to a vote now, therefore, is a futile gesture.

Another reason why we are opposed to the graduated income tax—and by the way our Republican platform says we are unalterably opposed to an income tax—is that over one-half of the citizens of the state are paying a local wage tax now in addition to the graduated federal tax. In Pennsylvania we have left the sales tax field to the state and the income tax field to the local subdivisions. Of course in New York State it is exactly the opposite. If we were to put on a graduated income tax we would have a local income tax, a state graduated tax, as well as a federal graduated income tax. I doubt if the people want to put that around their necks. You might say this is only a referendum, therefore, your remarks are not on, shall it be a referendum?

The reason we are against a referendum is that it implies we support a graduated income tax. There is a strong implication there, even consenting to have it put on the ballot. Another thing, as I said, it is a futile gesture for reasons that have been given and in view of the past history of it, we are opposed to putting it on the ballot because we do not want to be a party to even making it possible to have it in Pennsylvania.

By way of summary, the reason I personally am going to vote against this, and I am sure quite a number on our side are, is that there is statewide resentment over the previous passage of the bill; a graduated income tax would be a new business deterrent and cloud our present good business climate; eliminating the sales tax would place the burden of education support entirely upon individuals; a graduated income tax under this amendment would appear more burdensome than the sales tax, and the graduated income tax has always failed and would be a futile gesture.

I believe that pretty well summarizes our position on this and I am asking the Members on this side of the House to vote down the amendments.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I listened with great interest to the remarks of the Minority Leader and I would like to state my views in opposition to those remarks.

Most everything there is to say about this type of tax has already been said, it is true, but in the course of this resolution it has been amended and re-amended for the purpose of presenting a clear-cut issue, an issue as to whether or not the people should be entitled to say what type of tax they would rather pay. I believe the bill is in good form at the present time. All of the technical objections with the possible exception of one have been raised and clarified, so that we now have the resolution ready for final passage.

It seems to me particularly apropos that we should be voting on a tax measure or a referendum measure at this particular time. The reason I say that is this, it seems to me fundamentally unfair and unjust, in light of the fact that the great steel workers' union is presently on strike plus the fact that we have thousands and thousands of people on public assistance rolls in Pennsylvania, when we consider that those very people are called upon today to spend the money which they are not earning to support state government.

It seems to me that nobody can rightfully complain, and that has been demonstrated by the graduated income tax in our Federal system, about paying a tax based upon their ability. If a person is earning income I do not think he will complain about paying a fair portion of the tax necessary to run this great Commonwealth, but I think they do have a basis for complaint when they tell us that they are required to pay pennies upon pennies that mount into dollars and dollars when they have no income. They are living on state relief. They are receiving surplus food from the Federal government and those are the people on whom we are calling in our present system of taxation to pay for the running of this government, and I think it is wrong. I think the people in this Commonwealth have been confused, and I do not think it was intentional on the part of the newspapers, but, nevertheless, they were confused by believing that after the enactment of the four percent sales tax this Legislature could on the heels of that tax now place an additional tax burden in the form of an income tax on the backs of the people. We, of course, know that is not true. We, of course, know that this is merely a referendum seeking the will of the people. What do the people want? That is what I am trying to determine and in this year 1959 I want a clear cut decision from the masses of the people in this Commonwealth as to whether or not they are for a graduated income tax. If it is demonstrated to me by an unfavorable vote at the election, then I, of course, will revise my thinking and adopt a new philosophy as to the type of tax that is fair and equitable, but until that has been demonstrated I feel we ought to let the people decide, and I feel that this referendum up for final passage should be passed and sent over to the Senate so that it will eventually be given to the people. I think if the newspapers spell it out clearly that it is not a tax, but a referendum on a tax, the people will be well satisfied, and for that reason, in light of the terrible conditions existing today among the steel workers we ought to give them a referendum so that they will know we are not trying to saddle them with taxes when they are earning no income, and I, therefore, ask that everyone vote in favor of this referendum.

Mr. SCHATZ. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean made what I would call a very cute speech. He mentioned a great deal of statistics and somebody once said all you have to do is quote enough figures and you get your point across.

I heard him mention a cafeteria worker who earned $3.10 an hour and an insurance worker that earned $3.10 an hour. Then he got into the question of a depression and if we had a graduated income tax your income just would not be sufficient to cover the budget and so forth. Well, if you had that depression would the same thing not happen to your sales tax? Would the sales tax revenue in a depression not be available and then be insufficient? That is why I say the gentleman's remarks were strictly cute in their nature.

We know that we need a graduated income tax rather than a sales tax. We feel that the burden of taxation should be levied on the ability to pay, as has been expressed by Mr. McCormack, the sponsor of this bill. It is obvious that a person who earns $2,500 a year cannot afford to pay four percent on the items they purchase, whereas a person who has $25,000 a year very readily can afford that four percent. We, therefore, should give the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania another opportunity to decide whether they would have a graduated income tax rather than a tax of general application like a sales tax.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with some trepidation to say some of the things that I am about to say.

I stand somewhat in awe and wonder in viewing the bewildering number of Printer's numbers through which this particular bill has gone. I have been assured a few monments ago by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, that the bill is now in proper form and in position to be voted upon on final passage. With that particular statement I disagree. I hesitate to raise these questions because of the fate which has met such suggestions on prior occasions. You may recall that when this bill was first voted upon we raised the question of including the forestry preserve amendment, but the Majority Leader, when he called the bill up, would have no delay and he insisted upon passing it. However, the bill was recalled.

Subsequently we had another situation in which we called certain defects in the bill to the Majority Leader's attention, and we made a motion to postpone the matter. As all the Members of the House will recall, that motion was voted down. Then we all went out to lunch and came back to find they had agreed with what we had said and the matter was put over. Subsequently an amendment was put in the bill. The purpose of that amendment, the stated purpose, was to insure that the graduated income tax would replace the sales tax. That amendment has been horsed around, been changed this way and that way, and I have, I think, the latest Printer's number which I think is 1541, and I have read this language.

It gives me a great deal of pain to call to the attention of the Majority Leader the fact that in my opinion this bill is defective. It refers to the exempting of income taxes on natural persons from requirements of uniformity in certain cases. That gives notice of the subject-matter in the first sentence of the proposed new section, but in the title there is no notice of any kind of the fact that a sales tax and an income tax cannot be in effect at the same time.

I think in the last debate on this bill the gentleman from Dauphin put it very well when he, Mr. Bowman, said that our highest aim is to insure that legislation of this type is in good form before we pass it, so that I merely call that to the attention of the Majority Leader. I think the bill is defective in having a bad title.

The next thing is, turning to the second sentence of this amendment, on this thing that is supposed to prevent the levying of a sales tax and an income tax at the same time, the Members, if they refer to the bill, will note that it only prohibits an income tax and a general tax on sales or use of personal property from being in effect at the same time. I think all of us know that we do not have a general sales tax in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today. We have a selective sales tax, meaning that the tax is levied on certain selected types of commodities, as a result of which if, as I feel, the selective sales tax is not a general tax on the sales or use of personal property, this sentence certainly does not mean anything, because we could still have the graduated income tax and the selective sales tax at one and the same time regardless of the passage of this particular amendment.

It also says in this bill, in the second sentence, and this was an amendment that was put in yesterday, that income tax for state purposes and a general sales tax for state purposes may not be in effect at the same time. The question I raise is as to whether or not the selective sales tax is for state purposes.

I have in my hand a copy of House Bill 665, which was the sales tax amendment which we passed at this Session, and I notice that it originally said "to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax." We struck out the word "Commonwealth," so it now reads "to provide revenue for purposes of public education." So I raise the question as to whether or not, if we have a tax for the purpose of public education, that is a tax for state purposes and therefore would be barred if an income tax were in effect at the same time.

Again I say, I raise these questions with some trepidation. I intended to interrogate the various gentlemen involved in this thing, but I felt reasonably sure of the fate these objections would meet, because once this bill is called up there is not very much to stop it from rolling on and on and on.

I am only going to say this. As far as this amendment is concerned in its present form, in my opinion, it is simply a fraud on the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They are told that this income tax will replace the sales tax and I think under the language of this amendment that is simply not so, because in my opinion they can still both be levied after the passage of this bill. It is a political bill for political purposes and it is political responsibility at its greatest.

As far as I am concerned, the amendment is also bad because it will put the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in a straightjacket as far as taxing is concerned. We have heard so much over the years that we cannot levy a graduated income tax because of the prohibition in the Constitution, and now all we are going to do is to put another prohibition and another straightjacket on the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I voted for this resolution the last time, and I know I received a bit of criticism in the Republican Party.

At that time my reasons for my vote were not spread upon the record and I felt, and feel now, that I should make a short statement in connection with this.

There is absolutely no question in my mind that the sponsor of this resolution was sincere when he introduced it. There is no question in my mind that this bill was called up for a vote on the very day the four percent sales tax passed to get the people off the hook. There is also no question in my mind that the Democratic Party has and will continue to support a graduated income tax, and there is no question that the Republican Party is pledged against it.

I might add that I am personally opposed to it, and one of the reasons I feel constrained to say that is that it does, in fact, hit the little man. We will have in Philadelphia a 2 percent wage tax, a 6 percent state income tax and at least a 20 percent federal income tax, or a total of 28 percent out of the wages of little people.

The second reason why I am opposed to it: I find the Communist Manifesto of 1883 says that the proletariat will use its political supremacy to wrest by degrees all capital from the bourgeoisie. And how do they do that? Their second point, a heavy, progressive or graduated income tax.

For these reasons I am opposed to the tax. However, I have faith in the people of my district and this state, and I would love to have this issue on the ballot and the opportunity to campaign against it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I feel I am in a very peculiar position also in regard to this particular referendum bill. I voted for the original referendum bill. I am emphasizing "referendum" for the ears of the Press so that they can distinguish between the word "referendum" and the words "income tax." There is a big distinction, and I hope they keep that in mind for the edification of the people in Pennsylvania for whom they print the news.

On this particular referendum as it stands now, I am changing my position. That is the reason I am on my feet. I just cannot vote for this type of referendum in its present form.

While I would not go so far as to say it is a fraud upon the people of Pennsylvania, it certainly has a lot of measures of deceit in it, and I do not think we ought to put this type of legislation before the people.

We certainly are confused, and if we are confused I am pretty sure the people will be more confused trying to vote on this type of a referendum bill. I am sorry it was not left in its original form; it was good in its original form. I believe in referendums at any time. It is the basic principle of our representative form of government, and I do not feel we have a right to deny the people at any time the expression of their opinion by secret ballot on any statewide issue such as an income tax would be.

But I cannot conscientiously support this type of legislation in the form in which it is now. It is just poor legislation in its worst form, and I conscientiously believe that. Therefore I am changing my vote on this bill, and I am filing the rest of my reasons. With the permission of the Speaker, I shall ask to do so.

The SPEAKER. The statement will be filed for the purpose of the record.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill before us is the Constitutional referendum resolution pertaining to the graduated income tax.

I certainly would like to clear a few points that have been brought to the floor of this House by prior speakers. First, to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, who questioned carefully the wording pertaining to the sales tax as now written in Printer's No. 1541. If the gentleman will check with the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, Mr. Glidden, and the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I am sure he will receive an answer in which it does not make any difference whether you are talking "selective" by title, or any other way, as long as you are talking sales tax. And the wording defined clearly in that referendum pertains to what we now have as a sales tax.

The second question he raised, and I think he is a gentleman of well-versed knowledge of our Constitution, if he will turn to page 63 of the Manual of the Pennsylvania Constitution and read Article X, he would have no question about education. It says, "public schools provided for education." It clearly defines that this is a state responsibility, and defines it in that section.

To the gentleman from Philadelphia who spoke about the Communistic philosophy, that I did not like one bit. The federal income tax would certainly be a graduated income tax and this nation of ours does not intend, never intended and never will try to tax our people to the point he referred to in that philosophy.

As far as House Bill 263 and the remarks by the Minority Leader, Mr. Johnson, I believe he is a man of wisdom who has knowledge of trying to bring industry, let us say, into his own area, which would be personal knowledge. He stated in his remarks that one of the first questions they ask is, "Does the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have an income tax?" Well, perhaps some gentleman told you that and asked you that, but I bring to the gentleman's attention that in my short lifetime I, too, have had the opportunity to talk to industries now located in other states of our Union, trying to bring them into the Commonwealth in the district I represent. For some reason they never asked that question, but, Mister, they asked very carefully the questions about our corporation taxes, franchise taxes, our profit taxes, our local school taxes, our assessment valuations, and then they asked the things that every good company asks, about our churches, our schools, our roads, our transportation and, if necessary, our water supply or utility supplies. Never have I heard in the Commonwealth that any industry did locate here because we did not have this tax. That would be a statement, then, which 18 of our states in the Union that now have an income tax would certainly consider a detriment to the expansion of business in their states.

I bring to the gentleman's attention that there are many states conducting programs in business expansion similar to Pennsylvania, and I still say that we lead the field in the nation in this particular business recovery. We are bringing business and industry to Pennsylvania, but I believe you will find some of our neighboring states also have a pretty good program, much of which has been copied after Pennsylvania's industrial Act. It is a matter of many questions when you try to bring business into Pennsylvania.

We have here before us some discussions about the amounts of money such a tax will yield. I think it would be fair to say, on the estimates that have been provided, that with a $1,000 exemption one percent would be approximately $350 million. There is no question that the percentage and the exemption could be changed if such a change were adopted by the people of this Commonwealth, but I do not think you would question that there is at least the potential of more than a billion dollars in this field of taxation.

But the one thing we believe in and have believed all our lives is the ability to pay. There is one thing that no one can ever deny, that when you are unemployed, and do not have the pay check coming home every two weeks or every month, you have no fear of income tax, either Federal, state or local under Act 481, because you do not pay any when you do not earn.

Let us carefully consider the situation. If the average wage of Pennsylvania is in the neighborhood of $4,000 to $5,000, and we hope it will continue to rise, let us think for a moment of the exemptions and the comparison in ability to pay. If you and I earn $10,000 a year, and many of us do, there is no question of what you would pay, and there would be no question that you are in the class of able-to-pay; those who struggle along in life and make the small incomes would pay their proportionate small share of cost of operating our Commonwealth.

We believe this bill to be in order. We believe there have been enough conferences on this piece of legislation so that all the questions have been answered and can be answered, and we ask that this bill be supported and voted on. If you believe you are so correct, then we ask you to make sure that it also passes in the other Chamber so the people will have the opportunity, after it has passed this House the second round, to make the decision when they go into the polling houses in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We have faith in the decision of the people, and we believe they will decide favorably upon this issue. We ask your support in the passage of this referendum to our Constitution.

Mr. WHITTAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHITTAKER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. McCormack has made the statement that a large percentage of this tax is raised from the people on relief and on state aid. I would like him to give me that percentage, please.

Mr. McCORMACK. First of all, Mr. Speaker, I do not think I said a "large" percentage of the tax is paid by people on relief; my point was that I thought it was unfair that people who are not gainfully employed through no fault of their own are presently paying taxes to the Commonwealth. I think it is unfair, and I said if we had a graduated income tax they, of course, earning no income, would not have to pay any tax. What the percentage is, sir, I do not know.

Mr. WHITTAKER. I think, Mr. McCormack, you would find it rather small.

Now tell me one other thing that has confused me to a certain point. What would happen to the one percent wage tax that we now have in many communities throughout the state?

Mr. McCORMACK. It would not be affected by this.

Mr. WHITTAKER. In other words, we could have a wage tax on a wage tax?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, sir.

Mr. WHITTAKER. I thank the gentleman.

Being one of those taken across by our press by a misrumor, when it was really a sincere effort on my part to place an issue before the people, and then hearing the arguments we have had here on the floor of the House, with well educated lawyers on both sides disagreeing on points, and this not being a clear-cut referendum to be placed before the people, although we have a Constitution that should be changed in many aspects, to make it more confusing by placing something before the people that is not a clear-cut issue, only makes it that much harder for those of us who would like to have things cleared up, to vote for this measure.

Personally, I am going to change my vote. Not that I want to get off the hook on anything, that is not the point, but it has been brought out here in the House that this thing is not clean cut clear issue to place before the voting public and on that basis I am going to vote no.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. AUKER filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 263, Printer's No. 1384.

As this bill was amended on Tuesday, August 18, it is a bad referendum bill. As the bill now reads as amended, it would make the Pennsylvania Constitution much less liberal than it now is. If passed and voted upon favorably by the people, it would tie the hands of the Legislature beyond what was ever contemplated in that document and probably to the detriment of the people of Pennsylvania. It is now legislation in its worst form.

In addition, there is a very serious doubt as to the constitutionality of the bill in its present form.

Inasmuch as I am, and always have been, opposed to a state imposed income tax, I cannot honestly, sincerely and conscientiously vote for House Bill 263 in its damaged, mutilated and bad condition. It would prevent, if it ever became a part of the Constitution, any other broad based tax ever being passed by the Legislature. To such a condition I am absolutely opposed. It would put the people of this state in an income tax straight jacket from which they probably would never escape. To such a condition or any possible chance of it ever occurring, I am absolutely opposed and I am sure the people of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would be opposed.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. T. H. W. JONES filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 263:

I have voted against the latest version of House Bill 263 for the following reasons:

(1) The bill is deceptive in its wording. Its language, upon cursory reading, indicates that a sales tax and a graduated income tax cannot be in effect at the same time. Yet, a more careful reading of the bill indicates the contrary; both could be in effect. This will confuse the voter.

(2) Despite the deceptive wording, the bill still does not have the virtue of empowering the state Legislature to levy any reasonable tax it might wish.

(3) The bill represents no more than a clever attempt by the majority party to present its tax philosophy to public scrutiny. It does not seem to me to be a sincere effort to strengthen the taxing powers of the General Assembly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill 263:

Because of my belief that the people of Pennsylvania should be able to decide for themselves issues of major importance by means of a referendum, I am voting for this bill although I would vote against a graduated income tax when I went to the polls. I believe the people of Pennsylvania would defeat a graduated income tax by a tremendous margin but it is vital that they have this choice.

Pennsylvania can no longer be hamstrung by Constitutional provisions which the people no longer believe in or support.

Given this choice between a sales tax and an income tax, I am convinced the vast majority of our citizens will choose the sales tax. This bill gives the people that choice. I have faith in the people to make that decision.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1109, entitled:

An Act establishing as State highways certain county highways or sections thereof tunnels bridges viaducts and approaches thereto in counties of the second class and requiring their construction repair and maintenance by the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FILO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if the bill that we are considering is the omnibus bill for county roads and bridges in Allegheny County?

Mr. FILO. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Taking over of the county roads and bridges of Allegheny County. Now, does this—

Mr. FILO. We are taking no roads, Mr. Speaker, just a certain—

Mr. HELM. The gentleman is second-guessing me. He is answering my question before I ask it. Even though we have three categories which take effect within the next three years, this bill does not include all of the roads and bridges on the county system in Allegheny County, is that true?

Mr. FILO. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. As I have been informed and as I have totalled up the mileage in the bill under category one which is taken over by May 1960, I would like to ask the gentleman if I am correct, it includes 5.76 miles of county highway and 40 bridges?

Mr. FILO. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. And, Mr. Speaker, am I also correct in my addition when I find that in category two there are 62.35 miles and 55 more bridges?

Mr. FILO. I believe the gentleman's addition is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. And the third category is 93.67 miles and 95 more bridges?

Mr. FILO. I assume that is correct too, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. My total then shows a total of 161.78 miles of county highway being taken over by the Commonwealth and a total of 190 bridges. Will the gentleman state that that figure is approximately correct?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, approximately, yes. The total roads would be 161.9 miles; the major bridges would be 14 plus multi-span bridges 11, single-span bridges 46, and small bridges under 20 feet and culverts would be 117.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, then could I ask the gentleman in category number one, if I am correct in reading the bill, that it includes the Liberty Bridge and the Liberty Tunnels?

Mr. FILO. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Now the next question I would like to ask, Mr. Speaker, is, does the gentleman have any figures as to how much this taking over of these roads and the maintaining of them is going to cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to yield to inform the Members of the House something about the bill and we might proceed more efficiently. I can give him that answer.

Mr. HELM. I would like to have the answer, Mr. Speaker, if I may. I do not want to press the gentleman and I will certainly let him—

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Donaldson.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, desires to yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Donaldson.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I will inquire of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Donaldson, as to the cost of maintaining these roads by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DONALDSON. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman asks the question, how much it will cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take over and maintain the roads in House Bill 1109?

Mr. HELM. That is right.

Mr. DONALDSON. Mr. Speaker, I have a communication from Park H. Martin, Secretary of Highways, by Mr. W. R. B. Forelich in which he says, and I would like to quote because I think that would be the principal authority,

The Department has no objection to the placing of these segments of roads and bridges on the state highway system since all of these facilities are in good repair and excellent condition. Due to the good condition of these roads and other facilities, there should be no appreciable cost involved by the Department of Highways in taking them over.

Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. HELM. No, that is not the question I would like to have answered. How much will it cost Highways per year to maintain these roads?

Mr. DONALDSON. I would assume that the statement of the Department which says that there will be no—that they are in good condition and there will be no immediate cost, that certainly the cost of maintaining these 162 miles of roads would be on a per mile basis similar to maintaining the other 40,000 miles of state roads.

Mr. HELM. Do you have any idea, Mr. Speaker, as to the amount that will involve per year?

Mr. DONALDSON. To the amount this 162 would require? No, I do not.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would then like to ask the gentleman, since Mr. Filo has yielded to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Donaldson, I cited a total of highways that we were taking over and I have been informed that this is about one-third of the entire county highway plan in Allegheny County?

Mr. DONALDSON. That is correct.

Mr. HELM. Are we to assume then that in possibly the next Session or the Session following we will be taking over an additional 320 miles, plus an X number of bridges?

Mr. DONALDSON. I have no idea at all one way or another on that. This is the plan before us. House Bill 1109, contemplates about one-third of the present county mileage.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would then like to ask of the gentleman from Alleghany, Mr. Filo. . .

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, consent to be further interrogated?

Mr. FILO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman from Allegheny have any knowledge that the program in the future will be to add the other two-thirds of the highways on the county plan in Allegheny County to the highway system?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that is pertinent to the discussion of this matter. This is House Bill No. 1109, and what they will project in the future I do not know. I do not think the gentleman knows himself.

Mr. HELM. Of course I do not know, Mr. Speaker. That is what I am trying to find out. I believe they are trying to get the door open to get the entire foot in.

Now, the gentleman yielded to the gentleman from Allegheny as to the cost. Does the gentleman have any idea that I am correct when I tell him that the cost of maintaining these highways and bridges and the Liberty Tunnels in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, this portion that we are now taking over, will cost the Commonwealth better than $3 million a biennium for maintenance alone?

Mr. FILO. I think the gentleman is in error, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Well, Mr. Speaker, I have been reliably informed that is correct.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, for the gentleman's information, I can break it down into several categories.

Presently under category number one, wages and salaries would be $420,000; materials, supplies and services and services would be about $46,000. So, the total for the first category would be approximately $466,000.

The second category, wages and salaries would be $446,000; $96,000 for material and service; the total would be $542,700.

Category three, would be $673,000 and $147,000 for materials, supplies and service a total of $820,000.

In other words, the total cost presently would be, not the $3 million the gentleman spoke of, but about $1.828 million.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he is speaking on the biennium or per year?

Mr. FILO. I am speaking of the per year.

Mr. HELM. Then am I not correct that the cost will be about $3.5 million a biennium?

Mr. FILO. It is possible.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would also like to inquire of the gentleman, since we are taking over by legislative action the Liberty Tunnels in the city of Pittsburgh, who will pay for the policing of the Liberty Tunnels?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I assume the fact that they would be taken over by the state, the tunnel would be taken over by the state, and I would naturally assume that state employes would take over the policing.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman have idea how much that is going to cost?

Mr. FILO. I imagine this is included in the cost here that I quoted the gentleman.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

I am raising these points purely and simply for the record and not for the purpose of necessarily opposing the passage of this bill. However, I do believe that it is adding an additional cost to this Commonwealth which is going to eventually approach, I think, pretty close to $10 million a biennium, as we take over all the highways in the county of Allegheny now controlled by the county in Allegheny. I just wanted to say to the Members, I wanted to point this out to them, the obligation that we are now assuming and say they should think very thoroughly in casting their vote on this bill.

Mr. FILO. I would like to inform the Members of the House that presently in Allegheny County we maintain a county road system, a highway system, of 500 miles. Five hundred miles is twice the amount in all the other counties put together in the Commonwealth. We have been maintaining these roads for quite a number of years. We feel that we have maintained them to an adequate standard. The roads are the highest type, as stated by the Secretary of Highways, they are in very good shape, the cost of them in the next ten years will be practically the same or probably less than present state roads.

We have shared this burden of 500 miles of road in Allegheny County for quite a number of years. We felt someone might ask why weren't these roads turned over when other counties turned them over, and I would like to inform the Members of the House that from 1931 to 1937 there were 11,000 miles of road dumped into the lap of the Commonwealth and the highway system. At that time all you had to do to get rid of your roads was to have the county commissioners designate them and say this is going to be a state road, then run to the highway department and say, here is your baby. We are doing this in a proper fashion, bringing them before the Legislature, which has the right to do these things properly. We feel that we have done a good job in Allegheny County as far as maintenance of roads. These roads are all connecting roads to existing state highways in the county of Allegheny.

I might add, Mr. Speaker, that presently we have under construction two bridges. The approximate cost of these two bridges would be about $60 million. These bridges even though they are under construction will be paid for by bonds issued by Allegheny County and will not be a burden on the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the Members to vote in favor of House Bill No. 1109.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, one additional question if I may.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. FILO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman said that Allegheny County maintains twice as many roads as all the rest of the counties combined. Does the gentleman know that there is only one other county in this Commonwealth that has a county road system?

Mr. FILO. I do, sir.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman also know that they had the same opportunity back in the 1930's when every other county in this Commonwealth turned over their roads to the highway system, that Allegheny County could have done exactly the same as the rest of the counties?

Mr. FILO. Yes, Mr. Speaker, and I might—

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman have any idea why they did not turn them over at that time?

Mr. FILO. I probably have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman care to state that reason?

Mr. FILO. I would state that at the time these roads were being turned over to the state the Highway Department was not as efficient with its road system as we in Allegheny County and we decided to keep them and maintain them. Presently, Mr. Speaker, I feel that the Highway Department is doing a good job on highways and that is the reason we are turning them over.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has stated, I think, a very good reason for the record, but frankly and truthfully, he knows that is not the reason.

Mr. DONALDSON. Mr. Speaker, the roads and bridges which are contemplated in House Bill 1109 representing approximately one-third of the mileage of roads held and maintained by the county of Allegheny have an approximate worth of $200 million, so that we could successfully argue perhaps that we, the people, the taxpayers of Allegheny County, are turning over to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways $200 million in new facilities, for these facilities are in good condition. They represent bridges some of which are just now under construction. But I think we ought to consider this measure not in that light. Certainly it should not be considered as a political pay-off to Pittsburgh, a quote which I ran into in one of the newspapers. Let us look at the matter on its merits.

Most of the counties in Pennsylvania, after the 1943 enabling legislation, turned over their roads and bridges to the Commonwealth. Allegheny County did not for reasons which are not important to this discussion, but the roads and bridges in House Bill 1109 are principal traffic arteries. They are in fact, and ought to be in law, a part of a comprehensive state highway system.

I might add that the original suggestion to turn them over was made in 1941 by a Republican candidate for county commissioner, the Honorable Robert J. Corbett, now a Congressman from the district which I represent. Responsible political leaders of the Republican party in Allegheny County have consistently advocated that the taxpayers of Allegheny County be relieved of the burden of supporting a highway and bridge system which was properly a part of the state highway system.

I ask the Members on this side of the House to consider this voting merit. These are principal traffic arteries, they belong to the state highway system, that is where they ought to be. They represent $200 million of roads for which the Commonwealth will not have to pay. They are a gift from the people of Allegheny County. This bill in equity and fairness ought to be passed and the taxpayers of Allegheny County relieved of this further obligation of the support of these roads and bridges.

I would ask all of the Members of this House to give to Allegheny County what we have given to all the other counties in this Commonwealth.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I have been privileged to serve six terms in this House. Each Session of the Legislature I have requested the Highway Department to make various changes in our highway system in Erie County, always being cognizant of the fact that I must return an equal amount of mileage for the mileage that the state accepts.

In looking over his bill I am wondering where the miles come from that are being turned back to the city of Pittsburgh or Allegheny County as a result of this exchange. I have operated under a rule for 11 years now and I wonder what has happened to the rule. It is being thrown out the window, and am I wrong in overlooking that there might be mileage turned back to Allegheny County that is not specified in this particular bill? I would like to have somebody answer me that question.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Erie care to interrogate any particular Member?

Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, desire to answer the question propounded by the gentleman from Erie?

Mr. AGNEW. I will answer his question, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman will remember that it has been commented on by other speakers that during the 1930's enabling legislation permitted the counties of this Commonwealth by action of their county commissioners to turn their county roads over to the state. I am sure that Erie County, as have 65 other counties in the Commonwealth, took advantage of that at that time. When Erie County turned its county roads over to the Commonwealth, I do not know whether it was 100 miles or 1,000 miles of county roads at that time, you did not have to take back an equal amount of roads, and neither did any other county in the Commonwealth. That is the reason for it. Allegheny County is just 25 years behind the other counties in this Commonwealth, with the exception of Montgomery, in taking advantage of legislation passed in 1931 and in succeeding Sessions of the Legislature.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, you heard me say that in my 11 years that I have served here never once have I ever asked for an exchange of roads that I did not turn an equal amount of mileage back and that has been impressed upon me at every Session. At this Session, for example, I am requesting the state to take over about two miles of road and I am turning back about 22, and that has been the rule that I have had to live with and abide by ever since I have been a Member. I think this would, perhaps, come under class legislation to permit such a deal as this, without an equal amount of mileage being turned back, so that we are all treated equally and fairly. I thank you.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLAIR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair, if at any time during his ten years' service in this House did he ask the state to take over a county road?

Mr. BLAIR. No.

Mr. AGNEW. The roads you are referring to then, sir, are township roads or borough roads?

Mr. BLAIR. Right.

Mr. AGNEW. Not then, roads made by the county of Erie. I ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, if Erie County maintains a road system?

Mr. BLAIR. They do not.

Mr. AGNEW. They do not have one mile of road laid by the county of Erie?

Mr. BLAIR. No sir.

Mr. AGNEW. Did you at one time have a county road system in Erie County?

Mr. BLAIR. That could have been possible many, many years ago; not in my memory.

Mr. AGNEW. But during your tenure of service in this House you have not asked the state to take over one mile of county road, is that right?

Mr. BLAIR. No.

Mr. AGNEW. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker. I would ask the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, whether Armstrong County at the present time maintains any county roads?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, Armstrong County at the present time maintains two county bridges that are on the highway system.

Mr. AGNEW. Does Armstrong County maintain anything in the way of bridges other than the two bridges you refer to?

Mr. HELM. The Armstrong County Commissioners, Mr. Speaker, presently maintain 35 bridges in Armstrong County with county funds.

Mr. AGNEW. But only two bridges on the state highway?

Mr. HELM. That is right.

Mr. AGNEW. But not substantial mileage in a county road system?

Mr. HELM. That is also correct.

Mr. AGNEW. Then Armstrong County at one time maintained a county road system?

Mr. HELM. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. AGNEW. Well, if I told the gentleman that Armstrong County, along with 64 other counties in the Commonwealth, in the 1930's turned over their road system to the Commonwealth, would the gentleman say there was an error?

Mr. HELM. I certainly would not.

Mr. AGNEW. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think this interrogation has brought to light the plight of residents of Allegheny County, and we would ask the Members of this House to consider our legislative request at this time in that light.

There is only one other county in the Commonwealth that maintains a county road system today. That county is Montgomery. I do not know what their reasons are for not taking advantage when they had the opportunity, as did Allegheny County, to turn their road system over to the state. Perhaps it was for the same political reasons that the roads were kept under the control of Allegheny County. I do know that residents of Allegheny County have been paying double for the construction and maintenance of that 505 miles of county highways in the last 25 years. The residents of Allegheny County pay the same state gasoline tax, the same state license fee, as do all the residents of other counties in this Commonwealth, including Montgomery County.

What Montgomery County wants to do about its county road system is up to Montgomery County; but in Allegheny County we are tired of paying that double bill. We want what is truly part of the state highway system to be maintained as part of the state highway system. We paid double for these roads for 25 years while you people had a set of county commissioners who were smart enough to turn your county roads over to the state. In Allegheny County we were not that fortunate and we must pay double for them. Now they have finally seen the light, as majority commissioners of Allegheny County, and they have gone along with what has been a 25-year Republican request, that part of these roads be turned over to the Commonwealth. We are only asking you to take over approximately one-third of our 505 miles of county roads. If this bill should become law we will still have more county roads than all the other counties in the Commonwealth put together, and, of course, that only means Montgomery County because none of the rest have any county roads.

We think that the merits of the situation are 100 percent in favor of this bill and we ask for support from both sides of the House for House Bill 1109.

Mr. CURWOOD. I whole-heartedly agree with Mr. Agnew, but he just missed one county. Luzerne still has county roads and I can understand the why and wherefore of county roads. We have 100 miles. We have a bill in the House to give back 25 miles a year and I whole-heartedly agree as to why they want to give it back. Why should a few counties pay their bill when the rest of the counties are getting away scot-free? I whole-heartedly endorse the situation giving all the roads back to the State.

Mr. HELM. May I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. AGNEW. I will.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, although he is probably not the proper person to ask this question of because he is not a member of the board of county commissioners, but does he have any assurance from the board of county commissioners that they have no intention of adding an additional 120 miles onto the county highway system during the next year?

Mr. AGNEW. I have no personal assurance, Mr. Speaker, but I would tell the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, and the other Members of this House that it is my understanding this is a recommended program as a result of a study by a special commission. It has received the complete support of the present administration and the Highway Department and under all the circumstances I do not think it would be with very good grace for Allegheny County to come back in the near or the immediate future and make any additional requests. Although I think they would be perfectly justified at this time to ask the Members of this House to vote for a bill taking over all 505 miles of roads, they have not done that. They are only asking for 152 miles, and I personally would oppose any attempt on the part of Allegheny County in the immediate future to add additional road mileage to what is now contained in 1109.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the gentleman has misunderstood my question.

My question was, if he has any knowledge that the county commissioners will make any attempt in the next year or the next two years to take over 120 or 125 miles of other township roads and add them to the county highway system.

Mr. AGNEW. I have no knowledge of that but I would very much doubt that there would be any such attempt. It would certainly not be the part of political expediency in Allegheny County for any set of county commissioners to take such action.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman have any knowledge at all that this is a move to eventually abolish the county highway system in Allegheny County?

Mr. AGNEW. I have no such knowledge.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, that I have been informed that we certainly do not intend to come back here in the near future. We have presently 342 miles of highways plus 66 per cent of all the bridges in the county to maintain. Incidentally, bridges that we are handing over are only 33 percent of the total bridges in Allegheny County.

Mr. AGNEW. Just briefly and to clear up a point, the county commissioners in Allegheny County have not, I repeat, been adding to the county roads' system in the county. There has been no attempt to do that down through the years and, as far as any of us from Allegheny County know, there certainly will be no attempt in the future.

One more thing, I want you all to understand we are talking about county roads. In Allegheny County we have our township roads and our borough roads, just like they do in other counties. These are only county roads owned and maintained by Allegheny County. We also get for every one of these roads the state gasoline tax reimbursement just as you do. Now that is a point that some of the Members asked me to clear up and I am glad to do it.

Mr. DONALDSON. I want to assure the present speaker and the former speaker that when you come from either Johnstown or Kittanning to Pittsburgh you must cross county bridges, and we want them in good shape because we invite you down for the World Series this fall.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2239 on page 20 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2239, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 7, 1937 (P. L. 589), entitled, as amended, "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth under certain terms, conditions and limitations of certain streets in cities of the first class as State Highways * * * and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purpose of this act eliminating certain restrictions," changing certain routes and adding certain new routes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HELM. I rise with the idea of interrogating the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, but perhaps if the gentleman wants to make a statement, he may answer my questions in his statement. I will be happy to wait until he makes his statement.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Armstrong would care to ask questions first, it is all right with me.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, consent to be interrogated by the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm?

Mr. COMER. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he will state how many miles of road and city streets are being taken over in the city of Philadelphia and put on the highway system?

Mr. COMER. Approximately 35 miles, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman then tell me how many miles of proposed expressways are being put on the highway system?

Mr. COMER. I will give him the answer in a moment, Mr. Speaker. I would say approximately 36 miles.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman if, on these proposed expressways that are being taken over by the Highway Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, there are existing highways, or if there are existing places where these expressways are to be built?

Mr. COMER. There are.

Mr. HELM. Is it the opinion of the city of Philadelphia that they then press for the immediate construction of these expressways in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. COMER. No, we do not, Mr. Speaker. We have suggested seven expressways here. That would take over a period of anywhere from 10 to approximately 15 years to build. I would say in the near future we would press for approximately two.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman have any idea, if these proposed expressways were to all be constructed in the immediate future, of the cost to the Commonwealth for the construction of these expressways?

Mr. COMER. The total cost for the expressways?

Mr. HELM. Yes.

Mr. COMER. Well, let me put it this way, Mr. Speaker, six of these proposed expressways would be on the 50-50 basis, where one, I believe the Cobbs Creek expressway would be 90-10. It would be approximately, the state's share would be, about $232,200,000, approximately $232 million.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

I believe the gentleman, in answering these questions, has certainly proved how I feel about it. I would like to ask the gentleman if he has any idea how many additional cents of gasoline tax it will take to build this system?

Mr. COMER. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be too lengthy on this because there are on this proposed bill many streets, that our Members would not be familiar with. Every one of these proposed streets would tie in with the existing expressway extension and freeways.

Practically every one of our proposed streets in one way or the other would tie in with the Delaware Expressway, the construction of which will start approximately at the end of this year or the beginning of next year.

I would like to point out how important this program is to Philadelphia, Delaware County, Bucks County and Montgomery County. As these surrounding counties know, we are gradually being choked to death in Philadelphia by traffic. A bold effort must be made down there to accelerate the flow of traffic in and out of the city, to and from these counties. At the same time, all these proposals deal in many ways with our Port of Philadelphia, our new food center. Our Port of Philadelphia deals with approximately 40 counties in the Commonwealth, including the entire northern tier.

Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be too lengthy with this, so I will close and ask both sides of the House to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1702 on page 4 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1702, entitled:

An Act relating to State highways, roads and bridges and certain use thereof, amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws administered by the Secretary of Highways and by the Department of Highways relating thereto * * *.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, and I think we are going to get up to the point where I want to interrogate the gentleman.

I would like to call attention of the Members of this House that the bill we are now considering is House Bill No. 1702, Printer's No. 1543, commonly known as the Highway Code, which gives powers to the Secretary of Highways, which I hope to bring out in my interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have a copy of the latest printer's number of the bill before him?

Mr. COMER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I would like to ask the gentleman if he will bear with me because I will probably flip from one page to another, from one section of the bill to another. If he will turn first to page 24, Section 502, I would like to ask the gentleman in his opinion, under this section of the bill, who will have the power to decide when and where new highways will be constructed?

Mr. COMER. In answer to the gentleman's question, Mr. Speaker, this will lie, in my estimation, strictly where it belongs, with both Houses.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman read lines 17, 18 and 19 on page 24, and tell me that the Secretary of Highways does not have the power to construct new highways and abandon or vacate existing highways?

Mr. COMER. I will, Mr. Speaker. I believe the contents of the three lines are needed for the Secretary to carry out the intent of this bill.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman trying to tell me that the amendment that was put in on page 25 of the bill will then take away the power that you apparently intend to convey, Section 502, that the Secretary have the complete power to construct new highways or to abandon old highways?

Mr. COMER. I disagree. The way I interpret the bill, Mr. Speaker, and the way I was informed by the Reference Bureau, this is the way it had to be worded to comply with the wishes of my Committee.

Mr. HELM. You believe that the Secretary of Highways then would not have sole power to construct or to vacate or take over any road if he so desired without the approval of this Legislature.

Mr. COMER. That is right. I do not believe he has that power. My intentions were that he would not have that power, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman. Once a new highway is built and people build their houses along it, who will decide whether it is to be abandoned or relocated?

Mr. COMER. What section do you refer to?

Mr. HELM. I would refer you to Section 1701 on page 68 of the bill.

Mr. COMER. Will the gentleman ask that question again, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. HELM. I would like to ask, once the new highway is built and people have already built their homes along that new highway, who will decide whether the road is to be abandoned or relocated?

Mr. COMER. I believe we would, Mr. Speaker, or, rather, the representative of that section of the borough or township and so forth.

Mr. HELM. I would remind the gentleman that Section 1701 reads: "The Secretary may abandon highways where in his judgment a new highway replaces one highway to be abandoned." Does that section not give to the Secretary of Highways the right to abandon or relocate a road when he deems fit?

Mr. COMER. He has that power at this time. I believe back some time ago, it was provided where he would have the power to replace, I believe, about approximately one mile.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman show me or tell me where that is in the bill?

Mr. COMER. That is back in one of the older Acts. I do not have it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, this particular bill repeals all other Acts. Under Section 2303 on page 128 of today's bill it says: "All other acts and parts of acts are repealed insofar as they are inconsistent herewith."

Mr. COMER. I have the repealer section, Mr. Speaker. I am not sure of the date of the Act I referred to.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker the repealer section is on page 128, the last section of the bill, if the gentleman is interested in finding it, Section 2303. Will the gentleman turn to page 128 of the bill?

Mr. COMER. I have it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman read for his own information Section 2303?

Mr. COMER. You are correct.

Mr. HELM. Therefore, then, am I correct that the Secretary of Highways would have the right, under Section 1701, to abandon any highway he saw fit where a new highway had been constructed?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, we have amended and changed this bill so much that I am not sure what page anything is on, believe me.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman for his frankness. That is why I am trying to refer him to the proper pages.

Mr. COMER. I would say to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, there is another section in the bill—I am trying to come across it—that will deal with the section you are referring to; not the repealer section.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman now refer to Section 404 of the bill? I believe you will find that on page 23.

In this particular section it says that the Secretary has exclusive authority over all highway facilities. The question I would like to ask the gentleman is, how would this affect the present powers of the Department of Forests and Waters as to highways in state forests and parks or the present powers of the Public Utility Commission as to highway railroad crossings, and any other department where highways happen to be involved?

Mr. COMER. Well, Mr. Speaker, referring to Section 404, I would like to read the breakdown from the department given at one of our hearings that we held in regard to the bill, if it is all right with the gentleman.

This Section was taken from Section 2002 of the Administrative Code, which provides that the Department has exclusive authority and jurisdiction over all state highways. The only changes made were the vesting of the authority in the Secretary instead of the Department, and the substitution of the words "all the facilities of the state highway system for all state highways."

Mr. HELM. Is the gentleman trying to tell me that the section that I have referred to, Section 404, giving him exclusive jurisdiction over highways, does not give him power over Forests and Waters highways, or through the state parks or recreation areas or the railroad crossings that would normally come under the jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, there is certain authority that I believe the Secretary should have pertaining to certain parts of highways and certain occasions that arise. As we glance through this bill, if the gentleman will go along with me, this bill as originally constructed, section after section, after you read over a few of them you wonder what you are reading. So, taking a bad bill, and I admit it was a bad bill, holding two hearings and approximately three committee meetings with suggestions from different members, we tried to make something that was absolutely impossible to work with into a fair bill.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the gentleman that I have no criticism to offer of the Chairman of the Committee, and I have no criticism to offer of the members of that Committee because I believe they have devoted a lot of time and a lot of effort to this bill. In fact, I had been informed that one committee hearing, I think they said, was something like nine hours. I believe they are to be commended for devoting all that time, but in spite of all that effort I think I have proven by the little bit of interrogation that I have made here now that even the Chairman who probably has been closer to this bill than any other person in this House is not sure of what is in the bill. I have many, many other questions that I would like to ask concerning it but I believe it is only going to becloud the issue further.

I say to you Mr. Speaker, that this bill gives additional dictatorial powers to one department of our state government that has had dictatorial powers for many, many years. I, personally, hesitate to add any more power to that one office. We in this Legislature should be taking some of the control of that highway department into our own hands rather than give them additional powers.

Just to show you how silly a thing it is, I would like to point to one section concerning public utilities. If poles of the public utility are located on the highway right-of-way, say, on Second Street in Harrisburg on the right-hand side of the street, in order to put on a wire that crosses over the top of that street to every house on the other side of Second Street, would require a special permit, a separate permit, if you please, for every cross over. I say to you that the Secretary of Highways would have the power almost to put any public utility, electric, water, gas or otherwise completely out of business if he so desired. That is entirely too much power to place in the hands of any one individual.

I am not going to delay the House with all the questions that I have here. I have many pages of questions concerning the bill. But I plead with the Chairman of the Committee not to force this bill to a vote today but to hold it up at least until he understands it, and I am sure that we Members of the House want to understand it.

Mr. COMER. I agree with the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, that this bill is quite lengthy and there are many sections that take time to finger through to reach a section in regard to the question that is raised.

The last question Mr. Helm raised I believe he is in error as far as the permits for the utilities are concerned. This point was raised at one of our meetings with the Highway Department. I was aware of the conditions that were in the bill due to the fact that in our electrical systems today many are being changed over from 120 volt systems to 240 volt systems, requiring an extra hot wire being run across the street or a roadway. I raised the point with the Secretary under this bill, would the utilities be required to take a permit out to run an additional wire across the roadway or street, and I was informed no.

Now, I would like Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would point out that section. I have not come across it yet where it spells it out as such.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman turn to page 58 of the bill, Article XV, Section 1502? Permits for Utilities Facilities, (a) the consent of the secretary evidenced by a permit shall be required in advance of any of the following: (1) Construction or removal of utility facilities longitudinal to and transverse with, in, on or over a highway." Mr. Speaker, it cannot be any plainer. It could not possibly be worded any plainer than it is in line 3 on page 59.

Mr. COMER. Well, Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, if you went through this Section that you are speaking about where it deals with new construction, of course, and I will agree with the gentleman, it does not spell out new construction, but we are led to believe, including myself, that where additional lines would be run that no permit would be required. Now, that is the best answer I can give the gentleman on that question.

Mr. HELM. I think the gentleman is correct. He was led to believe that, but the wording in the bill does not so state. The wording in the bill says, "Construction or removal of utility facilities." And it says that "They shall be evidenced by a permit issued by the Secretary."

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, if I may suggest then because due to the fact that many hours were spent on this bill, that the bill be passed over, and I will certainly be glad to sit down with the gentleman on the other side and work out corrective amendments.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will entertain the motion to place this bill upon the postponed calendar.

On the question, recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1778, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Elwyn Training School at Elwyn in the County of Delaware Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing certain conditions upon which the appropriation will be available to the school.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. This interrogation, Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. The interrogation, the Chair would appreciate it to be brief.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, I will be quite brief. The interrogation will concern the next three bills, if I may treat them as one bill.

Will the gentleman state the county in which the three institutions in the next three bills are located?

Mr. POLEN. They are located in Delaware County, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Does the gentleman realize that the institutions, in addition to benefitting Delaware County, also benefit Philadelphia County, and the trustees that control these institutions are also appointed, I believe, by the Philadelphia courts. Does the gentleman realize that fact?

Mr. POLEN. I believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Now is the gentleman also aware of the fact that identical bills were introduced some months prior to these bills, identical in every respect, even as to the amount of appropriation in each bill, which were cosponsored by the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo with Members from Delaware County?

Mr. POLEN. I believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I do not know who established the policy this year of providing that all appropriation bills should only be sponsored by Mr. Polen. I am sure he does not want to personally steal credit for these bills but I would like to say this, that we from Delaware County, and I know many other Members are sincerely interested in these institutions, and in this particular instance, House Bill No. 344, House Bill 842 and House Bill 1623 are identical to the bills that we are now considering. As I said, all of us are interested in these institutions. We meet with the Members of these boards and discuss their problems with them. They ask us to put these bills in. We do that. We write to them and tell them we have done so. We try to do all we can to help these institutions. It seems to me the policy we have adopted this Session is a very unfair one to Members on both sides of the aisle who are trying to benefit the institutions in their districts, and it seems to me the bills that are reported out, even though it may seem like a more orderly process to have them all listed in order by one sponsor, it seems to me we should put them in the order they are introduced and reported out as sponsored by the individuals.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I enjoy a political speech and certainly the speech made by the gentleman from Delaware County is in that category. I am wondering, inasmuch as he frequently meets with those boards, whether or not those boards have ever heard the gentleman from Delaware and his colleagues vote for the appropriations and the taxes sufficient to pay for these appropriations. I think that it is a good idea for the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee to sponsor the appropriation bills affecting these and all the other institutions that are presently on the calendar, but I think it is not fair for the gentleman from Delaware to make a speech like that with the knowledge that the entire Delaware County delegation voted against the tax measures.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, as I said previously, these bills were cosponsored and I might also point out that we from Delaware County voted for a great many taxes in this tax package. We did not vote for new taxes but we voted for a great many taxes which I think are sufficient to pay for these bills.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to remind the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, that in the '56 session of the General Assembly he did not vote for one tax bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would remind all the Members of the House that we are discussing House Bill 1778, Printer's No. 1445. Confine your remarks to the bill.

Mr. ISAACS. I would like to the remind the Speaker that the gentleman from Delaware knew he was out of order and it is all right that you call my attention to it. But when we come down to a gentleman like the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, making the remarks he did, that in the last Session we did not vote for a tax bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair reminds the gentleman that he is out of order also.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Merely to say, Mr. Speaker, that I never endorsed or never sponsored any appropriation bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—12

Ashton,	Knecht,	Moran,	Snare,
Cooper,	Light,	Murray, P. G.,	Sullivan,
Jump,	Merry,	O'Dell,	Thompson,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2230, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to provide funds to implement a program of community college education throughout the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOCKER. I would like to ask someone on the other side: This pertains to Department of Public Instruction to implement a program of Community colleges. We have a bill on our calendar right now setting up these colleges. What happens if we pass this and then do not pass the community college bill?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill would be vetoed in that event. If the enabling bill was not passed, the appropriation bill would be voted.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the bill go over until we find out whether or not we pass the community college bill on our calendar.

Mr. McCANN. There was no indication yesterday, except for the one bill pertaining to the fire companies of city councils and the bill that Mr. Johnson amended pertaining to Pennsylvania State University. That bill of course is on final passage postponed. This bill for this appropriation should pass today with the package of the appropriation bills going over, and I do ask that you permit the passage of this bill today along with all the others because I made a commitment on the Harrisburg bill that tomorrow it passes in this House. That commitment will be fulfilled as soon as the bill is in print. I would like to have all the bills in one package over there, which was agreed to following the conferences.

Mr. HOCKER. Do you intend, Mr. Speaker, running the community college bill tomorrow?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it is my intention to run it tomorrow. I certainly hope we can get to it. I believe we have about 18 bills on special order of business, and two are those bills, 1940 and 1941, are the bills on higher education and community colleges. These two bills were in that order and would be run tomorrow.

Mr. HOCKER. Well, if they are going to run tomorrow I will still insist that this bill be passed over and travel with those bills and the Harrisburg bill.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2230, Printer's No. 1469 was passed over at the request of Mr. HOCKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2231, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to provide grants for improving library services throughout the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2305, entitled:

An Act making appropriations to the Department of Forests and Waters for certain capital improvements in accordance with long range planning for capital improvements designed to make the most effective use of the State's available resources.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Polen, if I may.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. I would like to ask the gentleman if this money comes out of the general fund. Suppose I phrase the question another way. There is $3,145,073, is that right?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct. It does come out of the general fund.

Mr. AUKER. Now is this same money that is returned to the Department of Forests and Waters out of the income derived by the state from oil wells, and gas wells and sale of timber from state-owned land?

Mr. POLEN. It is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. In other words this is new money.

Mr. POLEN. It is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that this bill go over until we can have a full house, or I will ask for a quorum call.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I have two hospitals in my district; Chestnut Hill Hospital and the Germantown Hospital and Dispensary. Mrs. Miller and I submitted appropriations for these two hospitals. The present appropriation in this bill shows no increase from the last biennium. Although we are both voting for this bill, we register our protest against this.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. SHAFER, from the Committee on Corporations reported as committed, House Bill No. 2014, entitled:

An Act regulating the conducting and maintaining of burial grounds and cemeteries by natural persons, partnerships and certain unincorporated associations; making certain acts relating thereto unlawful and prescribing penalties.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, in the Session of 1957, a bill was passed removing the assessment from machinery in Allegheny County, which would be done over a five year period. There seems to be confusion in Allegheny County as to what is machinery and what is not machinery. In order to clarify the position of the Allegheny County Bureau of Assessment and the third class city bureaus of assessment, I am introducing a resolution, at the request of the third class cities and boroughs involved in Allegheny County, to define machinery. I feel that something should be done following the assessment of machinery being dropped after a five year period.

Mr. President, I hereby introduce this resolution, and ask that it be sent to the proper committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COM-MISSION TO DEFINE THE TERM "MACHINERY" WITH RELATION TO ASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE IN COUNTIES OF THE SECOND CLASS

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. offered the following resolution (Serial No. 60), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, September 2, 1959.

In many instances, the assessment of real estate for taxation in counties of the second class is unjust and inequitable.

Many of these injustices are the result of the inconsistency of the local government in interpreting and applying the numerous and broad terms contained in the tax laws.

Among the terms which have been applied to a variety of factual situations and which have not been clearly and definitely defined is the term "machinery" when assessed as real estate.

As a result of this inconsistency in interpreting and applying the term "machinery," it has become increasingly difficult to determine when the machinery used in a particular factory or industry is assessable as real estate, and when it is not; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and define the term "machinery" with relation to assessment of real estate in counties of the second class, and report to the next regular session of the General Assembly as to its findings and recommendations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to mention one thing in connection with this resolution which was just introduced. I realize it is going to committee, and I am not debating it.

I just want to mention that the difficulty in defining machinery, when it is real estate and when it is not, is not a problem for a local government. It is a problem of defining machinery, what is realty and what is personality, and that is a matter of law. In some cases, many of which are leading in this Country, according to the United States Supreme Court, if the machinery is attached to the real estate so that it cannot be moved, it is considered realty and it is taxed as such. When it is the type of machinery that can be picked up and carried away, it is defined as personality, and does not come under the heading of realty.

As a matter of fact, we took this into consideration in the sales tax which we have enacted in this Commonwealth, and we defined the base, or the materials that go into the base, for machinery as being realty. Therefore, it is not taxed under the sales tax. We specifically provided that, bearing in mind that when you put up machinery and you lay a base for it or attach it to the real estate, it is then part of the realty.

I think it is very difficult to define. I think each case sort of stands on its own two feet. That is what has made the case law, as it is in this Country, and there are still cases today on this very, very point.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think Senator Koprivier has an excellent resolution. I might say that what this is pertaining to, in my opinion, is the Local Assessment Act. I do say that this Senate and the Legislature has never definitely defined what machinery actually is when it comes to assessment for taxing purposes. Therefore, I do believe that this resolution should be brought from committee and acted upon in this Senate. We should have some legislation enacted whereby we will know just what is taxable and what is not taxable.

I have always felt, Mr. President, that the passage of legislation which exempted all machinery from real estate taxation was morally wrong, because it has worked hardship upon many of the political subdivisions in Pennsylvania. I might say in my own county of Washington, it has increased the county millage by two mills. In some of the school districts, they have had to increase it as much as five mills because of the loss of this assessment. However, it still has not been clarified.

I agree that Senator Koprivier has sponsored an excellent resolution, and he can count upon my vote and my support.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BERGER, from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1131, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 28, 1915 (P. L. 596), entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities, and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions," providing for additional payments to certain pensioned or retired employes.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES ON THE QUESTION OF WHETHER OR NOT RESOLUTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE IS PRIVILEGED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a further committee report, which I believe is proper under this order of business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, on the tax measure—I cannot give you the exact date but it was a couple of weeks ago—the question was raised as to the status of a resolution to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill, as to whether it was a privileged resolution or it was not. The Chair referred this to the Rules Committee for a report, and I, at this time, make a report from the Rules Committee for the consideration of the Chair.

Mr. President, I might suggest that if the Presiding Officer approves this, after considering the report and if he adopts it as a ruling of the Chair, it might then be distributed to the Members of the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that this matter should lie on the table at this time until such time as the Lieutenant-Governor is in the Chair, so that we have the benefit of his knowledge on this matter.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair agrees wholeheartedly, but felt that for the information of the Membership, who would probably like to hear the report of the Rules Committee at this time, it would do no harm for the Clerk to read the report now and we would then lay it on the table until the Lieutenant-Governor returns.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in order not to be accused of histrionics, you might have used the line, "Here he is now," the Lieutenant-Governor now being present.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will now return the gavel to the Lieutenant-Governor.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Scott.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES LAID ON THE TABLE

The PRESIDENT. Coming into a situation like this one puts me in a tough spot. I would lay the report on the table until I have had a chance to study it and report to the Senate concerning it at a later time.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, yesterday, we had quite an exhibition on House Bill No. 1297. I want you to know, Mr. President, that I believe in fair play. I could make a motion to recommit this bill, but, believing in fair play, I do not want to take advantage of the other side. As I look over on the other side, I see most of the other Members have gone home.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1297, Printer's No. 1507, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to make an observation. It might be that because the gentleman has his back turned toward his own side, he does not realize that I can see from this side that there are quite a number of Members missing on that side, as well. Therefore, I think we may have difficulty in acting on this measure today. I think he is correct in asking that the bill go over in its order, and I agree with him.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I think, in all fairness, the Minority Leader knows where our Members are. They are in back of the Senate, having lunch. He knows I am right. He is just trying to skirt the issue. There are twenty-six Members present on this side today.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not wish to debate this subject, but I think if the gentleman will take a careful count, he will find there may be a few Members who are not eating and who might not even have been left in the Caucus Room. I was just trying to bring to his attention that there are some people who are not here today, for several reasons, most of which I am sure are good reasons.

Therefore, Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman in his request that the bill go over in order. I think we should not debate this question.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, ordinarily, I would let the remarks pass, but I wish to call the Chair's attention to the fact that there are twenty-six Members on this side in attendance at this Session. If the gentleman would like to have them all on the floor, we will be glad to bring them in.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I did not say there were or were not twenty-six. I was not debating that issue. I merely stated that there are some Members absent from the other side. Whether that equals twenty-six, less than twenty-six or twenty-eight, I do not know. As I said, I agree with the gentleman that the bill should go over in its order. We do not have the people here to debate this measure today.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

STATEMENT CONCERNING PRINTER'S ERROR IN NAMES OF SPONSORS OF HOUSE BILL No. 1437, PRINTER'S No. 637

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, on page 20 of today's Calendar, House Bill No. 1437, I believe you will find a printer's error, whereby they have the sponsors of the bill listed as Messrs. Donaldson, Lane, Luty and Goldstein. I used to be in the House years ago, and sometimes I wish I were back there. However, I believe the printer should correct that error, because I do not believe there is another Lane in the House of Representatives.

The PRESIDENT. Do you feel this is an improper use of your name?

Mr. LANE. I would not say it is improper, Mr. President. I would feel that it is a double-header.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure it should be called to the attention of the printer, and it will be so called.

It is my understanding that the printer was so well versed with the name of Lane, he used it instead of Lamb, which should have been on the bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

Resolved, That the Senate urge the various school districts throughout the State to declare November 11th as a holiday for all the children; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate urge the Governor to issue a proclamation requesting all businesses, except those which would normally be open on Sundays, to be closed on Veterans Day so that all the people of the Commonwealth will have the opportunity to observe this day in such manner that the true spirit to honor the veterans of our Commonwealth can truly be executed; and be it further

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled "The Vehicle Code," increasing the speed limit for motor buses on certain highways.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

He also, on behalf of Mr. WEINER, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1158, entitled:

L. 1593), entitled "An act to repeal the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (Pamphlet Laws 535), entitled "An act providing for the redemption of real property purchased by a political subdivision at tax sales upon the payment of the amount charged against the same and costs by installment payments, and prescribing the procedure therefor," in so far as it relates to counties of the second class and cities, boroughs, townships and school districts situate in such counties," extending the application thereof to counties of the first class and cities and school districts located within such counties.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I think there has been growing, through the Commonwealth, a conviction on the part of parents, educators, school boards and other citizens interested in public education that the present maximum subsidy of $5,800 is inadequate, and that, therefore, the present appropriation on behalf of instruction is inadequate.

This conviction, I think, is gradually percolating into the minds of Legislators on both sides of the Legislature. The only question, Mr. President, is just how much additional money will be needed to adequately meet the increased needs of the school districts.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association, prior to this Session, issued a historic document which is titled, "Today and Tomorrow, Education in Pennsylvania." It is popularly referred to as, "The Report by the Committee of Fifteen," because it was drawn up, after extensive study and research, by fifteen prominent educators and was incorporated into legislation in the form of House Bill No. 1108. In this study, the committee endeavored to find out what it would cost to support an adequate educational program in Pennsylvania. They came up with the conclusion, as incorporated in House Bill No. 1108, that the maximum subsidy figure should be raised to $9,000, with an accompanying raise in the local effort to seven mills. This program is estimated to cost the Commonwealth, in the next biennium, an additional figure which is somewhat short of $200,000,000.

Subsequent to the introduction of that bill, a bill was introduced in this Senate, Senate Bill No. 1099, which provides that the maximum subsidy should be raised from $5,800 to $7,000 in the first year of the biennium, and to $8,000 in the second year of the biennium, with a corresponding increase in local effort, so that the same distribution would result. This bill is estimated to cost somewhat short of $100,000,000.

Now, Mr. President, I have heard the figure of $28,000,000 frequently used as a figure that represents the amount of additional money in the budget that would be adequate to meet the needs of our school districts during the next biennium. I do not know where the figure of $28,000,000 originated. I do not know what the rationale back of this figure is. However, I am convinced, Mr. President, that unless something is said on this subject, Legislators are going to make the assumption that somehow this magical figure of $28,000,000 represents the answer to the Commonwealth's needs, as far as providing an adequate educational program in our public schools for the next two years. I do not think this is so.

I think it is time we faced up to the problem of whether $28,000,000 does represent an adequate figure, because if we do not, I am afraid that it will become the accepted figure.

I would like to just briefly point out what $28,000,000 would do and how inadequate it would be. In the first place, Mr. President, school districts face the problem of a loss in revenue, in many cases due to a newly announced tax equalization figure which describes the market value of the property in school districts throughout the Commonwealth. In order to make up to school districts which would lose by this new tax equalization figure, it would be necessary to put $12,000,000 into our budget. Twelve million dollars from $28,000,000 means that this leaves $16,000,000 to make up the needs which were present before the Tax Equalization Board reported. Therefore, our figure of $28,000,000 comes down to a figure of $16,000,000, in so far as it applies to the needs of the school districts before the new tax equalization figures were announced.

Of the $16,000,000, Mr. President, under our present system of distribution, and if no change is made in the $5,800 figure or no change is made in our present means of distribution, the first and second class school districts in this Commonwealth will receive between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 of that $16,000,000.

I would have the Members reflect on the fact that the first and second class school districts amount to a total of twenty-five school districts out of a whole number of school districts, which is 2,420. This means that twenty-five districts will receive of the increase of $16,000,000, which is left out of the $28,000,000, about half, or between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000, leaving for the 2,395 districts, which are not first and second class school districts, a total amount of between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 to be distributed.

If we will reflect on the distribution of $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 among 2,395 school districts, I think it becomes obvious that this represents a figure which is totally inadequate to meet the needs of the third and fourth class districts of this Commonwealth.

I might point out, Mr. President, that it is just in these districts, the third and fourth class districts of the Commonwealth, where the need for additional help is most acute. I would also like to say this. Unless the Legislature sees fit to provide more adequately than would be represented here in this $7,000,000 or $8,000,000, which would result from a total additional appropriation of $28,000,000, many of these third and fourth class districts are going to be, for the first time in their history, distressed school districts, because many of them have reached a point where they are unable to go further in local taxation, where, with all of the good will in the world, they have gone as far as the local resources of their communities will permit. Unless they receive enough aid to bridge the gap between their own resources and the financial needs of their school districts—most of which, Mr. President, are mandated by this Legislature—they will be unable to adequately finance their programs without coming to the Commonwealth as distressed school districts. This would present a situation which, if it develops largely, would be a chaotic one, and one which would mean that the Commonwealth would have to provide additional funds in the form of distressed funds. This would be a situation which would shake the confidence of the people of the Commonwealth in the administration of our public schools.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to urge upon all Members not to accept the figure of $28,000,000 as the figure which will settle the difficulty. It is my belief that we must do substantially more than that. I would recommend to all Members that they give consideration to Senate Bill No. 1099, as proving a solution which would be more nearly adequate to the situation.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I do not want to discuss this matter at length, but I do want to tell Senator Seyler that I have, in committee, a bill which will raise $22,000,000 more. There is not going to be any additional tax to obtain this amount. There is going to be a different method of collection, which will bring the Commonwealth this additional $22,000,000. It is exactly what the Kennedy Report suggested to his Excellency, the Governor.

If Senator Seyler will get behind this movement, there is $22,000,000 which we can obtain to help our distressed school districts. I have reference to taxing beer and liquor at the consumer level, rather than at the distributor level.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would reply to the gentleman that his proposition sounds very interesting to me.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will reply to the gentleman by saying that I believe Senator Pechan is determined to play partisan politics. He wants to make sure that the Democrats will never be in control of the State Government again. Advocating a tax over-the-bar is a political move because in most taverns in Pennsylvania, it appears that politics are discussed and the Democrats will be damned from now on in.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would suggest to the distinguished gentleman that he take a walk through that door and go through the House of Representatives and tell that to His Excellency, the Governor. He suggested to the Legislature that this is the manner in which it should be collected. Do not blame us. I just picked it up from him. I am just one of the dumb guys over here, in that I read the newspaper and went through the proposal. I want to be helpful. I want to help raise this money for our schools. I cannot understand where it is political. Everything else is done on the consumer level. Why do you take an exception to beer and liquor? It just does not make sense to me.

INTERROGATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, are you in favor of this legislation?

Mr. PECHAN. Which legislation?

Mr. LANE. The legislation whereby you recommend that the tax be collected over-the-bar.

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, I am. My name is on the bill. I introduced the bill.

Mr. LANE. Are you planning on running for re-election next year?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, very much.

Mr. LANE. Thank you very much.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, since the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan, has very kindly agreed to answer questions, I, therefore, desire to interrogate him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the gentleman deign to tell us whether he voted for the four per cent sales tax, originally, on beer and liquor.

Mr. PECHAN. Originally, I voted for the three and one-half per cent sales tax.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to appear rude and interrupt the gentleman, but would he please respond to my question. If he then wants to make a clarifying statement, I think he should do so.

I will repeat my question for the gentleman. Did he vote for the four per cent sales tax on beer and liquor in the bill which we just passed here in the last two weeks?

Mr. PECHAN. I voted against the four per cent sales tax, period. I do not know whether beer and liquor was included in it or not. I voted against it because I thought that three and one-half per cent was enough for you.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank the gentleman, Mr. President. However, Mr. President, I wish to point out to him a little bit of history which I think he should be cognizant of.

When the Hood-Kennedy Report was published and submitted by the Governor to the Legislature, nobody said anything about any part of it. Nobody objected to it. Nobody said they were for it. Nobody, in any way, took exception to the report. When it was drawn up into legislation and appeared before this Body, all kinds of objections appeared. Parts of the program were said to be bad and nobody wanted to do anything about it.

After that report came out and some of the legislation was prepared, the people who allegedly speak for the beer people in this Commonwealth came up here and really raised the roof. They felt they were being imposed upon by putting the tax on the bar man and at the consumer level. The Administration, in yielding to this pressure, removed it from the consumer and put it back where it is today, on the distributor and these other people, and this bill passed. It was not until the matter was before us here that they again began to raise the roof because they wanted it back where it was originally.

If they cannot make up their minds, I think somebody should do it for them. The reason it was put at the distributor level was because, first of all, it is easier to collect a tax when there are less people from whom to collect it. Second of all, it is very difficult for anybody to go into a bar and watch every bartender. I am sure that everybody here is familiar with the old cliché and the old story of the owner saying to the bartender, "Are we not partners anymore?" I am afraid the Commonwealth might have to say that to some of these people, also.

I think the difficulty would be in enforcing this tax. The sales tax, as the Senator well knows, is a difficult tax to enforce, at best. Leaving it at that level, where you have so many more people to cover, it would be virtually impossible to do so. The cost in doing so would be so expensive that, perhaps, the tax, by the time you collected it, would not be worth the trouble that you went to originally. That was the reason this was done.

If the Senator can demonstrate that it will bring in the money that he said, without additional personnel to enforce it, I am sure many people would be glad to consider it, as they did other amendments to this Act. However, having failed to vote for this tax, originally, in any form, I cannot understand how he can now say, "Now that you have voted for it and it is in existence, I now say that you should go ahead and do thus and so." It is very easy to play quarterback and call the signals after the plays have been made and maybe somebody has been hurt by them. If he would now vote for some of the other taxes which are in committee, I think we could raise $55,000,000 if they would bring out the personal property tax. I think the gentleman should see what he can do about that in order to help Senator Seyler solve the problem which he suggested to him.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to ask to be excused. I thought I heard a crack in the roof and I want to get out before it falls in.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, September 9, 1959, at 2:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Hr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:45 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, September 9, 1959, at 2:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, September 2, 1959

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Vernon I. Naugle, Pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Shrewsbury, York County, guest Chaplain and guest of the Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, our Heavenly Father, we invoke Thy presence with this Legislative body this day. Wilt Thou endow them with wisdom and understanding so that all that they may do this day may truly be in accordance with Thy will.

Make each of us aware of Thy presence so that we may be living epistles of Thy will and plan of salvation.

Bless this Commonwealth and all the residents therein, that in fellowship one with the other and with Thee, we may enjoy peace and prosperity.

Forgive, O Father, our many sins, but guide us ever onward to accomplish the things that will be well pleasing to Thee.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, September 1, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, during Monday's session I was called from the Hall of the House to answer the telephone. In my absence the House finally passed House Bill 2146. In checking with the Secretary's office this morning, I find I am recorded as voting aye on that bill. I want the record to show that I am opposed to the bill and would have voted no had I been in my seat.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Resolution No. 63, Serial No. 68, creating a Joint Committee to investigate election frauds was introduced by me on April 28, 1959, after a very public-spirited citizen in my Legislative District informed me of organized cheating in one of our large cities in this Commonwealth. This constituent requested me to try to remedy this situation which he knew existed for the reason that he was at one time a candidate for public office in that city and experienced organized use of fraudulent assistance in voting being used against him.

This resolution of mine was introduced by me in April of 1959, and as yet has not been reported to the floor of the House for action and passage by this legislative body. Since I introduced this resolution I have had some very alarming communications in support of it and I would like to read one of them at this time, which is from the Committee of Seventy of Philadelphia, and I quote:

May 4, 1959.

Representative Francis Worley,
House of Representatives
State Capitol,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Worley:

It has come to my attention that you introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives concerning fraudulent voting in various parts of the Commonwealth. I can assure you that fraudulent voting and illegal assistance are carried on in a number of areas in the City of Philadelphia in the course of both the Party Primaries and the November Elections.

We have referred a number of pieces of fraudulent voting through the use of forged voter certificates to vote to the District Attorney of Philadelphia and to the United States Attorney for this District. We have information upon these numerous first cases which have been referred to these officials over a period of years, and we shall be glad to make copies available to you should this be necessary.

Cordially,

WM. P. CERRILL,
Chairman, Sub Committee on Elections

Another letter says, "The tombstones should get off of the voting lists in Lackawanna County." Another letter claims that the greatest voting irregularity is the use of voting assistance in Philadelphia. I have more communications but will not take the time of this House to go into them at this time.

Mr. Speaker, it is an eternal threat to democracy to elect a candidate to any public office for whom a majority of the people voting did not vote for or did not vote for voluntarily. It is, in fact, cheating the people out of their sovereignty over this government.

I hope this resolution will be reported to the floor of this House for passage.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to apologize to the Chair and the Members of this House in regard to the interrogation that took place yesterday on House Bill 1702.

I believe my position has been made clear on many occasions in regard to the power of different department heads. It had been my intention to remove the power of the Secretary of Highways and leave that power where it belonged, in this House. I firmly believe that we should have the power to place or to delete roads in this Commonwealth.

I want to inform the House that the next time this bill is called up I am sure the language in those sections will be clear and concise.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in all fairness to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, if I implied in any way yesterday that there was anything irregular about the bill or about his knowledge of the bill, I certainly will apologize.

I tried to point out to the House yesterday that I thought the gentleman had given this bill a serious amount of study, I thought the Committee had given it a serious amount of study. It was such a complicated bill that I thought it required a lot more study.

I agree with the gentleman, and I know that when we consider the bill again he will be fully aware of all the things that are in the bill.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair has an announcement of possible interest.

The Chair appoints as a select committee the Messrs. Polen, McCann, Mihm, Helm and Bower, whose duty it shall be to propose a plan of procedure to the House when it reconvenes on Wednesday, September 9. A plan designed to improve the operating facilities of the House during the interim after final adjournment including the feasibility of an electric roll call system; a more efficient arrangement of our public address system; an examination of our filing system of bills; journals on Members' desks to provide adequate working space; to survey and improve rooms allocated to the standing committees, the staff of the House. It shall also be the duty of this select committee to suggest plans for implementing existing legislation for financing the improvement program adopted.

Very frankly, the Chair has become weary of swimming against the tide. Incidentally, there is no need for new legislation authorizing this House to install an electric roll call system. Such legislation, in effect has been in effect for years, has never been repealed, and the Chair helped write it. Our previous efforts to install an electric roll call system was sabotaged after considerable initial work, wiring beneath the floor of the Chamber in which we sit. It is essential that if we are to proceed along the lines suggested for the consideration by the Committees that we establish funds over which this House has absolute control.

The Chair wants to say again, he is weary of swimming against the tide. We had to crowd a proposed increase in compensation for the Members down many a reluctant throat in this Chamber, and I want to pay tribute to the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt, and, incidentally, the gentleman from Lancaster Mr. Wood, who spent hours and hours and hours devising the retirement system under which the Members of this House are now included. It came about that after we had crowded the pay increase down reluctant throats and many of those most reluctant were the first in line for the increased pay checks.

We are caught again in a maze of opposition in our efforts to provide the Members of this House with adequate Committee service. All along the line we have encountered opposition in our effort to establish this House in a role of greater increased efficiency. So it will be the province of this Select Committee to report to this House suggested means of implementing the existing legislation relating particularly to the installation of an electric roll call system. It is, of course, news to most of the Members of this House who have served during the years that such legislation was on the statute books and that it only remains for someone in the midst of the various caucuses to take the effective steps which the Chair has felt he has been forced to take.

The Chair is not going to endeavor to crowd any of these improvements down the throat of this House. Those microphones are not modern, they are not efficient, they are awkward to talk into; the control ought to be up there in the gallery. There are so many other things that we should do for and on behalf of ourselves, particularly to see to it that an adequate amount of money is set aside so that it is under the exclusive control of this House and that our plans therefor cannot be impeded either by the other Chamber or by the executive branch of this government. The Chair thinks such an arrangement can be made and hopes that the battle made to improve the salaries of Legislative employes and the working conditions is culminated in the enactment of legislation and will not, in its final stages, bog down and fail.

The Chair thanks the House for its attention.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,
House Bill No. 568, Printer's No. 1528;
House Bill No. 814, Printer's No. 1512;
House Bill No. 1205, Printer's No. 1317 and
House Bill No. 1335, Printer's No. 1260, were passed over at the reequst of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1508, entitled

An Act transfeerring the moneys of the State School Fund to the General Fund providing for the use of such moneys for assisting public school districts to comply with required safety standards in certain cases conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Council of Education the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Secretary of Labor and Industry providing for future escheated estates making certain appropriations and repealing certain sections of the Public School Code of 1949.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, this is a very odd bill in a lot of ways. A lot of us, of course, have had the so-called panic repairs to their home-town school districts.
I guess I can hardly do anything but go along with the bill. However, it does contain two items, an appropriation of $200,000, I believe, for the State Council of Education to use practically as they see fit, to keep alive educational opportunities all over the State. Nobody knows how they are going to use it or for what purposes or just why it has to be.

Then there is another $100,000 in there. Here is another very peculiar quirk for this so-called higher council of education. Why that is needed at this time because I do not know, because at the present time, again, as I pointed out on the floor of the House yesterday in reference to another bill, an appropriation bill, so far there is no higher council of education in the state. It just is not in being as yet and yet here is a $100,000 going to it to use as they see fit.

I wonder when we are going to stop sending blank checks to these administrative departments down here to use as they see fit, with nothing specific spelled out in the bill as to how this money can be used. You passed a bill yesterday that was for $300,000. Here is $300,000 in blank checks; $400,000 to this higher council of education. What they are going to do with it or for what purpose, nobody has been able to adequately explain to me.
It is just bad, that is all. But here again, what are we going to do? They just call for these appropriations which are good for these panic repairs. It has caused many school districts hundreds of thousands of dollars. It has caused my own home school district possibly around $500,000 to make these repairs. That is a lot of money when you have not budgeted it for the present year. It has to come out of the taxpayer's pockets of course. And here is this other money that was appropriated, we being mouse-trapped into it when it hit the floor last week on these row office bills. We are suckers probably but we are bound and we have to go for it, but I do not like it.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman says is correct about appropriating $200,000 to the State Council of Education to equalize educational opportunities, but I would like to call attention to the House to the fact that at the present time the entire State School Fund which comes from the escheat fund is now used for that purpose, and this bill abolishes the state School Fund and transfers the money to the General Fund. It does make an appropriation of $200,000 to the State Council, which is the amount that is necessary for them to carry out the commitments they have already made. It makes an appropriation of $100,000 to the Council of Higher Education, it is true, for which the enabling act has not as yet been passed. However, the remainder of this fund will be transferred to the General Fund and the State School Fund which, in the past, the Department of Public Instruction, through the State Council, has had the entire responsibility for and could and did use it as they pleased. The balance of the money is to go to the school districts of Pennsylvania that have been affected by the orders of the Department of Labor and Industry. To those districts which are totally distressed the amount will be paid in full, and the other districts will be reimbursed as the formula shows in the bill on a one sum basis. I want to say to the House that no additional money will be required to do this from tax funds because presently the $4 million in the State School Fund, which is transferred to General Fund, will take care of all the expense and reimbursement of doing this.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I grant all that the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, has said is true. It is not any new tax money, that is true, but nobody still has been able to explain to me why we have to appropriate this extra $300,000 to these two councils of education. Especially when one of them is not even in being.

There are other bad aspects of the bill that I think make it bad legislation. You have got three different departments that are going to approve these funds; you have the Department of Labor and Industry, the Department of Public Instruction and the State Council of Education. One approves if the other approves, and then if the State Council of Education is not in being, it provides in this bill in one place why the Superintendent of Public Instruction can make the approval, and then it is bound to be confirmed by the State Council of Education. Well, here we go again.

Then in another place here, if a school district is completely financially distressed, 100 percent of the entire repairs can be paid, and that is decided by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. If you cannot make a political football out of that I will eat anybody's hat. And, that is not good legislation.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, without having all my notes, the school district of the city of Altoona is in his area?

Mr. AUKER; That is right.

Mr. McCANN. From memory, Mr. Speaker, I believe that the city of Altoona School District had 17 wooden, frame school buildings which Labor and Industry fire and panic orders affected. Would that be about right?

Mr. AUKER. That could possibly be right. Somewhere in that neighborhood. I do not know the exact number, but it is pretty close to it anyway.

Mr. McCANN. As a general rule, the gentleman from his own legislative district knows his own area, and I am just trying to go by memory because the city of Altoona was one of the greatest examples. If the School District of the city of Altoona had 17 buildings, or whatever number, that the Labor and Industry issued corrective orders on, they dealt with changes to be made to the buildings, this bill here would do what for that school district?

Mr. AUKER. Well, there is no question about it, Mr. Speaker, it would help very materially in reimbursing that school district in making those repairs ordered by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Mr. McCANN. Well, now, let us see how this bill works then. If Labor and Industry issued the 17 orders, or whatever number it may be, it is immaterial. This bill takes $4 million from the escheats fund and transfers it in the following manner. To every school district in which Labor and Industry orders were issued the formula is there to reimburse that district to help correct those orders. Now, Labor and Industry issues the orders, is that correct?

Mr. AUKER. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. The Department of Public Instruction approves the money that Labor and Industry ordered on your school district out of this bill, is that correct?

Mr. AUKER. Under this bill, yes, that is the setup.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct?

Mr. AUKER. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Now then, assuming that the city of Altoona school district was absolutely financially distressed to the point of not being able to provide absolutely one penny under any conditions to help correct this, what would the appropriation be in there for as it pertains to those school districts?

Mr. AUKER. Under the provisions of this bill, as I understand it, the Superintendent of Public Instruction can say that they will all be paid or any part of it, and that I say is not good.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, then the gentleman would say that if, in the case of the city of Altoona school district, in your legislative district thank God they are not financially handicapped at this point, but say they were—then do you believe that we in the Commonwealth should not assist you in the corrective orders helping to insure the safety of those children?

Mr. AUKER. I did not say that.

Mr. McCANN. Well, now, please tell us what you said.

Mr. AUKER. I said that I do not think it should be at the sole discretion of one administrative head. I do not think that is good in any case. I think there ought to be checks and balances on this so that there is not going to be any political favoritism played at all.

Mr. McCANN. That is fine. Now, Mr. Speaker,—

Mr. AUKER. Regardless of party too, I might say, let me add that.

Mr. McCANN. Fine. Now, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us in whose department the powers are now vested without this bill?

Mr. AUKER. Well now, you mean for repairs? There has never been any such thing before.

Mr. McCANN. Let us say, for example, for 25 years or 30 years you have appropriated money to aid the financially handicapped school districts at one time from $2 million down to $400,000 or $500,000, in whose hands could you vest that authority in all those years?

Mr. AUKER. Well, I imagine the Public Instruction Department.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, is it not? Then, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us if he did that and they did a job rightfully that you believe it should or should not be vested in the same man's hands?

Mr. AUKER. Well, I question that on this kind of a setup because here you have repairs being ordered by one department, and then you have the OK on it by another department. That is not true of the general education appropriation at all. You have certain set formulas there by law. But here you have one department ordering the repairs and two other different setups to OK it. That, I do not think is good.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman then explain to us, the Department of Labor and Industry by law has the obligation to inspect the buildings and check them regarding the fire and panic situation, under the law, and they are required to do this. We have given that right in the past to this Department, and in the past we have given the right to the Department of Public Instruction to allocate money. In this bill are we not doing exactly as we have done for years in carrying out this formula and trying to help all the school districts in this situation?

Mr. AUKER. As I understand it, we have not done it in the past because panic repairs have never come up in the past.

Mr. McCANN. No, in the allocation of money to financially handicapped school districts, will the gentleman tell us how we now allocate that money when we appropriate it here in the General Assembly?

Mr. AUKER. Through the Department of Public Instruction, as I understand it, yes.

Mr. McCANN. We vest the power then, Mr. Speaker, entirely in the hands of the Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction and have done so for many years.

Mr. AUKER. Under recognized formula.

Mr. McCANN. Under a recognized formula, and what is that formula?

Mr. AUKER. Oh, well now, Mr. Speaker, there I will have to plead some ignorance because I am not well enough up on this school quota and the reimbursement quotas and all that sort of thing to properly answer the question.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman agree that there is no written formula in the law as to the appropriating of these funds by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and there are the regulations and compliances that are issued to the school district before they appropriate the money which are the only rules?

Mr. AUKER. That possibly might be true. Let me explain, Mr. McCann, What I am trying to get at.

Here is the department that orders the repairs. Now, in my mind—maybe I am wrong—the department that orders them and has to approve them should also have the distribution of the money or be in on it at least. They know more about it than the Department of Public Instruction does. That is the point I am raising.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman saying to the House that we should allocate then approximately $3 million to the Department of Labor and Industry that issues the orders on our school buildings so that they would then allocate the money for the repairs?

Mr. AUKER. To my mind, I think that would be the better business procedure. That is just my personal opinion.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1508 is a piece of very sound legislation in what it is trying to do. I will not say that it may not need corrective amendments. But let us see what we are trying to do.

We first have the escheats fund in a department in which there is approximately $4 million. It is there now for their use and discretion. They can do any darned thing they want to with that money at any time. You have no control over it and never have had any control by law.

Now what are we doing? We are saying this money is coming back into the General Fund to be used for our school system. And how is it to be used? We are going to allocate to those who have $4 million to work with, $200,000 because you have commitments to do certain things by which these commitments should be paid. You are taking this fund and putting it under the control of a General Assembly in which you allocate this money. If you have $4 million dollars, why are you allocating it? The Department of Labor and Industry inspected the school buildings of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in your own legislative district they found corrective measures that need to be made to the school buildings. We believe those orders should be carried out and try to make the buildings as safe as humanly possible to insure the lives of our children in the school rooms.

Now then, when the Department of Labor and Industry said you have to try to do this to this building, they now say to you, we want you to do it, we want to help to pay for it. How are we helping to pay for it? By allocating a formula on this money the same as I mentioned to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, I remember distinctly the city of Altoona had 17 school districts with an estimated cost for repairs to meet the order approximately $500,000 to $600,000. They would receive a proportionate share of this money to make those corrective orders to those buildings.

The School Boards of Pennsylvania need this help. They want to make their buildings corrective to the proper fire regulations. They do have the money. So you come to a school district that absolutely is broke. Now then, we took one step further. To those that have absolutely no money and are not able to pay any part of this, financially distressed—financial distress is determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction—in whom you have vested that power for many years. If that was the office and department that you left your authority in and found it to be operating satisfactorily, why not accept the same formulae as that in the department or head who should have this authority?

We granted in this bill a specific amount of money to that department head to allocate to your school district if it cannot pay one single cent of this. But we placed a ceiling again on the amount that can go into this field. This is a piece of legislation that covers every public school in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania affected by the Labor and Industry orders which you know yourself affect schools in areas having had the orders served on them, and the school directors of your area have talked to you about the money to help pay for this.

I would like to say that this is very good, sound legislation to do these things and to assist our school boards to accomplish the goal that we are seeking and for which they also are attempting to find the money to meet that same goal.

I believe we have vested the powers in the proper people, the people that you have vested it in for years, and I think this in itself will be a benefit to all those school districts. I honestly urge the unanimous passage of House Bill 1508, Printer's No. 1530.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words against the bill, and in support of my friend from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Reading this bill hastily as the two gentlemen have been debating, Section A appropriates $200,000 out of the fund to the State Council of Education, not the Department, to spend during the two-fifths of the year as it deems wise toward equalizing educational advantages in the Commonwealth. As I read that phrase, the State Council of Education is not limited in any way to spending $200,000 in correcting building faults that have been detected by the Department of Labor and Industry. It can spend it any way it wants to. It can give, let us say, to Allegheny County, or to Montgomery County, just any way that it deems wise.

The second feature of the bill which Mr. Auker opposed gives $100,000 to an organization for which we have no enabling legislation as yet. It gives $100,000 to the State Council of Higher Education, an item which may or may not pass or be approved by this General Assembly.

As far as the rest of the bill goes, I think the appropriations for fixing up buildings have been inserted in the bill and all this money goes again to the State Council of Education. Personally, I disapprove of that. I think the State Council of Education has enough to do in determining curriculum problems, in determining standards for education throughout the Commonwealth, without worrying that particular council about buildings that have been found faulty by the Department of Labor and Industry. It divides, the third section, the responsibility between the State Council of Education and the Department of Public Instruction to control the whole setup. I think that is bad.

I think the purpose of the bill is probably good, but I intend to vote against it because I think it is very poorly drawn, and I know of no prior instance in our law where we simply gave $200,000 to some state agency with the instruction to spend it as they deem wise.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, Mr. Jones, I would like to say that at the present time there is over $4 million in the State School Fund which the State Council of Education can spend and has been spending in any manner that they may see fit to equalize educational opportunities. Actually, they could at the present time do any of the things that we are directing them to do now with this money.

I want to call your attention to one particular thing. The effect of this legislation would be to eliminate the State School Fund of Pennsylvania, transferring its funds and transferring control of such funds from the State Council of Education to the General Assembly. In the future there will be no state school fund which the State Council of Education will have because the funds will, in the future, go into the General Fund. The $200,000 that we are asking for in this appropriation is to take care of commitments that the State Council has already made under the law as they have been operating. This simply takes the control away from the State Council and gives it back to the General Assembly, and this bill spells out what is to be done with the money that is transferred. Instead of having over $4 million as they now have, they will be limited to $200,000 to take care of their present commitments, and that will end the State School Fund and the operation as it has been in the past.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the explanation of the gentleman from Washington. I approve of the abolishment of the fund about which we were talking.

I remember hearing that at one of the Appropriations hearings this matter was discussed, that many of the members of the Appropriations Committee had not realized that this state fund existed in just this way, that the State Council of Education had so much power over it. I believe that the thought was current among, at least, some of the Members of the General Assembly that the State School Fund ought to be abolished and the funds put in the General Fund, and I am glad that is intended and is being done.

Nevertheless, I do not think that this bill ought to just give a blank check to the State Council of Education to spend $200,000 any way it wants to. I think if you are going to abolish the evil, you ought to abolish it all the way and not abolish it minus $200,000.

I would suggest that if this bill were to be put into proper shape, it could be done by having the State Council of Education tell us how they have managed to commit $200,000.

Mr. McCANN. I think the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones, will certainly agree that when the Council of Education has already made commitments, they have the right to make them, they have $4 million to operate with freely, that if we took every cent of that money away, these commitments would be moral obligations which by legislation I would be on this floor asking you to vote to pay for. We have to pay them. We have to pay our obligations that are properly brought before us, and the State Council of Education has done this properly. They have every right; they have the right today to do this.

Therefore, we are trying to pay the bills for which they are obligated, eliminate the fund. I do not believe anyone is proposing that this fund should be in the control of the General Assembly, that the money should be in the General Assembly, that the money should be in the General Fund, and this is what we are doing with that money, and that is why the appropriation is there for the $200,000.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I take this means, because I have already spoken twice on the bill, and to speak three times is against the rules. I am not going to speak on the bill. I merely want to clarify my position on it.

I am in favor fundamentally and basically and personally of this legislation and I urge every member to vote for it. I think the Majority Leader and his aides have done a very good job in providing this money in this way. I commend him for it. I am only objecting to these couple provisions in the bill protecting these extra appropriations.

I merely want to clarify my position in this way, that I am for the bill and I hope it passes. I urge every Member to vote for it in spite of these provisions in it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1853, Printer's No. 1115

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1861, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) transferring the State Hospital at Hamburg to the Department of Public Welfare and creating a board of trustees.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CROSSIN. Mr. Speaker, there has been considerable misunderstanding concerning the Hamburg State Hospital.

In order that the public and especially the people of Luzerne County are not confused about the facts, I want to make a few public statements.

As the matter now stands, the Hamburg State Hospital treats only approximately 158 patients. House Bill No. 1861, now before the state Legislature, provides that instead of being solely a TB institution, the Hamburg State Hospital will, in the future, use its full facilities for treating approximately 1,000 retarded children.

Mr. Speaker, the treatment of retarded children is recognized as one of the most important and pressing public problems we have today. More than 3,500 of these afflicted children are now on the waiting list, crying for the kind of attention, care and medical treatment that the Hamburg State Hospital will provide. The present TB patients who are affected by this change will be immediately and effectively cared for at other state institutions and will suffer only the inconvenience of being transferred.

We believe that the need for care and treatment for so many retarded children makes these changes imperative, and, furthermore we also believe that the Public will agree with us.

Therefore, as Members of the House representing Luzerne County, we are going to give our support to House Bill No. 1861, which will go far toward alleviating the entire problem of retarded and afflicted children of Pennsylvania. I speak on behalf of Representatives Crossin, Mehlichick, Curwood and Shupnik.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, I, like the Luzerne County delegation, originally intended to vote against this bill and to debate this bill on the floor of this House.

There are many reasons why you can be against this bill. For example, the present patients there do not desire to be transferred away from their loved ones and their families. Their families will suffer in some cases inconvenience and perhaps hardships in making visits several hundred miles away from the homes of their loved ones who have been unfortunate enough to be afflicted with the disease of tuberculosis.

However, the inescapable facts and conclusions are that any citizen in our Commonwealth who has been unfortunate enough to contract tuberculosis has an opportunity for hospitalization in several of our TB institutions. I am certain those patients who are going to be inconvenienced and those families who are going to be inconvenienced in traveling greater distances to see their loved ones will realize and will share with us the facts that these mentally retarded children must be cared for. They will understand that in their inconvenience the mentally retarded children of Pennsylvania will be given an opportunity for hospitalization.

I have made a thorough study in my county alone and I find that there are approximately 50 retarded children who, although seeking admittance to these institutions, have thus far been denied admittance because of insufficient facilities. I am hopeful that Hamburg will supply the need of these families and these unfortunates.

Therefore, I also ask that we support this bill so that we can provide for the citizens of all Pennsylvania in their various diseases.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to insert a statement into the record in regard to 1861.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. WELSH submitted the following statement for the record.

UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Washington, D.C.

August 13, 1959.

Dr. C. L. Wilbar, Jr., Secretary
Department of Health
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania
Dear Doctor Wilbar:

I just returned to my office a few days ago after an absence while attending world labor conferences of International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in Berlin, Germany. One of the principal matters brought to my attention is the fact that under date of May 22, 1959, a letter was forwarded over your signature to all patients at the Charles H. Miner State Hospital, Hamburg, Pennsylvania. Through cooperation of one of my closest friends who happens to be a patient at this hospital, I have had an opportunity to make a careful analysis of the contents of this letter.

To emphasize to you that I am deeply shocked by the proposition of the Department of Health to transfer all patients from the Hamburg hospital to institutions at South Mountain and Cresson, Pennsylvania, in order that the Hamburg hospital can be made available to the Department of Public Welfare for treatment of mentally retarded children, would be putting it rather mildly. Adding more to my remorse are the facts: that I have been informed each patient has been personally contacted and asked if he or she would transfer from Hamburg; that as a result of the pressure which was used, some patients consented to transfer; and that a large number of the Hamburg patients decided to go home rather than transfer to other institutions.

In my judgment, such action by the Department of Health is unfounded, unwise and uncalled for. As a result of the discontentment which has been caused among the patients at Hamburg, it is my opinion that whatever headway they might have been making insofar as their health is concerned, the mental anxiety brought about by this proposition will cause a terrific setback among each and everyone of them. Furthermore, the fact that a large number of sick patients are now at home and some of them even walking the streets exposing countless numbers of individuals to tuberculosis germs is causing a health menace.

From an individual standpoint and as the principal spokesman of the United Mine Workers of America from the Anthracite coal region, I cannot fathom the reasoning behind this proposed action by the Department of Health. I also know that I bespeak the sentiments of practically every individual, not only from the Anthracite region, but from all sections of Northeastern Pennsylvania, who must depend on the Hamburg Hospital for tuberculosis treatment. It is certainly my fond hope that no one is so erratic that he would put the "almighty buck" on a top priority above the human equations which are involved in this situation. I am, therefore, lodging this complaint in vigorous opposition against the contemplated conversion at Hamburg.

Presently, there are about 119 patients from the Anthracite region at Hamburg and it is a foregone conclusion that, if some of these individuals would go to either South Mountain or Cresson, the mileage span from their homes would be approximately 205 miles and 290 miles, respectively. Inasmuch as men who are employed in the Anthracite mines are exposed to everyday hazards, as well as many other health menaces, there is always the possibility that affliction with anthracosilicosis might lead to tuberculosis, such as happened in many cases. This factor, of course, increases the potential for other patients from the Anthracite region to be hospitalized at Hamburg. I am sure if you will reconsider your proposal, you cannot help but agree that such transfers would cause undue hardships to all families concerned. It is only natural that whether it is the patients in the hospital or their loved ones at home the desire of all concerned is to be always as close to one another as possible, in order that families may have an opportunity to take advantage of hospital visiting.

All the above reasoning is based on practical experience. I have not only been associated with a variety of on-the-spot problems within the ranks of the United Mine Workers of America, but also have had an opportunity to make a diagnosis of hospitalization requirements as a former member of the Board of Trustees at the White Haven Sanitarium for tuberculosis; and also as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Anthracite Health and Welfare Fund since the inception of that program in 1946. Furthermore, as Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from 1935 until 1938 inclusive, I was able to avail myself with a general knowledge of the inner workings of all State departments and the services which must be rendered by each department for the well-being of the population in general.

I, therefore, sincerely trust that necessary steps will be taken immediately to devise some other plan whereby the patients at Hamburg can be retained at that institution, and that other provisions will be established to take care of the mentally retarded children.

Sincerely yours,
/s/ Thomas Kennedy

Lawrence, Governor; Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, Secretary of Public Welfare, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; Mr. Harry Boyer, President, CIO Council; Mr. Joseph McDonough, President, Pennsylvania Federation of Labor; Mr. August J. Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1861, makes another change in the Commonwealth's operations of both our TB hospitals and our Department of Public Welfare mentally retarded children's program.

I am certainly most appreciative of all the Members who have checked so carefully into this legislation as to what we are trying to do and why we want to do it.

For the purposes of the record and to the many members to whom I have said in conferences for two weeks that there are now five TB hospitals in the Commonwealth, with the passage of this legislation there will be four. But, this is a matter of record for public statement, that for any TB patient in any county in this Commonwealth we have the bed space for that TB patient today, tomorrow or next week. That out of the 158 patients that were in Hamburg State Hospital, the first of August, each of them has received a letter notifying them that they are transferred for this hospital will no longer be a TB hospital. For each of those people I realize the problems that are involved with their families and with the hospital space, whether it be at Cresson, Pennsylvania, or in Franklin County at Mont Alto, it may be somewhat farther in distance to travel, but the hospital space is there and there are 3,500 boys and girls who can travel no place, to no hospital in this Commonwealth, for there is no space. Only as one dies is there space for one more child.

We are now taking another hospital from the TB program and it is the hope of these men who deal with this disease that, having almost licked it, it will not be too many years until another hospital in this class of TB hospitals will be taken from that of the four that will be left following the passage of this legislation, as we continue to reduce the caseload in the TB field. With that we hope also to try to find a way to provide again additional space, for only God in His wisdom has been able ever to answer what happens to these children when they are born with these defects.

Have you ever for a moment in your own county checked carefully the waiting list from your county the applicants now waiting to apply to be received into these hospitals. A few weeks ago, we had approximately 3,500 children on this list. Do you believe that this list is getting smaller this week or next week? It is approximately 3,570 now. Do you have any way to answer that this list will be smaller a year from now? No one can answer that question, but this we know we will do. In the Hamburg State Hospital, when we change it to the Department of Public Welfare for these children, just as sure as we are living, we will put 1,000 boys and girls. We will put 540 crib cases in that hospital just as close as you can put them together. If it would hold another 50, there will be another 50 put in. The estimated amount that it would hold is 950 patients, and I assure you that we will put 1,000 in that hospital. And then when we take 1,000 and put them in this hospital will we still have completed the job? Not by a far sight. Perhaps one third; no greater than 25 percent, for in the county that you represent or the district you represent there is no question that each county now should have the information, as you have requested it, as to how many patients are on the waiting list from your county. They cannot all be taken, some will be taken from, I am sure, all the counties and provided for in that space in this hospital.

Mr. Speaker, to the organizations that have opposed this legislation, I understand their position in opposition. I know it is difficult to say to these older men who are the TB patients, now we must move you. But this we say, we move you to provide the hospital space for you, and when we do we have then provided space for these children, a portion of this waiting list. I urge every Member to strongly support this legislation to help alleviate a portion of this situation.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I think all of us are vitally concerned with the welfare of the tuberculosis patients and their families, but we are also interested in the total public welfare program of this Commonwealth. The tuberculosis prevention program of the past years has been so successful that the problem today is not the way it faced us for many years, namely, that of providing an adequate number of tuberculosis hospitals then; but rather, the problem of today is making the most effective use of the beds that are available.

Perhaps, it is true, and I do not doubt it, that the proposed conversion of the hospital at Hamburg would work a hardship on many patients, who would thus have to be hospitalized further away from home, but it is also true that it would provide approximately 500 badly needed beds for the mentally deficient children who need institutional care.

Unfortunately, in discussing this bill, we have had a problem to the TB patients and the mentally deficient. I think all of us are concerned about our entire program, and if the Speaker will permit me, I would like to coin a phrase from one of his recent issues of Dispelling the Fog, and I quote, "Government is supposed to accord special attention to the so-called little people, to help those who are caught in the fell grip of circumstances and who, while needing help, cannot help themselves. The big people make themselves heard. They are vocal and their demands vocal with their protests, and the little people, as a rule, are voiceless.

I appeal to everyone to help the little people and the TB patients.

Mr. BONNER. Mr. Speaker, I too originally opposed this bill but after reviewing all aspects with cooperation from the Majority Leader, Mr. McCann, I came to the conclusion that this move will do the greatest good for the greatest number. So I am asking all whom I previously asked to support me to support the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1906, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), further regulating the use of resident hunter's license fees.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I understood that this bill was passed over. If it is not, I would like to debate the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill was passed over yesterday for debate today. Mr. Renwick requested debate, Mr. Breth requested debate, and I believe Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. BRETH. Since yesterday, and since the discussion was made on the bill setting up the date for today, there have been some developments which I think are salutary, and I believe the bill should be passed over. Did it pass third reading, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It has. It has been agreed to on third reading.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1941, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for the reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards and commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain * * *

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to make a brief statement with respect to House Bill 1941.

An increasing number of states have sought to focus their attention on higher education by creating an agency which would deal solely with the problems of higher education. But here in Pennsylvania, the colleges and universities have not had the opportunity of having full attention focused upon them. House Bill 1941 would mean that all of the colleges in Pennsylvania, junior colleges, community colleges, the State Teachers' Colleges, privately endowed colleges, and the large state-aided universities would have attention focused upon them in the field of higher education. The only way that this group of colleges can be assured fair representation at the state level, is to create a state council of higher education made up of people who are familiar with the particular problems of colleges and universities.

House Bill No. 1941 makes provision for this kind of state council of higher education. It would have nine members, no more than four of whom shall be employees or trustees of any institution of higher education in the Commonwealth. Such a provision would delimit the amount of members on the state council who would be so-called professional people only concerned with colleges. I might add, this four member council is a delimitation of the members of people who would be appointed to this state council with this one particular point of view in mind. These members would be appointed for revolving terms, by the Governor, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate, plus the ex-officio services of the Department of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. In fact, this setup is exactly like the present state council, except it will be a council for higher education which would handle nothing but duties relating to post-secondary education, heretofore by law vested in and imposed upon the State Council of Education.

House Bill 1941 will assure the development of a policy and proper planning in higher education for the Commonwealth. It would lead to a better coordination of our higher education program, as well as assuring further utilization of all existing facilities in the Commonwealth in this very important field.

House Bill 1941 is no fly-by-night invention of a few opportunists. It is a bill that seeks to avoid serious difficulties that will threaten the natural prosperous development of higher education in Pennsylvania.

A State Council of Higher Education would have at least four clear-cut advantages which simply cannot be ignored. One, it would relieve the present State Council of Education of a burden it can handle only with difficulty; two, it would assure colleges and universities of more and better representation at the state level; three, it would draw more attention to the problems facing the growth of higher education in the state; four, it would protect the interests of all groups of institutions rather than let the greatest influence be relegated to the institutions having the highest endowments or appropriations.

The colleges and universities of Pennsylvania need help now, and they are going to need plenty more in the next decade when the explosive population will reach the doors of all of our colleges. Right now, the best way to help them is to support House Bill 1941 and give the colleges and universities of this great Commonwealth a State Council of Higher Education to help them in determining a problem with which we are all so greatly concerned.

I ask the Members on both sides of the aisle to lend wholehearted support to a most important piece of legislation facing the school people in Pennsylvania.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill will take the functions of higher education out of the present Council of Education and put them into a different Council on Higher Education. As you recall, in the last Session this body approved a task force on the study of the problems of advanced training, in other words, higher education. We have been two years studying the problem of higher education. We did not recommend this bill.

As you examine the sponsors of this bill you will find not one member of this task force who spent two years studying this problem has sponsored this bill. I think that is very significant. There are a number of reasons why this bill should be defeated.

The proponents of this bill say that the present Council in the Department is not doing a good job as far as higher education is concerned. Is this due to the personnel, or is that due to the governmental structure? Changing the governmental structure and creating a new council does not mean the Department is going to do a better job. I am not saying that the Department is not doing a good job; I am just repeating the words of the proponents of this legislation.

At the present time the Council on Education has subcommittees; it has the subcommittee on higher education. What is this subcommittee doing? I think an example might show you why this legislation is bad. Let us go to the local school district. Would you favor school board for the elementary schools in your district, then have another school board for the secondary or high schools in your district. I think every Member of this House would be opposed to that system.

Under this legislation we are considering education as two problems, one on an elementary-secondary level, the other on the higher education level. Actually, education in Pennsylvania is one problem. From my experience on the task force I have found although we studied higher education, we spent a considerable part of our time on the study of secondary education. There is a very close relationship between these two. The institutions of higher learning to a great extent determine what has to be taught in the high schools; how are you going to have coordination between the secondary school program and the colleges with two councils?

At the present time we have a Bureau of Higher Education in the Department of Public Instruction. We also have a deputy superintendent who is in charge of higher education.

In support of my viewpoint in opposition to this bill, I would like for you to look on page 42 of Education in Pennsylvania Today and Tomorrow, by the Committee of Fifteen of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. You will find on that page this organization representing the teaching profession of Pennsylvania opposes two councils. This professional organization is in favor of keeping one council which will have the responsibility of education from kindergarten on through our universities.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to briefly discuss this bill.

I speak as an advocate of some of our educational institutions that have been orphans in the storm. I speak in behalf of the liberal arts colleges of this Commonwealth that have had no forum in which they could be heard, no pulpit from which to speak. These liberal arts colleges represent a great store of devotion. They were founded as a result of sacrifice and they have struggled and have done valient work with little encouragement and their voices have been drowned by the voices that spoke solely for and on behalf of our mighty educational institutions.

We need to integrate our educational facilities. We need a forum in which we can advocate policies that will endeavor all of our educational institutions to achieve their potentials. Liberal arts colleges, struggle as they have, have never achieved their potentials. They have facilities that are unrecognized; they have resources that are undeveloped; and in view, ladies and gentlemen of the House, of the record of these institutions established years ago by devoted men and women, with very little encouragement they have fought against the tide that has emphasized the tide that has tended to submerge those that were small.

The combined might, the combined facilities, the combined genius, the combined devotion of these liberal arts colleges equal the potential of our great universities. They need, ladies and gentlemen of the House, a forum in which they can sit down as equals with the larger institutions and help formulate a program which will give to each of our great institutions the place they should have and which will accord to our smaller institutions the ability to develop their potential and to capitalize upon the sacrifice of the past that has made them possible.

The state is not reaching through this bill to control any body. It is simply desiring to create a forum in which they can speak and formulate a platform which will help them achieve the potentials which they now possess.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Buchanan, spoke about the task force on higher education and also spoke about local school boards and operations of schools now.

Let us check carefully the situation on elementary and secondary schools. Public schools fall under the operation of local school boards. Do the colleges and universities in that district fall under any jurisdiction of these boards? The answer is no. Are we trying to seek a jurisdiction over them? I think the answer lies in, first, here is a telegram and a letter from every independent college in Pennsylvania in Liberal Arts. Name the school or college and here is their answer in support of this legislation. Regardless of which one you name, Susquehanna University, Thiel College, Juniata, W. & J., Mt. Mercy College, name any of them, and they are on record either by wire or by letter in support of this council of higher education.

The Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities very carefully, under date of August 24, 1959, submitted to you their position in support of this legislation. As the Speaker of this House, Mr. Andrews has stated, the forum for them to be heard we now have in Pennsylvania, the State Teachers Colleges operated by the Commonwealth. We have our major universities. You and I are quite well aware that we have a so-called Pennsylvania State University Plan. You and I are well aware of the plan in which the State Teachers' Colleges are deeply interested, and then you and I are well aware that we have the largest segment of our schools, the independent colleges and universities, who carry a big load of our higher education. So, by creating the Council of Higher Education, we create a field in which all of them can be heard because we believe each has its place in this great Commonwealth of ours in the higher education field.

I believe that the Members of this House have received the same communications that I have, that they have received by wire or by letter the support of this particular piece of legislation establishing a council of higher education, and I urge every Member of this House to support this legislation so that all of our universities, our colleges, all schools of higher education will have the forum to be heard and heard by the council of higher education, so that they can work collectively in the fields of higher education and accomplish the goals they are all seeking, to provide higher education for all of our great youth of this Commonwealth.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot urge more strenuously the support of a piece of legislation than I do for House Bill 1941.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to clarify a point. There is not a person who advocates good education more than I do. I believe that a good higher education is basic to the advancement of our great industrial-agricultural system in this country.

I want to ask permission to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Could you tell me how many colleges sent you telegrams or letters in support of this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Just a minute. 22.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Now a few days ago you sent a letter to each Member of this House stating there were 125 colleges in Pennsylvania. Now, how many telegrams did you receive?

Mr. McCANN. Twenty-five individual letters and telegrams and then the letter of August 24th, of which you have a copy, from the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities of which they all a member, in support of this piece of legislation. It was sent to you as a Member of the General Assembly from the executive secretary under the date of August 24 and was signed by the executive secretary, of which you have a copy. My letter was under date of August 18 to the Members of this House, which was submitted by myself, Mrs. Reibman, the Chairman of the House Education Committee, and the Legislative Secretary of the Governor.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Then you have received twenty telegrams, individual telegrams and letters from the 125 colleges? Now that means that 105 colleges have not bothered to send you an individual telegram or letter.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that is not a matter of fact that they have not bothered to send me a telegram. I have received numerous telephone calls. This is what I have on file at this point, besides the fact they support the letter of August 24, but yet these men and women, presidents of their universities and colleges took additional time to send a wire individually or a letter in support of this piece of legislation, House Bill No. 1941.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Could you tell me what position Pennsylvania State University is taking on this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Could I answer what position on which, Mr. Buchanan?

Mr. BUCHANAN. What position is Pennsylvania State University taking on this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have no correspondence from Dr. Walker of Pennsylvania State University either opposing or favoring this legislation. I would like to say that I participated in a series of three conferences in which Dr. Walker spoke about, is it called, The Pennsylvania State Plan? The title? Penn State's Plan, in which he advocated the establishing of Penn State Centers all over Pennsylvania.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Do you have any correspondence from the University of Pittsburgh, Temple University or the University of Pennsylvania in support of this bill?

Mr. McCANN. No, I do not have any individual correspondence from Penn State, Temple, Pitt or the University of Pennsylvania, the four schools which receive state grants, nor do I have any correspondence from the 14, telegrams or letters, State Teachers' Colleges which are entirely supported by the Commonwealth.

Mr. BUCHANAN. You have just answered my last question.

Mr. McCANN. I knew it was coming.

Mr. ANDREWS. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Buchanan.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCHANAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. As a rule, people who are violently opposed to anything make it known in this form. I would simply like to inquire how many letters or telegrams he has received from the representatives of the institutions who opposed this bill?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Did you say from institutions?

Mr. ANDREWS. From the spokesmen for institutions. You asked how many colleges had favored it and I am asking how many protests you have received against it.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well I have received a number of telephone calls in opposition to this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman. That is the best alibi I have heard on this floor in years.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I have not finished answering the question yet.

I did make a statement here on the position of the Pennsylvania State Education Association which is the same as the Bar Association is for the lawyers or the Medical for the doctors. The professional organization has taken the position against this bill.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to Mr. Buchanan, the gentleman from Indiana, and in further clarification, I might add that I noticed on my letter from the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities that the vice-president of that Association is the president of Pennsylvania State University, Dr. Walker. I also noticed that on the Executive Committee is the president of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Gaylord Hornwell.

In reading through this carefully, I noticed that in October of 1957 the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, of which Penn State and the University of Pennsylvania are members, adopted a resolution urging this Commonwealth to give the Council of Higher Education its most serious consideration to the end that it be brought into existence without the least possible delay. The position of this Association has not changed and only recently the executive committee of which Dr. Hornwell is a member, Dr. Walker is the vice president, reaffirmed its support of legislation which would create a council on higher education.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I usually come before this microphone in a very harmonious note singing "Happy Birthday to you," but today I am afraid I have to be a little unharmonious because I oppose this bill, 1940, only mildly.

Mrs. Reibman just said that the President of the University of Pennsylvania, Doctor Hornwell, said that we should give this legislative serious consideration. I think we have now been discussing it about 30 minutes. In the last Session of this legislature all the educational bills came in the end. House Bill 183 was discussed about the last two weeks. Here we are again talking about an adjournment date and we are talking about councils of higher education.

I have been a secondary school teacher for 41 years, and one of the arguments that we always get into is this one, and this a very basic argument. Colleges are telling us in secondary education what to teach. We have had young people graduate from our high schools and they could not get into certain universities or colleges because they did not have plane geometry. Now some kids just cannot get plane geometry and, because of that requirement held up by colleges and universities, they just could not get in. The colleges and universities have in the past set very arbitrary standards for admission. They have been criticizing the public schools because the kids cannot spell, they cannot compose an ordinary paragraph in good English. Instead of starting where we left them, they go and criticize us and tell up what we should do. I believe the reverse should be true. I think secondary education should tell the colleges what to teach, because we are trying here in this country the greatest experiment in the history of the world, and that is, to educate everybody. We have had, I think, a fairly successful experiment up to this point. But I do not think the colleges have helped to any great degree.

Let me say something about the present Council of Education. Here is something that I could never understand. Bills are introduced making mandatory the teaching of driving education. I thought the Council of Education had the prerogative to tell us what to teach. Instead of that we are told, no they do not have that prerogative. I am told that the state Council of Education as presently constituted is the main body to control education philosophy and principles and yet its power has to be augmented from time to time by mandatory legislation.

We also know that on the State Council of Education there are college people, that they have a subcommittee that is supposed to deal with college problems. They only meet once every two months. So I will say, and I do not want to become too enthusiastic or passionate on this problem, there are some arguments in favor of a higher council of education, and I think we are all here to try to come up with something that will help education.

There is one word that was mentioned up to this point and that was this one, "integrate." If I could be sure that the work of the present State Council could be integrated and coordinated with this higher council, I would vote for this bill; but no one can tell me when it comes to education that you are going to integrate and coordinate. The chances are that you are going to fight one another. Because I know educators. They do not get together for 10 minutes before they are in a terrific argument, and I am supposed to be one of the educators. So this thing is not glossed over in a discussion of 35 to 40 minutes. I have taken the position in our caucus that this whole matter is not given serious enough consideration, that we introduced these bills and they are not drafted properly yet we are supposed to vote for them. I am here for an integrated educational process and I do not think you can separate the kindergarden from the college senior.

It is a gradual growth. It grows on certain levels. You cannot all of a sudden say, here it stops, and, from here on it takes on new aspects. Not at all. So I will say that I mildly oppose this bill. There are some features that are good, but I do not think it has been thought through sufficiently and, because of insufficient time only I am voting against 1941.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in the position as a sponsor of this bill as one who up to this moment has sat quietly and listened to the debates pro and con. I would not have the Members of the House come to the conclusion that as a sponsor I did not thoroughly review all the implications and the ramifications of House Bill 1941 before I went along with the sponsorship as a co-sponsor with the others.

I go back a number of years and I find in my mind an effort in this Commonwealth, by reason of salient factors that have concurred in our society, to strengthen higher education in the Commonwealth, has been the intent throughout this entire nation. This General Assembly four years ago sat silent, Mr. Speaker, little was achieved indeed. There was a task force on higher education, that is true, but I ask, where is the recommendation? What has been brought to us that we should implement in this General Assembly? To this date I know of no recommendation that has come to my attention.

In support of the very excellent statements made by our distinguished Speaker and by the Chairman of our Committee on Education, and the Majority Leader, I find myself aligned across the aisle, because it is my considered opinion that the time is long past when this General Assembly should take a positive step rather than continue to delay the implementation of a program which is so essential to higher education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. True, very true, it is, that the Association of Colleges and Universities of Pennsylvania endorsed this program. True, very true, it is that many of the small colleges and some of the personnel have discussed the matter and urged my support of this legislation.

May I say, Mr. Speaker, that as a graduate of a small college, I am in deep sympathy with the statements which you made to this General Assembly relative to that lack of a sounding board and forum in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for many, many years. Here we give them that sounding board and forum. Oh, yes, says the gentleman from Indiana, we are going to take the function of the bureau of higher education out of the State Council, and the proponents say that it has not functioned efficiently. Well, give us evidence then, indeed, that it has not functioned efficiently for higher education. There is no evidence to be shown. It has been done quietly and efficiently now for a great many years.

And says the gentleman then from Delaware, in his delivery to us on his opposition to this bill, that the Council of Education should serve as a mediator on requirement for admission to colleges, or that there should be something done about it, rather, I think quoting him more accurately. Indeed that is true and that will be one of the functions of this council, to try to work out the admission requirements from our secondary schools to our higher institutions of learning.

Then says the gentleman from Delaware, also, that he believes, to which I take strong exception, secondary education should dictate the requirements to institutions of higher learning. Now, ladies and gentlemen, too long in the educational system of this nation have we declined to make the common man's cause ours. Too long have we tried to tax everybody into the mood rather than do everything we can on the higher level of education to strengthen the natural capacities and abilities of those who have those capacities to go further. I say to you, one of the worst things we have done in this entire society is the fact that we do not any longer educate for cultural advantages in our society, and therefore lose some of the basic philosophies of our existence. Though I take strong issue with that statement.

We need a council on higher education to establish curricula in this Commonwealth of ours to standardize our institutions of learning, exactly as to how they should function and what they should teach, and to say to our secondary schools, this we need to make our people well educated and finally acclimatize the society in which they live. But says the gentleman, indeed, we shall not be able to have a state council of education or a council of higher education integrated and coordinated in their functions one to the other. Well, when indeed have we ever been able to find in this General Assembly such integration and coordination. It is only out of that that we get the finest attitudes and the finest developments in our educational system. This question of what secondary education wants and what does higher education want, between the two, can resolve itself.

I could not subscribe that such envy and jealousy would exist between such intelligent men and would destroy their worth to a council of higher education and the Council of Education, as we have today.

Ladies and gentlemen, I am not going to speak further upon this. I am sincerely and earnestly interested in the creation of the council of higher education. I figure it is good legislation. I endorse it sincerely and I believe, furthermore, for us to turn it down would be a mistake in this nation.

Mr. NELSON. Mr. Speaker, the longer we sit here the more I am inclined to agree with the gentleman from Delaware when he mentioned that when educators get together they tend to argue. I am not here to argue about this particular piece of legislation. However, a while ago the PSEA was dragged into debate. I, too, am a member of the PSEA and have been for a long period of time. I not only have been a member but think I have performed services for that organization.

In this particular instance I believe this particular group is wrong in their debate. As a member, I was not contacted by the leaders of the PSEA and asked what my position was in this particular matter. I do not believe that the thousands throughout the state had a chance to tell their organization how they feel. As a member of PSEA I am in favor of the bill and ask the support of all the Members of this House because of need for this good legislation.

Mrs. PASHLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to inform Mr. Stroup that there have been seven bills introduced from the task force committee that studied higher education. I am referring to House Bills 1985 to 1991 inclusive.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, since I made the statement that secondary education should have more to say about what follows the post-secondary course, let me elaborate just very briefly on that point.

Today we are talking about the pursuit of excellence in studies made by the Carnegie Foundation and I, as a teacher in our secondary schools, have always tried to weed out the persons who can take this higher education and I have tried to discourage the persons who cannot take it. I believe with Mr. Stroup that we should perhaps have an aristocracy of brains. Yes, but we also have to have courses and curricula that are beamed for the person who may not be able to achieve in those higher brackets, and there has not been sufficient diversification courses in our colleges.

What has this subcommittee on higher education been doing in our present State Council? I have seen very few pronouncements. I have seen very few studies and I believe until we find out from the present setup or try to get information from them, I don't see that there is much need in having another council, which I think would dilute the whole responsibility for total education.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Dr. Dengler, for just a moment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENGLER. I will, apprehensively.

Mr. McCANN. Will the gentleman tell us, on page 7 of the proposed bill, if it does not deal clearly with the coordinations of the functions of the two councils?

Mr. DENGLER. As I said before, Mr. McCann, if I could be sure that these two councils could be perfectly integrated or even imperfectly integrated, if I could be sure that they would dove-tail and that they would actually work together as we think they might, then I would say yes.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman one more question?

In your debate, Dr. Dengler, did you say, if I understood you correctly, that this had not been given much study or hastily prepared? Is that about what you stated?

Mr. DENGLER. Yes, I said that because we have not discussed it too thoroughly in our caucus, I think. We had a special committee working on it. I have heard it mentioned from time to time, but this is really the first discussion I have heard on it, right here on the floor of this House for the past 45 minutes.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

If the Members will read very carefully, and I assume that every Member reads the bills carefully in his respective caucus, I bring to your attention on page 7, the section dealing with the co-ordination,

Then, Mr. Speaker, in 1955, four years ago, I was Chairman on the Committee on Education and then participated in a series of conferences. In 1957, I believe it was in 1956 or 1957, I even had the golden opportunity to attend the White House Conference on Education in Washington, D. C., in which Pennsylvania's delegates led and discussed their problems as well as nationwide problems. Then in 1957 and 1958, I participated in a series of conferences, including one in which the PSEA was a part, and in which higher education and a council of higher education was discussed. In 1959, the present year, I had the opportunity to check carefully with the proposed drafts of the legislation that Mr. Stroup and the other Members have co-sponsored here. I, as a young Member of this House, can say to you that I personally have participated in four years of conferences, in drafts of legislation and discussions pertaining to the establishment of a council on higher education.

This bill was drawn hurriedly? Never was it drawn that way. I think that this piece of legislation is now just a simple proposition that you must decide and you must decide it in your own mind.

The present State Council of Education spends ninety-five percent of its time doing what? You have loaded it down to such an extent with re-organization, plans, approval plans, classrooms, financing, every doggoned thing that does not pertain to curricula. Have you ever attended a meeting of the Council of Education? Have you seen the things that have been brought before them? How can they possibly spend the time they need to spend? They want to do a good job and I know they try and they do their very best under the conditions.

This establishes a council of higher education, and I say to you, Doctor and Members of this House, now you have the chance to pass it and, if it does not work, you can repeal it; but you never can establish it unless you first vote for it to see if it will do the job that you and I believe it can do.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am a co-maker of this bill. I am not an educator but I do have children of college age. I am also very familiar with the high cost of college education at the present time.

This Bill 1941 is very, very necessary to implement 1940. I think the Members of this House are all familiar how expensive a college education is. I am deeply interested in this bill because earlier in this Session and in the 1957 Session I sponsored legislation very similar to House Bill 1940. We are losing a great deal of brains in Pennsylvania which never become educated because of the prohibitive costs. This bill and 1940 will not in any way harm our existing colleges; in fact, it will ease our existing colleges. Our large universities today are overcrowded. They will become even more so in the future. This bill and 1940 will permit the young man and young woman whose family cannot afford to send them to college today to be able to do so for at least two years' time.

I say to you that you should have a council of higher education which deals with problems of higher education, with college problems, and not high school problems. Frankly, I cannot understand the quibbling on the floor of this House, I am glad I am not an educator at this point. I say to you that this is good needed legislation. It ought to be voted on by both sides of this House.

Mr. HEAVY. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schwartz stole my stuff. He was ahead of me.

I think it is positively criminal that a boy cannot go to college because his parents have not the money to pay for it. I think it is positively criminal, a boy that could be a big asset to his community.

The Senators get scholarships from Penn and Temple and even those recipients have to pay $300 and up. Even those boys that get the scholarships have to pay $300.

What I would suggest is that the Board of Education in Philadelphia should merge their high school buildings into a night college course and then get an appropriation from this House so there would be a possibility for every boy who wanted to go to college to get a free college education. Mr. Schwartz had to beat me to it.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill should be passed. There are many considerations in our educational program but I read one this morning in the Post Gazette that frightens me. I want to read to you what it says. These are the words of Dr. Teller who is considered the father of the hydrogen bomb and here is what he says and I quote

I think there cannot be a shadow of a doubt that ten years from now Russia will be the unquestioned leader in the scientific field.

This is something which I believe we cannot change, no matter what we do today. To educate a scientist is a long-drawn-out process. It takes many years. The best minds are the youngest minds.

The Chief contribution to scientific work is made by people between, say, 25 to 30. The people on whom this duty will fall in ten years are learning today. They are in greater number and they are better educated in the Soviet Union than they are anywhere else.

And even if we bend all our efforts to change the present situation, all we can hope for is to regain lost leadership later. That we are going to lose our leadership is inevitable.

Now anything that can be done this bill will do it. To increase our future potentials, to develop scientific minds should not be lightly passed over and voted down for some personal or private reason. This bill should be passed in the interest of the future of our scientific program in the United States as opposed to the Russian program.

Mrs. KOOKER. I simply rise to make a few comments on this bill.

I was asked to be a sponsor of this bill. I sponsored it because I felt it was good legislation. It may not be perfect in every aspect but I sincerely feel that it is a step in the right direction. For that reason again, I ask all the Members who can see their way clear on this side of the aisle to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Chairman, I am not an educator and I guess I am glad I am not. I want to touch on another aspect of this thing, that some of the speakers possibly might have indicated just what this program might be, and that is control of our independent Liberal Arts Colleges by the state of Pennsylvania and that I would never like.

Now they say we need a forum. They have a forum right now in the Association of Colleges and Universities of this state. What better forum do they need? We have one of the best educational systems in the world right here in Pennsylvania. And we have had for years one of the best classes of independent colleges, liberal arts colleges and universities outside of those authorized by the state in this Commonwealth.

Now is it the purpose of these bills to eventually lead into the program that the curricula of our independent colleges are going to be dictated by a higher State Council of Education appointed by a politically elected Governor? I say, no, no, let us never take a step in that direction. You talk about Russian education. Possibly you are leading right into such a system of education when you sponsor such a program. That is why I am opposing this bill.

Like the gentleman from Delaware said, we should not vote on it until we have given it proper thought and proper study, and not vote on it on the spur of the moment after but a few minutes' discussion on the floor of this House. I am afraid of this kind of education to legislate, deathly afraid. That is why I hope every Member who has the individual liberty of the people of this country and of this state at heart will oppose this brand of the worst kind of public welfare legislation that I have ever seen.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would simply like to inquire whether there is any necessity of taking a roll after hearing all these speeches.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thinks it would be a good idea if the Members would permit the roll to be called.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, for a moment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The gentleman made a rather inflammatory series of remarks and I would like to know where in this bill he finds the information that he just gave to the House. I would like to refer the gentleman, if he will, to look at page 6 of the bill, Section 1309.1, and ask the gentleman whether there is anything new in this bill given to the council of higher education which the present Council of Education does not already have.

Mr. AUKER. That might be true, Mr. Speaker. If it is true, then why have a higher council of education?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I want you to answer the first question, Mr. Auker, because I say to you that the section to which I just referred was merely transferred from the present Council of Education, the same duties as that council has to the Council on Higher Education. I would like to know where you found in this bill the information for your remarks that you just made.

Mr. AUKER. I do not find it in the bill possibly expressly, Mr. Speaker, but impliedly, and underneath, personally, I can see it. You may not agree with me. That is our difference in viewpoint. I still say it and I will stand by it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Does the gentleman feel the same way about the present Council of Education?

Mr. AUKER. Well, now we might get into a debate that would take us all afternoon, Mr. Schwartz. I would not want to—

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I think the gentleman has answered the question sufficiently, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. It could be and it might not be, I do not know.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. BUCHANAN, AUKER and WORLEY. The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mrs. HENZEL filed the following reasons for her vote on House Bill No. 1941:

As a member of the Board of Directors of a small college, I am casting my vote in the negative to do all I can to maintain the independence of the privately owned operated and endorsed colleges of our Commonwealth. Such a council can well impair this precious heritage of educational system by the extension of its long arm of control, subjecting these schools to an already too regimented society lacking personal and private initiative and thinking.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. Dengler, Mrs. Kernaghan, Messrs. Odorisio, Isaacs, P. J. Murphy, Lippincott and Bell filed the following reasons for their vote on House Bill No. 1940 and House Bill No. 1941:

Educational bills are usually introduced at the end of legislative sessions. As a rule there is insufficient time for thorough study and discussion.

All thoughtful citizens are interested in the post-secondary educational problems that confronts us. House Bill No. 1940 and House Bill No. 1941 generate many questions. Here are some of them:

1. Is the Junior College the answer?
2. Are the community centers that are being presently established by colleges and universities the answer?
3. Is closed-circuit T. V. teaching in our Colleges the answer?
4. Should our 13 Teachers' Colleges be changed to Liberal Arts Colleges with greater diversification of curricula?
5. Will the problem of responsibility be diluted by having 2 State Councils of Education?

These are unanswered questions. No one knows the answers completely.

The Delaware County delegation believes these bills House Bill No. 1940 and House Bill No. 1941 do not clarify the post-secondary educational problem and therefore the delegation has cast its votes in the "no" column.

We the undersigned, believe in post-secondary education regardless of name-community college-Junior College, but we are also of the opinion that legislation in this category should be more carefully drafted and more thoroughly discussed and studied.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1940, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" * * *

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, I disagree with the Majority Leader that this is a companion bill. There is a different issue involved here altogether. Under this bill a new system of colleges would be established in Pennsylvania, a new system entirely. We have now, in Pennsylvania, 125 colleges; I do not believe there is another state in the Union that has the number of colleges we have. I would again like to make an observation of this bill.

The task force on the study of problems on advanced training did not recommend this bill. None of the members of the task force are sponsoring this bill. I have listed here a number of reasons why a number of us are opposing this bill.

First, we believe that if we need more college space the existing facilities should be expanded. You will find that we have in this House now, House Bill 866, which will change the State Teachers' Colleges into State Colleges. The Pittsburgh Press on March 29, 1959, in an editorial, endorsed this bill. The advisory panel to the task force on advanced training also endorsed changing the State Teachers' Colleges into State Colleges.

Second, House Bill 1569, which was introduced, changes or would create the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Authority. This would tend to expand the number of students in our colleges. We should expand the present centers. If there is an area of space that needs a college, certainly the present institutions could create centers. I would like to give some examples of that. In fact, on July 22, 1959, the President of Pennsylvania State University said that they could expand their number of centers. In Harrisburg we have a very good example of a good center. The center was created by five colleges. It is held in one of the high schools with the approval of the school board; they now teach 18 undergraduate programs and eight graduate programs.

Let us go over to Johnstown, we have an excellent college in Johnstown. It started out as the Johnstown Center of the University of Pittsburgh. Today it is the Johnstown College Affiliated with the University of Pittsburgh. That is a good procedure for expanding our institutions of higher learning.

All right, on the second reason for defeating this bill; you remember a few years ago every hamlet in Pennsylvania wanted a high school. Now, what is our problem today? Our problem today is to consolidate those high schools into efficient units. This bill will create too many colleges. We will be faced with the problem of colleges closing their doors.

Third, traditionally we have a state-financed system of higher education in Pennsylvania as far as the state-owned and the institutions which have state assistance. We do not operate our present institutions of higher learning on a local agency basis, such as you would have in this bill, whereby the school boards would operate these institutions. Of course, the school boards would create a board of trustees but still it would be under local control rather than state.

Fourth, I doubt if the credits from these institutions would be accepted in the present colleges and universities. I believe that the present colleges and universities have the proper leadership for heading these centers for expanding our Teachers' Colleges into State Colleges. Why go to new leadership which may not be good?

Fifth, under this bill the state would be obligated to spend $50 per student per semester. At the same time our present institutions are saying to us in Pennsylvania, we need more money.

Sixth, I think a lot of you have heard how, under bill 1108, because the school districts of Pennsylvania say we need more money, the school districts could levy a four mill tax. If there is a school district in Pennsylvania today that has the ability to finance these junior colleges, I would like to know the name. Maybe they do not need increased financial assistance to that school district.

Seventh, this bill says that community colleges will be set up. What is a community college? Almost every individual that I talked to has a different explanation of a junior college or community college. I believe that most people want a technical school, not a college.

I am certainly opposed to this bill. I have a political philosophy that if you are in opposition to something, you also should have a constructive program. Here is a program which I think is better than the one proposed in this bill.

First, change the State Teachers' Colleges into State Colleges and they will be community colleges.

Second, create this Pennsylvania higher education assistance authority so that students can borrow money and go to the independent colleges and the other colleges of Pennsylvania.

Third, permit the present colleges and universities to continue the expansion of their centers and permit other colleges, such as the State Teachers' Colleges, to create new centers where they are needed.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, it is not the speaker's fault, but this bill was called up at this very inopportune time. He is entitled to be heard. It is a very vital piece of legislation and it is terrible that he has not been given the attention, and with a full house, that this bill merits. I ask that this House be put in proper shape to listen to the debate on a very important issue.

The SPEAKER protempore. The House will be in order. The gentleman is entitled to be heard.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I agree it is a very important issue but I did not say anything about the conversation and so forth because I realized the Members are hungry. But, this certainly is an important issue.

I have just finished, you might say, my talk in opposition to this bill and I request the entire membership to oppose this bill and then get the Education Committee to put out our program.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, if I am in my seat and cast my vote when my name is called, do I have to remain for the rest of the roll call.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It would be entirely up to the gentleman as to whether or not he wanted to remain after he has answered to his name, but the Chair would request that you do remain in order to help out on the verification of the roll.

Mr. GELFAND. My question is, do I have to remain for the verification if it is obvious that I cast my vote when my name was called?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The answer is yes. A Member must remain in his seat as long as the House is considering a roll call.

Mr. McCANN. The question he asked you is very simply answered. Some members are leaving their dinner on the table. If a Member walks into this House when his name is called and he answers aye or no he is on the roll call and properly recorded. However, after he has voted, verification may come later. We are bringing up about 25 or 30 Members from the cafeteria now who are leaving their lunch. They have no right to be there any more than we have. We should be there eating now, but the verification stands.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will answer the inquiry. No Member may absent himself from this House without permission of the House during the time we are in Session.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. BUCHANAN, AUKER and OGILVIE. The roll was verified and was as follows:

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 373 on page 19 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 373, entitled:

An Act relating to motion picture films reels or stereopticon views or slides providing a system of listing the first showing of each film reel or view and a system of registration of exhibitors sellers lessors and users of films reels or views disapproval of films reels or views which are obscene or unsuitable for children and of advertising matter used in connection therewith imposing powers and duties upon the Pennsylvania State Board of Motion Picture Control and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill which has been called up today is the so-called movie censor bill. This bill has been written about at great length in the newspapers and by various distinguished commentators on constitutional law.

There is a great doubt among lawyers whether or not this bill in its present form is constitutional. I have studied the bill carefully. I am convinced beyond any reasonable doubt that this bill in its present form is unconstitutional and as such I must feel compelled to vote against it.

I think there is no question that we have a problem here in Pennsylvania, far-sweeping in its scope, since the people in our Commonwealth and particularly our younger people are being flooded with obscene and lewd material. I think it is a serious problem. I think it is a problem that this House must consider in this Session, but I submit to the House that this bill which we have before us does not solve the problem, and that, coupled with the fact most especially, I am convinced, as I said, beyond any doubt that the bill in its present form is not constitutional, compels me to vote against this bill.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether the Majority Leader would permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell me, if this bill becomes a law, would an industrial concern that wants to show an industrial film to a limited audience in a public theater have to register with the Censor Board?

Mr. McCANN. The answer would be emphatically no.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I only want to make this comment, that everyone in this Commonwealth, everyone in this country, knows what is obscene but the Supreme Court.

I can only say that, as a lawyer, I disagree with Mr. Gailey. I think the bill is constitutional. I think it meets any constitutional objection and I only suggest, although he criticised this bill he has offered no suggestions to correct this problem.

Since everyone does know what is obscene, I think it is high time the Supreme Court listens to the people for just once.

Mr. WILLARD. I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. WILLARD. For my own satisfaction and for clarification of the record, is the gentleman familiar with the fact that in our Commonwealth today we have a number of persons who are engaged in the lending, or leasing, of audio-visual educational films and so forth to our schools today?

Mr. McCANN. I certainly am aware that we have centers, organizations and places in which such films may be rented even for the use of the schools.

Mr. WILLARD. Is it the purpose of this act to have firms comply with provisions of the act?

Mr. McCANN. It is not. Nowhere can you show me in Senate Bill 373 that they would have to comply with such an act.

Mr. WILLARD. In looking it over, I could not find to the contrary and I just wanted this as a matter of record. That would also answer the following question I had.

Later on in the bill there are provisions for different charitable organizations, hospitals and so on and so forth, but the one term "Service Clubs" has been eliminated. Does that also cover service clubs?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it does.

Mr. WILLARD. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of the record, Senate Bill 373 is a motion picture control law, not a censorship law.

I bring to your attention that Professor William B. Ball, a professor of constitutional law at Villanova University, and considered by most people in this field in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as knowing something about constitutional law, places in the record that in his opinion this bill is constitutional. And I think that I as a layman, will rest my case with Dr. Ball.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2296 on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2296, entitled:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act" approved June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566) by increasing the rate of compensation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAPANO. With the consent of the House, I would like to discuss both bills, House Bills No. 2296 and 2297 which are companion bills.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may so do.

Mr. CAPANO. House Bill 2296 is the occupational disease act which deals with disability resulting from occupational disease, and Bill No. 2297 is the Workmen's Compensation bill which deals with disability resulting from injuries.

Mainly, the proposed amendments in these two bills to the Act of 1955 provides for modest improvements in the benefit structure to keep pace with the increases in the basic cost of living. With the rapid rise in the cost of living since 1955, claimants unemployed due to industry-incurred disability are receiving less benefits in relation to their normal full time weekly earnings. Particularly hard hit are widows and children of employes who are killed in industrial employment. In some instances these people would receive more benefits being on relief.

To correct these injustices these bills are presented for your consideration and we request the support of the House. I intend to discuss briefly the features which are being changed in these two proposed bills.

Mainly, of course, the benefits are being increased from $37.50 maximum to $42.50, and the minimum is being increased from $15.00 to $17.50. A partial disability is being increased from $27.50 to $32.50. The entire schedule is being revised, and increases are being put into effect ranging from $2.00 to $5.00 in the benefit payments to widows and their children.

One of the new features in this bill is removing the limitations on surgical-medical services and making that unlimited, as compared to the present act which only makes provision for six months and further benefits by applying to the board.

Those are the main features which are being changed. There are some other procedural changes, all of which I believe are beneficial and will make better provisions for those who are unfortunately disabled. I request support of the entire House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

---	--	--	---

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2232 on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2232, entitled:

An Act regulating the distribution and exhibition of motion pictures and stereopticon views prohibiting the exhibition of those found to be obscene and fixing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate either the sponsor of the bill or the Majority Leader with reference to 2232 and 2233.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether the Governor is expected to sign Senate Bill 373?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I could not answer that. I do not know.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Will the gentleman explain to me what the difference is between these two bills, that is, House Bill 2232 and House Bill 2233 and Senate Bill 373, which we have just passed?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Well, the provisions in 2232 provide for a two-year sentence or $2,000 fine for showing obscene pictures to minors, that is, under seventeen years of age.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Then in that respect is it not correct that Senate Bill 373 also provides that the fine is different?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. That is right.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Now, Mr. Speaker, in effect is it not true that these two House bills enable the local district attorney in each county to determine whether or not a movie is obscene, whereas in Senate Bill 373 a different method for determining obscenity is set up, namely, the state council of or state board of motion pictures controls?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I do not see the difference, if a person wants clean movies whether we have a censor board or a district attorney, I feel that these two bills put teeth into it. I consider these two bills a stronger method than 373.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, now I would like to ask you this, is it not correct that the definition of obscenity in one bill, Senate Bill 373, is different from that in these two House bills?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. It is a different type of bill.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is it not correct also that Senate Bill 373, contradicts in many respects the provisions in these two House bills?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I would not be particularly interested in that. In fighting for clean movies for our children, I believe in supporting these two bills.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, now Mr. Speaker, I think we all agree with that and the vote indicates that we all are in favor of clean movies, but I am asking you if it is not correct that there are many contradictions between these two House bills and Senate Bill 373?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I think these bills are stronger, if that is what you mean.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. All right. Now is the gentleman aware of the fact that these two House bills, if later passed by the Senate and approved by the Governor, would thereby repeal 373 which we just passed?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I do not think so.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I call the gentleman's attention that on page 5 of House Bill 2232. It states that all other acts and parts of acts are repealed insofar as they are inconsistent herewith. Now, is it not correct that this would thereby repeal 373, if these bills are later adopted insofar as they are inconsistent?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Well, not being an attorney, I do not know, but I feel that these bills are more important.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, I will be happy to have the gentleman yield to one of the many able attorneys on his side if he wants to get an answer to that question.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. I would leave the Governor choose between them.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

It seems to me that here we go again. We spent about a month working on constitutional amendments that are contradictory and inconsistent and we finally in some respects got that matter straightened out, but here we have two bills before us which by their very language will repeal any inconsistency in the bill.

I think Senate Bill 373, which we have just passed, is inconsistent in many respects with these bills. For example, the definition of obscenity is different in the House bills and there is a different fine; there is an entirely different method of enforcing the bills, one by the district attorney and one by the state board of movie control. In addition, these two House bills which we are now considering expressly state that they repeal the old board of censors' bill and I think thereby imply repeal of Senate Bill 373 which is almost similar to the old bill. I think we should decide what we want once and for all and get it done. I say these bills, if we vote on them, will repeal Senate Bill 373 and therefore it is rather stupid. It is just not good management, the way we are voting on bills that are completely inconsistent with each other.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I think Mr. Dougherty of Philadelphia answered the inquiry pretty well. I see nothing wrong with passing a House bill and passing a Senate bill which are similar and then letting the Governor decide, if both of these bills get to his desk, which of the two he would rather sign. I am very happy that the gentleman brought to the attention of the House the fact that these bills are different in certain aspects and certain respects; that was the intention.

This is a very controversial issue. It has been acted upon by the courts. One word in either of these bills might make a bill constitutional or unconstitutional. I do not think we are doing anything stupid or silly if we pass these bills. These are not Senate bills, they are House bills, and there is absolutely nothing in this bill which would repeal Senate Bill 373, which has not even been passed here yet. It has not been signed by the Governor yet. How can this bill possibly repeal something that has not been enacted into law?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I intend to support the bill, as I will any bill of this character that will try to help this very, very serious problem not only in our own state but in every community practically throughout the United States.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia rise?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, some people like to listen to Mr. Auker and I am one of them, but we cannot hear the gentleman. I suggest the Speaker inform the gentleman to stand a little closer to the microphone.

Mr. AUKER. At least, Mr. Speaker, I have one for me in the House and one agin' me, so I know about where I stand.

The SPEAKER. I would say to the gentleman that another microphone reaches the House better than those microphones in the aisle. So I think the gentleman would be privileged, any time he so desires, to use the other microphone. It is difficult for the Speaker to hear the gentleman from Blair when he speaks from that microphone.

Mr. AUKER. Does the Speaker want to hear me?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does.

Mr. AUKER. OK Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, as I said before, I intend to support these bills as I have all bills of this character that may help in some way to help this very serious problem that we have confronting us in practically every community throughout the state.

I worked with the lady from Northampton County, Mrs. Reibman in 1955 on a bill of this character, and we worked hard on it. But I want to just make this observation and I think it should be taken back to every civic organization, every PTA organization, every community organization, that any law of this type, any bill of this type, is only as strong as the people in the community back in the home communities will back it up. I think one of the most serious things we are facing in this kind of a problem is that the people themselves will not take issue with this big problem and try to help solve it.

There is no question in my mind whatsoever that there are plenty of laws, the common law even today, if we would have the proper law enforcement, if we would have the district attorneys in the various counties doing their job, and if we would have the people who make up those communities insist upon those people doing those jobs and keep constant pressure upon these people who are trying to sell this kind of literature and press it out, and bring them before the courts time and time again, I am sure it would soon stop much quicker than the people saying to us, well, pass a law and then the issue is going to be solved. That is not going to solve it. Passing these bills may be some help, just some help, but it certainly is not going to solve it unless the people themselves, the good thinking people of this state, get their shoulders behind this wheel and see that the laws are properly enforced and see that the proper law enforcement officials do the job that they ought to be doing, and which I think, frankly, they have not been doing under the laws that have been on the books of this Commonwealth for years in regard to this type of a problem. I only want to make that as a passing observation, and I hope that in some way a real educational program can be put forth throughout this state to the parents of these children that the job is just as much theirs, and more theirs, than it is ours down here, and it is time they got on the job as well as us.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I think it most important that we pass this legislation which is now before us. I think the defects, in my opinion and in the opinion of others that I have talked to, that makes Senate Bill 373 faintly defective from the standpoint of our Constitution are not present in these bills.

I hope the House realizes that if 373 is stricken down by the courts—and you may rest assured that there will be a Constitutional test of this act, at the first opportunity—then once again this Commonwealth is without effective regulation on its books to take care of this serious problem.

I think these bills presented by Mr. Dougherty, that we are now considering, will take care of that problem adequately. I think it is necessary to get them on our statute books in order that in the absence of effective controls of material of this sort that we do have something that our law enforcement agencies can use to take care of the problem.

Mrs. B. Z. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to take up your time, but I feel that Mr. Gailey is wrong. We have the district attorney of Philadelphia, who the lawyers in Philadelphia know has been trying very hard to get improper pictures off the screens, and it has been referred to the Supreme Court in Pennsylvania and the pictures are back the next day. I sat in on any number of them. The district attorney does not have that power and is not able to enforce it, so we do need a motion picture censor board if we can get one, and let us try.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2292, entitled:

An Act requiring the marking of highways and intersections in the State Highway system and imposing duties on the Department of Highways.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, in respect to this bill I had Mr. Heavey come over and talk to me yesterday about it. It is a very short bill, and I suggested to him he ought to put some amendments in the bill. He did not know whether he would or not, and I did not have them drawn, but I do not see how it is workable. I do not know where in the name of sense you would get all the moneys to do what this bill says the Highway Department has to do.

The first part of the bill is very good, in my opinion. The Department of Highways shall apply and thereafter maintain and repaint along the edges of all three and four-lane highways without curbs—that part of it is all right—with luminous material, paint.

But then the bill goes on to say, “and along the curbs at all intersections on highways in the State highway system.” Yesterday we passed bills here to put a lot of streets in Allegheny County and in the city on the highway system. We passed a bill here to put the Philadelphia streets on. In my own city here, Harrisburg, Front Street is a main highway, part of the highway system, and I just do not know where or how you would ever get enough help to paint all of the intersections in these towns. I see no need for it in a place like Front Street in Harrisburg where every street corner has a light on it. Now in an area where there were no lights, probably I would go along with it, but for you to say that the Highway Department shall paint all the curbs at all the intersections of all the highways in this Commonwealth—it is nice to think about—but I have not the slightest idea where you would get the money to do it. It is too big a job.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, speaking very briefly in favor of the bill as it is presently written, you know when one drives the highways, and I am assuming that the majority of the Members of this House have good eyes, very good eyes, perhaps they can see the curbs as well as the edges. But we also have in the Commonwealth some of our citizens who perhaps do not have the advantage of having very keen eyesight. Their eyes are still adequate to drive. When some of us get a little older, perhaps, we will be very happy to see not only the edge of the road outlined in white but these curbs, and that is the purpose of the bill—to prevent traffic accidents.

Holding out to the traveling public by white paint traps showing the nature of these curbs, or traps showing, the nature of the edge of the road to those of our older citizens without wonderful eyesight or to those others without wonderful eyesight, that is the purpose of this bill.

The purpose of this bill is to prevent traffic accidents.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, the main purpose of this bill was to put this line on the shoulders of the road. There are an awful lot of accidents happening on the shoulders of the road, people getting killed and injured and damage to property. It has been very successful on the Turnpike.

As far as the intersections are concerned, my main purpose on that was that when you are driving along the road and you want to pick out a side road, say it is dark and the intersection curb is not marked, if it would be marked you could very easily pick out your road and drive off of that main road into that side road.

As far as the cost of marking the intersections, that is a common practice. It is being done every day. No matter where you go, you see the intersection curbs marked.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2338 on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2338, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis * * * and to repeal certain provisions concerning employes under Shipping Articles."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GAILEY asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 3 to 5, by striking out "subsec-" in line 3, all of line 4, and "30 1955 (P. L. 6) subsection (w)" in line 5, and inserting: "subsections (u) and (w), and clause (1) of subsection (x)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 6, by inserting between lines 12 and 13:

(x) "Wages" means all remuneration, (including the cash value of mediums of payment other than cash), paid by an employer to an individual with respect to his employment except that the term "wages" shall not include:

(1) That part of the remuneration which is in excess of the first [three thousand dollars ($3000)] three thousand and six hundred dollars ($3600) paid to an individual by each of his employers during a calendar year: Provided, That an employer may take credit under this subsection for remuneration which his predecessor-in-interest has paid to an individual during the same calendar year with respect to employment; and provided also, That an employer may take credit under this subsection for remuneration which he or his predecessor-in-interest has paid to an individual in the same calendar year on which contributions have been required and paid by such employer under an unemployment compensation law of another state, but no such credit may be taken for remuneration which has been paid by another employer to such individual, whether or not contributions have been paid thereon by such other employer under this act or under any state unemployment compensation law.

Remuneration paid by an employer in excess of the amount on which contributions are required to be paid may not be considered in determining the compensation rights of an individual under this act. Remuneration paid by an employer on which contributions are required to be paid shall be considered in determining the compensation rights of an individual and for such purpose may be allocated in accordance with rules and regulations of the department to any calendar quarter in which the individual earned remuneration from such employer; Provided, That the sum of the allocation and the earnings reported with respect to any calendar quarter shall not exceed the remuneration paid for such quarter.

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 301.1), page 20, line 13, by striking out "four" and inserting: "three and three-tenths."

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 301.1), page 23, line 16, by striking out "three per centum nor less than five-tenths of" and inserting: "two and five-tenths per centum nor less than."

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 301.1), page 24, line 4, by striking out "three" and inserting: "two and five-tenths."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I would be very happy to have the Clerk read the amendments at length, but I think perhaps I had better explain them because they will be more easily comprehensible to the membership if I do.

The amendment which I offer would increase the tax base from the first $3,000 of taxable wages to the first $3,600. However, at the same time it would reduce the maximum rate from four percent down to 3.3 percent, while increasing the minimum rate from 1.6 to 2.1 percent.

House Bill 2338 has been drawn for the purpose of not only providing improved benefits for Pennsylvanians unemployed in keeping with the demands of these times, but what is equally important, creating a basis upon which the fund would become and remain sound and solvent. The Members of this House must be fully aware of the many changes that have taken place since the fund was first established in 1937. The standard of living in the past 22 years has risen tremendously, as has the cost of living, and in order to meet the demands of these changing times the Legislature has, in its wisdom, increased benefits throughout the years as well as the duration of the benefits, because it was felt to be a realistic and socially necessary action. When the plan was established back in 1937, the tax base back then consisted of the first $3,000 of wages, and the employers' contribution rate was 2.7 percent and uniform for all employers. During that same period of time, from 1937 to date, old age survivors and disability insurance programs found it necessary not only to double the contribution rate, but also increase the tax base from the first $3,000 in wages earned to the first $4,800 in wages, the present level.

The bill that is before us does not increase the tax base beyond the original of $3,000, but it does increase the contribution rate to a maximum of 4 percent with a minimum of 1.6 percent. In effect, I think, the average rate would be less than 3 percent and very likely not in excess of the original uniform 2.7 percent. I say to you, this does not permit for a sound system. If one were to apply the value of the 1959 dollar to the 1937 dollar it could be said that in such terms the tax base of 1937 was actually $6,000, if not more, or, controversially, if you were to translate the 1959 dollar into 1937 values, the tax base of $3,000, which was used then and is still used now, would be more like the rest $1,500 of wages.

I think it is clear that if we are to keep pace with the changes in times and conditions, the present tax base must be increased. I must say that I was surprised and disappointed that this bill has been drawn without increasing this tax base. Authorities throughout the country have long argued that it is necessary to increase this tax base to at least $3,600 and preferably to $4,200.

The Federal Advisory Council of the Bureau of Employment Security of the United States Department of Labor on whom, I think, were some of the labor leaders from Pennsylvania, voted overwhelmingly to recommend that the tax base be increased to $3,600. At least five important states have already done that and I think the Members are familiar with that from the material which the Department has supplied them. I think the lessons of such experience and recommendations elsewhere should not be lightly brushed aside by us here.

What has happened to the rate in House Bill 2238? Although it has been proposed that the rate be increased to a maximum of four percent with a minimum of 1.6 percent we are virtually doing nothing more than creating an average which scarcely exceeds the original rate of 2.7 percent first enacted in 1937.

But there is one important difference. The basic principles and philosophies of social insurance has been abandoned in favor of the narrow and regressive standards which are characteristic of commercial insurance. Social insurance, and Unemployment Compensation Insurance is exactly that, is based upon the principle of spreading the total risk over the entire community. I am not advocating that we abandon our commitment to "experience rating," but social insurance cannot be likened to accident insurance where a good safety record earns for the individual or the employer a lower premium rate. There must be other ways of achieving an average 2.7 or 2.8 contribution rate without conferring the privileges of such low rates of 1.6 percent upon that group of employers who, because of their fortunate economic circumstances, suffer little or no unemployment and therefore, if you think about it, actually are best able to pay a higher rate.

We are not creating a healthy climate for industry by penalizing unlucky industries, who, because of the national economic climate or seasonal influences suffer greater incidents of unemployment and therefore are required to pay up to 4 percent. In other words, those very industries that have marginal existence, but upon which a great many of our people here in the Commonwealth are dependent for a living, those very industries that are most in need of tax aid from the Commonwealth and relief from taxation are forced to pay the very highest rates under this plan.

Now this amendment which I have offered would, while it increases the tax base to $3,600, narrow the span between the bottom and top rates from 2.1 to a maximum of 3.3. I think this introduces a much more equitable range of rates into the merit rating system. I do not want to drive employers from Pennsylvania who are unfortunate in having a greater unemployment problem and at the same time enjoy a punitive contribution rate.

I do believe that the schedule of rates embodied in this amendment as they will be applied to a $3,600 base will produce approximately the same revenue as can be expected from the provisions of House Bill 2338 in its original form.

I ask that you vote for this amendment because, while it retains the elements and features of the merit rating plan with a range from 2.1 to 3.3 it reduces what is, to my mind, the unwise and unjust range of almost 2½ percent between the top and the bottom rates which present House Bill 2338 provides.

And finally, and I think this is important also, it will reduce the desire on the part of employers to continuously challenge the eligibility of claimants in order to retain a more favorable rate, and I think we all know that this has been very common practice prior to the recession. I say to you that should the merit plan with its very wide scope as it is presently encompassed in House Bill 2338, if that goes into effect, once again we will find employers continuously challenging the eligibility of their claimants in order to produce a more favorable rate for themselves.

I think these amendments help this bill. I think they go a long way toward solving the problems of the unemployment compensation problem that we have here in Pennsylvania. I ask all the Members on both sides to support these amendments.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, would do almost exactly what the gentleman has stated in his very precise and very carefully worded statement except not give quite the assurance that it would help in the end to make the fund the goal that we are seeking.

I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, because the base as indicated in House Bill 2338 as it now exists was agreed to by, basically, the members of industry, the public members of the committee and a large segment of members representing labor. So, the difference in that feature is not the difference upon which labor, industry and public members all differed, but a section of the laboring group did oppose the base as outlined at $3,000 which now exists in law.

This bill will be debated as to the contents and merits of the bill, and I would like to stay just on the amendments and request that the Members opposed the amendments offered by the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, and then, following the debate, support the passage of the bill.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, at the risk of feeling very lonely again, I am not going to ask for a roll call on these amendments but would ask for a division.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make briefly this observation about Mr. Gailey's amendments.

It seems to me that they would be, in effect, a boom or a premium to those employers who paid the best wages for this reason, an employer paying $50 a week to an employee on a job classification, would pay that employee a total of $3,000 a year. He would pay to the minimum rate according to the scale set up by Mr. Gailey. On the other hand, the second employer who pays $70 a week to another employee for that same job, or a total of $3,500 a year, would be paying at the same minimum rate, or $3,600 as distinguished from $3,000. To my way of thinking, that constitutes a premium to a depressed employer to pay these wages. For this reason, I also ask these amendments be voted down.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, In reply to Mr. Fineman's observation, I would only point out that the same thing is true with regard to a base of $3,000. If an employer pays at a rate of $50 a week, then he would only pay of $2,500 a year, as one who pays on the basis of $60 a week pays on the basis of $3,000. I think it cuts both ways.

However, I would like to add this other argument in regard to the amount of wages on which the rate is based. We presently have many industries in Pennsylvania that pay their employees on a seasonal basis or who employ them only part time. Many of these industries are able by virtue of hiring their employees only for a period of the year, to avoid the payment of the higher rate which would accrue to them if they paid on a full time basis. It is not fair that these industries should be penalized in this manner. I think this is a more equitable way of handling this matter of employers' contribution and once again reiterate my pleas for support to these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, less than a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, the detail copy of the changes which are proposed in House Bill 2338 has been placed on the desk of each of the Members. Also contained in that same statement is a graphic picture of the changes. Therefore, I do not think it is going to be necessary to go into detail to explain the various features. However, permit me to read the first paragraph of this statement and with that I will close my remarks.

Proposed amendments to the Unemployment Compensation Law fall into three general categories: (1) benefit improvements in the law; (2) clarifying and corrective amendments; (3) taxing measures. To a large degree, the amendments follow recommendations considered by the Governor's Committee on Unemployment Compensation and represent a combination of amendments which call for modest improvements in the benefit structure; a tightening of eligibility requirements for certain groups of claimants, and taxing provisions which will provide the necessary income to pay the current costs of benefit payments and at the same time rebuild the Unemployment Compensation Fund.

This bill is social insurance against economic depressions. The pumping of $350 million into our economy during 1958 averted a depression of the severity of the 1929 depression, and I am appealing to all the Members of this House to vote in favor of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS offered the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 2321:

I can not vote for House Bill 2321 on the present state of the record. I fully sympathize with the Representatives and people of Somerset County who as a result of this legislation will receive between 109 and 184 acres of land for use by their County Development Council in its efforts to increase industrial expansion.

However, it is questionable to me whether the taxpayers of Pennsylvania may not be losing rather than gaining. Having been reliably informed by an official of the Turnpike Commission that perhaps 20 to 30 acres of the land being given up by the Commonwealth's Department of Property and Supplies is not being used by the Turnpike Commission and may soon be sold for commercial or industrial use. It seems to me that the $5,000 per acre value of this prime land in Bensalem Township Bucks County should accrue to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania rather than the holders of Pennsylvania Turnpike Bonds.

Perhaps there is a good reason for permitting this loss to the taxpayers but I have not yet heard it.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 791 on page 19 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 791, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 3, 1947 (P. L. 1242), entitled "An act relating to police and firemen's pension funds in cities of the second class A and directing such cities to appropriate certain moneys thereto and requiring reports and audits" authorizing additional appropriations by cities to police and firemen's pension funds.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to present calls for an appropriation of $20,760,000 for the fourteen State Teachers' Colleges of Pennsylvania. This is slightly more than the amount in the appropriation bill which the House has passed. However, it seems to me that since this represents what the heads of these fourteen institutions thought they needed for the biennium, this figure should be put before the Senate. This is especially important when we read today, when the schools are opening, that 120,000 teachers a year are leaving the teaching profession. It seems to me, therefore, that we need to support our teacher education institutions.

I would like to add, Mr. President, that I stand ready to support an adequate tax program to pay for a complete educational program in Pennsylvania, including higher education at the State University and the fourteen State Teachers' Colleges. I do that especially in light of the fact that a recent report from the Secretary of Commerce, in Washington, D. C., said that the tax responsibility, per capita, for the individual Pennsylvanian was $81.22. The tax responsibility, per capita, for a resident of Massachusetts was $98.67; the tax responsibility, per capita, for a resident of Maryland was $107.36; and the tax responsibility, per capita, for a resident of the State of Kansas was $94.06.

In light of these things, Mr. President, I do not hesitate to introduce this bill calling for this appropriation, under the co-sponsorship of my colleague, Senator Seyler.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. HAYS and SEYLER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1163, entitled:

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 298, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Fish Commission for expenses of a modern engineering survey.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, do you know whether the appropriation, as set forth in Senate Bill No. 298, is included in the budget?

Mr. BERGER. It is not, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Do you know whether this money is going to be taken from the Fish Fund?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I understand that this is to come from the General Fund.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think, before we hurry on to vote on this bill, that we should take due note of the fact that the appropriation being made here should come out of the Fish Fund. At least, it should be delineated in the budget, rather than just an extra appropriation. It appears to me that if we are going to appropriate any extra money to any other activity, it should be for hospitals or schools. If we are going to exceed our budget, I think we should do it along those lines.

Perhaps, Mr. President, one of the gentlemen from the other side, one who serves on the Finance Committee or on the Appropriations Committee, can tell us how we are going to finance this type of appropriation. I would be very happy to hear from them. If they will so advise me, maybe I can find that some of my colleagues over here and I can vote for this bill.

Our problem seems to be one of finding enough money to handle what we already have in the budget. As I understand it, there is some difficulty in meeting that. I believe the Governor has reiterated, on many occasions, that he will not sign any bills or any legislation unless there is the money to pay for it. I believe this falls into that category. I also believe we are just doing a useless act here, unless we have some means or some assurance that we have the money to accomplish what this bill sets out to do.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I must agree that I think the money could very well come out of the Fish Fund. However, I understand that because of the loss in license money accruing to the Fish Fund, they do not have enough money in their set up to make this survey, which they feel should be made.

I hope, Mr. President, that when we examine the budget, we will be able to find an item which will cover this amount of money which, I think, is $75,000. If not, of course, and if the money is not available, then it cannot be approved by the Governor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the fact that, according to the newspapers, the Republican Majority is going to cut the budget approximately $60,000,000, I believe that the wise thing to do here today would be to place this bill on the Postponed Calendar. After we have gone through the budget in detail, and know just where we stand, if we then have the money we can pass this legislation. I do believe there is merit to this bill. However, I do not feel that we should appropriate $75,000 right now, when we do not know where we stand financially.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have no objection to this bill going on the Postponed Calendar for the reasons stated or for any other reason. I would so move that it be placed on the Final Passage Postponed Calendar.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading, and consideration of House Bill No. 1992, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "The Vehicle Code" authorizing the operation of a vehicle having two others attached thereto in certain cases.

And said bill having read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, before we vote on House Bill No. 1992, I thought I should present to the Senate the fact that the State Police have objection to this measure. They feel that vehicles being hauled by the double-saddle method, which I think is the short way of saying it, lack a safety factor. They feel this might cause some difficulty to vehicles traveling on our busy highways, especially on the Turnpike. It is for that reason that the State Police object to this measure.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, does the gentleman desire to have the bill go over?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have no objection to it going over.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1992, Printer's No. 1509, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2031, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entitled "The Borough Code" increasing the amount of contracts in which borough officials may have no interest.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not believe this is good legislation. As a matter of fact, in reviewing this bill, I find that the sponsors wish to increase from $300 to $600 the amount of business councilmen might be able to do with some borough. It seems to me that an elected official should not have the right to do business with a borough at all. It seems that this legislation is not good for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, and I am going to vote in opposition to it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to add an addendum to what Senator Lane has said. This bill recognizes that inflation has taken place even where there might be corruption. This bill amends the Borough Code. At present, no borough official can have an interest in a contract to supply the borough with materials or services in an amount in excess of $300. If he is interested, the councilman must notify the council and refrain from voting on this matter.

This bill raises the amount of the contract from $300 to $600. I think with this duality of interest, despite the fact that the man may not vote, the gentlemen who sit on the council may realize that this is one of the brothers who has an interest in the matter, and they may treat him as such—a loving brother, if you please. I do not think raising the amount from $300 to $600 will make any difference at all, except to realize or visualize that more money is being spent by the countites, or that materials now come at a higher price.

I think this is bad legislation, and I would ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this measure.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2031, Printer's No. 1283, on final passage go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2049, Printer's No. 1262, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2162, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1935 (P. L. 233) entitled "Policemen's Relief and Pension Fund Law" regulating credit for pension for previous employment by the city other than in the Bureau of Police and pensions of employees employed within the Bureau of Police for less than five years and further regulating pensions of reinstated members.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION No. 108.

In the House of Representatives, September 2, 1959.

The Selective Sales and Use Tax has been enacted into law by the General Assembly for the purpose of raising revenue, along with other taxes, in sufficient amount to provide for the financial needs of the Commonwealth.

In order to be fully effective, a tax program must be fairly enforced, with every effort made to disseminate the information necessary for full and efficient collection. Particularly, when such a law is extremely complicated, and information is so insufficient that full collection is virtually impossible, every effort should be made, in a manner consistent with good government administration and with due regard to the position of those who are required to collect these taxes, to supply all necessary details so that the greatest amount of revenue may be obtained at the lowest possible cost; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives request, and direct the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to supply all establishments, licensed under the Selective Sales and Use Tax Act, a detailed list of taxable items, and, particularly in the case of the Use Tax, the manner in which collection and charges shall be made.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE EQUIPMENT

Messrs. POLEN, BOWER, HELM, MIHM and McCANN saked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 9, 1959.

The House of Representatives, because of its large membership and volume of work both during legislative sessions and the interim after final adjournment, requires for its use factual information concerning:

1. Electric roll call systems.
2. Public address systems.
3. The supplying and filing of bills, journals, reports and other related materials to members on their desks in such a manner as to provide adequate desk space in the conduct of the business of the House.
4. Rooms and equipment allocated to the standing committees and staff of the House; therefore be it.

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House appoint a committee of six members of the House of Representatives who shall:

1. Study and evaluate electric roll call systems and designate the system that would be most suitable to meet the needs of the House of Representatives for the efficient conduct of its business with the recommendations that such system be purchased or leased and installed.
2. Inquire into the adequacy of the public address system presently in use in the House of Representatives and make recommendations for the manner of its arrangement, improvements thereto or replacement thereof.

3. Study the supplying and filing of bills, journals, reports and other related materials to the members on their desks in the House of Representatives and make recommendations that would result in providing adequate desk space for the members in the conduct of the business of the House.

4. Conduct a survey of the rooms allocated to the standing committees and staff of the House of Representatives and make recommendations for the improvement thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a full report of its findings and recommendations to the House of Representatives and file a copy thereof with the Speaker as soon as possible, and be it further

Resolved, That the adoption of this resolution shall constitute sufficient authority for the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to purchase or lease directly or to requisition the Department of Property and Supplies for an electric roll call system and a public address system in the House of Representatives in accordance with the recommendations of the committee as filed with the Speaker; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee implement the recommendations by appropriate plans and legislation for the financing thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses incurred by the committee in making the studies and inquiries herein specified be paid by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives out of his fund for incidental expenses.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, last week a Select Committee of the House was appointed by the Speaker to propose a plan of procedure to the House upon its reconvening on Wednesday, September 9.

This Committee has held two meetings. We have discussed the question of a more efficient public address system, the feasibility of an electric roll call system and also examination of the filing system of bills, Journals, and so forth on the Members' desks.

The report of that committee is contained in the resolution which I have just introduced.

The SPEAKER. Might the Chair inquire of the gentleman from Washington whether the Chair is in error in interpreting this resolution as a resolution conferring power to act upon the Committee appointed by the Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, this resolution does confer such power upon the Committee.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement in regard to the resolution just read by the Clerk.

I concur wholeheartedly in the resolution that is now before the House, but I submit that it does not go far enough. I do not know if, under the Rules, it was within the jurisdiction of that Committee to decide as to the number of standing committees in the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that that particular matter was not within the purview of the special committee.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Then I do not care to extend my remarks.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker in the very near future will announce the membership of the Committee that he is privileged to appoint.

The objective we are serving today is that when the next Session of the Legislature convenes there will be an electric roll call machine in operation, and that in all probability there will be installed microphones, perhaps one microphone for every two Members, a sort of a gadget that goes down and you pull it up, enabling the Members of the House to address the Chair and address the House as a whole from their seats instead of turning into one of the aisles.

There are other things we have in view, and I think those of you who are fortunate or unfortunate enough to be elected or reelected as Members of the House will see those improvements in actual operation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FARABAUGH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it appears very queer to me that a resolution of this kind, involving as much money as it does, should be put before this House on a voice vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the money is not appropriated by means of this resolution. Legislation will be adopted providing for the appropriation of the money. The resolution simply empowers the Chair to appoint the committee, and empowers the Committee to proceed as, if and when the General Assembly makes the money available.

Mr. FARABAUGH. The resolution did not sound that way to me.

The SPEAKER. That is the way the resolution is, and we advise the gentleman from Cambria to read it once again.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1652, Printer's No. 1287 and

House Bill No. 1726, Printer's No. 1306,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1853, entitled:

An Act amending the "Oleomargarine and Butterine Law" approved June 30, 1947 (P. L. 1154) by adding and redefining terms and increasing fees.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, the way this bill reads on the calendar I am afraid that it might be misleading. Therefore, I desire to make a few remarks.

All the oleomargarine bill does, as it is now written, is to change the wording so that margarine may be called margarine that is not oleomargarine and removes the words of "keeping and reporting records" that had to be done in the past. It does not change; it does not increase the fee as is stated on your calendar.

The bill originally had an increase in it but that has been amended out, so that the bill as it now stands simply makes those two changes which simplifies the work for the people handling margarine and they will call it what it is. I think there should be no misunderstanding about this point.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. BUCHANAN filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 2230.

I voted against House Bill 2230, printer's number 1469, for the following reasons.

The appropriation provided in House Bill 2230, Printer's No. 1469, should be given to state owned and state aided colleges and universities rather than to a new system of colleges to be established. I favor expanding existing colleges and universities and the establishment of new centers where they are needed. These centers should be established by existing colleges and universities. The appropriation in this bill should be used for the above purposes.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 765, Printer's No. 221
was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 814, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" by removing prohibition against unincorporated associations making political contributions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, so that the membership will be thoroughly informed on this bill, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill; the leading sponsor, or any one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I believe leave of absence was obtained for the principal sponsor, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Welsh.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. In the absence of the leading sponsor, Mr. Speaker, I think we should pass the bill over. I have some very searching questions I would like to ask.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill was not to go over today. Mr. Welsh is not here, but the other gentlemen who sponsored the bill are here. I did not know leave of absence was going to be requested for Mr. Welsh. I am sure we shall be able to answer the questions on the bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Is sponsor No. 2 here, Mr. Machmer.

Mr. MACHMER. I yield to Mr. Luigard.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Machmer, yields to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Luigard.

Mr. McCANN. As I said to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, we will attempt to answer his questions if the gentleman from Berks County will yield to me.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks yield to the Majority Leader?

Mr. MACHMER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would then like to ask the gentleman just what the bill does and just what is the necessity for the bill?

Mr. McCANN. The bill simply takes out of the present law unincorporated associations. By taking out the brackets and removing them it permits unincorporated associations to be eligible to make political contributions, to be eligible to donate their money, to help elect you and other people who are running for state-wide and local offices.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Will you guarantee that they will donate to elect me?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the gentleman will be pleased to know that if his voting record is right, if he has stood for the things that the unincorporated associations stand for, they will be there with their money and their help.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Will the gentleman please give a definition of what is an unincorporated association?

Mr. McCANN. I would say the simplest definition that I know of would be an association unchartered by the state. Would that be about a correct definition of an unincorporated association?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. It would be, in general terms. Now we will be a little more specific.

Mr. McCANN. Would you care to say which concerns you are interested in that you would care to see if they fall into that category?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now just a minute. I asked you a question. You answer it.

Mr. McCANN. I apologize, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. It is trade unions, is it not, that the bill is mainly designed for?

Mr. McCANN. Well, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman would be able to say that trade unions would be unincorporated associations, but that would not be the entire limit of organizations that would fall into this category.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I notice that unincorporated associations are being taken out of the bill, but corporations which are a type of association are being left in under the disability that they cannot donate. What is the difference between a corporation being denied the right and an unincorporated association with millions in their treasury being given the right to donate? Is there any difference between the two?

Mr. McCANN. I see no difference in respect to the unincorporated associations and the corporations.

If you recall distinctly, I have no objections to the amendments to the bill which would enable them. The philosophy behind this bill dealt with unincorporated associations. Corporations would take in various clubs and corporations of business in the definition. I believe that they, too, should have the right to make contributions, which I believe a good many do at the present time.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have amendments here that would do that very thing, permit corporations also to give. And in view of what Mr. McCann said, that he would not object to the amendments, I would like to ask unanimous consent of the House to offer amendments at this time removing corporations also from the disability.

My point is that I feel it would be just as fair for everybody to come right out in the open to make their donations, rather than one group being allowed to do it openly and then the corporate group, who obviously in some way or some fashion, by some type of device, will contribute. I think it would be a wholesome thing for everybody if not only trade unions, but corporations and all associations, were permitted to donate. Then when a candidate files his sheet, and if XYZ corporation or XYZ union or the YMCA donates, I think the people have a right to know.

With what you have said, I would like to ask the Speaker for unanimous consent of the House to offer amendments at this time.

Mr. McCANN. I have no objection to the amendments which the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, has proposed. I also bring to his attention that a partnership falls in one definition here, and I do bring to your attention, of course, that corporations now do not contribute as corporations, but they contribute as individuals. This of course would permit corporation contribution to any political party or political campaign. I see nothing wrong with that in this system of ours, in political circles, in which they themselves, through their respective officers, would then be permitted to place their financial contributions, if that is what the amendments do that you have in your possession.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHERMAN. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry at this point.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SHERMAN. Am I right that by eliminating both corporations and unincorporated associations you have nothing but the title of the bill left?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's point is that if the body is amended the title should be amended?

Mr. SHERMAN. No, my point is that I think the bill applies only to corporations and unincorporated associations, Section 1605, and if that is true, and you are going to eliminate both corporations and unincorporated associations, I do not think you will have any bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader explain the point. The Chair fails to get the significance of the point the gentleman from Philadelphia makes. He apologizes for not being a lawyer, and the gentleman raises a lawyer's point that maybe the Majority Leader or the Minority Leader can answer.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am wondering if you would agree to pass the bill over temporarily. There is a little confusion here as to the exact type of amendments we have. Would you pass the bill over temporarily?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be passed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

An Act repealing clause (f) of section 402 of the "Unemployment Compensation Law" approved December 5 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897) relating to ineligibility for compensation under shipping articles.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Workmen's Compensation.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1294, entitled:

An Act providing that employes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall not be forbidden by any superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, in the course of our membership in the House we have often voted for bills of no import whatsoever. This particular bill seems to be in that classification. It states that no employe of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall be forbidden by any superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities. This is the law today. Why pass a bill like this? There is no penalty clause attached to it. We are just adding more papers to the pamphlet laws. I suggest that the bill be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill fails.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1335, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9 1929 (P. L. 177) increasing the powers and duties of the Department of Agriculture.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DEVLIN. This is a companion bill to House Bill 1336 that we passed which set up the Agricultural Marketing Commission. The Commission is composed of nine members and this bill 1335 will, as I read it and as I have been advised, empower the Department of Agriculture to assist the Marketing Commission in the performance of its duties on page 2, and the various marketing industries, the farming industries in Pennsylvania.

The Department will have administrative duties to perform in connection with the tabulation of reports and requests made by the Commission; it will have the duty of being a working arm to aid the Commission and I feel it is necessary adjunct to legislation that this House has already passed.

The bill is very brief in its language and its terminology. I feel that is all it does and I feel that it is necessary that we do this.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me whether at the original hearing at the Farm Show Building any of the agricultural groups requested this legislation of the department?

Mr. DEVLIN. I do not know that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STECKEL. Is it the feeling of the department that this legislation is desired by the farmers of this Commonwealth?

Mr. DEVLIN. Yes, that is my understanding. I have received correspondence from the Horticultural Association and I have been advised by Mr. Seyler in the Department that this bill as passed has the support of the Grange.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, this bill in its original hearing in the Farm Show Building received no support from the many agencies called to discuss it. I have had numerous requests from farmers of the areas who are interested in preserving their own independence. They say there is no need for the state to spend this money, that they are capable through their own marketing organizations, which are organized on a product level, to sell and market their own products. They say they do not want or need state people who are directly affected by this administrative proposal, they simply do not want the aid that we would be required to levy taxes to administer.

I feel that the House should respond to the request and desires of those people whom we are trying, and I use the word in parenthesis "to help." It is commendable in this day and age when a group of our citizens do not want the help of the state to do something which they feel they are perfectly adequate and able to do with their own abilities.

Therefore, I believe that we should vote against this proposition and support the will of the people who want to do for themselves what they can do for themselves.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Devlin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEVLIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, did I hear the gentleman correctly when he said the bill we are now voting on, 1335, is a companion bill and an adjunct to House Bill 1336 which we previously passed?

Mr. DEVLIN. Yes, that is what I said.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Am I correct, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill 1336 merely sets up machinery whereby the farmers of Pennsylvania could in their organizations and in some collective activity of theirs contribute funds which they themselves in a private way would use to promote their Pennsylvania farm products? Is that not what 1336 did?

Mr. DEVLIN. 1336 set up a Marketing Commission of nine members. 1335 authorizes the Department of Agriculture to assist this commission.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. My question, Mr. Speaker, this bill 1335, would allow outright grants from the state government, would it not?

Mr. DEVLIN. To the commission, yes sir.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. And 1336, the bill which we previously passed, can function without those grants, can it not?

Mr. DEVLIN. The commission is set up under 1336.

Under the explanation given to us at the first committee meeting on the bills, we were told that the department would need a revolving fund of $25,000 with which to get this marketing program working, that the fund would be regularly replenished by the contributions of the members of the marketing associations and the funds would be, in effect, a loan from the Commonwealth to the department to get the program functioning, that it was to be and is merely a revolving fund to be used until the contributions come in from the association members.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to express myself in opposition to this bill and agree with my colleague, Mr. Steckel.

I believe House Bill 1336 which we did pass allowed the farmers to do for themselves what they wish to do for themselves, to promote their Pennsylvania farm products. They apparently do not want state aid. I think this is a rather refreshing thought. I see it so seldom up here in Harrisburg and I think that we should defeat this bill.

Mr. YETTER. I would like to interrogate Mr. Steckel.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STECKEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YETTER. Will the gentleman tell us how many farmers asked him to go against this bill?

Mr. STECKEL. Yes, a representative of the Lehigh County group of the farmers' association. I do not know how many farmers he represents but I believe there are some four or five hundred members in Lehigh County, also representatives of local distributor groups, I believe, of egg and products of that kind, turkeys. The people who contacted me purported to speak not just for themselves but for the groups that they represented.

Mr. YETTER. Mr. Speaker, are they against the idea of the marketing agreements, or was it opposition to the state helping set up the financial aid of the state helping to set up these marketing organizations?

Mr. STECKEL. The expression of opposition was twofold.

First, they felt that the Department of Agriculture was formed for the purpose of aiding the farmer, and giving him crop advice, factual information and not for the purpose of marketing his goods.

The second objection was felt that it was unnecessary for the state to spend its money to help them sell their products, which they feel they are able to do through their own marketing associations.

Mr. YETTER. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, from time to time we celebrate the birthdays of Members of this House. We have many unsung heroes in this House of Representatives who devote a lot of time, a lot of effort during every day of this Session and every other Session.

We have in our midst today a man who is celebrating his birthday tomorrow. The reason I am calling it to your attention today is that I have had advance notice that he is not going to be here tomorrow.

He spends many, many hours every day that we are in Session, sitting up there at that front desk, and long, long into the night after we are gone keeping our records straight. If he had only been doing it for this Session, or this Session and the past one, I would not think so much about it, but I want you to know that he has been an employe of this House of Representatives now for almost 50 years. Tomorrow is the birthday of Gene Moyer, the Chief Reporter of this House, and I think we ought at least extend to him birthday greetings today.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler.

Mr. DENGLER. Let us sing, "Happy Birthday, Gene Moyer."

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman take a bow? He could even make a speech if he wanted to; he has recorded enough of them to make anybody sick and tired of speeches.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2207, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) providing for reporting of amounts of State reimbursement and subsidy on all school district tax notices.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. The next is House Bill No. 2207, Printer's No. 1558. I would like to have permission to say a few words about the bill.

Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2207, Printer's No. 1558, is a simple piece of legislation.

I am going to ask the Members of this House to answer me one question. Each of you live in a school district where your residence is located now. How many of you can tell me of your own school district where you live, the amount of the state appropriation to your school district? Just as many as know that answer is just how many of the public know in the area in which you live.

What does this bill do? This bill simply says that on the notices that would be sent out by the collector, it would indicate the amount of the state appropriation.

Have you ever taken the time to attend a meeting in your community in which the people in your community for some reason do not even know the amount of state money that you appropriate and send to your school district? If you vote against this bill, then evidently your position is that you do not favor these people having this knowledge.

I think it is good, sound, sensible information for every taxpayer in this Commonwealth who receives a school tax notice that on that notice you name your school district, and on there would be printed the amount of the state appropriation.

My friends, I believe it would be one of the most educational features to the citizens of this Commonwealth to know that the taxes that you vote for education are right here on this tax notice that you send to my district and your district. That is what this piece of legislation does.

We conceived this idea, and I do not mind saying that I took a part in the discussion that formulated this piece of legislation. I believe all of our people should know, and who should know better than the people who pay the taxes, the taxpayer. I ask you to support this legislation and ask you to vote favorably on it. I think it makes an awful lot of good sense.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally,

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. McCANDLESS filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 2207.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to file for the record my reason for voting against House Bill 2207.

There is nothing wrong with printing the reimbursement and subsidy on School District Tax Notices, but we have our Auditor's Report each year which sets forth this information.

Our tax card in my district is so filled now, with so many different taxes that to put additional printing on same would cause an increase in size of card, adding extra expense and as an Auditor's Report is published in the local newspaper I feel this requirement is unnecessary and in many districts will cause added expense.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2243 entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 27, 1909 (P. L. 260) entitled "An act providing for the return of all surety of the peace and desertion cases * * * and also providing that bail in such cases shall be taken for an appearance forthwith" changing the time when surety of the peace cases are returnable to court.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, May I interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, please?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. What is the purpose of this amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. This bill is one that I co-sponsored at the request of Mr. Lopresti, and it comes in at the request of the District Attorney's Association.

It provides that a justice of the peace may in surety of the peace cases, hold the matter up for 30 days before he returns it to court instead of returning it forthwith. It gives more or less of a cooling off period to people that have been in a squabble—maybe they will kiss and make up—and keep from cluttering up the calendars of your quarter sessions court so much.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now, is there not a conflict between the first paragraph of Section 1 which requires an immediate return and this amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Wait until I get the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. The first paragraph requires it to be returned immediately, and this second paragraph, which is new, permits it to be held for a period not to exceed 30 days.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The first portion of that Section 1 you will find, takes in surety of the peace or desertion cases as well, and this provision for a thirty-day period applies only to surety of peace cases and not desertion cases.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then you think that it is all right the way it is written.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do, yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2322, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949. (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" providing for additional payments to certain school districts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STROUP. Several months ago, Mr. Speaker, I believe on June 30, 1959, about 1,900 of our third and fourth class school districts suddenly awoke to find, with great consternation, that the report of revaluation of market values of real estate in the various districts across the state had resulted to them in a penalty of approximately $7 million in school subsidies from the state under the present formula of law.

This same report, released by the State Tax Equalization Board, also resulted in a gain of approximately $2.8 million to the school districts of the city of Philadelphia and $1.5 million to the school districts of the city of Pittsburgh.

House Bill 2322, which we have before us, first of all preserves the gain that enured to the benefit of the school districts of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and it attempts to ease the burden of the loss which has consequently been suffered by the majority of the fourth and third class school districts by providing, among other things, that of the loss suffered in the years 1960 to 1961 the state shall reimburse those districts for 75 percent of their loss, and in 1961-62, 50 percent of the loss shall be reimbursed, and in 1962-63 25 percent of the loss shall be reimbursed.

This, insofar as it goes, is defensible under certain circumstances. However, there are many of us on this side of the House, and I suspect possibly on the other side of the House, who do not believe that this is the correct approach to the solution of this problem. We believe that it would be better legislation were we to attempt a moving average for a period of three years, and thereby more equitably distribute to all the districts of the Commonwealth the gain or the loss that would be derived.

We have some legislation, I believe, in this House, presently in the hopper, which makes an attempt in that direction. I believe it is House Bill 2285, sponsored by Messrs. Goodrich, Davis, Weidner and Garlock. This may not be the entire answer, but it is a step in a better direction, in my humble opinion. However, those of us Legislators who represent the school districts that face such serious financial distress, coupled with increased costs as a result of the state Tax Equalization Board report, must of necessity support this administration bill as the best we can get done in this particular Session to bring relief to our school districts.

We can therefore support, Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2322, to some extent reluctantly and with tongue in cheek, with the hope and desire that some brilliant, perspicacious individual in the other body may see fit to come up with an amendment for a moving average, thereby resulting in a better and more fair distribution of this serious problem to the school districts throughout the Commonwealth. I ask all my colleagues to support this bill with their vote.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN, Mr. Speaker, I was not going to debate this bill, but when my good friend from Bedford County mentioned my home city of Pittsburgh, and my friends from Philadelphia, I felt compelled to answer.

I appreciate the problems of the school districts of the fourth and third classes. I know they have a problem, but this bill is unsound in principle because we are changing the rules in the middle of the stream. Ever since the State Tax Equalization Board system was enacted in this Commonwealth, and as long as it was for the benefit of the rural districts, the board's system was sound, but when the new figures came out this year some people were astonished. My recollection is that the other house made an investigation of the system whereby the new figures were established, and my recollection also is to the effect that the other house stated that the State Tax Equalization Board had done its work in a proper manner and that the net results were proper.

If we have a formula in this Commonwealth, let us maintain the formula. If there are districts in this state which are financially distressed, let us help them out. I will be glad to co-sponsor and help out districts which are financially distressed; but this particular bill will benefit rich districts as well as poor districts, and there is no reason why, I repeat myself, we should change our rules in the middle of the stream.

Let me give you an example. I pick this county out just by way of example. York County will lose $108,480 in 1960 over 1961; the city of York will gain $10,620 in that period. What does this mean? It means merely that there has been a migration of residents from city districts to rural areas and that the State Tax Equalization Board has caught up with the transfer. There is a climb in the real estate values in these rural and suburban areas, and I think we ought to stick by the rules. Even though I sympathize with the rural areas, I am going to vote against this bill as a matter of principle.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, this legislation before us has as its basic purpose to ease the effect of the recent action taken by the State Tax Equalization Board.

I think it should be made clear for the record that this Board is an independent administrative body established by the Legislature in 1947. It was created as a result of the recommendations of the 1943 School Commission, which made a complete study of the best methods for maintaining and supporting the public school system. Its purpose is to provide for equalization of basic educational opportunities by paying to every school district the difference between the cost of a minimum program and the amount which a school district may reasonably be expected to contribute to its financing.

Based upon this study of the real estate sales and other data which are applied uniformly throughout the state the Board, on June 30, 1959, certified its findings on real estate values for purposes of school subsidy and the effect, unfortunately, has not been favorable to many of our local school districts. However, there has been no evidence submitted thus far to indicate that the Board did not act in a proper manner or that its action was otherwise than in strict accordance with the law set up by this Legislature in 1947.

We are hopeful that the impact on these affected school districts will be minimized by the passage of this legislation before us, by granting additional subsidies to those school districts so as to make up a percentage of any decrease as follows: 75 percent for the year 1960-61; 50 percent for the year 1961-1962; and 25 per cent for 1962-63. This bill appears to have the support of many responsible individuals whose primary concern is with the basic principle involved, of providing for the equalization of educational opportunities for all school children no matter where they reside in the Commonwealth.

For this purpose, for the reason of supplying equal educational opportunities for every school child in the Commonwealth, we ask that you give your full-hearted support to passage of this legislation.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to concur to some extent in what the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, has said in respect to changing the rules in middle of the game. I think that it was obliquely inferred that something was wrong with the State Tax Equalization Board when, as a result of its certification, Philadelphia received more money.

I have been here since 1953 and I believe this is the first attempt I have heard to discredit the State Tax Equalization Board. They find facts, they deal solely in facts, and I do not think we can dispute them. At the same time I realize the serious hardship that has resulted in the rural districts as a result of these latest certifications, and I think this bill, whether or not it is in agreement with my principles, is a step in the right direction and it is an honest attempt to give an opportunity to the rural districts to recoup their losses. As a Member of the House of Representatives from an urban area, I am going to give by wholehearted support to the bill and vote for it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2322 was not an easy bill to devise, because the minute you start to write this legislation you start to write many millions of dollars.

First, I would like to say that I take exception to the remarks of the gentleman from Bedford that this is a bill which pertains to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh school districts' increase, for the report I have in front of me shows that there are 306 school districts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which receive an increase. That means that the market value behind each teaching unit is reduced, which increases the state subsidy to the school district.

I think one question needs to be answered and needs to be answered fairly. That question is, the law which you have written provides that the school district of any area, upon the certification by the State Tax Equalization Board of the market value of that district, the school board has the right to appeal. I have had the opportunity in my lifetime to be before the State Tax Equalization Board, both the present one and the former board in former administrations, and I think both boards did a sound job in the following manner: they proved their market value.

Your responsibility lies in proving that the market value is not correct. That appeal is there. Many boards do appeal. Their basic appeal is that this changes their subsidy program, which is true, and they base their appeal on that rather than on the facts.

Let us look for a moment at this piece of legislation, and even though there might be some objection to changing rules in the middle of the stream, as the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, stated. I believe that he, too, will agree that we are trying to help all the school districts with their financial problems, even though we do change the rules.

If for some reason we did not pass this bill and did not provide this legislation, the State Tax Equalization Board report being now official, certified to and sent to the Department, with that and no legislation, there would be the report that exists in which the school districts that would lose this money, would lose all of it at one time, except for the grace of the Board, the State Tax Equalization Board, which I know many times in the past have been kind enough to divide your losses across either two or three years.

What are we doing by this legislation? To those who get the increase, 306 school districts, we are saying to them your Tax Equalization Board has found the following market value which is correct. Your subsidy increases, and this piece of legislation retains that increase.

To those whose market values increase and subsidy payments decrease, we are saying, we divide this in this manner, as the Chairman of the Education Committee stated so ably, and the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup said, we are dividing it across a period of time. Each of these periods cost money, but there is one thing I am proud of and I think you should be, too. I have had occasion to discuss this carefully, for in the report my own county agreed, which is certainly a rural county. The report will clearly show that some school districts in my county lose, certain school districts gain, but the true picture is that the market value is correct for the mineral resources that are taken out by the removal of the coal reduces the market value behind the teaching unit. Now then, if this report were incorrect, it would be one thing, but if the report is correct, then, my friends, some of us in some school districts have been riding the gravy train and receiving money that rightfully, by the true market value under the formula we devised, we were not entitled to.

A school whose market value is less is entitled to the additional money and they have every right to receive that money just as correctly as you receive it incorrectly. In this fact many times it has been said that this is only a two-city piece of legislation. This is not true, in any way, and the losses by each county and each school district are carefully outlined, and in a great many cases it is less than one-tenth of one mill against the assessed valuation.

When we worked on this legislation week after week it was easy to write the legislation, easy to write many formulas, except when you came to paying for the formula you were devising. Then you had to find again additional millions to do this thing. I think this is a very sound piece of legislation in which we, in rural counties, have to take rightfully the increased market values behind our teaching units. Those market values are there and we are taking the losses. When we take these losses we are dividing them across these years—each of these years will cost the state, the Commonwealth, additional funds to do this.

As the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, said perhaps it is not the best piece of legislation. I could write one a lot better, and so could you, except when you come to the second point about paying for it, then you have to provide the money and provide the taxes to pay for it, and these tie in together. You cannot get away from the simple fact that we are trying to help those who are hit the hardest to take the losses gradually, and those who rightfully have the additional money they have been denied in prior years, they will get theirs at one time. I think it is a pretty equitable distribution of what we are trying to do and I am certainly pleased to hear that we are going to support this legislation.

I earnestly urge your support, and I earnestly believe we have tried to come up with a solution in which if all of our cities and all of our counties and rural areas are not happy, they are certainly much better satisfied. I think they have every right to be because we are trying to do what is best for the school districts who have the greatest problem in the Commonwealth at the present time.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I realize it is getting late but I feel I should take the floor and bespeak the problem of the rural school districts in Pennsylvania as a result of this action by the Tax Equalization Board.

I know the Majority Leader can stand here and give us a lot of sweet talk about the great things that this bill is doing for the schools of Pennsylvania. This bill is not doing a thing for them except telling them that we are going to leaven the blow and have them take it gracefully over a few years. You just travel the hinterland of this state and talk to the school boards of Pennsylvania, and I think there is absolute chicanery going on under the dome here, with respect to these valuations and they are very, very disturbed at what is taking place.

Many of them have said to me that they understand the big districts have said, well, if we do not get more money by statute, we will get it by administrative rulings. I said to one of them, "What do you mean by that? Well, I do not know. But on July 1 when this report came out it became very evident that big districts were going to get more money. I am not saying that Philadelphia and Pittsburgh had a hand in it, or did anything wrong about it, but the fact remains that the hinterland of Pennsylvania is being unduly crucified by the answers of this Tax Equalization Board. I think that something more should be done about it than this particular bill.

I commend you for it. It is probably all right to try to say to the school districts well, you have got to take the blow inside of four years. Why do you not have a bill on this Calendar that says we will never resist this cute thing you have done over a period of three or four years but not make them take a sock in the jaw right now, or even in the next two or three years. I think something should be done instead of making the school districts take a $200,000 or $300,000 loss. It does not seem right that all of a sudden a school district that is valued at, say, a million dollars, becomes worth a million and a half dollars, just overnight. The figures just do not seem realistic to me.

You say the school district can take an appeal. I know you say you have been down here, but you take a big school district that has five or six different schools in it and they want to file an appeal. They say to their solicitor, well now, file an appeal. All right, the law is that you have got to come down here and when you appeal you must have grounds for your appeal, you have to point out the manner in which the Tax Equalization Board was wrong. Show me any school administrators back in the hinterlands who can tell their lawyers what is wrong, whether it is right, or whatever valuation is right or wrong. All they know is that their valuation has been made about 30, 40, 50, 60 percent more than it was the year before. They cannot say down here, well, you have raised me 50 percent more, but that is not enough. I think the law should be changed so the Board, when they present that valuation, should bill each school district with particularity on how they arrived at the increased valuation. They should send it out so that then the school boards can sit down and say, well now, they arrived at it this way. Maybe they are right.

But right now, all over Pennsylvania, they are pretty mad and they are pretty disturbed about it and, believe me, they are blaming the Democratic Tax Equalization Board for it and do not think they are not. I think you should have here today something better than you have given to us, something that would freeze it for a year or two because the average school district is up to 45 mills.

Last week we had a meeting up-state and they said to me, well, how are we going to make up this deficit? I said, you are going to have to put it on the people back home. They said, we already levy 45 mills and we have a $15 per capita tax. How are we going to do it? I said, file an appeal. On what? We do not know what to file the appeal on. They said, it is up to you people down in that Legislature to give us some relief. I said, I am hoping before this Session is over that we do that very thing.

I listened to what you said, Mr. Majority Leader. Maybe this is not an easy thing for us, but the people back home do not think so. They are looking for us to do more than that. They are not griped about Philadelphia and Pittsburgh getting more money, their costs have gone up and they probably need that money, but they do not see any reason why they have to be short-changed so that Pittsburgh and Philadelphia can get it. So, understand me perfectly, I am not against Philadelphia and Pittsburgh getting more money, because I know what their problem is. I think Philadelphia's budget is pretty near $100 million for the schools in that city alone, and we eventually have to help them out some way, but I do not think it should be done to the detriment of our country school districts who absolutely do not have the money today to shoulder this burden.

We should pass some lasting legislation here, we should change horses in the middle of the stream. There is nothing wrong with changing horses in the middle of the stream when we are on the wrong horse, I will tell you that. Therefore, while I am going to vote for the bill it is just a piecemeal thing for our schools. I think you could have done much, much better.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Minority Leader, Mr. Johnson?

The SPEAKER. Will the Minority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Mc-

Kean, Mr Johnson, will stay in his backyard since he ought to know it best. You have three third class school districts. . . .

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I feel this way about this type of interrogation. I have listened to the Majority Leader when we get up to debate something, then a personal reference is made. Mr. Auken got up the other day and honestly wanted to debate the bill having to do with panic repairs. He did not like a couple of riders in the bill. He immediately was told, well, Altoona gets a lot of money out of this bill, and that put him in a very bad light, so I do not feel what is going on in McKean County, which he is going to bring up, should be brought up at this time. When I debated the penny gas tax I do not think it should have been brought up.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state distinctly his point of order?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. My point of order is that I do not feel that it is proper cross-examination to interrogate any Member of this House who takes an objective review of a situation, to personalize the debate and pin it down to his home district. I do not think that is fair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman from McKean, as he very well knows, that he need not consent to be interrogated, but if he does consent to be interrogated, then he is in no position to pass judgment upon the questions that are asked.

Does the gentleman from McKean consent to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. On the basis of the overall picture of the problems statewide, and not a personalized question. Therefore, I will not answer a question with respect to my own county, that is right.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman can refuse to answer any question that is asked, as he very well knows.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman knows that I have never had a mean streak in my life, and I am not going to begin today.

The SPEAKER. The points raised by the Minority Leader on which the Chair has been required to rule are very, very important and will form a part of our records.

The Chair wishes to repeat, when a Member consents to be interrogated and he does not like the question he is at liberty to say, I decline to answer. The Chair would further say, to make the point, that the Majority Leader would be privileged to refer to a specific instance in my county, in Cambria County, or McKean County or in Armstrong County or in any other county that he chooses to point to.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I make a clarifying statement?

I feel this way, after all I am more or less the spokesman for this side of the House as Minority Leader and when I put forth a position I feel that I am speaking for a large number on this side. I realize that sometimes I do personalize and talk about meetings I have attended and things like that and maybe I transgress also.

I feel as a matter of principle on both sides we should refrain from personalizing situations because we should look at things objectively rather than in a subjective manner.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, my questions will certainly not be in that light.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest to the Majority Leader, since in all probability he has before him the answers to the questions he might desire to propound, that he simply answer the questions himself.

Mr. McCANN. Then I would like to ask the gentleman from McKean, without staying in his own district—I felt confident he knew his own area pretty well—the following questions if he can tell us.

In the Senate of Pennsylvania there was a committee that investigated the State Tax Equalization Board Report, and I believe he received a copy of the letter addressed to the Honorable Robert D. Fleming, Chairman of the Republican Caucus Chairman. At the conclusion of that investigation and hearing, did he have any information that would indicate that the State Tax Equalization Board did anything but what they are directed to do by the law under which they operate?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, I am sorry, I do not remember. If I got the letter, I do not remember receiving it, and I do not recall any statement made on the other side about this matter. I really do not.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I bring to his attention that the letter was mailed under date of July 24, 1959. A copy was sent to the gentleman—it indicates Honorable Albert W. Johnson, Minority Leader. I believe that is correct.

I ask the gentleman, then, if in his travels he has found this indication that the State Tax Equalization Board has done anything in error, and what his recommendations may be to correct that which they are required to do by law under which they were formulated to operate by this General Assembly?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, all you can do with the state of the law is this. You will notice that there are some drastic changes in valuations this year over last year, and it miraculously affects almost seventeen hundred of the districts, I believe. You said some three hundred would get more money and that would mean that seventeen hundred would get less. I am just bespeaking the entire school board directorship in the state who got this report. They are wondering how come, how could they do it; what unusual thing has occurred which will create such an outstanding shift and change statewide? That is the only answer I can give you.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us from his knowledge of at least three of the basic things the State Tax Equalization Board must do in making necessary changes in his county or any other county. How do they get their information? How do they compile the information, and what is the source of their records?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The gentleman knows Mr. Speaker, it comes from the court house. You put the revenue stamps on your deeds, and it is $1.10 per thousand, that is how they get the consideration; that is correct. The recorder of deeds I believe it is, makes up the report and sends it down here. Then from that data they have a type of moving average they use. I do not know how they do it, but they come up with some answer.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, then the gentleman will agree that the basic information originated in his own school district, in his own county, and that the report may change, and whether it is up or down, the information came from official documents that they are directed and forced to use because they are submitted to them. Is that correct?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The basic data comes from your courthouse. All it shows is the federal stamps. That is the criterion, and I do not know but what they now also use the real estate transfer stamp.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to bring to the attention of the Members of this House, and I am sure many of the Members are quite well acquainted with it, the system the State Tax Equalization Board uses and has used since its inception. I believe the Act created the Board in 1947, and they have done considerable work in the market values of the various school districts.

I believe the bill, as I stated before, does a very fine job. I would like to do a lot more, and so would many other people, but the report is a proper report. Every school district has the right of appeal, and there is information and facts that their solicitor can certainly secure in helping to back their claim if the market value increases or decreases are incorrect.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, I shall be very brief and I ask your tolerance for just a moment to answer some of the questions which the Majority Leader has propounded.

In the first place I can not accept the fact that the work of the Tax Equalization Board is completely valid. As I recall, the Board was created in 1947 and implemented in 1952. The real estate evaluation was established in 1952, and I am reliably informed, and I believe the report to which the Majority Leader refers establishes that from '52 to '57 the only change in market valuations were on and off property assessments in the various localities.

Then in 1957 they come up, after a period of five years, with market valuations. If I am correct, I believe there was approximately a valuation of about $38 billion across the state. I believe the Board came to the conclusion that this was excessive, and without any single basis whatsoever, took 15 percent across the board, and there it was, which favored the metropolitan areas and hurt the rural areas. Then we come up with the valuation in 1958 and after compiling the figures over a period of five years, suddenly, it was slapped upon these districts and the valuation was completely changed and the load hits it all at once. I do not think they found the proper procedure. Now while I realize they have a certain course of procedure set up and they set forth what that procedure is. If they receive certain reports from the county commissioners and recorder's office as to sales made in the area, they send their men in there to make certain spot checks and this is the process they use, and to some extent they can validate what they do.

Nevertheless, if you go before that board for appeal, whose decision is final, you cannot compel them to produce the records of how they arrived at the value. You can only show the value that you have to try to counteract those values. I say the Board's verdict should not be final insofar as appeal is concerned, but that is where the law rests today.

Perhaps it may be that the Tax Equalization Board does not have the facilities to do the job that it should do, I do not know. But I do say this and I do so without censoring them too much, but I do say this, the problem that faces this Legislature is not being attacked in the right way. We need to take some measures, at least, a moving average that will ease the burden upon our school districts. I think that is the answer to it. We do not have such a bill before us, Mr. Majority Leader. We are doing the best we can and I am ready to go along with it. But, I do maintain and go back to my original premise, that if we had a moving average we would ease this result of increased or decreased depreciation in market values, increase or decrease in market values upon our school districts, so that it does not cost our citizens so much, all at once, and, incidentally, cost the state so much insofar as subsidy is concerned.

I also take issue with this statement—then I shall cease my talk on this. That it is going to cost us much more money. In the budget for the Department of Public Instruction, I think Mr. Polen will bear me out, there was $7 million set up on the present formula and the $7 million now they do not have to pay. There was no provision for this $4.5 million, probably in the neighborhood of $8 million in two years in the biennium that goes to the other districts which is a gain to them. So we have arranged mathematically to use what we have in the public school budget and use it gradually without it costing more to the state in the next biennium. I think that is the answer to the present bill and the reason it has worked out this way mathematically.

I perhaps brought this situation upon the floor of the House because of my original talk upon this particular measure. I think it is the only thing we can do at the present time. Our districts are desperately in need of help and I ask all Members of the House to support the bill.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I think a word should be said about the situation in Philadelphia. There have been some references to the amount of money that Philadelphia will benefit by through the recent action of the Tax Equalization Board.

Believe me this matter has been receiving great attention in the city of Philadelphia. A thorough recent study indicates that in order to subsist the Philadelphia Board of Education must have $13 million more next year. The situation in Philadelphia today is desperate. We have tremendous overcrowding in classes. We are in vital need of books and other equipment. We have many schools that are over 50 years old. The Members can well imagine the tremendous problems that arise out of the maintenance of such buildings. We have the development of vast areas of our city where new schools are necessary. We have the situation where many youngsters of school age are unable to go to school because the facilities just are not there. One of the most serious problems is the flight of the school teachers from the city of Philadelphia. We have a very low salary scale. Surrounding counties and other school districts around the state and outside the state are attracting school teachers, away from the city.

I say to you, that the $2 million or so that we will benefit by is a very small part of the $13 million that we need to just subsist next year. I would remind you, that Philadelphia has 20 percent of the population of the state, and presumably we have 20 percent of the problems, so that we, many of us, in Philadelphia feel very much in need, not only of the amount of money that we will benefit by, but millions of dollars more.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately I realize that it is 7:30 and we should have quit half an hour ago. Perhaps if some of the men who spoke for the last half hour had ceased speaking they would have made a greater impression rather than the few words of wisdom that they did utter, besides a lot of baloney and pre-election propaganda that we have heard on the floor of the House today.

One thing that has come out on the floor if nothing else—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will stay within the bounds of the dignity of this House.

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SHERMAN. If nothing else has come out on the floor of this House today, at least we know there is a Tax Equalization Board in existence. A few years ago when the other party was in the majority did they do anything in regard to the Tax Equalization Board? Nothing whatsoever, and at that time they knew that the Tax Equalization Board was a proper group and body. They did not call the Democratic party or the Republican party, as perhaps one of the previous speakers has mentioned, because as long as you favored certain districts they were bound to have such things as Tax Equalization Boards and as long as they have been riding the gravy train for six or eight years, it was proper for those districts to do so. But, when, lo and behold, we have a bill on the calendar here that gives one dime to Philadelphia or the city of Pittsburgh, yes, the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh come in for criticism. Why, I do not know.

The Tax Equalization Board has been mentioned before the Supreme Court of our Commonwealth and has been highly praised, and now why has it been taken in deference to the word of the lower court and other groups who have gone out and appraised property?

Originally when this bill was on the calendar I did not expect to go for it, neither did a good many from our large city areas, but we, in turn, do feel the plight not only of the city of Philadelphia, which is seeking $11 million, of which it is sorely in need, and we hope the rural areas will go along when a bill of this kind is on the calendar, but we thought that the rural areas should be taken care of in some way or other. After a lot of thought, in wisdom I agreed and other men to go along. With what? With a bill that does not give a dime to us, but helps the rural areas, and what are we doing? We come in for a lot of criticism in an attempt to help you.

I can say, since the hour is floating, that the Tax Equalization Board has come in for constructive criticism, good criticism, by both the other side and ours and the Supreme Court of this state. We have benefited you, the rural areas, and we expect you to benefit us when the time comes. I will go along with this bill because I feel that the rural areas are sorely in need, and yet not a dime, I stress again, in coming to the city of Philadelphia, or the city of Pittsburgh by the passage of this bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, September 9, 1959.

John Hartman Basehore, age 55, died September 4, 1959.

Born in Seven Stars, Pennsylvania, Mr. Basehore resided in Gettysburg most of his life. He graduated from Gettysburg High School and attended the Pierce School of Business Administration and the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Basehore was the Manager of Adams County Credit Bureau and was a member of the Gettysburg fire and police departments.

Mr. Basehore, always active in public affairs, served Gettysburg as Borough Treasurer and Justice of the Peace. In addition to his other civic duties, he was the Adams County Republican Chairman for 16 years, and was called by President Eisenhower "my county chairman during political meetings in Gettysburg." He was chairman when the President was first elected in 1952 and in 1956 attended, as a delegate, the Republican National Convention where he served with distinction.

The Elks, Moose, Eagles and Lions of Gettysburg were all proud to have the name of John Hartman Basehore on their active rolls and St. James Lutheran Church lost a Sunday school teacher of thirty years standing when he died; therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives express its heartfelt sympathy to the friends and family of John Hartman Basehore during their hour of loss and bereavement.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. HELM and GUTHRIE.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, September 9, 1959.

On Thursday, September 3, 1959 the West Penn Power Company which supplies power to a large area in the western part of the State made a great advancement when they dedicated a new substation in Reesedale, Armstrong County.

The company spent 49 million dollars in the erection of this giant facility which is to be known as Armstrong station. The expenditure of such a large sum of money by a private utility certainly evidences the faith that the company has in the growth of our Nation and our State.

For three days the company had an open house at the site of the substation and the hundreds of people who toured the area were thrilled by the magnitude of the operation. The residents of the vast area supplied by West Penn are thankful for the foresight shown by the company since the new operation will undoubtedly aid the economy of the region; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives commend the West Penn Power Company of Greensburg, Pennsylvania for the faith they have shown in the ever growing economy of our State and for the place in which to live and work; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the West Penn Power Company at Greensburg and to the local district manager at Reesedale, Armstrong County.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on behalf of the entire Senate, I would like to offer a resolution, on behalf of the Members, offering condolence to the family of the late Senator John J. McCreesh who, at the age of eighty-three, died yesterday.

Senator McCreesh was a Member of this Senate for more than twenty years. His place was taken in this Body by his son. We have all missed him. He was a tower of strength in our Caucus. We relied heavily upon him for his sage counsel. He was quite a helpful Member while serving here in the Senate.

In his latter years, he suffered an illness and, therefore, was unable to come here. He had a rather serious operation a few months ago. He was always looking forward to attending one of the Sessions when his son was here, serving as a Senator. Unfortunately, time has prevented him from doing so.

Therefore, Mr. President, it is with honor and respect that this Body would like to offer their condolences to the members of Senator McCreesh's family. I am sure that we will all feel the loss of the late Senator McCreesh.

This resolution is sponsored by myself and Senator Berger, on behalf of all of the Members of the Senate.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE SENATOR JOHN J. MCCREESH

Messrs. WEINER and BERGER, on behalf of the entire Senate Membership, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 62), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, September 10, 1959.

Former State Senator John J. McCreesh passed away Wednesday, September 9, 1959, at his home at 4202 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at the age of 83.

John J. McCreesh was born in County Armagh, Ireland, in 1881, attended public schools there, and came to Philadelphia at an early age where he became engaged in the garage and real estate business. Senator McCreesh first became interested in politics in 1926, and in 1928 he organized a campaign for Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, running for President. He was elected to the Pennsylvania State Senate in 1934 and served through 1946; was re-elected in 1950 and served until 1958, when he retired.

Throughout the more than twenty years that John J. McCreesh served as a Member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, he capably and consistently worked for legislation for the betterment of his constituency and Pennsylvania as a whole. Among the many laws which he was instrumental in enacting were the blind pension bill in 1935, phases of the workmen's compensation act of 1937, the weekly day-off bill for Philadelphia policemen, the Sunday polo bill, and the Commodore Barry Day bill.

In our many years of association with John McCreesh, we learned to honor and respect him as a gentleman and a devoted public servant. His long and outstanding service will serve as an inspiration for all of us, and especially for his son, Senator Thomas P. McCreesh, who is now carrying on in his fathers' footsteps; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania pause a moment in memory of our late colleague and express our most sincere sympathy to his loved ones upon their recent loss and bereavement; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to Senator Thomas P. McCreesh as the representative of the survivors of John J. McCreesh.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 2031, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P L 519), entitled "The Borough Code," increasing the amount of contracts in which borough officials may have no interest.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe we discussed this bill at some length yesterday. I would just like to add, however, that I feel this is bad legislation in so far as we have recognized that there are certain problems in small contracts dealing with $300, where people might have an adverse interest or a duality of interest. The only thing we are doing here is recognizing that there is a duality of interest and raising the amount which they might have an interest in, from $300 to $600.

I feel this is the type of thing which could possibly lead to corruption. I feel we should have stricter legislation, rather than raising the amount. As I stated yesterday, we must recognize the fact that inflation is taking place all along the line. Therefore, even where corruption is concerned, there might be some opportunity of raising this rate to allow for that type of error.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this legislation.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, before we pass this legislation, I thought it would be proper for me to make a short statement in regard to it, and what the Legislature is trying to do.

Most of you know that quite a few years ago, we passed legislation creating a revolving industrial fund, with the purpose of promoting industry in Pennsylvania. At that time, quite a number of the Members on both sides of the Senate felt that we should have an industrial credit corporation in order to utilize private finances and bring about possibly a greater industrial expansion here in Pennsylvania.

Senate Bill No. 1093 creates eight regional industrial development corporations. The eight regions are patterned somewhat after the bank setup here in Pennsylvania. We feel, by passing this legislation and thereby permitting the various companies and corporations to invest in these industrial corporations, that there is a great possibility that we may expand industry here in Pennsylvania.

Therefore, before we pass this legislation, I want to give credit to the Members on both sides of the Senate for their splendid cooperation in working out the details of this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have been listening to a great deal of debate during this Session on whether we should or should not have radar.

The position of the Administration has been, and many of the experts that have knowledge in this field have taken the position, that this would be wise and would certainly be helpful in providing safety on our highways. With that in mind, I have taken the trouble to speak to some of the members of the Department of Revenue who deal with the problem of safety, and they have advised me that we would need only about twenty units of radar to be installed in automobiles. Station wagons, or anything of that nature, would not be necessary. These units would cost approximately $1,500 apiece.

I think simple arithmetic will show that if we expend between $35,000 and $40,000, we can get this program off to a good start, and actually be able to do some good if the radar units are of value.

I think we have to determine two things: First, we ought to make a test to see if the radar units actually are helpful and, secondly, if they are, I think we ought to install them at this rate. The Legislature, in its wisdom, can look at the amount of money that can be spent in this area so that we are not off on a wild goose chase.

I have heard other persons, members of the other party, on television and in the newspapers, make comment about the use of radar, and they have cited figures that ran into millions of dollars that this program would cost. I do not know where they have obtained their figures. I do know where I have obtained mine. If I am incorrect, I would be very happy if they would correct me, and also cite the source of their information in order to provide a correct set of figures. If their figures are incorrect, I think they should use the same means they used in putting out the original incorrect figures to correct the misimpression they may have placed in the public's mind.

I believe this past Labor Day weekend should be indicative to all of us of the insane slaughter that is going on on the highways. If this radar will save even a single life, it will be worth the $40,000 that we will invest in it. If it will not save a single life, even if it costs only $200 or one dollar, we should not expend State money in that direction.

It behooves us to at least find out where we are in this program and where we must go, so that we can act intelligently on this situation. To take a negative attitude that we will not do anything about it, or that there is some person who has an interest in this area and, therefore, we should not look into it any further, is very shortsighted, and it is something that the people of this Commonwealth will not stand for.

I, therefore, would like to suggest to the Chairman of the Highways Committee, the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, that he take some appropriate steps to have his committee, or perhaps a subcommittee might be the answer, look into this matter. If he feels this is not a proper area for his committee to look into, I suggest that the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint a committee to look into this problem so that we can report back to this Legislature and, perhaps, take action before this Session ends and we are through here maybe for another two years.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I think the gentleman has raised a proper question, except perhaps he has overlooked the fact that you, the Presiding Officer, Mr. President, in your wisdom, referred the bill to the Committee on State Government.

The PRESIDENT. I was about to remind him of that fact, too, sir.

Mr. WADE. However, Mr. President, I want to report that prior to the referring of that bill, and since the last Session, our Highways Committee did make rather comprehensive studies. I want to remind the gentleman that I said on the Senate floor sometime ago that there is nothing provided in the budget for the cost of radar, be it $40,000 or $4,000,000.

Of course, many questions have been raised. One of them is the fact that we would not, under the Constitution, be privileged to give it to the State Police and not to all police officers of the Commonwealth who are endeavoring to do the best job they can in solving the highway traffic fatality problem.

Then, too, at a prior meeting of this Body, I brought to the attention of the Members the experience that I had gathered from other States or the reports from other States. None of them seem to be enthusiastic about it. In this connection, I would like to read into the record a few of the problems brought up by the Governor's Conference, under the title of Highway Safety. I read:

"Practically all of the messages dealt with the subject of highway safety. Some set forth comprehensive programs. Other subjects that received particular attention were driver licensing, highway patrols, point system, driver education, highway engineering, tests for alcohol, penalties and enforcement and organization for traffic control."

"From all of the experience we have been able to gather from other States, they are not at all enthusiastic regarding the use of radar or the adoption of radar.

As a matter of fact, I call the attention of the Members to the fact that in Virginia, the year after they adopted and put radar into use, their traffic fatality record went up one full point per hundred million miles traveled.

Our record is good in Pennsylvania. Nothing has been brought before the committee or the special study committee of the Joint State Government Commission in the interim, between the last Session and this Session, that would prove that radar is the effective method that some purport it to be. As a matter of fact, the State of Connecticut reports that they only have four radar sets, which are all antiquated and are used almost exclusively for counting traffic.

The radar bill, I repeat to the Minority Leader, is not in the Highways Committee. We have gathered a good bit of information, and are firmly convinced that it is not nearly the traffic safety prevention instrument which it has been purported to be in some quarters. Of course, the fact that the present Highway Safety Director was interested in radar at some time in the past is not to be debated here.

The thing we are all striving for is better highway safety, and the thing that I think we overlook at times is the fact that our record in Pennsylvania is excellent. We can never hope to reach the time when there will not be traffic fatalities. When you have 70,000,000 moving vehicles on the highways of America, you are just bound to have some accidents and some fatalities.

I join with the gentleman in the hope that we find a solution whereby we can cut the record of fatalities in two, or reduce it very substantially. However, I am sure that our studies, if the gentleman would care to look over them, the Joint State Government Commission report and the other information that I have gathered as Chairman of the Highways Committee would not substantiate the claims of those in the Bureau of Highway Safety in the Department of Revenue.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I was going to congratulate the gentleman for having finished his speech without mentioning the Director of Highway Safety. However, at the last moment, he could not control himself. Although no names were mentioned, we certainly knew about whom he was speaking.

I merely suggested not that this bill was the answer to the problem, but I merely called upon the Chairman of the Highways Committee if he thought it was proper to look into this problem, that we do so. However, he has made it so abundantly clear that he is opposed to this matter that I doubt whether he could be an impartial judge in looking at this matter in an objective vein. I think it is a matter for us, as a Commonwealth, and us, as the advisory board, to look into this problem and, perhaps, have a demonstration. It might prove that what the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, says is absolutely correct, and maybe we should not worry about this problem any longer.

However, we should not take other States' statistics because they do not happen to coincide with the problem which we have in Pennsylvania. For instance, in the State of Connecticut, I doubt if there is any point from its Capital which is more than ninety miles away; whereas, in Pennsylvania, we have a different type of problem. Even the State of New Jersey, which is a flat State and has very few mountainous areas, does not cope with some of the problems which we do on our highways. The fatalities are much greater on their Turnpike than we have on ours due to the construction of that type of a highway.

I do not agree with the gentleman that the local police are our problem at the moment. There are many things which the State Police use in solving crime and directing traffic that the local police do not have. The local police must either buy equipment separately or cooperate with other areas. For example, the police surrounding the Philadelphia area call upon our Philadelphia police unit for certain material and certain knowledge that they have which the small units do not have.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think our only concern is with the State Police and the State highway system. At least, I think we should take a look at this problem before we leave here, without having to completely rely on statistics and experiences of other areas which may not have any connection with ours. As the gentleman well knows, statistics are awfully misleading. You can make figures say anything you want them to say, depending on the criteria you use or the result you are seeking. Therefore I do not think that is the simple thing which should motivate us. We should direct our attention to our particular problems.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I should like to inform the gentleman that I have observed, firsthand, radar experiments to the extent of possibly ten or twelve. I have never avoided an opportunity to see radar in use. I have taken a number of the members of the Highways Committee, two years ago, to see it in operation. I am certain that none of the members who watched and observed it were satisfied as to its accuracy.

Again, Mr. President, I repeat that we are all intensely interested in this matter of highway safety. So many of our citizens use the highways and so many man-hours are devoted to traveling on the highways that it must be of importance to all of us. As a matter of fact, we are the most mobile people in the world, during our age or generation. The roads we have provided for the motorists to travel over have been used more than anyone ever experienced in the past. It is pretty conclusive evidence, I think, if you observe these reports, that the best highway safety measure that can possibly be adopted is good, sensible, well engineered highways.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, my topic is not radar, but the achievements of a radiant county.

About a month ago, I reluctantly called to the attention of the Senate that at the time "Miss Centre County" was selected as "Miss Pennsylvania," there were two types of counties in the Commonwealth; namely, static counties where the people in the counties are all right, but their background is such that they have kind of a backward look, and also progressive counties. There are other counties, of course, that have this vibrant forward look.

Once more, Mr. President, I want to call your attention to the fact that the State had a plowing contest and a man from Centre County, Ira D. Whitman, won the State Plowing Contest. It is one thing to win a plowing contest, which is important, but what is plowed under is also important. In this case, the representative from Franklin County was plowed under in second place and the representative from York County, where the contest was held, was plowed under in third place.

Therefore, Mr. President, while we are wishing "Miss Centre County" an achievement at Atlantic City this week, our best wishes go to Mr. Ira D. Whitman, of Centre Hall, as he competes for the State of Pennsylvania for the plowing championship of the United States.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I would like to point out to the good Senator from Centre County that we are justly proud in Lehigh County of this young lady, because all of her official photographs for the contest in Atlantic City were taken in the city of Allentown, in Lehigh County. The fact that she came through and tied for first place in talent last night, I think is due largely to the influence of photographers in Allentown.

The PRESIDENT. I think that was well worth hearing, Senator Van Sant.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have before me an Associated Press release, dated September 8, from Frankfort, Kentucky. I would like very much to have a transcript of my remarks, and the subject matter that I am going to read into the record, referred to the Department of Highways.

This AP release is headed with these words:

"Kentucky has First Highway of Soft Coal

"2,000 Tons Needed For Each Mile of Experimental Road

"Kentucky today laid the first strip of highway using a coal-base mixture.

"The history-making project—if proven successful could create a greatly expanded market for the coal mining industry.

"Nearly a mile stretch of U. S. 460 east of Frankfort was paved with the new material as 100 state officials and representatives of Curtiss-Wright Corporation watched.

"Curtiss-Wright developed the coal-base road paving binding using bituminous coal rather than tar material now used in bituminous surfacing. The work was done at its Quehanna, Pa., plant.

"A pilot plant at the State Highway Department garage here was dedicated today by Gov. A. B. Chandler and Dr. Minard W. Stour, vice-president of Curtiss-Wright.

"The binder is produced by digesting lump coal in coal tar. It would use between 2,000 and 2,200 tons of coal per mile of highway surfacing.

"Officials believe the cost likely will be slightly higher than for the material now used but they believe less maintenance will be required.

"They also say the surface will be less slippery and not as subject to extreme temperature changes as present materials are.

"Engineers will lay other strips using every possible situation to determine if the new product is feasible for resurfacing and original surfacing of all types of roads."

Last but not least, I want to say this. The article further says:

"Representatives from West Virginia, Colorado, Missouri and Nova Scotia attended the ceremonies."

However, there was no one from Pennsylvania.

Several months ago, Mr. President, I made a statement on the floor of this Senate that should this road binding be feasible, it would be a godsend to the people of western Pennsylvania, because we have thousands of coal miners unemployed, people that are willing to work. I call upon the Highways Department to review my remarks, and to also get in contact with the State of Kentucky. Let us get something on the road in regard to doing something for those unemployed in western Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease, awaiting a communication from the House of Representatives.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of September 8, 1959, I find the following news article, headed $100,000 Set For Study of School Costs, State Probe to Aid In Planning Sound Education Economy:

What does it cost for that familiar yellow bus to take Johnny to school each day?

That is only one of the statistical facts that state research experts will be studying during the 1959-60 school year in a $100,000 survey of eight areas of school costs and education administration.

Governor Lawrence said in a week-end statement that the result of the survey would be more careful planning and elimination of wasteful expense at all levels of education.

The principal value of this kind of research is developing the ability to make sharper forecasts of school needs, both in the lower grades and colleges, the Governor added.

The Public Instruction Department already has committed $40,000 to the program and expects to allocate another $10,000 after the 1959-61 budget is approved by the Legislature. The Federal government matches the money under the National Defense Education Act.

Mr. Lawrence said the statistical studies would look into:

1. Projected costs for education in school districts and colleges during the next decade.

2. The perpetual school building inventory on age of buildings, fire insurance ratings, site sizes and special facilities.

3. Transportation costs, including cost per pupil per year, cost per mile, cost per hour.

4. The number and types of schools in operation.

5. Staffing and expenses of county superintendents offices.

6. Enrollments by grades of non-public, non-Catholic schools and their teaching staffs.

7. Data on post graduation activities, of high school students, based on I. Q. and high school course, for use in planning college facilities.

8. The reporting procedure by which high schools forward statistical data to the department.

The department, meanwhile, reported that 73 formerly independent school districts have been swallowed up by mergers and consolidations.

However, the new total of 2,277 school districts still is far above the goal of 534.

We have a continuing sub-committee of the Joint State Government Commission on problems of education. They have made many studies and published many reports, are staffed and organized to tackle the job. Money is appropriated to them to pursue these studies. They work with Members of the General Assembly together with an advisory group.

Now Mr. Speaker, among the studies on which there are public reports by this Joint State Government Commission are many of the items listed in this proposed study. Here is one on per pupil cost on vocational and general education program in the public schools. Here is one on public school transportation, which they are asking to be looked into. Here is one on public school attendance areas, which they are asking to be looked into. Here is one on public school buildings subsidies. Here is one on Pennsylvania high school seniors, which is the projected information they are asking for in connection with what happens to students when they get out of high school, what their I. Q.'s are and so fourth. That was just published and released to this General Assembly in this Session. Here is one on the findings and recommendations of the committee on post high school education, and one on school health services.

Now Mr. Speaker, would not this $100,000 be but a duplication of moneys being spent for the same purpose?

I suggest that the Department of Public Instruction and the Governor's office make themselves familiar with these published reports and if then they find out they need study on additional matters that they have an organization already established to do so.

Just because Federal funds are available for the payment of a part of the costs does not mean that a separate, duplicate study must be made. After all, Federal funds also come out of the taxpayers' pockets.

With all the money that is needed for our schools, why should we spend $100,000 to duplicate services? And may I ask, just where is all this money coming from?

I know many school districts in this Commonwealth that could be helped with this $100,000, especially in panic repairs in order to avoid double daily classes.

That information is needed on the subjects enumerated is not denied, but to spend double money to obtain it is unjustified and inexcusable in this day of high and skyrocketing government costs.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, has very well brought out the points that were outlined in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette pertaining to the proposed conference dealing with the educational subjects that will be presented to this group.

Those studies that have been completed by the Joint State Government Commission are quite familiar to many of us, and some have had a part in them, being present when some of these studies were undertaken between the last Session and the present Session. The reports which have been published have, of course, been sent to every Member of the General Assembly. But I ask the gentleman if this $100,000 expenditure may not provide a great savings in information and education when these people who are a part of this conference come up with their report?

Let us take, for instance, as you say, the transportation report as presented by the Joint State Government Commission. There is no question that it is there. There is no question of their findings in the report. I think one of the things that you and I have certainly discussed on transportation, and rightfully so, over many months, is the fact that when legislation is proposed in one field, we will say a field in which the Department of Public Instruction would have the right to refuse the construction of new school buildings, it runs into a rough situation when the transportation is the important problem. You can build in an area in which you would have to transport every single person in that school district, or you could build the school building in a school district where you transport a part of the students; the others would be in walking distance. This becomes a rather local problem in which the local people say, we want to build the school house here because the other land costs more money. But the local people do not say that when we build the building in one area and transportation costs are involved in transporting all the students, we transport all of the students forever and stand the costs.

I think this study is well worthy, and even though this study will be conducted by a group of people in all walks of life—school directors, laymen, educational people—and they will be a part of this conference—I think it is well worthwhile for us to see what their report may bring to light, to see if they agree with our findings in the Joint State Government Commission. Duplication, if you say it is so, would be duplication in the sense that they are studying the same subject, but could you assure me at any time that their findings and recommendations would be the same as the Joint State Government Commission reports that we were a part of and that are in the possession of every Member?

I believe it is well to have these fields in education. I cannot see how there can be too many important conferences and studies in the field of education, for we are now at 50¢ out of every $1 in the general fund for a part of education costs.

Will we not be, in a few short years, at the cost of $1 billion a biennium for education? You and I, or whoever comes here in the next Session and the Session following that, are pretty well committed by law to increase costs in education; there is no question of that.

There is also no question, in regard to the county superintendents' offices, that we have now a county superintendent's office in every county in Pennsylvania. That we have had for 104 years. That is when they were established, and that is the way they operated, and rightfully so. They did a very fine job. Should not we study carefully the costs that we expend in this field? The $100,000 we spend for the study may well produce a savings of many millions if we can eventually agree upon a consolidation of school districts, not by local districts, but perhaps by county units into districts. We have had this subject before the General Assembly at least three times in prior Sessions. When we had this item of consolidation, as we called it of county districts, we have had a very difficult time agreeing on how to consolidate.

I believe this study merits the help of all of us, and I believe the $100,000 expenditure is a very wise expenditure at this time. You are assuming that this group will meet and that their reports will be the same on those subjects as have already been covered by Joint State Government Commission task forces in past Sessions.

Mr. Speaker, I wholeheartedly approve the idea of the conference. I wholeheartedly believe that the expenditure is a mediocre sum of money dealing with subjects that certainly are a major portion of the cost of Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. Speaker, I believe conferences of this type will eventually help to educate the people of this Commonwealth to the needs of education, and to the fact that we must certainly get in Pennsylvania a dollar's worth of service for every dollar we spend, that wisely we spend the money. This is one field of increased cost that we will continue to live with, and continue to support, and we should certainly be trying to support the best possible position from every type of report that can be presented to the General Assembly. I believe that in other newspapers of Pennsylvania there have been editorials and news stories relating to this matter, and their support of this position certainly speaks well for this conference.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I agree with everything the Majority Leader says with one exception. There is question about it, the more information we can get on our educational problems, the better able we as Members of the General Assembly are going to be to approach the solution to the problems. But in our Joint State Government Commission they have advisory groups consisting of educators, school directors and school teachers who sit with them on these problems. The Joint State Government Commission over the years has piled up a tremendous volume of research material on this and I am wondering why they cannot be called upon for their information in this field, and to supplement it with further studies by a staff already organized, rather than have to duplicate the cost for the same information by a separate advisory group such as has been recommended.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, desire to be recognized at this time?

Mr. HELM. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I have perhaps an unusual request, but I would like to ask the Speaker if he will vacate the Chair for some interrogation?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong inform the Chair of the nature and subject of the interrogation?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I have a matter of very great importance to this Commonwealth, and I think the Speaker is the person who can answer the questions.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Floyd, to preside temporarily.

MR. FLOYD IN THE CHAIR.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman tried to put me on the spot by getting me to tell him what I wanted to interrogate him about. I want to apologize to the gentleman, because in all fairness over the years that I have served with him he has never pulled the element of surprise on me, and I hesitate to do it on the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews. But, Mr. Andrews, I would like to ask you if the date of September 12 has any particular significance to you?

Mr. ANDREWS. An unhappy memory.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman state what that memory is?

Mr. ANDREWS. At a meeting last evening I expressed the opinion, when they were talking about museums, that I no longer went in to museums because the curator looked at me out of the corner of his eye as though he were measuring me for stuffing and filing as an antique.

Mr. HELM. I believe the gentleman has told you without any question that the date of September 12 does mean something to him, that it is his natal day. Will the gentleman inform this House where the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, was born?

Mr. ANDREWS. Troy Grove, Illinois.

Mr. HELM. I was unable to hear the gentleman.

Mr. ANDREWS. A place called Troy Grove, Illinois, the birthplace of Wild Bill Hickock.

Mr. HELM. I have been informed, Mr. Speaker, that there was some mixup as to the gentleman's birthplace, that it had been certified to the federal government that he was born in the State of Maine, and I just wondered how he wandered so far away from that great tradition of the state of Maine always going Republican.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would be very interested in those federal documents that can locate me in the state of Maine the day after I was born and very few days since.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Speaker.

The reason I requested that he leave the Chair is because I know that he does not like presenting a resolution on behalf of any birthday in this House. We now have him out of the Chair and, Mr. Speaker I ask unanimous consent of the House to offer the following resolution, and for its immediate consideration.

Mr. ANDREWS. Do I understand that the gentleman from Armstrong asked unanimous consent?

Mr. HELM. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I object.

Mr. HELM. I am sure the Chair will not recognize any objection on the part of the gentleman from Cambria.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. HELM, A. W. JOHNSON and McCANN, asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows.

In the House of Representatives, September 10, 1959.

The Honorable Hiram G. Andrews, Speaker of this House of Representatives, now serving his tenth term as representative from the first legislative district of Cambria County, will celebrate his birthday anniversary on Saturday, September 12, 1959.

Mr. Andrews, by his long and distinguished service, has earned the profound esteem, regard and affection of the entire membership of this House of Representatives. His high standards of public service, fine knowledge of the purposes of legislation and keen understanding of legislative procedure, as well as his outstanding ability to put into language the position taken by himself and his party upon issues facing this body, have marked him as an exemplary and distinguished personage who will long be admired and cited as an outstanding Pennsylvania and notable American.

Those who have worked with Mr. Andrews will long appreciate him as a person and ever remain keenly aware of the privilege of having shared the problems confronting Pennsylvania State government with a person so deservedly and widely recognized as an authority on those problems.

In the position he formerly held as floor leader of his party, Mr. Andrews was always clear in stating his position and forceful in pointing out the good or objectionable features of proposed legislation. His commentaries did much to bring about legislation which, when enacted, was clear, precise and effective in carrying out the purposes for which it was intended.

In his present position as Speaker of this House of Representatives, Mr. Andrews has shown such eminent qualities of fairness, keen knowledge of issues confronting him, and fine leadership in attaining full and thorough discussion, that he has set new standards of statesmanship in the handling of parliamentary proceedings; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its greetings and good wishes to Mr. Andrews on his birthday anniversary and expresses the sincere desire of the entire membership that he may long continue to serve his district and this Commonwealth by contributing his great wisdom and keen understanding to the future legislative endeavors of this House of Representatives; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Hiram G. Andrews.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Heffner.

Mr. HEFFNER. Ladies and gentleman of the House of Representatives, I am deeply honored to rise today on behalf of Section 1 to pay tribute on the forthcoming birthday of our beloved Speaker, Hiram Andrews. Everyone in section 1 hopes that Mr. Andrews may spend many more years as a member of this House, although there is a difference of opinion as to whether he should be the Speaker for these years.

A review of Mr. Andrews' distinguished life recalls another Horatio Alger story here in the United States. His life parallels that of a great Republican, Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln started from a humble beginning in a log cabin and ascended to the Presidency of the United States. Our own Mr. Andrews began his career in Harrisburg caucusing in telephone booths because he was an independent. He has now ascended to the Speakership of this distinguished House.

We here in section 1 since it is his birthday, and the custom of our great country is to present a token or a gift on a birthday, had our committee meet and deliberated on an appropriate birthday gift. The first suggestion was that we take a collection and give to Mr. Andrews a sum of money; however, the observation was made, with Senate Bill 309 in the offing that money would be no consideration for Mr. Andrews.

Then it was decided that perhaps a book of knowledge would be an appropriate thought; however, the observation was also made that Mr. Andrews, from his many comments in "Dispelling the Fog," has achieved great wisdom, and you only read books to achieve more learning, which is impossible for Mr. Andrews to do. This, of course, was negated, but I will say that the committee vote was not unanimous in that respect. Then we decided that since it looks like we are going to be here for a long, long, time, perhaps Thanksgiving Day or Christmas, and that if Mr. Andrews sits there day after day, or stands, at the Speaker's chair with something protruding from his mouth, but never any aroma of smoke coming from this protrusion, perhaps we would help our Speaker out and give to him a gift which we feel is needed. If you look at the Speaker you will see him many times putting matches to this instrument that protrudes from his mouth, but never once have we smelled the aroma of good Lancaster brand tobacco. So we decided this day that the most appropriate gift for a man in his station of life was another prince, Prince Albert in the can, and the matches for his pipe.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Fetterolf.

Mr. FETTEROLF. Mr. Speaker, it is my pleasure on behalf of Section 2 to likewise speak briefly on the birthday of our good Speaker, whom we all revere here today for his birthday on this coming Saturday.

We discussed this matter in committee likewise, as did the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Heffner, and arrived at a somewhat similar decision, that in case this Session should go beyond the Thanksgiving Day which he has just mentioned and on into the coming year, he would perhaps need additional tobacco for that pipe of his.

Therefore, it is my pleasure on behalf of Section 2 to present further smoking material.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise as the representative of the most outstanding section of the four sections in this House.

We in Section 3 also want to convey our very best wishes for a happy natal day and sincere hopes for many, many happy returns. We are thrilled to be able to join in this resolution, although we know that Mr. Andrews thinks such resolutions are a lot of folderol, because to a man and to a woman he has earned the esteem, the respect and the love of each of us.

We want to mark in some small way materially our observance of his birthday, and we, too, were pressed with the problem of just what to present. We have decided upon this tin of Prince Albert smoking tobacco. Perhaps we have made this decision because we feel that it is so appropriate a gift. The advertisement about Prince Albert says that it is slow to burn, much like our distinguished birthday boy; it is of long life and is long lasting, yet it is mild. We hope, Mr. Andrews, that you will extract as much pleasure in the smoking of this tobacco, and in the lighting of same with these Ohio Blue Tip matches, which are the kitchen matches with living room manners, as we have had in procuring same for you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes from Fayette, Mr. Snider.

Mr. SNIDER. Mr. Speaker, I have been honored to speak in behalf of Section 4. I have always been very happy to take part in any birthday celebration, particularly this one today. This is a birthday celebration honoring one whom we all admire and respect very much, one affectionately known to all of us as "Hi."

It has been said so many times that one does not get old. Well, perhaps that is true when we are speaking of advanced age, but in this case I would like to say that people do not get old any more. Just about a year and a half ago they quit that, but that is particularly true in the case of our good friend "Hi" Andrews, the Speaker of the House.

I would like to say that I am very happy to go along with the other sections of the House and augment with some more smoking tobacco because "Hi," as you know, always has with him something to use in a pipe, smoking tobacco.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, certainly they have given the Speaker of this House a sufficient supply of tobacco and the type of matches he uses to light that pipe. So you need not worry, I am not going to give him another can of tobacco.

On behalf of all the Members of this House I want to present to him something in which he can use that tobacco. So at this time I will ask the page boy if he will deliver this to the Speaker of the House at his desk.

Mr. Speaker, I think at this particular time it would be very appropriate if we have our music master, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler, lead us in singing "Happy Birthday" to the Speaker of the House.

(Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday").

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I suppose you have all noticed that during the singing of "Happy Birthday" to the Speaker, he was presented with a birthday cake on which there was no figure as to his age. I am going to take the privilege of saying to everyone that I am sure the Speaker will welcome you all coming down to get a bite of his birthday cake.

Happy Birthday, Mr. Speaker!

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, Speaker of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would judge from the sentiments expressed that there has perhaps been some revision of some views expressed concerning me in times past, because I assure you that upon occasion I have been called other things. You know the farmer trying to lead a calf across the bridge couldn't do it. A neighbor came up in an automobile and said, "I'll toot the horn, and that will drive the calf across the bridge." He gave the horn a big toot; the calf jumped over the side of the bridge into the creek. And the man said, "You have to agree that was an awfully loud toot for a very, very little calf."

To say that these observances do not move one is a mistake. I think the observances themselves are a mistake, but I cannot deny that they stir emotions and they stir memories. During the twenty years of service in this House one accumulates memories that you carry with you, that you think about, that come up as you work at whatever you may be working.

Over the years I have had a growing and abiding interest in the welfare of this House. I have seen many changes, many improvements made possible by the efforts not of the masses in this House, but by a smaller group, persons without anything to gain themselves. The gentleman from McKean is a member of that group, the gentleman from Northumberland conspicuously, the Member who has been interested in retirement, Mr. Mihm, the gentleman from Cameron, and, occasionally, the Member from Dauphin, whose help we have always cherished when we were able to get it.

So a goal has been achieved in the coming of the electric roll call. A goal was achieved when the compensation of the Members was raised. A goal was achieved when we gained an increased status as a coordinate branch of this government. There is much to be done before we achieve the stature that we should have.

I would be very much interested if this Legislature, this House, established the salary for the Members of this House as $6,000. What about per diem? I am not concerned. A General Assembly will convene in due season, and if the Members of that General Assembly cannot see their way clear to vote for themselves the per diem compensation to which Members of this House who do their work are entitled, if they do not do this, I am not going to labor this Session to do it for them.

I hope that when the next General Assembly convenes—I would like to see the $6,000 a year salary established now—there will be action taken to assure the working Members a per diem, and I hope that by that time we will be working during the interim among the committees, and that we will be paid for the time we spend. Now we have already consumed a lot of time.

You know quite a number of years ago Zeke went to town in an Indiana village and Martha was with him. They went into a drug store and there was something new there. Zeke asked what it was, and the druggist said "That's a sody water fountain." "Well, what does it make?" "Why, it makes sody water." "What does it cost?" "It's a nickel a glass." "Well, come on, Martha, have one." Martha said, "I'll have nothing to do with no new-fangled stuff." "Well," Zeke said, "I'll take one." So the druggist made him a glass full of soda water. He took a sip of it, and turned around to Martha and said, "Martha, come on and have one; it ain't nothin' but sweetened wind."

Now I am sure that back of the extravagant praise you have voiced today there was more—it wasn't sweetened wind, and through it all there was, I hope and I believe, the strain of sincerity. It was an awfully big toot for a little calf, but I assure you that I appreciate it, and I hope that come another Session I at least may be present in an advisory capacity.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I think it also very appropriate that we should recognize another birthday that is being celebrated today, and I am sure if this gentleman needs a pipeful of tobacco he will be able to get it from the Speaker of the House. The gentleman from Juniata, Mr. Zimmerman, is today celebrating his birthday. Mr. Dengler, let us sing "Happy Birthday" to Les.

("Happy Birthday" was sung by the Members).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Juniata, Mr. Zimmerman.

Mr. ZIMMERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I suspected a little bit of this. I only want to add that I hope when I am the age of the Speaker I am as worthy of recognition as the Speaker is of the recognition accorded him here today. Thank you very much.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. P. E. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered. The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. P. E. PERRY asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out "(5)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 2, lines 7 to 9, page 3, lines 1 to 20, page 4, lines 1 to 11, by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Perry. I believe the amendments offered by the gentleman would exempt from the provisions of the proposed bill certain types of organizations such as Man Power and, as commonly known, Kelly Girls. In this particular situation I request that we oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman.

Mr. P. E. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of these amendments is, as the Majority Leader stated, to exempt certain types of firms from the regulations of this bill. The firms that would be exempt if this amendment carries are what are called private contractors, I would call them, and not employment agencies. They are firms who furnish service to anyone who needs it. They furnish the help, they pay the help and they charge a fee to the user. It is not an employment agency. They do not charge a fee to the people they so place; therefore I consider them private contractors. If we follow the concept of this bill all the way, you would cover all kinds of private contractors, whether they be painters or farmers, who furnish labor on any job. Therefore I think these amendments should be approved.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I am not particularly in favor of this bill, but I had discussed these amendments previously with the gentleman from Philadelphia, and it seems to me these are very sensible amendments. I rise to support them, and I hope that all the Members will vote for the amendments.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I rise to support these amendments. I think they are well meant, and this help which is deleted from this bill is only temporary help—just as if your secretary was going away for a week's vacation, the Man Power will supply one for a week. It is just temporary employment. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1726, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929," approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire title to real property and to provide for the construction of public buildings thereon by rental purchase contracts.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, on the bill in question I rise to oppose this bill. I will make my reasons very brief. I am of the belief that it is far cheaper for the Commonwealth to buy the land, to erect the buildings on the land, utilizing, perhaps, Joint State Authority money, than to buy the land, have an individual erect the buildings and then rent the buildings to the state. I feel this bill will result in higher costs to the Commonwealth.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I oppose passage of this bill likewise. This bill was defeated on final passage, I believe, some months ago, and my reasons for being against the bill are outlined in the debate of that time. The principal feature of the bill that I oppose is the provision that the leased property will be exempt from local taxes, and this will cast an additional burden upon school districts and upon local authorities who need every dollar of taxation they can get. I believe it is unfair that people who speculate in land and buildings, and lease the property to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, should be exempted from paying taxation. I agree with the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, that we have a cheaper method of doing it, a direct method of the General State Authority. I do not think we should adopt or use this method. It opens the door to methods that I think would be unsound in our government today.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. I think it is about time the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania took advantage of some of the types of financing that business establishments in the Commonwealth and throughout the country and throughout the world are using. And that is this type of legislation, the so-called lease back. This would permit the Commonwealth to build without the investing of any funds. All the Members of the House know there is a debt limitation imposed upon the Commonwealth. There is also a debt limitation imposed upon the General State Authority.

I say to you that the last time this bill was before the House it was completely misunderstood. The fact that some local municipalities may lose taxation or not receive taxation is a consideration, it is true, but I think we have to look at the overall issue with which we are faced. This, I say to the Members of the House, is good legislation. It is legislation which the Republican Party supported in the past. It is my understanding that it emanated from the right side of the aisle in previous Sessions, and I am sure it is only through a misunderstanding by some of the Members that this bill was opposed the last time. Thank you.

Mr. BELL. Since I spoke at length the last time this bill failed in the House, I think that I should clarify the position I took then and take now. There was no misapprehension or misunderstanding on the speaker's part. This is a situation that is going to be of greater cost to the Commonwealth, and the Commonwealth should take the money that would go in here and put it in places like mental hospitals. For the sake of economy I say vote against this bill.

Mr. McCANN. House Bill 1726 is a bill that was debated on a prior date here in the House. The bill at that time was discussed for a considerable length of time, and later there was an amendment placed in the bill by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Jim, I believe, dealing with Game Commission land. The bill, I believe, is a very sensible bill, a system in which the Federal government operates in this field. As I mentioned at that time the bill originated from the fact that this was brought out in Appropriation Committee hearings, and certain members of the Republican party who were there at the hearings recommended such ideas to be incorporated into legislation dealing with the acquiring of land and construction of public buildings for rental by the Commonwealth. Mr. Speaker, I urge that we support this piece of proposed legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 325, Printer's No. 999

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 459, entitled:

An Act amending "The Permanent Registration Act for Cities of the Second Class Cities of the Second Class A Cities of the Third Class Boroughs Towns and Townships" approved April 29, 1937 (P. L. 487) changing provisions relating to cancellation of registration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. This is, as I take it, House Bill No. 459, which says in effect that you only have to vote once in four years to be kept on the voting rolls. This seems to be a step in the wrong direction and rather than making it a four-year proposition instead of two, it probably should be one. It is only good Americanism that people exercise the right of franchise which is the dearest thing we have in this Nation today. It seems rather irrational at this point to extend laziness in voting from a two-year period to four years. I would be very interested in hearing from the sponsor of the bill the rationale of the bill, its necessity at this time, and what it seeks to accomplish. Maybe he will give us an explanation that will sway us to vote for it, but at this time I believe on this side of the House almost everybody is against the bill as not being good government.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission of the House to discuss both House Bill No. 459 and House Bill 1152, companion bills dealing with permanent registration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection the gentleman may discuss both bills. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the only sound argument that exists in regard to the changing of the Registration Act from the present two-year period to the proposed four-year period in both of these bills is that history has shown us that here in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we have a very large segment of the population that votes Presidential elections only. For some reason unknown to the people except those themselves who do this, we have a great number of the people of this Commonwealth who vote Presidential elections and do not vote the in-between elective years. The present Act says that they may purge from the rolls, and they do, the people who do not vote two consecutive years. This is what the law is at the present time.

House Bill No. 459 covers all of the areas of the Commonwealth except the cities of the first class, and House Bill No. 1152 covers the first-class city permanent registration Act. Those who believe we should give every opportunity to every person, every right to vote and to be eligible to vote, favor such legislation. You have no way of convincing people; it is their own decision to vote on Presidential years and not on the other years. This proposed change in the legislation of these two Bills, both 459 and 1152, would give to those people an opportunity to be on the registration rolls, because it would carry the time from the present two years to four years. For that reason we have brought out here to the House both changes in this field, and we do ask support for the passage of these bills.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2273, Printer's No. 1564 and

House Bill No. 2302, Printer's No. 1600, were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2323, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "An act providing for equalization of assessed valuations of real property throughout the Commonwealth for use in determining the amount and allocation of Commonwealth subsidies to school districts * * *" providing for biennial certification of market values in odd numbered years and further regulating appeals and certifications.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STECKEL asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, next to last line of Title, by inserting after "tion": "eliminating the provision making the decision of the board final; requiring the board to make a written finding of fact and."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after "7": "and section 13."

Amend Bill, page 3, by inserting between lines 3 and 4: "Section 13. Objections by School Districts; Hearings; Basis for Future Valuations.—Any school district aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board affecting the amount of any Commonwealth subsidy payable to it, may, in writing, state its objections thereto, and shall thereupon be granted a hearing by the board at which hearing the board shall submit evidence and the district shall have the right to submit evidence for the purpose of showing that the findings of the board are incorrect, and to present arguments to substantiate its contentions. After carefully considering all evidence submitted and the arguments of the district, and based upon the same the board shall make such modifications and adjustments of its findings and computations as to it shall appear proper or it may dismiss the objections. In either event [the decision of the board shall be final] the board shall make a written finding of fact based upon all the evidence submitted. The valuations so adjusted shall form the basis upon which valuations for the purpose of determining the amounts of the Commonwealth subsidies shall be determined as hereinafter provided."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STECKEL. The amendments as proposed to the bill have nothing to do with the distribution of Moneys by the State Tax Equalization Board. They provide, however, for an appeal to be taken from the State Tax Equalization Board as one can be taken from any other administrative body.

Yesterday in this House there was a great deal of discussion concerning the right of appeal from the decision or the figures handed down by the State Tax Equalization Board. There is, however, no real right of appeal as it presently exists, because the three men who are appointed by the Governor set the figure on which all of the reimbursements of all the school districts of this Commonwealth are based, and they are the ones who hear the so-called appeal presently. The Administrative Code provides for appeals to be taken from all administrative agencies through the Commonwealth Court in Dauphin County. There was a specific denial on such an appeal in the State Tax Equalization Board Act. This amendment would delete that denial and would allow appeals as there are appeals allowed from every other administrative agency.

The second thing these amendments would do is require that the Board present testimony or evidence at the hearing at which the school district appears, and the Board would then make its findings of fact from the testimony educed, and the appeal could be taken from that.

Presently the State Tax Equalization Board does not have to introduce a single shred of evidence at the time of the hearings on an appeal. It can make its findings of fact by ignoring entirely the evidence from the school district.

Now these amendments would only place this administrative body, and allow the proper appeal by districts that feel offended by the decision of the Board. I think it is only in keeping with the due process of law provisions that we approve these amendments, and I ask everyone on both sides of the aisle to support them.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the Majority Leader desire to be recognized on the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman, Mr. Steckel?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STECKEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, inform us, if these amendments are placed into the bill and accepted, and a school district came into the State Tax Equalization Board and denied their change in market value of the teaching unit, on what basis then they would take it to the Dauphin County Commonwealth Court.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, the Administrative Code provides for appeals taken from administrative bodies to the Dauphin County Courts, and unless this is an exclusion, as presently exists specifically in the State Tax Equalization Board Act, that is the course provided for under the Administrative Code.

Mr. McCANN. No, I am asking the gentlemen whether their appeal to the Commonwealth Court under the Administrative Code would have to be made on the facts regarding the changes. Is that correct?

Mr. STECKEL. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Now, you stated, I believe, in your remarks here regarding these amendments, that this is the only Board from which there is no appeal?

Mr. STECKEL. Perhaps I may be wrong on that. It is one of the few. I do not know of any others from which there is no appeal. An appeal is generally allowed. There may be others. I do not know of any.

Mr. McCANN. There are other Boards now in the Commonwealth from which there is no appeal to a court.

In other words, if the school district felt that the information presented to the State Tax Equalization Board was not carried through properly, that there was some type of error, that they were not given a proper opportunity to present their case, they would then have this right of appeal where the court would hear them. Is that correct?

Mr. STECKEL. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Now, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform us, then, so that we may be clear in this situation, whether appeals could be taken to the Dauphin County Court, the Commonwealth Court, solely for the reason that the market value had been changed, even though it was correct, and they were losing state subsidy in the school district?

Mr. STECKEL. No, the appeal could not be taken unless there was first a hearing by the State Tax Equalization Board and the decision made there.

Mr. McCANN. Well, we will say, Mr. Speaker, that the decision of the State Tax Equalization Board to the school district was that the findings of the State Tax Equalization Board were correct in the amount of the market value of the respective school district. There are two thousand and some odd school districts in Pennsylvania. If in your school district the market value had been increased, rightfully so, by the State Tax Equalization Board, now solely by the fact that they have the right of appeal under these proposed amendments, they could then appeal to the courts—not that they had any new information but by virtue of the fact that their figures had been changed. Would that be the intention of this proposed appeal?

Mr. STECKEL. It would not be. They could not go direct.

Mr. McCANN. They could not?

Mr. STECKEL. No.

Mr. McCANN. They could go, though, if they felt the information furnished to the State Tax Equalization Board was incorrect, and the decision in refusing to change the figures would give them the right to be heard in a higher tribunal. Is that right?

Mr. STECKEL. Yes, that is right.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. STECKEL. May I make a further answer, Mr. Speaker? Presently there are some twenty-three hundred school districts, I believe, in the Commonwealth, and as of the final appeal date there were less than three hundred appeals taken to the State Tax Equalization Board. Accordingly, if these amendments were added, there would probably be only a small percentage of the two hundred-odd appeals that were taken to the State Tax Equalization Board which would then be appealed further. In all probability they would not approach the number of appeals taken to the Board.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman from Lehigh a couple of questions that would lead on further into the situation. Number one, the State Tax Equalization Board is a legislative arm, and the budget is adopted allocating the amount they operate under for a biennium, is that correct?

Mr. STECKEL. I believe so, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Now, can the gentleman tell us, in a situation in which the State Tax Equalization Board would now have to appear, we will say in the Dauphin County Court, if they would have to have solicitors or personnel to properly represent them in the Dauphin County Commonwealth Court?

Mr. STECKEL. They would have to, just as any board would have to have counsel.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell us, if these amendments and this bill pass, should we not then immediately change the amount of funds, whatever small additional amount it may be, to the State Tax Equalization Board for the necessary personnel that may be needed because some cases eventually would go to court? Would that be proper?

Mr. STECKEL. The Attorney General has the right to represent the Commonwealth in this case, I believe.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield for a moment, please. The Chair would like to request the Speaker return to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The interrogation will continue.

Mr. McCANN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Would the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, then inform us if in his opinion we should have some additional funds for personnel since they would be appearing in court now?

Mr. STECKEL. I do not believe that additional funds would be necessary because, as I explained, there were less than three hundred appeals taken to the Board itself, and of that number I am sure there would be a very small number of appeals to the court, if any.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman inform us, then, if he is aware of the small number of employees that constitute the entire employment in the State Tax Equalization Board?

Mr. STECKEL. I do not know the exact number but I am aware that it is a small number. However, they are experts in this field, and they would be the people of course to do the preparation of the case, and the representatives of the Attorney General's office would be the ones who would try it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, I believe should be placed in the bill. We base this decision on the following: We say that everything the State Tax Equalization Board has done is correct; we secondly state that those school districts have first the right of appeal to the Board, and Mr. Steckel is correct that there are less than three hundred out of the two thousand two hundred that have filed an appeal regarding their change in market values. Then, secondly, we believe that the courts are the proper place for final decision of such an appeal.

We also believe, Mr. Speaker, that other Boards in this Commonwealth now in the category in which the decision of the Board is final should definitely have the consideration of right of appeal to the courts, to the Commonwealth Court here in Dauphin County. Mr. Speaker, I favor the amendments offered by the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, and urge that they be placed in the bill and approved for final passage.

Mr. GAILEY. Now, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman advise me,—I do not have the advantage of having a copy of the amendments before me—is that all new language in the Act, or is that restating some of the present Act?

Mr. STECKEL. It restates some of the present language, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from York desire a copy of the amendments?

Mr. GAILEY. Yes, I would like to have them.

Will the gentleman tell me where in the amendments the individual district is given the right of appeal to the Commonwealth Court?

Mr. STECKEL. There is a deletion of the specific denial at about the fifth from the last line where it says "the decision of the board shall be final". That part has been deleted. Under the present Administrative Code an appeal is allowed from the State Tax Equalization Board except where specifically denied. In this case it was specifically denied, and therefore if that is deleted the right of appeal will exist.

Mr. GAILEY. Now, Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean to say that in view of the all-inclusive language of Section 13 which we heard read here today that the school board could not appeal from the decision of the Board merely on the basis that they disagreed with their valuation?

Mr. STECKEL. You mean presently?

Mr. GAILEY. No, if your amendments were accepted by this body.

Mr. STECKEL. I am sorry. Will you rephrase the question?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be a great deal of confusion in the House, and I think perhaps the gentleman did not hear me.

I asked the gentleman whether or not, in view of the all-inclusive language of Section 13, which we had read to us, here stating, and I quote in part, "Any school district aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board affecting the amount," et cetera, in view of that all-inclusive language does the gentleman mean to stand here on the floor and tell us that a school board could not appeal from the decision of the State Tax Equalization Board merely because they felt that the Board's valuation was incorrect?

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know if I understand the gentleman's question, but presently there is no right of appeal from the findings of the State Tax Equalization Board. It specifically says that the decision of the Board shall be final.

Mr. GAILEY. I will phrase the question this way, Mr. Speaker: Did not the gentleman in answer to interrogation by the Majority Leader state that the school board could not appeal from the findings of the State Tax Equalization Board, even with the proposed amendment were it to become law, solely on the basis that they disagreed with the State Tax Equalization Board's valuation of their property?

Mr. STECKEL. All I know, Mr. Speaker, is that this provides that after the hearing before the State Tax Equalization Board and the presentation by it of its findings of fact, the aggrieved district may, if it pleases, appeal the decision of the Board based on its findings of fact.

Mr. GAILEY. Well, does that not mean, Mr. Speaker, if the school board disagrees with the valuation as set by the State Tax Equalization Board, they could appeal that valuation to the court?

Mr. STECKEL. Well that would be the final purpose of the appeal, yes.

Mr. GAILEY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think perhaps, unintentionally I am sure, this body may have been misled by the answers of the gentleman from Lehigh to the interrogation of the Majority Leader. There is no question in my mind that if we put these amendments into the bill and enact it into the law, that any school district in the state would have the right to appeal on the findings, the valuation, the conclusion, the decision of the State Tax Equalization Board and could appeal that to the Dauphin County Court. There has been a great deal of controversy this year about the findings of the State Tax Equalization Board. It has been stated on the floor of the House that there have been 300 appeals to the State Tax Equalization Board itself on account of these findings. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the Members of this House, that not a minority of those 300 districts, but possibly a majority, perhaps almost all of them, if they were denied what they felt to be relief by the Board would appeal these valuations to the Dauphin County court, and I say to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the Members of this House, that this will cause a tremendous log jam in the program of the State Tax Equalization Board in effectively handling their determination of the fair market valuation of the districts in this Commonwealth.

This is a very, very substantial change, a big change in our present law as it deals with this particular agency. This is not something that should be taken lightly or just skipped over by the Members in their consideration today.

To allow the school districts the right of appeal to the court would, it seems to me in this situation, be a very, very serious mistake. The State Tax Equalization Board by its nature is particularly equipped to deal with this problem. I can conceive, and I think we will find, school districts will be appealing to the Dauphin County Court. This is not something that can be presented to a court in half an hour or a couple hours. You are going to have real estate appraisers in there, experts, evaluators; you are not going to be able to take an appeal from the action of the Board to the Dauphin County Court in the matter of half an hour or even half a day.

I say to you that this is a serious mistake if we take this amendment today, and I ask all the Members of the House to oppose it.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker has a very important appointment. Will the gentleman from Armstrong please come to the desk to preside temporarily?

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to answer the gentleman from York briefly.

The figures that the three men on that Board came up with go to the very heart in support of all the school districts, as to whether the appeals will be taken from their decision. I am sure that if the Board is required to present the evidence on which it based its figures, the number of appeals taken from there would certainly be diminished for this reason: presently an appealing district does not know on what basis the Board has based its figure. Consequently it feels aggrieved and goes in with an appeal. Under these amendments the Board would present the basis of its figures, which it does not now do nor is it now required to do so. It does not have to adduce any testimony whatsoever.

Now I want to make clear there is no criticism of the Board's action, the figures that they have maintained. This is a procedural right so that the school districts who do appeal will find out on what the figures are based that they have presented to them. And I believe in that case they will perhaps have the reason for their appeal evaporate—when they find out the basis for those figures.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I understand, as Mr. Gailey did from the previous interrogation by the Majority Leader that he wanted to know the basis on which the appeal could be taken, and from Mr. Steckel's answer it appeared to me it was not an all-inclusive right of appeal, that it was not just on the basis that they were not satisfied. I inferred that he meant an appeal would lie in a case where a mistake had been made, an error had been made.

Then when Mr. Gailey interrogated the gentleman it appeared that the amendments as offered covered the entire field of appeal. In other words, as he expressed himself, in the event the school district was not satisfied, that gave them the right of appeal.

Now I agree with the Majority Leader that there should be appeals from any administrative agency through the Commonwealth court, but we get ourselves in a situation here where there is a possibility of 2300 appeals, which would make an intolerable situation not only for the Commonwealth court but for this particular agency, the Tax Equalization Board.

It seems to me there ought to be some delineation of the right of appeal here, that you just do not have an absolute right of appeal. It ought to be a question of error, or not necessarily just because the school district is dissatisfied with the award that was made. I think more consideration ought to be given to this amendment. I think, if necessary, this bill ought to lie over, and some real study should be made of how far-reaching this amendment is, and see if it cannot possibly be worded in such a way that we delineate this right of appeal, whether it be on procedural grounds, factual grounds or law. I think it is too far-reaching, the amendments as proposed at the present time.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, the process for appeal is already set forth in the Administrative Code, and the appeal would lie as set forth there. The State Tax Equalization Board is already included in the Administrative Code. There is no amendment to that.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill together with the amendments, be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 142, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051) entitled "Public Assistance Law" further defining persons eligible for public assistance.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there was confusion on our side as to just what a foster home is in this bill. As I understand the bill it amends the public assistance law by further defining persons eligible for public assistance, to make persons living in foster homes eligible for such assistance. Would you please explain what a foster home is within the meaning of this particular amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, a foster home is defined in two ways; first when you are dealing with children, and when you are dealing with adults. This deals with adults. A foster home is any home in which the county institutional district approves the placing of the individual in a home other than that of a relative of the person involved. For example, if I had a relative, a brother or sister, in the county institution district, and the county institution district desired to place him or her in a foster home, they could not place them in my home; they are my blood relatives. A foster home, speaking of adults, lies under the complete jurisdiction of the county institution district.

A foster home for children falls under the county institutional district in conjunction with the bureau dealing with children. There is another problem in which many items of religion and other things come into it in young children, but in adults, no.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Another question then. Where would the county institution district be able to ascertain this definition of foster home which you have just given us? Is it in the Public Assistance Code, or is it in the rules and regulations of the department?

Mr. McCANN. It is in the rules and regulations of the Department of Public Welfare. The purpose behind this bill and the definition as needed is as follows: In various counties now they have county hospital homes, even. The patients, as they are called, are in the hospital, and they become somewhat better, thank goodness, or they improve, and to create the space, they can move these patients to foster homes where the county institution district, as well as the Commonwealth, assists in keeping these people. This law is needed for that purpose.

The Department of Public Welfare this morning, in a conference with the Secretary of that Department, Mrs. Ruth Gregg Horting, stated that no regulations can be written which can override the definition as given now because the county institution district has the responsibility, and they write and recommend the homes to be approved.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. T. H. W. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION

MONTGOMERY COUNTY

Messrs. T. H. W. JONES, R. P. JOHNSON, Willaredt, BRENNINGER, FETTEROLF and Mrs. HENZEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 10, 1959.

Today, September 10, 1959, marks the 175th Anniversary of the founding of Montgomery County.

The scenic area now known as Montgomery County played an important role in the founding of our young and struggling colonies. It is there that such historic sites as Valley Forge Park and Fort Washington Park attest to and recall to our minds the great sacrifices that were made by our forefathers in establishing our freedom and democratic way of life.

Throughout the years, Montgomery County has prospered and played an important role in the history of our Commonwealth. Several governors and numerous outstanding legislators in both State and Federal Government have been residents of Montgomery County; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends to Montgomery County its hearty congratulations on the 175th Anniversary of its founding.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mrs. ANDERSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by her.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mrs. ANDERSON, Messrs. SCHWARTZ, HOLT, HEAVEY, DOUGHERTY, MULLEN and J. P. O'DONNELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 10, 1959.

Former State Senator John J. McCreesh passed away Wednesday, September 9, 1959, at his home at 4202 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at the age of 83.

John J. McCreesh was born in County Armagh, Ireland, in 1881, attended public schools there, and came to Philadelphia at an early age where he became engaged in the garage and real estate business. Senator McCreesh first became interested in politics in 1926, and in 1928 he organized a campaign for Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, running for President. He was elected to the Pennsylvania State Senate in 1934 and served through 1946; was reelected in 1950 and served until 1958, when he retired.

Throughout the more than twenty years that John J. McCreesh served as a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, he capably and consistently worked for legislation for the betterment of his constituency and Pennsylvania as a whole. Among the many laws which he was instrumental in enacting were the blind pension bill in 1935, phases of the Workmen's Compensation Act of 1937, the weekly day-off bill for Philadelphia policemen, the Sunday polo bill, and the Commodore Barry Day bill.

In our many years of association with John McCreesh, we learned to honor and respect him as a gentleman and a devoted public servant. His long and outstanding service will serve as an inspiration for all of us, and especially for his son, Senator Thomas P. McCreesh, who is now carrying on in his father's footsteps; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania pause a moment in memory of our friend, Senator John J. McCreesh, and express our most sincere sympathy to his loved ones upon their recent loss and bereavement; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to Senator Thomas P. McCreesh as the representative of the survivors of John J. McCreesh.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, if I am in order, I would like to say just a word on that resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and may speak on the resolution.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, although my name is not on that resolution, since the late Senator McCreesh was a close personal friend of mine, I feel constrained to add a few words as to the type of man he was. He was one of the most colorful men who ever graced the halls of either chamber of the House. He was a great sportsman and a man of charity. We regret and mourn his loss, and I feel his loss is an irreplaceable one in the Hall of this Legislature. I know his family. He was an outstanding family man. I know his children well. The loss is a great one, and I think this resolution is a fine thing.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

Almighty God, Thou hast endowed Thy children with the divine gift of law, by its order to dispel anarchy, through its direction to attain community progress and by its insights to dispense justice.

In this historic Hall are those whose utilization of this law will determine the welfare of our beloved Commonwealth. We pray, O Heavenly Father, that the holy nature of their work will guide them in their deliberations, and that from their collective insights the physical and spiritual growth of Pennsylvania will be assured.

By our efforts, may the principles so vividly enunciated within our Commonwealth three centuries ago become the inspiration for people throughout the earth, elevating them to their own democratic self-determination and thus assuring to our weary world the balm of Thy promised universal peace. Amen.

SENATE RESOLUTION

"COMMODORE JOHN BARRY DAY"

Messrs. McCREESH, WEINER and ROONEY offered the following resolution (Serial No. 63), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

Sunday, September 13, was the anniversary of the birth of John Barry, the Irish immigrant who became the father of the American navy.

Commodore Barry commanded the first American fleet to sail from Philadelphia and engage the British navy in battle. Commanding the "Lexington" he captured the "Edward," the first British naval vessel taken by the Americans. During the remainder of the war, he captured three more British ships.

Commodore Barry's contribution to the success of the American Revolution was of such importance that without it our victory was indeed doubtful, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania officially take note of "Barry Day" and command all those taking part in ceremonies doing honor to this great Irish-American hero, who was so closely associated with our State.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

WORLD REFUGEE YEAR

Messrs. WEINER, BERGER, McCREESH, KALMAN and BARR offered the following resolution (Serial No. 119), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

Whereas, Pennsylvania was founded out of concern for the oppressed, and

Whereas, the existence of millions of refugees in the world today presents a challenging opportunity for alleviation of their plight, and

Whereas, the United States has recognized the extent and gravity of the international refugee situation by designating a World Refugee Year, co-sponsoring a United Nations resolution which overwhelmingly passed the last General Assembly, and

Whereas, the President of the United States in a Proclamation has urged all United States citizens to support generously the programs developed by the United States Committee for Refugees and by other voluntary welfare agencies, therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (the House of Representatives concurring) record its approval of the observance of World Refugee Year between July 1, 1959 and June 30, 1960, and recommends the wholehearted support of its humanitarian objectives by the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Messrs. MULLIN, KELLER, WALKER, and SEYLER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 120), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

The abolition of capital punishment is an extremely controversial subject and one which should be approached with a knowledge of all available facts and statistics. In order that the General Assembly may intelligently consider such legislation, it is imperative that a thorough study be made to make this information available; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake an intensive study of capital punishment and its effect upon society, and to submit its findings, together with its recommendations on whether or not capital punishment should be abolished in this Commonwealth, to the next session of the General Assembly.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

CONGRATULATING THE BOROUGH OF DOWNINGTOWN ON THE ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF ITS INCORPORATION

Mr. HARNEY offered the following resolution (Serial No. 64), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

This year the Borough of Downingtown is celebrating the 100th anniversary of its incorporation. Although not incorporated until 1859, the area was known as Downingtown for nearly one hundred years prior to that time. First settled in 1710, the community steadily grew and became an important industrial center to the early settlers and played an extremely important part in the French and Indian War and later in the American Revolution. Halfway between Philadelphia and Lancaster, it was the lodging place for travelers journeying between those cities and thus its famous inns were host to many of the famous patriots of the time, including General George Washington, and the Continental Congress who held one session there.

The community is proud of its heritage and proud of its prominent place in the history of our State and our Nation; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulate the Borough of Downingtown on this one hundredth anniversary if its incorporation, and commend the people of Downingtown for the wonderful display of community spirit and pride which marks their centennial celebration; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate congratulate the Downingtown Centennial Celebration Committees Directors and Officers on the success of their endeavor and express our gratitude for the many hours of hard work they put into it.

EXTOLLING THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE DEDICATION OF THE MEMORIAL BUILDING AT WASHINGTON CROSSING ON SEPTEMBER 19, 1959

Mr. KELLER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 65), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

On Christmas night 1776, George Washington's most famous military exploit—crossing the ice-jammed Delaware River to Trenton where he courageously defeated the British—provided America with what has been called its "Very Own Christmas Story."

This brilliant attack, organized and launched on Pennsylvania soil, was accomplished through the heroism of a handful of patriot soldiers and regiment of seafaring men from Marblehead, Massachusetts, who risked their lives for liberty.

To commemorate this famous crossing of the Delaware, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, on July 25, 1917, by Act of Assembly, authorized Washington Crossing State Park as a living memorial. A brownstone monument in the park marks the site of the crossing.

On July 10, 1958, the ground was broken for the Washington Crossing Memorial Building to be dedicated Saturday, September 19, 1959. Built in the form of a keystone, thus honoring Pennsylvania as the site on which the key event of the Revolution occurred, this building is honored by the presence of America's favorite historical painting, "Washington Crossing the Delaware," by Emanuel Leutze. This magnificent oil was presented by John S. Kennedy, President of the Museum, to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, who have kindly lent it to the Washington Crossing State Park.

The memorial building where this wonderful painting will be displayed will be more than a reception center, however. The painting will be shown in an impressive setting with patriotic background music and a recording emphasizing the highlights of this heroic period in American and Pennsylvania history.

Resolved, That the members of the Senate in the name of the people of Pennsylvania join the entire nation in extolling the significance of the dedication of the memorial building at Washington Crossing on September 19, 1959, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Washington Crossing Park Commission, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and to the Town council of Marblehead, Massachusetts.

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO LOUIS G. FELDMANN UPON BEING ELECTED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Messrs. FLACK, MURRAY and VAN SANT offered the following resolution (Serial No. 66), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

Louis G. Feldman of Hazleton, an attorney, was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States at the organization's 60th annual National Convention in Los Angeles, California, on September 4, 1959.

The third Marine veteran to hold the top national office in this organization, Mr. Feldmann enlisted as a private in the United States Marine Corps early in World War II and served in the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre of Operations with the 3rd Marine Division. He was discharged with the rank of Sergeant.

Shortly after he joined Post 589, Hazleton, Pennsylvania, Mr. Feldmann became active in Veterans affairs and has been an outstanding figure in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, having held many local and national offices before his election as Commander-in-Chief. As chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Loyalty Day Committee, he has distinguished himself for his efforts in combatting communism and promoting the American way of life.

A practicing attorney in the Hazleton-Wilkes-Barre area, Mr. Feldman is also a member of numerous civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations and has toured the nation in behalf of better citizenship, youth problems and a wider participation by citizens in community affairs.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can be justly proud of the great achievements of this man, a citizen who has brought honor not only to himself but to the Commonwealth as well; therefore be it

Resolved, That the congratulations and best wishes of the Senate of Pennsylvania be extended to Louis G. Feldman and to all the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in the Commonwealth for attaining and bringing to Pennsylvania such high honors; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Louis G. Feldman and to Post 589, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Hazleton, Pennsylvania.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 2031, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519), entitled "The Borough Code" increasing the amount of contracts in which borough officials may have no interest.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I spoke on this bill before and I believe other people also have. I think this is bad legislation in that the present law provides that no borough official can be interested in a contract to supply the borough with materials or service in an amount in excess of $300. If he is so interested, he must notify the council and refrain from voting under the penalty of a $500 fine. This bill merely raises that $300 to $600. As we have discussed before, I believe that inflation has hit all parts of our economy. I think possibly this is a recognition that in corruption, there might be some room for inflation also.

I think the $300 limitation is a bad one. I think there should be no conflict of interest between anyone who is a borough official and a matter affecting the borough, whether it be $300, $200 or any amount of money. I think it was bad legislation when it originally was enacted and I think this just takes it one step further. I believe if anyone has a personal interest in any of these matters, they should refrain completely from having any part or parcel with it. If they do want to engage in selling services or having anything to do with the borough, then they should not be a borough official or have any connection with the government. In effect, you get into the situation where you have log rolling or, "If you scratch my back, I will do likewise for you." I think that is always bad because it leads to many, many other abuses.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this legislation.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have no particular interest in this legislation except to point out, as the gentleman has very aptly said, that $600 now does not buy more than $300 would have bought some time in the past. Whether the principle is correct in having a member of the borough council deal with the borough itself is debatable, but it has been the law for a good while.

However, Mr. President, there are a number of instances—I am sure we can all think of some—where it would be difficult for the borough to buy certain articles if it did not deal with one of the other members of the council because they happen to be the only ones around to sell that particular type of merchandise.

Therefore, Mr. President, I see nothing particularly objectionable in this. Although, as to the principle of dealing with the community itself, I have no comment.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think it might be somewhat of a questionable coincidence that the man who takes part in the borough government might be the only one who sells material or services to the particular borough. I think it would behoove that gentleman to remove himself from the borough administration in order for him not to be tainted with that brush. That not being the case, however, I think we should vote "no" on this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 535, Printer's No. 571, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in 1951, I introduced a bill here to allow third class cities to assess land and buildings separately. There are forty-seven third class cities in this State.

This bill, Senate Bill No. 535, adds a little privilege to those third class cities. It allows them to put a different rate of taxation on lands and buildings.

Back in Pittsburgh, in 1909, we had a great mayor, a Republican, William A. Magee. He came to this Legislature and he got a bill through which exempted the taxing of machinery in Pittsburgh and Scranton. Then he came back here in 1913 and he got a bill through that allowed second class cities to tax lands and buildings separately, and at different rates. Well, in those days we had what we called the Schenley Farms in the east end of Pittsburgh. There was nothing on those farms except cows. It was assessed at one-third of its value. However, the taxes were doubled on land in Pittsburgh and Scranton, and today there is not a vacant foot where the farm used to be located. Beautiful homes are built on every foot of grounds on the Schenley Farms.

When this 1951 bill was before us, Senator McMenamin made a few remarks. He said that Scranton, before 1951, was becoming a ghost town. He said that the coal was all mined around there, and in one corner of Scranton, there were forty-five vacant homes. He said the people of Scranton, the Chamber of Commerce and civic bodies, got busy to advertise Scranton. They said, "If you come to Scranton, we will not tax your machinery and we will tax your buildings only half of what we tax the land." In 1951, he said that thirty-five new industries had come to Scranton.

That same day I said something about Pittsburgh. I said it was the most booming city in the world. I said the steel company moved its offices from New York to Pittsburgh and built a building consisting of forty-five stories.

The Aluminum Company came from New York and erected an aluminum building, thirty-four stories high. The Equitable came from New York and spent $55,000,000 building office buildings. They are building another one today, costing $20,000,000. The Hilton Hotels are building a hotel in Pittsburgh today which will cost $20,000,000.

Senator Blass was in Pittsburgh last week and he told me today that he was amazed at the progress in the heart of the city of Pittsburgh.

In 1905, in my senior year at Cornell University, we had lectures in political economy. One lecturer was Henry George, Jr. His father, Henry George, wrote the book called "Progress and Poverty." That book, "Progress and Poverty," has been printed in every language in the world, and today they say it has the widest circulation of any book in the world, except the Bible. Henry George, in his book, "Progress and Poverty," must have said something.

I hope by what I have said here today that I can induce every Senator on this floor to go to a library when they get home and get a copy of "Progress and Poverty," and read it from cover to cover.

Mr. President, Senator Stiefel has reminded me that I forgot something and I did. I did not want to hold you here too long.

Henry George, Jr., said to me, "McGinnis, in Pennsylvania, if you rob a chicken coop, they will fine you once, but if you build one, they will fine you every year."

He said, "Never tax a thing that is made by the hand. If you do, you will drive it out of use, or have less of it."

I know that here in Harrisburg, for instance, if we put a tax tonight on drinking glasses of one dollar, tomorrow every store in Harrisburg will raise the cost of that glass one dollar and more. If you put a tax of $200 on every lot in Harrisburg tonight, tomorrow morning the price of land will go down in Harrisburg. In other words, if you tax anything that is made by the hand, you will have less of it, and you will drive it out of use. However, if you put a tax on land, you do not change the quantity and you will drive it into use.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

LOUIS G. FELDMANN,
NATIONAL COMMANDER OF VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I notice in the Hall of the Senate a distinguished visitor and his wife, Mr. Louis G. Feldmann, of Hazleton, who was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at that organization's Sixtieth Annual National Convention in Los Angeles, California, on September 4, 1959. Mrs. Feldman is also with him.

I thought perhaps the Chair might be inclined to introduce the gentleman and his wife from the dias, and invite him to speak to the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair most certainly extends a cordial invitation to Commander Feldmann to come to the rostrum.

(Commander Feldmann approached the rostrum.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair, at this time, has the great honor of presenting to his colleagues in the Senate, the new National Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Louis G. Feldmann, of Luzerne County.

REMARKS BY LOUIS G. FELDMANN

Mr. FELDMANN. Senator Scott and Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, I am going to be extremely brief and boil down everything I have to say.

This a great honor and a great thrill for me today. I just want to say to many of you what I used to say when I worked around the rail ten, twelve or fifteen years ago. Much good veterans' legislation is not labeled "Veterans' Legislation." You have a terrific record herein Pennsylvania for veterans' legislation of all kinds. I want to point out to you that the great desire of every veteran is to work and to remain in the Commonwealth. Therefore, I would merely like to thank you for two fine pieces of work that you have already done and hope you continue. One is the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, which in my own area has already given jobs to over 1,000 men, and we will have 2,000 more on the payroll before the year is over, thanks to you people. The other is the highway program which is going to change many of the areas of Pennsylvania from isolated outposts to places which will develop and help yield the taxes that I just heard talked about, regardless of how they come.

I want to thank all of you and hope that the Legislature and the Senate of Pennsylvania will continue to be as progressive minded in the years to come as it has been in the past. I say that to you with all the sincerity I can muster, regardless of what some other people may say.

Thank you very much.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I wonder if Mrs. Feldmann would please rise?

I might say to you, Commander Feldmann, that we most certainly wish for you a most successful tenure in office. We know that you will be a great credit to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

BILL ON THIRD READING

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1566, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 10, 1951 (P. L. 1163) entitled as amended "Orphans' Court Act of 1951" conferring exclusive jurisdiction of control of decedent's burial on the orphans' court and giving it concurrent jurisdiction with regard to guardians of the person of incompetents.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, first line by inserting after the word "court" the following: "except in counties of the First Class"; Amend Section 301, page 2, line 4, by inserting after the word "court" the following: "except in counties of the First Class"; Amend Section 302, page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "court" the following: "except in counties of the First Class"; Amend page 3, line 4, by inserting after "incompetent" a new Section to read: "Section 2 this act shall not apply to counties of the First Class"; Amend page 3, line 5 by striking out "two" and inserting: "three".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this bill is a bill that is the result of work done in the Joint State Government Commission. Senator Stiefel has shown me his amendments and said that it was the discussion in the Joint State Government Commission Task Force that Philadelphia should be exempt from the operation of this Act. I do not recall that action and, after hearing from the gentleman, I am going to request that the bill go over in order, without the amendments being voted on, so that we may determine the action of the Task Force, if that is agreeable to Senator Stiefel.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, am I to understand that the amendments will remain on the table until they are called up again, or shall I withdraw the amendments, temporarily?

Mr. BERGER. I would suggest that you hold the amendments until we are able to find out something from the Task Force Report.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am sure the learned Majority Leader has much on his mind and is crushed by the burdens of his work, but if he will consult the minutes of the Joint State Government Commission, he will find that I took, in due time, a position on it and I believe the wisdom of my position was recognized at that time.

AMENDMENTS TEMPORARILY WITHDRAWN

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I will withdraw my amendments temporarily.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 14, 1959.

Louis G. Feldmann of Hazleton, an attorney, was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States at the organization's 60th annual Convention in Los Angeles, California, on September 4, 1959.

The third Marine veteran to hold the top national office in this organization, Mr. Feldman enlisted as a private in the United States Marine Corps early in World War II and served in the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre of Operations with the 3rd Marine Division. He was discharged with the rank of Sergeant.

Shortly after he joined Post 589, Hazleton, Pennsylvania, Mr. Feldmann became active in Veterans affairs and has been an outstanding figure in the Veterans of Foreign Wars having held many local and national offices before his election as Commander-in-Chief. As chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Loyalty Day Committee he has distinguished himself for his efforts in combatting communism and promoting the American way of life.

A practicing attorney in the Hazleton-Wilkes-Barre area, Mr. Feldmann is also a member of numerous civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations and has toured the nation in behalf of better citizenship, youth problems and a wider participation by citizens in community affairs. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can be justly proud of the great achievements of this man, a citizen who has brought honor not only to himself but to the Commonwealth as well; therefore be it

Resolved, That the congratulations and best wishes of the House of Representatives be extended to Louis G. Feldmann and to all the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in the Commonwealth for attaining and bringing to Pennsylvania such high honors; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Louis G. Feldman and to Post 589, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Hazleton, Pennsylvania.

The Committee escorted Commander-in-Chief Feldmann to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER. It is an honor and a privilege to present to Commander Feldmann a Resolution citing the fact that he has rendered distinguished service not only to his local community, but also to the state of Pennsylvania. He has a record of serving well in the national arena, and in recognition of his services, local, state and national he has been awarded the high office that it has been his fortune to achieve.

Commander Feldmann, I now present to you this Resolution, passed by the House, and also have the privilege of presenting you to the Members of this part of our General Assembly. Commander Feldmann.

ADDRESS BY COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF
LOUIS FELDMANN

Commander-in-Chief Feldmann. Mr. Speaker and members of the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, may I thank you for the great honor you have bestowed not only upon me, but upon one million three hundred thousand members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the four hundred thousand members of the Ladies Auxiliary, by inviting me to address you.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has an excellent record insofar as Veterans are concerned.

There are many laws in the Statute Books that have aided and assisted Veterans of all wars in resuming their proper place in our society.

There are many laws in the Statute Books that are helpful to Veterans' Organizations in properly observing Memorial Day and Veterans Day, and in paying homage to those who have served their country.

The State Veterans Commission is an outstanding example of a beneficial Bill that has been intelligently administered without regard to political considerations.

May I thank you and your predecessors who have enacted this legislation, and may I, through you, thank those who have administered it in an efficient and thoughtful manner.

However, I would be remiss in my duties if I did not point out to you that the great desire of every Veteran, worthy of the name, is to work and help build our great Nation.

Some of the finest Veteran legislation is not labelled as such. An outstanding example of this is the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Act.

Therefore, gentleman, I welcome this opportunity to thank you, not only on behalf of the Veterans of the State of Pennsylvania, but on behalf of every citizen of the Commonwealth, for your actions in providing funds for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority and for our interstate highway program.

Being personally associated with the CAN-DO organization in Hazleton, I have seen the results, and they are very tangible ones. During the three years since the inception of this Act, and because of the Act, there has been secured for our area alone eleven industries, eight of whom have used the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority financing, and have provided potential jobs for 3,000 men, over 1,000 of whom are actually working now.

It has been my privilege to watch the change that has occurred in our community from a depressed area where people were leaving daily, to one that is rapidly stabilizing, and becoming again a strong area within the Commonwealth.

Let me point out to you some of the things that you have accomplished by this Pennsylvania Industrial Development Act.

Waste land has become Industrial land.

Real Estate tax income has increased accordingly.

The revenue from the corporate taxes from this area has increased.

Countless men have been removed from public assistance rolls and from drawing unemployment compensation.

You have changed the despondent into useful citizens.

You have enlarged the industrial capacity of the area and the Commonwealth.

These are only the direct results. The indirect results are legion.

To me and to the Organization which I represent, this is one of the healthiest partnership programs between private enterprise and government in the history of our Nation. The money which you have appropriated from the general fund will not only be returned, but will be returned with interest, and some day in the foreseeable future will become a perpetuating fund which will enable Pennsylvania to continue to be the foremost State in the industrial and economic progress of our Nation.

It is the hope of everyone in the so-called depressed areas in Pennsylvania that the Appropriation Bill to provide funds for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority for the next biennium will be speedily passed in its present form so that industrial expansion may continue throughout the Commonwealth.

May I also point out that your action in the House of Representatives in providing funds for the interstate highway program demonstrates your responsibility as elected Representatives of the people.

You have displayed the vision accredited to you by the electorate.

These interstate highways, particularly the Keystone Shortway and the Anthracite Expressway, will create for Pennsylvania a network of the means of transportation which will continue to keep Pennsylvania as the Keystone State.

The future development of commerce for the entire State of Pennsylvania depends upon the development, and quickly, of a modern highway system—a system that will benefit great areas of the State, and contribute to all of the State. These highways that I have talked about will literally link the Commonwealth with all the Nation, for avenues of Commerce, Border to Border, and Coast to Coast.

Gentleman, I do not need to tell you the interstate highway program must be continued and at a rapid pace if Pennsylvania is to advance in population growth, economic growth and taxing revenue. Let me urge you to act and act expeditiously on all the facts of this vital highway program at once.

No part of our great Commonwealth must be neglected.

The entire Commonwealth must be strong for the Commonwealth to be great. Every State must be great for our Nation to continue its leadership in the world.

May I thank you again for having allowed me to appear before you and to assure you that if you continue the development of industry in Pennsylvania through the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, and through the development of the great interstate highways, these things will result in the economic progress for all in our Commonwealth. They will result in economic progress for the Nation. They thus will contribute to the peace of the world, and the defeat of communism.

Let me congratulate you for what you have done, and hope that you will have the vision to see that Pennsylvania can always be a great Commonwealth if you, as the members of the Legislature, continue to have the foresight, the courage, the fortitude and the appreciation of the true greatness of Pennsylvania which lies not only in its natural resources or in its strategic position, but lies in the greatness of its people who want to build a better Commonwealth, a greater Nation, and a peaceful world. Thank you.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Resolutions on pages 18, 19 and 20 of today's calendar.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 40

The SPEAKER laid before the house, House Resolution No. 40 which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 10, 1959.

Recent actions and activities of The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association have not been in the best interest of furtherance of sports within this Commonwealth

The Pennsylvania Farm Show Arena has been made available for interscholastic athletic activities at an expense in the vicinity of $100,000 but the group which heretofore was ceaseless in its demands to make such facilities available is now reluctant to fully utilize them

This seemingly inconsistent behavior on the part of the officials of the PIAA is difficult to understand as are other recent actions of said officials therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate the policies and operations of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

A division was called for, ninety-eight Members having voted in the affirmative and fifty in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 52

The SPEAKER laid before the House, Resolution No. 52 which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1959.

The economic well being of the people of this Commonwealth depends upon the retention and increase of its industrial strength and the provision of adequate employment for its citizens.

In recent years certain industries especially the "soft-goods" industries have been enticed to move to other states by the prospect of cheap labor with a resulting loss in employment for Pennsylvania workers in these industries.

It is in the interest of this Commonwealth to sustain the standard of living of its citizens protect its industries and workers and combat unemployment in every possible manner.

An increased Federal minimum wage is the only means by which the unfair competition of cheap labor can be equalized therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorializes the Congress of the United States and calls upon it to increase the Federal minimum wage to $1.25 and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate of the Congress of the United States of America and to the President of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

A division was called for, more than a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 59

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 59 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 15, 1959.

There is widespread dissatisfaction in this Commonwealth with the present laws relating to the condemnation of private property for public purposes and with the procedure in effect thereunder for determining the amount of damages to be awarded in connection with such takings This dissatisfaction is increasing because of highway extension programs suburban expansion urban redevelopment municipal growth and public authority activities It has been heightened further because of the lack of uniformity in law and procedure as evidence in the multifarious laws under which the various condemnors in this State must now act The courts have been handicapped in developing satisfactory procedures to aid in arriving at substantial justice between the parties involved because of these statutory variances and because of judicial precedents which originated largely during the agrarian period of the Commonwealth's history and which fail to take into consideration the problems created by a changing economy the expanding population and a revised concept of what constitutes public use.

A thorough and exhaustive study of all statutes on the subject of eminent domain now in force in this Commonwealth should be made and in addition comparable legislation of other states should be examined for the purposes of

(1) Developing a single procedure if possible to provide for a determination of compensation to be paid in all cases regardless of the identity of the condemnor

(2) Providing for the use of court-appointed appraisers but permitting the parties to offer additional testimony if they so desire

(3) Providing for payment to condemnors and other interested parties of a percentage of the value of the property taken as determined by the court-appointed appraisers within a definite period of time following the filing of their appraisal report in court

(4) Developing a more workable and modern definition of "just compensation" which shall be applicable to all condemnors alike

(5) Defining "time of taking" so that it shall be uniform in practice for all condemnors

(6) Requiring condemnors to institute proceedings for determination of dangers payable within a definite period of time following the taking

(7) Requiring such damage proceedings to be instituted against the owners of all of the property taken

(8) Requiring that notice be given to all owners of property taken within a definite period of time after the taking

(9) Requiring that personal or mailed notice of taking be given to tenants mortgagees and other lienholders of record of the property taken

(10) Giving tenants mortgagees and other lienholders the statutory right to intervene and participate in damage proceedings to protect their respective interests in the damages to be paid

(11) Requiring that a description of the property taken be recorded in the Recorder of Deed's office

(12) Requiring that a notice of taking be filed in the Recorder of Deed's office indexing the condemnee's name in the grantor index and the condemnee in the grantee index

(13) Requiring that the Commonwealth be made liable as other condemnors are for consequential damages.

(14) Prohibiting condemnors from acquiring base fee interests in the property taken and

(15) For making such other improvements in the law and procedure pertaining to this subject as may after such study prove to be equitable and just therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate exhaustively the law and procedure relating to the exercise of the right to condemn property for public purposes in Pennsylvania and for the payment of damages therefor with a view toward proposing a complete revision and codification thereof into one statute in order to eliminate present inconsistencies produce uniformity in practice and procedure assure just and equitable treatment between all interested parties and in general improve the administration of justice in this field of law and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations and submit thereto a draft of codifying legislation which carries into effect such recommendations.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 79

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 79 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 2, 1959.

Whereas The laws of this Commonwealth relating to agriculture and its related fields are numerous. Many of them are obsolete since we have entered into the era of modern farming and animal husbandry and

Whereas Local governmental agencies and other law enforcement agencies are unaware of existing statutes and in many cases duplicate ordinances or ordinances in conflict with existing state laws are sometimes enacted and

Whereas Inquiries are always being presented in reference to the laws relating to agriculture and many times there is misunderstanding and confusion which results in unnecessary expenditures of the tax payers money and

Whereas There is no codification of the agriculture laws and the acts dealing with farms and farming therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the laws relating to agriculture and its related fields and be it further

Resolved That the Joint state Government Commission revise and modernize the existing laws and draft a proposed codification and report to the next regular session of the General Assembly as to its findings and recommendations.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 82

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 82 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1959.

The laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating to the safety of persons employed housed or assembled in public buildings and other buildings and structures which accommodate a number of persons are in many instances obsolete and badly in need of revision .

Due to the advances which have been made throughout the years in the design and construction of buildings and the means of protecting such buildings and the persons therein the same cannot be adequately governed by an act adopted over thirty years ago therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study of the act of April 27, 1927 (P. L. 465), sometimes referred to as the "Fire and Panic Act" and the amendments thereto and related laws for the purpose of recommending a revision and modernization thereof and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 83

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 83 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 10, 1959.

The Congress under the Provisions of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956 declared it essential in the national interest to provide for the early completion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways which shall be in the Continental United States and shall not exceed forty-one thousand miles in length; and

The Congress provided that the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways shall be so located as to connect as directly as practicable the principal metropolitan areas, cities and industrial areas and to serve the national defense; and

The Congress provided that the routes be selected by joint action of the State Highway Departments of each State and the adjoining States subject to the approval of the Secretary of Commerce; and

To provide for the early completion of this most important National System of Interstate and Defense Highways and for the best interests of the national economy the States with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce selected as part of the System certain toll and free highways already constructed or in various stages of construction; and

The selection of these toll and free highways as part of the Interstate System both expedited the use of parts of the System and obviated the immediate expenditure of certain Federal Funds; and

The expenditure of State Funds State Guaranteed Funds and Funds raised by bond issues placed on certain States and the users of their toll highways a burden greater than that placed on States in which no toll or free highways had been incorporated in the Interstate System; and

The initial recommendation and proposals to the Congress were to reimburse the State in accordance with prescribed formulae for the toll and free highways incorporated in the Interstate System; and

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has some 388.2 miles of toll and free highway with a net reimbursable value of $287,000,000.00 incorporated in the Interstate Highway System; and

If the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is not reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the Interstate System, the result will be the citizens business and industry in one portion of the State will be paying toll to pursue their activities while those in other portions of the State can pursue their activities free of toll; and

It is inequitable to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania to have contributed disproportionately to those in other States for free highways in Pennsylvania incorporated in the Interstate Highway System and for the citizens business and industry in one portion of the Commonwealth to pay tolls to pursue their activities while in other portions of the Commonwealth the citizens pursue similar activities free of toll; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby declares that a. It is only equitable and fair that the States be reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways;

b. The Principal of the intent to reimburse the States be definitely established by the Congress as early as possible;

c. The actual reimbursement should start as soon as possible but must in nowise interfere with the "intent of the Congress that the Interstate System be completed as nearly as practicable over a thirteen year period and that the entire system be brought to simultaneous completion." Nor should it interfere with the planned allocations to the States for the Primary Secondary and Urban Systems;

d. The funds received by the States from the Federal Government be utilized;

(1) To liquidate the cost of toll roads on the Interstate System including the liquidation of any outstanding bonds constituting a valid lien against such toll roads;

(2) To construct projects on such other highways of the Federal-Aid System as each State may select subject to the approval of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads; and be it further Resolved That copies of this resolution be transmitted to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Bertram D. Tallamy, Administrator, Bureau of Public Roads, Frederick H. Mueller, Secretary of Commerce, Joseph S. Clark and Hugh Scott, United States Senators from Pennsylvania, Charles A. Buckley, Chairman of the House Committee on Public Works, Dennis Chavez, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Works and to the following congressmen: Daniel J. Flood, Ivor D. Fenton, Francis E. Walter, Alvin R. Bush, Richard M. Simpson, James E. Van Zandt, Leon H. Gavin, Carroll D. Kearns, Frank M. Clark and Walter Mumma.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 88

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 88 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 17, 1959.

The Great Lakes have long served these United States as arteries of commerce havens, for recreation and sources of food.

Shrewd bargaining and blessed foresight caused Pennsylvania statesmen to secure the Erie Triangle more than one hundred fifty years ago, thus giving this Commonwealth access to and a port on the Great Lakes.

Through the years the port of Erie has been a great center of commercial fishing. The wall-eye yellow and blue pike are recognized as delicacies throughout the eastern United States. To an even greater extent, the famed Lake Erie Whitefish is known and sought after throughout the world.

As late as 1950 more than thirty commercial fish tugs operated out of the port of Erie, thus affording employment for many and license fees in substantial amounts paid to the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

Untold numbers of vacationers and sportsmen journeyed to Erie each summer to enjoy night-fishing for Lake Erie's bounty.

At the present time but two commercial fish tugs operate regularly out of Erie. For the week ending May 30, 1959 crew members of one of these tugs earned the paltry amount of $8.50 each for over sixty hours labor over the depths of a once great lake. Recreational fishing has deteriorated to the extent that not a single bid was made on a fishing "party" boat exposed to public auction in Erie on June 4, 1959.

Sportsmen and commercial fishermen attribute the decline of fishing to many factors including the following:

1. Pollution of Lake Erie by industrial titans inadequately controlled by governmental bodies.

2. Dredging operations directed towards and removal for commercial use which dredging is conducted over sand bars which are the natural spawning grounds for fish, particularly pike.

3. Intentional depositing of silt and refuse upon these same sand bars likewise disrupting and destroying the spawning efforts of fish.

4. Outright poaching in Commonwealth waters by fishermen of other states and other countries.

5. Uncontrolled natural propagation of the smelt, a small but cannibalistic fish which feeds on the fry of other fish.

6. To a lesser extent at present the ravages of the lamprey eel.

7. According to the Pennsylvania Fish Commission "environmental conditions propagation early survival water temperatures . . . and the competition with other species for food and space."

8. The cessation by the Fish Commission of hatchery operations in Erie whereby previously fry and fingerlings were hatched in hundreds of thousands for stocking Commonwealth waters off Erie County.

Whatever the reasons fishing out of Erie has declined. Never since 1919 has the catch of fish been so poor as now; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake an immediate and comprehensive study as a background for the preparation of legislation enforceable in Commonwealth waters which would alleviate in any degree the conditions above recited to determine the feasibility of an interstate compact or agreement with other states, the borders of which are on the Great Lakes particularly Lake Erie so as to improve fishing by concerted effort to appraise the powers, functions and limitations of agencies of the Federal government so that Commonwealth leadership can be asserted if such is deemed necessary; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 90

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 90 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1959.

Under the provisions of the Federal Boating Act of 1958, commonly known as the Bonner Bill, the states are permitted to assume full jurisdiction over the use and registration of pleasure boats, including those formerly registered with the Coast Guard.

Regulation by the Commonwealth will serve as a source of revenue as the registration fees which heretofore were paid into the Federal treasury can be used to support our own boating safety programs. It will also permit the regulation of watercraft in accordance with our own special requirements.

The rapid increase in the use of pleasure boats in waters of this Commonwealth makes it imperative that if we are to regulate these crafts our regulations must be enacted as a result thorough study so that they will adequately provide for the safety of the boating public; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study of the Federal Boating Act of 1958, commonly known as the Bonner Bill, and the rules of water safety, boat licensure and related subjects governed by this act such study also include an analysis of any laws enacted prior to or during the 1959 session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly relating to watercraft safety; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations together with drafts of proposed legislation necessary to carry such recommendations into effect.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 97

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No 97 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1959.

As a result of its investigation into the Knox mine disaster, the Joint Committee created by the Senate and House of Representatives has recommended that the laws relating to mining, be revised and codified; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough study of the laws relating to anthracite, bituminous, metallic and non-metallic mining and to prepare a revision and codification of such laws. In preparing the revision and codification, the Joint State Government Commission shall give particular attention to the report and recommendations of the Joint Committee to investigate the Knox mine disaster and shall in so far as possible utilize the assistance and advice of the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries, the United States Bureau of Mines, mine operators, representatives of miners and professional mining engineers; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study together with its draft of a codification of the mining laws to the next General Assembly.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 99

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 99 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 28, 1959.

The present crisis in education will not subside in the foreseeable future unless clear and precise investigation into the causes thereof are uncovered and workable plans are made to avoid duplication of past mistakes in the future conduct of the educational system within this Commonwealth.

In order to formulate far reaching plans for public education it is necessary to have a fair and impartial study made by experts in the field of education therefore be it

Resolved That this House of Representatives hereby requests the Honorable David L. Lawrence Governor of Pennsylvania to appoint a committee consisting of leaders and other experts in the field of education to study the following problems.

(1) What are our schools costing us now, what may they cost next year or the year after and what must we expect to pay for good public education a generation or more hence?

(2) How can the cost of operating our public schools be reduced without materially affecting their ability to educate our children?

(3) How should the cost of public education be divided among the people who live in the Commonwealth? Should a taxpayer's contribution be based on his income his spending his real estate holdings the size of his family or on some other basis?

(4) What kind of new techniques are being developed throughout the Nation to make teaching swifter and easier and learning commensureately more economical and effective?

(5) Have new social and economic factors many of them emerging since World War II created a need for a new type of education for some segments of our society? And be it further

Resolved That this House of Representatives hereby requests the Department of Public Instruction, the Pennsylvania State University, the various State Teachers' Colleges and other colleges and universities within this Commonwealth, the various school districts throughout the Commonwealth and the various educators devoting their time and efforts to the various fields of learning to cooperate with and render such aid and assistance as may be necessary to the Governor's committee appointed as recommended herewith and be it further

Resolved that the committee is hereby requested to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Governor and to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on or before February 1, 1961 and be it further Resolved That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honorable David L. Lawrence, Governor of Pennsylvania.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 100

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 100 which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 3, 1959.

Whereas The procedures employed by the Commonwealth to make available financial assistance to nonprofit hospitals in order to facilitate the care of the sick and the injured poor have not been comprehensively reviewed within the recent past and

Whereas Alternate procedures have been suggested therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Joint State Government Commission investigate and evaluate the standards and procedures currently used by the Commonwealth to provide such financial aid and that currently used procedures be compared with alternative procedures proposed as regards Commonwealth costs and operating efficiency and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations together with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, this resolution covers a subject which is very distressing to me, and I think to many of the Members of the House. Some of the remarks I am about to make perhaps more properly might have been said in connection with House Bill 2324 which passed this House a couple of weeks ago.

Members of the House will remember that the bill was brought up quite late in the day, and I was extremely reluctant to say anything at that time because of the late hour. I hope, therefore, that the House will indulge me if I refer to House Bill 2324, which covers the same area.

Mr. Speaker, what I would like to present at this time is basically a brief statement which was presented to all the Members of this House by the Hospital Council of Philadelphia and the Committee on Government Relations, which it seems to me has been largely overlooked by this House and which I feel is just about unforgiveable. I am going to read it; it is rather brief.

"Attached is your copy of the Mathieson-Aitken Study commissioned to provide the Legislature with an independent analysis of Federal hospital funds and state costs. In reading the report you will note the following:

1) Federal matching funds of $5 million a biennium are available.

2) No additional state funds required above the planned $32.5 million.

3) Hospitals could be reimbursed at 65% of cost up to $13 per day.

4) At least 85 percent free days would be eligible. "This study"—which has been ignored by this House, by the way—"should end the controversy over the figures, so the Legislature can now consider the purchase-of-care plan on its merits and take action this year to obtain the untapped Federal funds.

If delayed two more years—and, Mr. Speaker, I am interpolating now, two more years at least if this resolution presently before the house were to go through—while more studies are made, this will cause financial distress and possibly closed doors for numbers of our community hospitals in Pennsylvania. A $15.2 million deficit for needy care, after state aid, was absorbed by our 58 member hospitals last biennium. This deficit will go still higher under the $10 rate proposed for next biennium. Daily costs in our hospitals now average $22 per day, and will be up to $24 per day in two years.

The Federal funds can still be obtained through a simple, one-paragraph amendment to the hospital appropriation bill (H. 2324)—which unfortunately passed this House—along the lines suggested by the Varallo-Markley Bill (H. 2236)—which Mrs. Varallo of Philadelphia helped sponsor—If this is not done, then the Legislature should provide an equivalent additional amount in state funds.

Mr. Speaker, I do not know what the hospitals in Philadelphia are going to do without additional help from the state during the coming biennium. I, therefore, ask you to vote against the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

A division was called for, more than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mrs. VARALLO filed the following reasons for her vote on House Resolution No. 100, Printer's No. 1307:

This Resolution, if passed, will place one of the most important problems facing this State in an area where nothing is going to be done for the next two years.

What is absolutely necessary is that some constructive thinking and legislation implementing this thinking be undertaken rather than having another study made.

As you all probably know, these studies are received either by mail or being placed on the desk of every member and that is probably the last time most of us ever see or hear any more about the problem.

I feel that the State of Pennsylvania is losing out on Federal funds which are available to our hospitals. The way to solve this problem is not by a study but by proper legislation which will implement the Federal laws.

I believe that a careful perusal of the report made by Mathisson-Aitken Study would be very beneficial before any action is taken by the Legislature on any Resolution or legislation so that some intelligent decision can be made.

It is for these above reasons that I am opposing this Resolution and ask that the Legislature study my bill—House Bill No. 2236. I am sure that if the members will make a careful study of this legislation and material already available on the subject, they will come to the same conclusion as I did and not vote for just one more study to be made.

I want to close by saying that our job is to help people who are now in need of help rather than ask them to wait and continue to suffer until a study is made. What we need is action and the time is now.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 102

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 102 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 5, 1959.

It has long been evident that the rulers of international Communism are determined to spread their godless doctrine to every part of the globe by any and all means including war if other means fail.

The people of the United States and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may one day be subjected to the supreme trial of an all-out atom and hydrogen bomb attack.

Such an all-out attack against us is less likely to come if we bring our military and civil defense preparedness to a high level.

The continuity of State government and protection of its key personnel will be of vital importance during an atomic attack.

The General State Authority is now designing a second underground parking facility to be built adjacent to the State Capitol Building in Harrisburg therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the State Council of Civil Defense in cooperation with the General State Authority be directed to consult with the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington D. C. on the feasibility of extending the use of the projected underground parking facility to include (1) a fallout shelter for government employes (2) emergency operational headquarters to be used by the Governor and the Council of Civil Defense or both and study such other Civil Defense uses as can be made of the structure and be it further

Resolved That the State Council of Civil Defense report its finding to the Legislature and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the State Council of Civil Defense and to the General State Authority.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 103

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 103 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 17, 1959.

No one knows exactly how many of the mentally ill could be discharged from our hospitals unless there is an opportunity to find out The Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) carried out a small project in 1947 to find an answer to this most important question by taking 20 of its most disturbed patients from the worst building and gave them enough attendants to meet their needs to teach them to take care of themselves to take them for a walk, to talk to them, to help them back to reality.

At the end of six months five of the 20 were out of the hospital. Another five were able to take care of themselves and were allowed the freedom of the hospital. Over the next year several more were discharged. This result is highly encouraging. In fact many authorities estimate that with good treatment and care almost 85% of all patients in the average mental hospital can be released in a year or two.

Why cannot the successful pilot project carried out by the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) be applied to all mental patients. The answer is simple it can provided sufficient funds are available.

The American Psychiatric Association has set standards for the number of doctors nurses and attendants needed to give patients good treatment. To meet these standards the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) which currently operates on $3.10 a day per patient would need to spend about $6.00 per day per patient. Pending legislation will raise the amount to $3.45 per patient at Byberry and all of the other 16 State hospitals in Pennsylvania will receive $4.00 or more.

Byberry cannot do more for less just because of its size.

Each of its 6,600 patients needs as much care as any other patient in a smaller hospital. Byberry, the largest State hospital has long past the point where large purchases result in reduced prices.

Insufficient funds mean improper treatment for our mentally ill with a proportionate decrease in the number of persons who can return to normal living therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission make a study of the cost of caring for the mentally ill in the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) and investigate and compare the financial aid supplied to the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) with the amount of assistance given other State Hospitals and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations for supplying the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) with ample funds for its proper operation and maintenance together with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 104

The SPEAKER laid before the House, House Resolution No. 104 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 18, 1959.

The present system of school operation administration and financing by districts in many instances creates tax inequities and imposes unnecessary burdens on parents and children alike.

Districts consisting solely of residential areas are finding it almost impossible to provide proper facilities with the proceeds from reasonable taxation while districts having industry within their boundaries have few financial worries in continuing their education programs.

In many districts single and combined school children spend several unrewarding hours a day just riding a school bus when there are schools nearby but which happen to be in a different district.

A duplication of supervisory functions is also a costly and yet a common attribute of our present school system therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission study the administration, operation and financing of public education in terms of county-wide units rather than the existing school districts and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect at the beginning of the next regular session of the General Assembly.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 568, Printer's No. 1602

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1614, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire purchase or lease certain institutions for use by the Department of Public Welfare as youth development centers giving additional powers to the Department of Public Welfare in connection with youth development centers providing for reimbursement by counties for expenses of minors committed to youth development centers and making appropriations.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the Majority Leader could give us an explanation of this bill. I am not quite sure what this bill is supposed to accomplish.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1614, is a piece of legislation in which, at the present time, two units are incorporated in the bill for the operation under the Department of Public Welfare program dealing with juvenile cases in the line of both girls and boys.

One entry in the bill pertains to the New Cumberland disciplinary barracks. These barracks are located within the United States Army barracks at the New Cumberland Army Depot, and agreement can be reached with the United States Army for the rental of these barracks. I believe it would accommodate approximately 200 at the New Cumberland Depot in agreement.

The other item in House Bill 1614 covers the former childrens' home in Greene County, a large modern building in which they could house girls, since we do not use the building for a childrens' program in the county anymore. Ever since the adoption of the foster parent plan this building has not been in use and it is not used at the present time, a new modern two-story brick building with all the modern conveniences.

This particular piece of legislation would empower the Department of Property and Supplies and the Department of Public Welfare to enter into agreements for rental or purchase. The Army barracks they could not purchase, only rent. On the other they could either rent or purchase.

Mr. TOMPKINS. May I ask to interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I note that one of the repealers in this Act is an Act that provides for the payment of clothing and the education of children at Morganza. Does this bill eliminate Morganza, put it out of existence, or what?

Mr. McCANN. No, Mr. Speaker. When the amendments were first prepared to 1614 on the prior print number, they repealed sections 3 and 4 and those sections should not have been repealed. The amendments to the bill brought back those sections that were repealed. This does not repeal the operation of that school, the Morganza school that you are talking about, in any way, sir.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I was wondering if the repealer contained one for the Morganza institution.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there was an error made by the Legislative Reference Bureau in preparing the amendments and that is why the correctional amendments restoring sections 3 and 4 had to be re-entered into the bill by Mr. Polen, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. POLASKI. I would like to submit clippings from two Erie newspapers, a morning and an evening paper, substantiating the reasons for this survey and having them included in the Journal.

Mr. POLASKI submitted the following clippings:

Season Ends—Peninsula Attracts 92,000

A throng estimated at nearly 92,000 persons visited Presque Isle State Park here over the long Labor Day weekend, park police said, to provide a bustling climax to one of the liveliest summer seasons in Peninsula history.

A total of 20,424 cars was clocked on the Peninsula from Friday morning until 10 p.m. Monday. Allowing four and a half persons per car, police computed total attendance for the four days at 91,908.

On Labor Day itself, traditional closing day for park beaches, attendance was pegged at 6,534 cars or an estimated 29,403 persons.

And although the summer vacation period is over, the Peninsula's superintendent last night predicted that nearly one million more persons will visit the beauty spot during the colorful "off-season" months between now and next Memorial Day."

Attendance figures for the entire vacation season, from Memorial Day through Labor Day, may set an all-time record, Park Supt. Michael E. Wargo admitted last night. He estimated that a tabulation of attendance would be some 10 to 12 per cent higher than last year. However, he cautioned that complete figures would not be compiled for some time.

"It's the nicest season in a quarter of a century," Wargo said. "Old timers tell me they've never seen a summer more beautiful."

Wargo said much of the credit for keeping the Peninsula an ideal playspot during the summer month goes to the lifeguards, park police, maintenance men and caretakers.

Licenses from every state in the union and most Canadian provinces were spotted on the park this summer. But an overwhelming majority of out-of-towners, park aides said, continued to be Downstate Pennsylvanians from the mining towns, steel towns and farms, who came here to frolic on Lake Erie's shore.

Peninsula Bridge

A bridge to the Peninsula from the lower east side—a constantly-recurring dream—looks like it might have an eventual chance of getting off the ground.

The Pa. House Highways Committee has approved a bill introduced by East City Assemblyman Julian Polaski to have Army Engineers join with Pa. Highways and Forest and Waters Departments to survey a proposed road between the Peninsula and Erie.

Supporters say such a bridge would have tremendous impact on the economic growth of the east side of the city.

The mushroom spread of motels on the westside is well known. The same sort of development could be possible along East Lake road and right into the city to East avenue if the Peninsula was opened to traffic from the east.

There is merit in the thought of building a bridge to the Peninsula.

It would ease the traffic load with the additional point of entry; it would give the eastside of the city an economic shot in the arm, and it would increase use of the Peninsula by both city residents and tourists.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1161, Printer's No. 1375,

House Bill No. 1340, Printer's No. 1631,

House Bill No. 1505, Printer's No. 1553 and

House Bill No. 1592, Printer's No. 1598,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1629, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section twenty-one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing the time at which the Secretary of Internal Affairs takes office.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1629, when it was originally introduced, covered the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs, Auditor General and State Treasurer.

This bill provides for the changing of time in which they shall, when elected, assume their office. The amendments were inserted in the bill taking out the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. Although we are not in a position to comment on the actual bill, there was a bill passed by the Senate, Senate Bill No. 654, which did this, and one other item in the bill dealing with succession of office.

We would like to send House Bill 1629 over to the Senate and then try to work out an agreement regarding the Auditor General, State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs as to the date of changing office. This would then either be amended or agreed to so that they could pass the bill on the first round dealing with the dates that they would change the date of their elective office to, I believe, the same date as the executive assumes office.

Therefore, I ask that this bill be supported, and we try to work it out in conference on Senate Bill 654, and then House Bill 1629.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:
